

Genius 3391

Chapter 3391

Song Zhilan had long known that once they implemented the economic embargo.

The large and small businesses in Guangyang City were definitely going to be subject to fluctuations.

So directly under Lin Mo's name, she sent out an article about acquiring backlogged parts.

Guangyang City was Lin Mo's stronghold, so if small and large businesses went out of business.

It would definitely affect the development of Guangyang City as well as its stability.

Kyoto, in the Xu family compound.

Master Xu sat at the top of the parlour with a gloomy face.

On either side of him were Elder Xie and the head of the Lei family.

Behind the two were a dense crowd of small family patriarchs.

"Are all of your economic blockades for nothing, up to now there is still no chaos in Guangyang City!"

Elder Xu looked at everyone present with a grim gaze and questioned angrily.

In the past, once the economic monopoly was made to work, everyone would panic.

In the end, the serious ones would simply go bankrupt and the other party would be unable to accept the reality and jump to their death.

But what angered Elder Xu the most was after this economic monopoly.

Guangyang City remained smooth and there was not the slightest panic.

Seeing that everyone was keeping their heads down and not speaking, Elder Xie came out to round up the situation.

"Old Xu, don't be anxious yet, now that the public opinion abroad has developed successfully, domestically Guangyang is Lin Mo's home base."

"It's naturally not that easy for us to cause economic chaos as well as panic."

Elder Xie's words caused Elder Xu's gaze to flicker.

"Since Guangyang City is no longer able to cause something effective now, then let's open the economic embargo regarding Guangyang."

"If we alert the people above us, we won't look too good in this manner."

Elder Xu's words caused both Elder Xie and the Lei family head to nod their heads.

The previous economic blockade and commercial monopoly on Guangyang was only to quickly destroy Lin Mo's industry.

However, they did not expect the other party to be like a small strong horse.

Apart from some initial panic, he quickly stabilised straight away.

Now even if the economic blockade of the several big families is no longer strong.

Those businesses wouldn't have collapsed straight away.

"Our main focus and strength now needs to be on the economic blockade and public opinion guidance in the Wanxiang Kingdom."

"Xu Er, come and talk to everyone about the current situation in the Wanxiang Country."

Master Xu once again resumed his old appearance and said to the butler at the side.

"Yes, Master."

Xu Er stepped out from beside Elder Xu and spoke to the people present one by one.

"According to the news that came back earlier, the Maple Leaf Country is in an uproar at the moment, and all the nationals are discussing whether or not the Wanxiang matter is true."

"And it seems that Lin Mo's side has prepared some live broadcast or something to start tomorrow morning."

Xu Er's words caused the crowd present to ponder one by one.

After a long time, Elder Xie opened his mouth and said.

"What about the effect caused by our previous economic blockade?"

Xu Er looked at Elder Xie and replied seriously.

"When we were just carrying out the economic blockade, Lin Mo's side took out the funds to run it."

"So that means we're not causing any substantial damage at all right now."

Xu Er's words caused the faces of each of the clan leaders present to turn unpleasantly pale.

They had engaged in so much economic blockade as well as monopoly, but it hadn't worked at all.

What was unexpected was that Elder Xie seemed to have guessed it long ago.

"No matter, Lin Mo is very capable, don't take him lightly."

Elder Xie gently spoke to the patriarchs of the small clans behind him and comforted them.

He then sneered and said.

"Those who voted for Lin Mo one by one just don't know us, I will send someone to teach them a lesson when I return."

“Don’t be disheartened by the Wanxiang Kingdom either, there will be a long day ahead!”

Chapter 3392

“Elder Xie, what if, I mean what if.”

A patriarch of a small family stood up from his position and asked Elder Xie.

“Tomorrow Lin Mo and the others’ live broadcast really shows the good life of the Wanxiang Kingdom.”

“Then how should we go about responding?”

The words of this small family patriarch also caused many people to nod their heads together.

