

Married At First Sight

Married At First Sight Chapter 3183-Abby gave Serenity a business card and said to her, “Ms. Hunt, this is my business card. It has my contact information. If there is any news about Evan, just call me, and I will stay in Wiltspoon for a week.”

Serenity took the business card and asked her with concern, “Miss Du, where do you live now?”

Abby said, “Wiltspoon Hotel, a hotel owned by your York family.”

Serenity smiled and said, “Wiltspoon Hotel is one of the best hotels in Wiltspoon. You can rest assured that when you stay there, the safety level is very high.

I’ll call you later. All expenses incurred during your stay at the Wiltspoon Hotel will be mine.”

Abby said quickly, “Ms. Hunt, thank you, but no, really no, I can afford the room fee.”

She also came from a wealthy family, and the most important thing she needed was money.

“Miss Du, I know you’re not short on money, but you’ve come a long way and are a guest, so let me do my best to be a landlord.” Just tell me where you want to go, and I will accompany you when I have time. You go have fun, and I’ll be your tour guide for free.

If I don’t have time, I will arrange for someone to be your tour guide and take you to eat all of Wiltspoon’s delicious food. Wiltspoon offers few tourist attractions, and the ones that do exist are all man-made. However, the food is very good. There are many old and inconspicuous restaurants where you can eat the most authentic snacks.”

Many young people in Wiltspoon didn’t know it.

Before she married Zachary, she knew this because she often went looking for delicious food with Jasmine in the streets.

Who said they were both foodies?

Abby smiled. "Ms. Hunt, Well, I won't be polite to you anymore. I really don't want you to help me pay for accommodation and other expenses; otherwise, I won't dare come over next time, and I won't dare let you know that I'm coming."

Abby and Evan were not boyfriend and girlfriend yet, and she didn't even know what Evan thought. She didn't want to owe anyone in the York family any favors.

After Abby inquired about the York family's family tradition, she was very satisfied. She also knew that Serenity, the eldest sister-in-law, was a good character and someone she could get along with.

That's why she chose to come to Serenity. If she could become a sister-in-law in the future, she wouldn't have to worry too much about conflicts.

Seeing that she insisted on not accepting it, Serenity couldn't force it anymore, so she said, "Okay, but I'm going to treat you to dinner tonight, and you can't refuse."

Abby readily agreed, "Okay, Ms. Hunt will invite me to dinner tonight, so I'd rather be respectful than obey.

Ms. Hunt, you are already busy. I won't disturb your work. Go back to the hotel first. Ms. Hunt will treat me to dinner tonight, so just call me."

Serenity invited Abby to dinner, probably at the Wiltspoon Hotel.

Abby was staying at the Wiltspoon Hotel, which was very convenient.

Abby stood up to say goodbye, and Serenity stood up to see her off.

After seeing Abby leave the company and enter the car, Serenity turned around and walked back.

Elisa had come out of her office and was waiting at the door.

"Seren, why did Miss Du come to you?" Is she really not your love rival?"

If it were Serenity's love rival, Elisa would immediately go to Zachary to settle the score.

“He is not my love rival.” Zachary is a good husband who cares about his family and will not create a love rival for me.”

Serenity defended her husband, saying Zachary would never take the initiative to provoke any woman.

Others were impressed by his charm and admired him.
