

Married At First Sight

Married At First Sight Chapter 3266-Evan's voice came from the kitchen: "Let's make some porridge."

Cook the porridge longer so that he could keep her here longer.

Evan said, "You can walk around and get familiar with the environment."

The Fox cursed in her heart. She had searched his place all over and couldn't find anything of hers.

But the words remained unsaid.

If she said it out loud, she would admit that she was a thief, and she was just the same as him.

The Fox ate half of the fruit on the fruit plate, then put down her fork. She got up, wandered around the hall, and finally turned to the door of the kitchen.

She leaned against the kitchen door, her arms folded across her chest, and kicked her slender legs. She was wearing a pair of black boots.

After taking off her long coat, she was wearing a tight-fitting red dress.

Actually, she didn't like red very much. But when she met Evan, she wore red clothes, so she wore red clothes again.

Fox asked, "I heard that everyone in your York family is good at cooking, right?"

Evan replied, "Yes, we are all proficient in cooking, but when it comes to the number of times we cook, it's mostly us men. My dad can cook, but my mom rarely cooks. Only when my second brother comes home with his second sister-in-law will my mom cook on a whim. If I can also bring a girlfriend back, I think my mom will do it too. Be willing to cook a table of delicious dishes for her second daughter-in-law."

Fox said, "Your family's good reputation is all due to the old lady. Your grandpa is lucky and has a good wife. A good wife can make the family prosperous for several generations.

The old lady is a virtuous woman, and her daughters-in-law are also virtuous. Now, when choosing a grandson-in-law, she only chooses a girl from a wealthy family with excellent character. In this way, your York family can be prosperous for several generations."

Evan opened the refrigerator to see what ingredients were available. When he heard her praising his family, he replied proudly, "That's right, many people's families have not been rich for more than three generations, but we have been rich for more than three generations."

Although their ancestors were not as wealthy as they are today, they were still considered wealthy in their poor days.

"Fox, tell me your name, and I will tell you a secret about our family."

The Fox's beautiful eyes flashed sharply.

She loosened her hands around her chest, turned away, and said, "If your family's secret can be told, it cannot be said to be a secret. No one can tell the secret. Evan, I suddenly felt that I'm not hungry anymore, and I don't want to eat midnight snacks. I also ate half of the plate of fruit. Let's go first."

Fox said as she walked outside the house.

She really didn't plan on having late-night snacks.

Let her eat, and she can eat it.

It didn't matter if she didn't eat; she was not hungry anyway.

"Fox, Fox, I've already started cooking porridge. Don't leave now. The porridge will be cooked later. Who will eat it?"

"That's your business."

Fox had fast feet. When Evan chased her to the door of the house, Fox had already reached the door of the villa, opened the door of the villa, and went out.

Evan wanted to see where her car was parked, but when he ran to the gate of the villa as fast as he could, Fox was no longer there, and he didn't see a car driving away. He didn't hear the car start.

Didn't she drive here?

By the way, his place was in a high-end residential area, so it was not difficult for owners to get in.

She must have used her own method to get in, so naturally, she couldn't drive.

"Running faster than a rabbit." Evan muttered.

Unable to catch up with the Fox, Evan walked back disappointedly.