It was indeed true.

Now they were actually smashing money with their daily economic blockade.

The Xie family and a few other large clans might not care, but it was crucial to them.

If they were not careful, the Xie family would be breaking their bones.

But they would be the ones whose foundations were directly destroyed.

In the face of this family patriarch’s question, a haze flashed across Elder Xie’s eyes, but his face still smiled as he spoke.

“Old man knows your worries as well as your fears, but please rest assured as well.”

“According to our records, the Wanxiang Kingdom has previously imported large amounts of grain in our country every year.”

“But this year, the Wanxiang Kingdom’s imports have not yet started, so we can make a move on that.”

Elder Xie’s words caused everyone to stare.

The next moment, they reflected.

Right, your Wanxiang Country was booming and thriving this year.

But you were still planting Night Vine Grass last year, and even started a massive war not long ago.

You simply can’t catch up now even if you reclaim a large number of fields to grow food.

“It’s still Master Xie’s wisdom, we respect that.”

“Not bad, this kind of ploy can only be thought of by an old master like Elder Xie.”

The compliments from the crowd caused Old Master Xie to stand up and arch his hand, laughing.

“You are all welcome, you are all welcome.”

Only the cold aura in his eyes was not diminished in the slightest.

Lin Mo. Even if I can't kill you outright, I'll still have to waste your arm in the Wanxiang Kingdom!

Old man Xie was convinced that as long as his several clans joined forces, the top would definitely not make a move.

This time, the plan was foolproof!

.....

It was seven fifty the following morning.

Bai Shaoer was dressed in a casual outfit, standing on top of the road next to the field.

"Little Red, how are the shots as well as the facilities being adjusted on your end?"

With a Bluetooth headset hanging from her ear, Bai Shaoer hurriedly asked her other assistant, Xiao Hong.

"Sister Asahier, don't worry, I've called and asked several times."

On the other end of the bluetooth came Little Red's sultry voice.

She was standing on top of a vast pasture, directing people to constantly check the filming equipment around her.

Ensuring that it would never cause any confusion with the cattle and sheep during the live broadcast.

After Bai Shaoer hung up the phone, her gaze went back to her assistant Little Green beside her.

"How is everything already prepared on our side?"

Little Green, the assistant with black framed glasses, hurriedly took out a list from the side.

"Sister Asahier, these are all some of the specialties of the Wanxiang Country and are definitely all still unearthed from the ground."

"This will firstly ensure the freshness of our products during the live broadcast, and secondly it will also prevent the people from having any doubts in their hearts."

Bai Shaoer nodded, her pretty face showing her appreciation for Little Green as she shouted her encouragement.

"Little Green, not bad, I appreciate you, I'll give you a pay rise when I get back!"

Hearing Bai Shao'er's words, a blush immediately appeared on Little Green's face.

The whole person was made dizzy by Bai Shao'er's words.

"By the way, have all the people we've linked up contacted in advance?"

Little Green nodded and opened her mouth to speak softly.

"All the guests have been inquired about, and there are some world superstars among them."

"As long as we start the broadcast later, we can link up with them anytime."

A look of excitement appeared on Bai Shaoer's face as she exclaimed.

"Start the broadcast!"

Chapter 3393

Maple Leaf Country.

One internet user sat in front of his computer or mobile phone, looking at the time of seven fifty-nine on his phone and chanting silently inside.

"Come on show the truth to those idiots!"

"Show your true colours now!"

The time ticked by.

The fifty-nine on the phone suddenly jumped and then returned to zero.

Eight o'clock!

The live broadcast room that was still a black screen suddenly lit up at this moment.

The image in the live broadcast room was of the endless grassland pasture.

Herds of cows and sheep were wandering and grazing.

A dozen seconds later, the screen jumped again and a smiling Bai Shao'er appeared in the live broadcast.

"Hello everyone, I'm the anchor this time, Bai Shallow-er."

