

Married At First Sight

Married At First Sight Chapter 3296-The people who caused all this were Mr. Newman and his wife.

Let them go ahead and regret and blame themselves!

Camryn smiled and said, "They are in a bad mood, but I am in a beautiful mood. Yes, I will accompany Trenton to visit the prison tomorrow. How should I say that one of them is my uncle and the other is my mother? In love with each other, I'm going to check it out. The less they like seeing me, the more I go and see."

Callum said, "Then I will ask for leave from my eldest brother tomorrow and send you there. I will also go and have a look."

Mrs. Newman would probably go crazy. The daughter, Carrie, whom she loved the most, did not marry Callum, and the eldest daughter, Camryn, whom she hated the most, became Callum's favorite.

They had hurt Camryn like that. Even if they were punished now, Callum didn't want to make them feel good. He just wanted to make them mad and make them feel very blocked.

Camryn did not refuse.

The couple wandered around the yard before going back inside.

Trenton was still on the first floor, but he was leaning on the sofa and fell asleep.

"This child is still like when he was a child. He doesn't know how to go back to his room to sleep when he is sleepy. He always sits down and sleeps there." Camryn wanted to wake Trenton up, but was stopped by Callum.

Callum said, "Just cover him with a quilt and let him sleep here."

No matter how loudly they made a fuss later, Trenton wouldn't be able to hear it.

Camryn looked at Callum and quickly understood the meaning of his words.

She said nothing.

Callum had already taken a quilt out of the guest room, gently covered Trenton's body, and then pulled Camryn upstairs.

Camryn remained silent.

A wolf in a hurry!

Camryn slept all afternoon.

She didn't wake up until night. It was already dark, and the room was pitch black.

It was probably not dark yet when Callum left.

If it got dark, he would leave a light for her.

Knowing that she hated the dark and having lived in the darkness for ten years, she was afraid that when she opened her eyes, it would be completely dark, which would make her think that she was still blind.

She reached out and touched the mobile phone on the bedside table, took it, and turned on the screen. She saw that the time was around six o'clock in the evening, but it was winter, so it got dark quickly, and it became completely dark after six o'clock.

She didn't rush to turn on the light. She lay down for a while, but it was true that she couldn't fall asleep, so she stood up and turned on the light in the room.

Callum should be cooking downstairs. As long as he was at home, he would be tinkering with making delicious food for her all day long.

He always said that she was too thin and wanted to help her make up for it.

Compared with before, she had gained a lot of weight, and her face was rosy, which was all due to him.

Fortunately, she had good self-control and didn't eat too much; otherwise, she would have been turned into a fat pig by him in a matter of seconds.

Camryn got out of bed, washed her face, put on her coat, and prepared to go downstairs.

A few minutes later, she appeared on the first floor.

"Sister."

Trenton had woken up long ago. When he woke up, he found the quilt covering him. He guessed that Camryn had covered him. He didn't even know that he had fallen asleep. He just felt a little tired after sitting in the car for several hours. He thought about closing his eyes and relaxing for a while, but ended up falling asleep.

“Sister, it’s time to eat. My brother-in-law has cooked a lot of your favorite dishes. I asked my brother-in-law to cook me two of my favorite dishes, but he asked me to cook them myself. It’s too partial.” Trenton complained deliberately.
