

Married At First Sight

Married At First Sight Chapter 3256-After Evan was silent, he said, "It takes about ten minutes to walk to a park. The park is not very big, but you can stroll around. The scenery is pretty good. If you're not afraid of getting tired, then go for a walk there."

Abby said, "If I can't walk anymore, just carry me back."

Evan: "I don't know how to take a taxi, and I'm carrying you back; won't I be tired?"

Abby said to him, "You don't know how to show mercy to women. Anyway, I am the wife chosen by your grandma for you. If you hadn't had second thoughts, I would be the future fourth young mistress of your York family. It is said that the men of the York family love their wives very much. You don't want to break the fine tradition of men in the York family and become a man who does not love his wife.

The wife is sensible, and a man who dotes on his wife can make a fortune."

Evan curled his lips and said to her, "There are a lot of lies. Also, I don't have any second thoughts. It's good that you are the one chosen by my grandma, but we haven't confirmed our relationship yet. We are not boyfriends and girlfriends. We both have the right to love freely. You can like other men, and I can like other women."

Abby said, "I just like you; what should I do? Evan, do you really not like me at all? I've known you for a few months, and I don't feel like you hate me. You also said that you don't hate me."

Evan didn't look at her but walked side by side with her, saying as he walked, "I went back to Wildridge Manor in the morning."

Abby said, "Wildridge Manor! Why don't you tell me so that I can go back with you to meet your grandma? I really want to know how she knew about me and why she chose me to be your wife. She did this to me, but it hurt me. Look, I was pursued by you for a while, and my heart fell in love, but you walked away and said that you have no love for me and that you really can't fall in love with me, which makes me feel sad. My relationship is about to end before it even begins. I'm emotionally hurt. Isn't it your grandma's fault?

I want to settle the score with her, and I'll visit your Wildridge Manor, by the way."

Evan quickly spoke for his grandma. He said, "This is my problem and has nothing to do with my grandma. My grandma can choose you for me because you are too good, and my grandma likes you very much, so she takes a fancy to you. It's because I can't synchronize my eyes with my grandma's, so it's my fault, not my grandma's problem. If you feel unhappy, just scold me or hit me, but don't scold my grandma."

Grandma hadn't been scolded for a long time.

Evan was afraid that if Abby really went to his grandma to settle the score and scolded her, she wouldn't be able to bear it and would be furious.

Then he was really unfilial.

Did he really have no feelings for Abby?

"Did you tell your grandma when you went back that you really had no feelings for me?" Abby could guess it.

She already knew that Evan had returned to Wildridge Manor.

She just said those words to tease him, and seeing him anxious made her feel better.

Abby was not bad. She, the second young lady of the Du family, was also the dream lover of many men in Hiribaty.

When Evan arrived, Evan didn't love her.

Abby really felt that her self-esteem was damaged.

Evan didn't say anything, so he acquiesced.

Abby sighed and said, "I think your grandma respects your choice. They say that the elders in your family are very open-minded. I can guess the result."

“Evan, I originally wanted to fight for myself, but now that I think about it, I might as well forget it. If you give up on me today, if you regret it later and want to step into my home, it won't be that easy.”