With Bai Shallow-er's appearance, a dense pop-up screen began to pop up above the screen.

"Goddess Asa'er, show this group of fools what the Wanxiang Kingdom really looks like!"

"I'm so mad at you, the evidence is right in front of me, and you still don't believe me."

"It's all just a bunch of posed photos!"

"That's right, those two guys, Lin Mo and Zhao Nan Yue, actually made such a big pose for profit."

Some people were sober and some were naturally stupid.

Among the countless comments for Bai Shaoer to wake up those people.

Naturally interspersed were those who still did not believe that the Wanxiang Kingdom was thriving.

They were still reveling in the scene from that Ziaobiro show where the old man knelt down to get the Maple Leaf country to send troops.

With a smile on her face, Bai Shaoer said to the screen.

“We have been aware of everyone’s arguments, and for that reason we have been doing a lot of preparation in the past few days.”

“Next I will present you all with the ecology of the various parts of the Wanxiang country and the living conditions of its inhabitants.”

“I also hope that if there are really unbelieving viewers, they can come and travel through Wanxiang.”

Bai Shaoer’s smiling explanation caused the pop-ups on the screen to skyrocket once again.

Even in this sea of pop-ups, it had started to lag.

In the backstage of Push Tower Operations, an employee stood up and said to the team leader.

“Team leader, the live stream traffic over in the Wanxiang country has skyrocketed and the line is almost full.”

“So soon?”

A look of shock appeared on the team leader’s face, then he said loudly.

“Mobilize all the lines that can be mobilized now to the Wanxiang Country live broadcast room, make sure to maintain the stability of the live broadcast room.”

“Double the year-end bonus for everyone at the end of the year!”

One by one, the various platforms with Bai Shaoer’s live broadcast booths were all frantically adding lines.

Now, once the black screen is on, then the reputation of their own platform can be completely stinky.

“Asa’er goddess, what’s that old man behind you doing?”

“Asa’er, look behind you!”

“I told you, everything in the Wanxiang country is posed, such a big old man working on the ground, showing his face!”

The sudden unanimity of the pop-ups made Bai Sha’er look behind her.

Bai Shaoer glanced back with a puzzled look and instantly understood their reaction.

A few old men were carrying some bags towards Bai Shallow-er’s direction.

Bai Shaoer turned her head to the live broadcast and spread a smile as she said in explanation.

“What these few old men are holding are some herbs, they aren’t heavy at all.”

A group of sprayers immediately scurried out again.

“Impossible, this must all be an interface for you to hide the truth!”

“I don’t believe it, unless you show us.”

“D*mn, you guys are the only ones who don’t believe it, your little mouths are like sh*t, bla bla bla.”

“That’s right, I can’t see that Bai Shaoer has gone over to show you the bags herself!”

The battle between the various parties in the live broadcast room was hot, and a group of people originally just did not believe.

Now it had turned into spraying whatever they saw.

Anyway, it was to describe the Wanxiang Kingdom as a Shura purgatory that had fallen.

“A few great uncles, what have you got here? “

Chapter 3394

Bai Shao’er came to a few elderly people and asked curiously.

Several old people saw Bai Sha’er’s white and red skin and the cameraman following behind her.

At once, they understood that this was what the village people said was that square broadcast.

“Little girl, are you the publicity amba*sador that the Lord Minister of the Pillar State has found?”

An old man came forward and said with a benevolent face to Bai Shaoer.

“That’s right, I didn’t expect that even you knew about this, Grand Master.”

Bai Shao’er nodded, acknowledging her identity.

In such remote areas, the reason she was so convenient was because of Lin Mo’s identity.

“Eldest uncle, what are you few of you going to do now?”

Bai Shao’er’s gaze went to the sacks that several people were easily carrying in their hands.

An old man smiled at Bai Shao’er and said.

“Little girl, we are now going to take these herbs to the recycling station.”

