

Married At First Sight Chapter 3204

Married At First Sight Chapter 3204-Deep sleep held Abby tightly, preventing her from moving.

“I told you to stop drinking. You didn’t listen. You’re drunk now. It will be painful when you wake up tomorrow.” Evan poked Abby’s face helplessly, then resignedly picked her up and carried her out of the presidential suite.

Oh, Evan didn’t know which room Abby lived in.

He stopped, put down Abby, supported her with one hand, and took out his cell phone with one hand to call Serenity.

Serenity quickly answered his call.

Evan: “Sister-in-law, what room number does Miss Du live in?”

Serenity replied, “I don’t know what room she lives in. She only told me that she lives at the Wiltspoon Hotel. Is Abby drunk? Wait a minute, and I’ll ask for you.”

Serenity tilted her head and said to Zachary, “Husband, go and ask what room Abby lives in. She is drunk. “Evan will take her back to her room.”

Zachary’s face tightened, and he was reluctant to ask, but at Serenity’s urging, he muttered and led Sonny away.

Come back soon.

Evan ended the call first.

“Did you ask?”

“I told Evan.”

Zachary still had a sullen face. He said, “When I went to ask, the front desk looked at me as if he suspected that I was cheating. I had to explain that it was Evan who wanted to send Abby back to her room, and I was asking for Evan.”

Serenity understood immediately. She held Zachary’s arm affectionately and smiled sweetly, “Just explain it clearly. Whether they doubt it or not, it won’t affect our relationship. As long as I don’t doubt you.”

Zachary: “Don’t let me do that kind of thing in the future. Let Evan solve his own problems. Why should I help him? I didn’t have anyone to help me at the beginning. It was all because of my sincerity and my deep affection.”

Serenity: “Okay, okay, I’ll take this action in the future to avoid others misinterpreting you.” Your younger brother, Evan, Brothers can help each other if they want to. Don’t you want Evan to be happy?

Yes, yes, you relied on your superb deception to deceive me into my heart.”

When the word came up, Zachary stopped and said, “Honey, let’s not settle old scores.”

“I’m not angry anymore.”

Serenity smiled and said, “I know my husband is a generous person and won’t get angry casually. Come on, let’s go home. Oh, by the way, you still need to be busy. I’ll take Sonny home first.”

Zachary sighed and said, “I also want to go home now, but there are still some important things waiting for me to deal with.”

Serenity: “It’s okay. It’s not like I don’t know the way. I’ll wait for you at home.”

It was the end of the year, and all major companies were busy.

Serenity was also busy with herself.

Not to mention Zachary.

After leaving the hotel, Zachary sent Serenity to the car and warned, “After you go back, go to bed early. Don’t wait for me. I may not be able to go back until very late tonight.”

“I’ll fall asleep when I’m tired. Then be careful and don’t drink too much.” Serenity also gave her husband a few words of advice.

Zachary smiled slightly. “I don’t want to drink; no one can make me drink.”

He reached out to cover Sonny’s eyes, and then quickly kissed Serenity on the lips.

Sonny suddenly covered his eyes and instinctively used his two small hands to hold his uncle’s big hand.

After Zachary finished kissing him, he let him take the opportunity to open his arms.

“Uncle, I can’t see what you are doing by covering my eyes.” Sonny complained.

Zachary: “I saw a mosquito between Sonny’s eyebrows. I wanted to help you swat the mosquito to death, so I covered your eyes.”

To lie to a child and deceive Zachary is to stew in a fire.
