

Married At First Sight Chapter 3121

Married At First Sight Chapter 3121-Tinsley glanced at Elora. She felt relieved when she saw that Elora's mouth moved and did not spit out the snack.

She was really afraid that Elora would spit out the snack.

In that case, the young chefs who come for interviews would have no chance at all.

Elora used a small fork to fork another small piece of snack into her mouth.

Tinsley asked, "Sister, is it delicious?"

Elora hummed.

"It has a small, exquisite style and tastes good, but it's a bit dry."

Tinsley immediately went to pour a glass of warm water for Elora, handed it to her, and said with a smile, "It's a little dry. Perhaps his snack-making skills aren't the best, but the snacks he prepares are palatable and satisfying. I asked him briefly, and he said that he started working in the kitchen when he was six or seven years old and then learned how to cook. Although he is less than thirty years old now, he has been studying cooking for more than ten years."

Elora asked, "His family comes from a family of chefs?"

Elora finished the second piece of snack and continued to eat some snacks.

Maybe it's because she's really hungry now, and maybe it's also because this snack is so good that she can eat it.

She would have a meeting later, which lasted two hours. It would be embarrassing if she didn't eat snacks to calm her stomach, and her stomach continued to sing during the meeting.

Tinsley replied, "I didn't ask him if his family came from a family of chefs. He just said that his grandma asked the brothers to learn to be independent and to cook from an early age. He said that his grandma was also very picky and could not cook well; if grandma couldn't eat it, he would be scolded by grandma.

He also said that he really likes cooking, so he has been studying the dishes of various factions and learning from many chefs."

Elora said, "It turns out that after studying for more than ten years, no wonder I can make snacks that I can eat."

Tinsley said, "I think if he gets older, he will definitely become the world's greatest chef."

Elora: "How old is he now?"

Tinsley: "About the same age as yours."

Elora was quite surprised. "So young?"

She thought that even if the other person was less than thirty years old, he was still in his mid-twenties. Unexpectedly, he was about the same age as her, and she was only in her mid-twenties.

Tinsley said, "He is very young and extremely handsome. He is the most handsome man I have ever seen. He speaks and behaves well. Although his clothes are a bit plain, he has a natural nobility."

Elora teased Tinsley, "You must have a good impression of this person. "You send all the compliments to him."

"Natural nobility? Even if we are born into a wealthy family, we dare not say that we have natural nobility. Our noble temperament is cultivated bit by bit."

They had all learned advanced etiquette. Since they were young, their families have invited many teachers back to give them one-on-one tutoring. When they were a little older, they went to various banquets and met various wealthy people, which broadened their horizons and made them more knowledgeable.

That's why today's every gesture was full of nobility.

Elora thought that the new chefs who came to interview would not have the same environment as her Ormond family, even if their family conditions were decent. If they really have such a good environment, they will not come to her house to apply for chef jobs.

So Tinsley said that the new chef who came to interview had a natural nobility. Elora felt that Tinsley was looking at him through a filter because the first impression was very good.

Tinsley did not argue with Elora. She said, "When you're free, ask him to come over for a retest. Try his cooking for yourself. If you meet him, I will know that what I said is not false."

She thought the other person was excellent.