An old man opened the sack in his hand a little, and a strong medicinal fragrance came out from it.

Bai Shaoer felt her spirits lift, and her head, which had been drowsy, was instantly refreshed.

“How amazing, uncle, what kind of herbs are you all this kind of?”

Just as Bai Shaoer asked the few old people, the cameraman also hurriedly pointed his camera into the old man’s sack.

Among the sacks, the pale and lush herbs were stacked in layers.

The old people were worried that the bags on the road would wither them and a light mist of water was sprinkled on them.

All the netizens in the live room were suddenly discussing one another.

“This just looks and feels so fresh, it looks like it’s just been picked.”

“Where are all those down-headed men who said the old man was doing hard work, stand out for me!”

“What kind of herbs are these, anchor, teach me about them.”

“I don’t believe it, it’s just posing, unless you send me a bag by post, not on delivery.”

“Give me the address upstairs and I’ll send you my collection of five-step snakes.”

The old man’s wrinkled face showed a glint of pride when he heard Bai Shaoer’s doubts.

He stretched out his pale hand and took out a plant from among the sacks and placed it in his hand, speaking.

“This is Nan Ho, a super upgraded version according to your words.”

“Not only can it refresh the mind, it can also stop bleeding and disinfect when crushed, and can clear heat and remove fire when cooked in soup.”

After the old man finished speaking, he handed the one in his hand to Bai Shaoer.

“Little girl, this one is for you, we still have to go to the recycling station.”

“Come and eat at home at noon, our family also grows several kinds of herbs.”

“Old dog, how many have you only planted at home, my family is embarra*sed to talk about a dozen!”

Several elderly people walked noisily towards the recycling station in the distance.

It may seem to pampered people in the city that such a life may be tiring.

But for them, to have this kind of life is already something they can wake up laughing about in their sleep.

At first they suffered from the oppression of the night vine and only received a small amount of money for growing it.

Their families did not have enough to eat and even their clothes were changed only in a few years.

But now, since the arrival of the Minister of the Pillar State.

He has directly eradicated the poisonous tumour of the Night Vine Gra*s and has also helped himself and others to plant fields.

Food. Fruits. Vegetables and herbs.

Even if you plant it, the recycling station will collect it for you.

So they don’t have to worry at all that they will live on a hungry diet again.

Even the children don’t have to worry about not having money to go to school or buy books.

Looking at the backs of the few old people leaving, and the cheerfulness that overflowed from the bottom of their hearts.

Bai Shaoer’s face also showed a smile as she handed the herbs in her hand to the a*sistant at the side.

“Everyone also saw the demeanor of those old people as well as their performance, as to whether or not they were faking it

Chapter 3395

White Light didn't finish her sentence.

There were words that didn't need to be finished.

This live broadcast had long since become more than just the netizens of the Maple Leaf and Wanxiang countries.

The influence was so great that it had even spread to all the networks around the world.

100 million, 500 million, 1 billion

The terrifying amount of traffic is still increasing rapidly and has reached a terrifying situation.

“Those who say that our Wanxiang has become hell see clearly one by one, under the leadership of the Pillar State Minister we are good!”

A subscriber of the Wanxiang Kingdom sent out a pop-up.

These days he was infuriated by those rumours from other countries.

Our Wanxiang Kingdom is doing well, who dares to say that we are not doing well anymore!

“Even buy karma, didn't they say that the Wanxiang Country had long been infested by the Night Vine Gra*s and had become a purgatory on earth?”

“Brother, that was a long time ago, check out the forums of the Maple Leaf Country.”

“What a beautiful environment, didn't they say it had been infested with night vine gra*s, where is it?”

A pop-up screen appeared above the screen, and a thick smile appeared on Bai Shaoer's face.

“Hello everyone, this is the anchor of the live broadcast, Bai Shallow-er.”

