

Liberty just said that she had a dream, and because of that dream, Duncan gave up going back to the company and came to take up Zachary's precious time.

Duncan was afraid that Zachary would laugh at him. However, he felt uneasy in his heart, always feeling that Liberty would not have such a dream for no reason.

People say that Liberty has something to ponder each day and something to dream about at night.

Did someone say something to Liberty, causing Liberty to have random thoughts, and then she had a dream like that last night?

"You can say whatever you want. We have been friends for many years. Good buddies. Is there anything else we can't say?" Zachary stood up, walked around the desk, and asked Duncan, "Are you drinking coffee, tea, or warm water?"

Duncan: "I want coffee."

"There should be some coffee in the tea room. Let me take a look. If not, I'll give you warm water." Zachary said. He entered the small tearoom. After a while, he came out with two cups of steaming coffee.

"Also, give me a drink, and I'll have a drink." Zachary placed a cup of coffee in front of Duncan. He sat back down, put down the coffee cup, and asked, "Is it related to my sister?"

Duncan wouldn't be in such a hurry when it came to business matters. He would just give him the call instead of making the trip in person.

Zachary guessed that Duncan came to him because his beloved wife mentioned Ainsley's matter to his eldest sister, and her eldest sister said something to Duncan.

Duncan glared at Zachary and said, "You really know something. Did Serenity say something to her sister?"

“The two sisters talk on the phone and send messages every day. If Serenity doesn’t tell me what they talk about, I won’t know.” Zachary didn’t say it right away. “What did my sister tell you?”

Instead of answering, Duncan pulled out his mobile phone, opened WhatsApp, and showed Zachary the message Liberty had sent.

After Zachary read it, “...”

Duncan said, “Liberty has never had such a dream. It must have been something Serenity said to her sister that made Liberty dream. Did Serenity say bad things about me in front of her sister? I usually see Serenity talking to her about me.”

Zachary: “Don’t accuse my wife wrongly. My wife has never said anything bad about you. Do you know what dreams my sister has had? How do you know she has never had such a dream?”

A mistress interfered and ruined my sister’s last marriage, leading to a divorce. Subconsciously, she may have been worried that a mistress would interfere with your relationship. Is it weird to have such a dream?

Furthermore, this is only a dream. Didn’t you read the message my sister sent you? She said it was a woman whose face she couldn’t see clearly, which means she didn’t even know who she was. She said it might not exist at all, but it’s just the shadow brought on by her previous marriage.”

Duncan stopped talking. He thought Zachary’s analysis made sense.

Was that really the case?

Zachary added, “However, my sister would have such a dream, which means that she feels that the relationship between you two is not strong enough, and she does not have enough confidence in you and herself, so she subconsciously worries that someone will destroy your relationship.”

Duncan said, "My feelings for her can be judged by the sun and the moon. Apart from her, I will never love another woman. I am too old to play with feelings. Furthermore, I have never thought of playing with emotions. I am absolutely sincere to her."
