

Once Bullied: Lyon Armstrong Is Back Chapter 3

Lyon's fist clenched in anger and his teeth gritted against each other as he stared at Michael and his gang with fiery red eyes.

He couldn't believe what he was hearing them say, he couldn't believe that they still had the nerve to drag him to the rooftop and ask him to keep a secret.

‘What secret? The fact that they almost killed him?’

He laughed again in anger as he moved closer to them, his eyes not leaving Michael's as he opened his mouth to ask the questions.

“What secret are you asking me to keep exactly?” Lyon asked them and Michael's face changed as he looked back at Lyon.

“You expect me to keep the fact that you pushed me off this same rooftop and I almost died because of you guys a secret?” He asked but no one answered.

Inside him, he was writhing with anger, he wished he could just grab Michael by his throat and choke him to death but he felt like now wasn't the time for that as they were still on the campus ground.

“Listen to me and I want you to listen very well,” Michael sneered as he pulled Lyon's collar, “you must not say a word of this to anyone.” He threatened.

“If someone apart from us knows about this then I'm not going to let it go, I'm going to make sure that you die for real.” Michael threatened Lyon but Lyon only smirked.

Michael and the rest of his gang were scared out of their wits, they all knew what would happen if Lyon chose to tell anyone or worse, the police about what happened.

They all knew that they could be in bigger trouble and they were more scared than ever but Lyon doesn't really care about them.

Lyon moved Michael's hand away from his collar as he walked towards Flora, he couldn't believe that she was getting intimate with Michael. He was disappointed in her.

“How could you?” Lyon finally asked Flora, his voice showing his disappointment, “how could you be flocking around with these bullies?” Lyon asked again.

“How can you still be with Michael and his gang after I almost died trying to save you from them?!” Lyon was angry and disappointed and he was letting it show in his voice even though he didn't shout.

“How could you be sitting on his lap when I was the one who fell from the rooftop only to protect you from them?” Lyon finished as he gritted his teeth but Flora only sneered.

Flora had an idea that Lyon liked her but just because he was an orphan, he was also poor and he gets bullied every-time, she didn't want to waste her time being with him.

“You think I should be with you just because you almost died trying to save me?”
Flora

sneered as she laughed and mocked Lyon.

“Being with Michael is so much cooler,” she explained, “Lydia and her friends bully me all the time but since I started moving around with Michael, they never bullied me again.” She finished as she and Michael laughed at Lyon again.

“Michael fought for me, he avenged me by beating them up and now they respect me, could you have done that?” Flora finished, she thought that being with Michael was so much better.

Michael felt proud and right in front of Lyon, he drew Flora in and hugged her before kissing her heavily and basically making out with her in front of Lyon.

Flora moaned loudly as they kissed and it was so obvious that she enjoyed it too, she enjoyed the way Michael was always fighting for her and now he’s kissing her.

It killed Lyon to stand and watch as the girl he secretly liked kissed the bully. Not only did Michael humiliate him, Flora also disappointed him by being with Michael.

Lyon clenched his fist so tight and he was so angry that he started trembling physically. His body trembled as the bullies were still laughing at him but he felt like everything was different.

He doesn’t feel weak anymore and if anything, he felt stronger than ever.

The power amulet left with him caused power and strength to surge through his body and he felt so strong that he could even beat Michael.

Michael was still making out with Flora and that was getting Lyon furious but Michael noticed and stopped Kissing Flora as he walked towards Lyon.

Michael hated the fact that Lyon was still alive. he hated Lyon's face. his existence and he 'wanted to beat him like never before. He wanted to leave bruises on his face.

He thought it was like before when Lyon couldn't defend himself from the bullies, he had no idea that there was an amulet that served as a power supply to Lyon.

"You must think you're so special because you escaped death the first time, how about I make you see death again?" Michael sneered as he made his palm into a fist.

Lyon's breathing was heavy, his eye color had changed and even his bones felt a thousand times stronger than they usually were but Michael didn't notice this.

He didn't know that Lyon was about to get out of control and that if he did, Lyon could kill him but the bullies kept riling Michael up.

"Beat him up, how dare talk to you like that?" One of the other bullies said and that was making Michael feel like he could beat Lyon now.

"He's just a worthless piece of shit that doesn't have a family, he's just a poor and stupid person, teach him some lesson, Michael." Another bully said.

Lyon didn't move or lift his head because his eyes were bloody red now, he knew that if he touched Michael, he was going to kill him.

Maybe it's time for him to teach Michael a lesson.

Everything stopped as Lyon and Michael wanted to hit each other when they heard a | beautiful, attractive voice behind them.

"What are you guys doing here?" The beautiful voice asked.