“The news that everyone has heard before about the Wanxiang Kingdom falling to the Night Vine and already being in the hands of the Minister of the Pillar Kingdom.”

“I can officially disprove the rumors with everyone here, all those news are false.”

.....

The Xu family mansion in Kyoto.

Elder Xu was drinking tea with a face there.

Elder Xie was sitting beside him, looking at the screen on his phone.

“Now that Lin Mo has spread his influence to the maximum, what exactly are you waiting for?”

Elder Xie's frowning question caused Elder Xu to turn his head slightly and said softly.

"What's the hurry, this kind of brainless guy is a double-edged sword, we can totally let someone guide a wave after a while."

"By then, these guys will be the best weapon to take care of Lin Mo and the others."

Elder Xu's confident words caused Elder Xie's face to quieten a little, but his heart was still filled with unease.

"How is the matter of blocking the grain exports going, I always have a bad feeling about it."

"I've already had someone take care of it, don't rush."

As the two men conferred, Bai Shao'er's camera came into the middle of a farmland off to the side.

One topless man was swinging a hoe and working in the field.

"Everyone, this is now the new farmland that has recently been opened up, specifically for growing food."

Bai Shaoer pointed to a pile of seed grain not far away and said to the camera.

"Aren't they all afraid of getting tired?"

"This is all part of people's daily routine now, upstairs has never been down to the ground at first glance."

"Bullsh*t, I've been ploughing and sowing in the fields since I was eighteen, and I've never broken it for more than ten years, don't insult my innocence!"

"A weak question, is upstairs driving?"

"There's no need to doubt that, brother, come with us!"

Most of the live stream at the moment were pop-ups of joyful jokers.

Those insults and comments about posing just appeared and would be washed right out.

"Viewers, here are the fruits that the people in the village grow themselves, there are apples, pears, mangoes and so on."

Bai Shaoer's finger pointed to the middle of an orchard off to the side.

The cameraman had the great sense to lift his camera and move closer.

The morning mist had stained the fruits with a layer of crystal clear water.

The large fruit bodies were neat and perfect, without a single trace of insect damage.

"Everyone look at these fruits, they are all very intact, I reckon I wouldn't even be able to turn this fruit shed over to find the worms."

"Does everyone want to know why this is?"

Bai Shaoer asked as she cushioned a large mango in her hand and looked at the camera with a smile on her face.

Chapter 3396

“Come on anchor, stop selling the story.”

“Twenty years of agricultural experts have said that it is absolutely impossible for this to be fruit that has been sprayed with pesticides.”

“Not bad, there is no trace of any pesticide residue on the fruit at all, it looks very fresh.”

“And this isn’t even one, it’s almost every single one inside the fruit shed.”

One by one, the pop-ups shouted for Bai Shallow to hurry up and tell the truth.

Although Bai Shaoer couldn’t see the pop-ups, she saw the gestures the cameraman was quietly comparing, and instantly understood.

“The recycling station built by Pillar Minister Lin Mo started entirely with the interests of the people in mind.”

“What the recycling station recycles can be more than just some herbs and grains, even if you have worms they also recycle them.”

“Five worms can be exchanged for a lollipop, nine worms can be exchanged for two.”

“Rumour has it that the to overseer inside the recycling station likes fat, fat worms.”

“That’s why these fruit sheds, as well as the inside of the fields, are swept up by children every day when school is out.”

Bai Shaoer’s words made all the viewers in front of the live broadcast flinch.

They had thought at first that it would be some kind of secret recipe that had been passed down from the ancestors of the village.

They didn’t expect it to be a simple and straightforward removal using human power ah.

But look at the red and big apples inside the live stream.

And then look at the apples in their own hands that are not only small but also moth-eaten.

The group couldn’t help but gulp down a mouthful of saliva.

“Anchor, why don’t you ask if these fruits are for sale?”

“Yes, Goddess Asahier, just think of it as a fan benefit and ask for us.”

