

Married At First Sight

Married At First Sight Chapter 3135-“Remember to make a list of the dishes you are going to make tomorrow and the ingredients needed, and send it to me.” Before Uncle Joly left, he reminded Tatum.

“Okay.” Tatum stood at the door and watched Uncle Joly leave.

Tatum entered the room without being seen.

The accommodation provided to him was one bedroom, one living room, one kitchen, one bathroom, and one balcony. The entire suite covered an area of about 70 square meters. Tatum, accustomed to living in large homes, found such a suite not excessively large, but it was a significant size for ordinary people. As far as people were concerned, the accommodation conditions were already very good.

There were all the daily necessities inside, and they were all new.

Important notice: Dear readers, Please bookmark our new site: bhqtech.com to continue reading the Novels. Thank you. Recommend: Clean Your Brower Cache now to access missing chapters.

Tatum took out his mobile phone and recorded a video from the suite’s door to the balcony. After capturing the video, he sent it to his family.

He also informed the group, “Ormond’s family has provided this suite for the chef to live in.” The living environment is quite good.”

One could already compare it to other star hotels from the outside.

Tania called immediately.

As soon as Tatum walked into the room, he put the simple luggage he had brought on the bed. His cell phone rang. He sat down on the bed before answering his mother’s call.

“Tatum, have you applied for the job?” Tania asked immediately.

She was actually a bit complicated. While she hoped Tatum could apply for the job, she was equally opposed to his hiring.

After all, Tatum was the sixth young master of their York family, and he traveled thousands of kilometers to work as a chef. As a mother, Tania felt reluctant and distressed. But she couldn't stop him if he wanted to go.

Furthermore, Tatum was tasked with pursuing his wife.

Tania didn't know how the old lady managed to run away. She still ran so far despite her age. The wives she chose for her grandchildren were really from all over the world.

No wonder the old lady often went away from home and never came back for a long time.

It took some time to find out the temperament, living habits, and character of those wealthy ladies.

If someone asked Tania to do this, she couldn't.

She had no worries about not being able to marry a daughter-in-law. Both of her sons were so good. As long as the son was willing to get married, there were enough girls in Wiltspoon for him to choose from. Why go so far away to choose a daughter-in-law?

The person the old lady chose for Tatum was so picky.

Fortunately, the Ormond family's wealth was not vastly different from that of the York family. Elora was the young and promising head of the family and was a real match for the York family.

The parentage of his eldest daughter-in-law had always been a worry in Tania's heart. Just because she didn't talk about it didn't mean she didn't care.

Even if Serenity's mother's family was the Farrell family from Jensburg, the Farrell family is now inferior to the York family. The gap with the York family has widened greatly, and Serenity will not take over the Farrell family unless Liberty can take over the head of the Farrell family in the future.

Serenity's natal family background could only improve in this way.

Tania was very satisfied with Elora's family background.

After being satisfied, she was a little worried that her second daughter-in-law's family background was stronger than Serenity's, and Elora was now the head of the family and would marry into the York family. Would she approve of Serenity, the eldest sister-in-law and the future head wife of the York family?

Will there be any conflicts between the sisters-in-law? Will Elora bully Serenity because of her good family background?

In the past, Serenity was nothing but the owner of a small bookstore. No matter how dissatisfied Tania was with Serenity's background, she never did anything to break up her son and daughter-in-law, let alone bully her daughter-in-law.

Now that Serenity has solidified her position within the York family and established her own business, she must manage the family's small business. Although Serenity has not yet fully mastered it, she can help with many things. To be honest, Tania is now satisfied with Serenity, his eldest daughter-in-law.