Married At First Sight

Married At First Sight Chapter 3252-Abby said, "Didn't she say she forgot to bring her mobile phone when she went out?"

Jasmine said sarcastically, "Don't believe a word she says. She is just a master who takes advantage of her and claims to be second. No one dares to claim to be first."

Serenity heard Chelsea say to her mother, "Mom, I took my three children out to eat. They said they hadn't eaten delicious food in a while, so I took them out to have a meal. We've finished eating, but I don't have enough money to pay. Mom, do you have money in your account? Send me $2000."

Chelsea walked away.

Serenity and others could not clearly hear what she said.

Jasmine told Abby, "If I give birth to a daughter like Chelsea in the future, who only knows how to cheat and take advantage of her mother's family, I will strangle her to death as soon as she is born."

Abby said, "When she was born, you didn't know what kind of thing she was."

Jasmine said, "Then I'll cut off all contact with her and pretend that I never gave birth to this daughter. Abby, you don't know that the best is Sonny's biological aunt, Chelsea. She loves to take advantage. She used to go back to her parents' house for dinner. Whenever she went back to her parents' house, she would ask Sister Liberty to buy seafood, steak, mutton chops, whatever. It's all expensive food.

After eating, she has to pack it up and criticize Sister Liberty. The biggest factor in Sister Liberty's failed marriage is that her parents-in-law and eldest sister love to cause trouble, and the husband is obsessed with his family.

In the past, the stupid father in Sonny would give his parents ten thousand or several thousand dollars in living expenses every month, but his parents helped his sister take care of the baby at her home. All the money he gave to his parents was used to subsidize their daughter.

Now she's taking her whole family out to eat hot pot. She brought her parents-in-law with her, but she didn't bring her parents. But after eating, she was worried about money again. She wanted to ask Serenity to help her pay the bill, but it didn't work. She turned around and went to trap her mother again."

Abby was speechless.

"Jasmine, don't mention those old things that affect your appetite. Sonny is here." Serenity didn't want to mention those old things, nor did she want to embarrass Sonny. Without Sonny, once her sister and Hank divorced, there would be no relationship at all.

But with Sonny, even if the two people get divorced and get married separately, they are still Sonny's parents and have a common son.

Abby: "Does Sonny's father pay child support?"

Serenity: "This is given to me. The Brown family only has one grandchild, Sonny."

Abby looked at the well-behaved Sonny.

Sonny's father paid alimony, which was pretty good. How many men didn't pay a cent of alimony after divorce, even if they went to court to sue?

When they get old and life becomes difficult, they have to bring mediators to find their children and ask them to provide for them in their old age. There is no exam required to be a parent, so there are too many unqualified parents.

Jasmine also wanted to complain about the Brown family. After looking at Sonny twice, she finally stopped talking.

Sonny acted as if he hadn't heard the adult speak.

But when the aunt and nephew were on their way back after eating and drinking, Sonny asked Serenity for her cell phone to make a call.

He called Hank.

As soon as Hank dropped off a customer and arrived at his destination, he heard his cell phone ringing. When he saw it was Serenity's phone number, he guessed that Sonny was calling him and quickly answered the call.

"Is it Sonny?" Hank asked cautiously.

"Dad, it's me."

Sonny's childish voice reached Hank's ears, and a smile appeared on his face unconsciously.

After all, he was Hank's son, and the blood relationship was unbreakable. No matter how good the person named Duncan was, Sonny would still remember him as his biological father.

Sonny called him. He must have missed him.