“I’ve been eyeing that mango for a few minutes, it’s just too tempting.”

The photographer waved his hand towards Bai Shallow, who hurriedly walked over.

When she saw the screen dense with pop-ups all saying for her to ask if they could sell it.

Bai Shaoer's face instantly lost its smile, she was still thinking about how to bring goods to the produce.

As a result, this was sent up directly, without even having to ask for it herself.

"Don't be anxious everyone, I'll go and discuss with the people inside the village, it's definitely possible if there are no surprises."

Bai Shaoer's figure left the camera and looked at the statement Lin Mo had written for himself earlier.

Bai Shaoer placed this statement in front of the camera and spoke.

"This is the price we came up with based on discussions with the people in the village, everyone who is interested can chat with me privately and make a note of what they need and how many pounds."

When the viewers in the live broadcast room saw the price posted by Bai Shaoer, they were all stunned.

It wasn't because of how expensive Bai Shaoer was selling them, but that she was selling them really cheap.

A catty of apples was picked up for a dollar and a half.

The mangoes were so big that they were at least one to twenty a catty outside, and she was selling them for eight dollars a catty.

At once, one by one, the audience could not suppress their clarity.

They directly opened the private chat interface and entered how many they wanted and where the delivery address was.

Bai Shaoer kept walking inside the fruit shed, introducing the other fruits.

The fruit shed was huge, and the fruits grown were so strange that the ones mentioned before were only the first few.

Suddenly, Bai Shaoer's face changed slightly, and then Blooming Yan said.

"Ladies and gentlemen, then let's welcome our first guest today."

"Guest, why is there a guest today?"

"Could it be the international superstar that was invited to come?"

"Could it be my idol, Boss Ke?"

Just as everyone was still engaging in speculation.

The screen that was originally just Bai Shaoer's alone abruptly turned into two halves.

The other side had just started as a black screen, still due to a faint voice coming out.

"Prince, you D*mn put take away, blocking the way camera!"

A white casual suit, with a straight figure and handsome face, Lin Mo appeared on the other side.

“Good morning everyone.”

Chapter 3397

When Lin Mo had already appeared, the entire live stream exploded.

“This is the one you are smearing, where are all those black people, come out!”

“Wow, this Pillar Minister, so young and handsome, I’m willing to be fooled by him!”

“I am Lord Lin Mo’s dog?”

“???”

“What’s going on upstairs, shame on you!?”

Lin Mo’s face wore a bland smile as he gazed at the camera.

“Compared to you all, you know the identity of our big handsome guy.”

“The Chinese Martial Alliance’s Zhen Yue Ambassador, the Chinese Medical Saint, and the Minister of the Pillar State of the Wanxiang Kingdom, Mr. Lin Mo!”

Bai Shao’er’s voice caused a helpless smile to appear on Lin Mo’s face, before calming down.

Lin Mo’s face gradually became serious, his gaze straightened as he looked forward and spoke.

“Gentlemen, I now formally announce as the Minister of the Pillar State of the Wanxiang Kingdom that the Wanxiang Kingdom will take action against all those who spread rumours.”

“Those who smear and slander the Wanxiang Kingdom and the senior management of the Wanxiang Kingdom will be issued a lawyer’s letter, and the matter will be thoroughly investigated!”

Lin Mo’s gaze caused all the viewers watching the live broadcast to subconsciously shiver.

It wasn’t that they were too wimpy.

It was really because the current Lin Mo was simply too imposing.

After finishing his spirited official speech, a smile once again appeared on Lin Mo’s face.

“All of you need not be formal, just now was just a warning to those who secretly smear the Wanxiang Kingdom.”

“If you all are free, you can also come to the Wanxiang Kingdom and experience the customs and people as well as the various cuisines.”

Lin Mo’s soft laughter caused the pop-ups that had just quieted down to riot once again.

“Lord Lin Mo, I want to give you a monkey!”

“Lord Lin Mo, can you come pick me up when I go to Wanxiang?”

“Lord Lin Mo, we support you!”

A clear line of comments supporting Lin Mo.

Those who didn't know thought that Lin Mo had gotten a water army from somewhere.

“Hahahaha, everyone is really enthusiastic, compared to everyone who knows my main profession, doctor.”

As Lin Mo's words fell, the pop-up screen changed once again.

“Yes, yes, the doctor saint.”

“Medical saint and doctor, silly to distinguish.”

“Other people study medicine to become doctors, Lord Lin Mo studies medicine to become a doctor saint.”

The juggling on the pop-up screen caused the corners of Lin Mo's mouth to curve out into a smile, and then he said softly.

“Nowadays, people sit and work all year round, lumbar strain, lumbar disc protrusion, cervical spondylosis and so on are rampant.”

“So I worked out a set of gymnastics suitable for the general public based on each person's body.”

“I can't say that it's invulnerable to all diseases directly after using it, but it can generally soothe the muscles and activate the bones.”

The viewers in the live broadcast room were all shocked when they heard Lin Mo's words.

“My special hair, the Lin Mo medical sage has said so, it seems to be really useful.”

“wccc, naive I have no culture, a crouching phrase walk the world.”

“I a social animal sitting there all year round, every day do the waist and neck pain can not, begging the medical sage to give gymnastics!”

“I'm begging the Holy Spirit of Medicine to give me gymnastics!”

“I beg the Holy Doctor to give me gymnastics!”

“I beg you to give me gymnastics!”

The following pop-ups were close to saying I'm the same, begging for the Holy Doctor to give gymnastics in unison.

“Don't worry everyone, I'm wearing this outfit today just to give you a demonstration.”

“Everyone can turn their phones on and record the screen for a while, or I will post it online for everyone to learn afterwards.”

After saying that, Lin Mo's arms were slightly raised and shook with ocean wave-like fluctuations.

The entire body also shook up and down, followed by

Lin Mo's hands and feet kept touching.

Put down, lift up, put down, lift up.

All the viewers crouched in front of the live broadcast room were one and all frozen in their tracks.

Looking at Lin Mo who was concentrating, three big question marks popped up in their heads.

Is this really gymnastics

And, why is there a hot blooded dubbing!

Chapter 3398

Ten minutes later, Lin Mo, who had finished his gymnastics, faintly wiped the sweat from his forehead.

Luckily, he had specially changed into a casual practice outfit today.

Sure enough, a married man like himself had grown old.

Lin Mo glanced at the screen in the Crown Prince's hand and spoke.

"This gymnastic routine may be a bit physically demanding, but you can try it out if you sit for a long time."

"And I'll call it by the name of an ancient Chinese medical text."

"Materia Medica Gymnastics!"

The entire live stream was suddenly quiet, and for a moment no one actually spoke.

After a long time, a lone pop-up screen appeared.

"Not a single person from the entire court dared to say anything?"

The originally quiet interface was once again a mountain of pop-ups rushing out.

"Is it really useful to have"?

"I guess so, it's still created by the Saint of Medicine."

"But why do I feel so strange?"

"I feel the same way."

A group of strange looking viewers sat in their seats.

Originally they were thinking of just getting up and doing a set to try after watching.

But looking at that gymnastics that was bursting with shame.

Everyone silently gave up on the idea within them.

Between discomfort and social death, they chose discomfort.

Lin Mo looked at the pop-ups on the screen, his face smooth without saying a word.

He himself was benefiting all of humanity, no shame in that.

“Crown Prince, you do it next, switch to Little Black after three times.”

The prince who was still snickering had a straightforwardly embarrassed face, while Little Black who was eating a pastry at the side had a bright look in his eyes.

He nodded vigorously, almost choking to death on the pastry in his own mouth.

Lin Mo handed over a glass of water with a helpless expression.

This child, why did he look silly and not too smart.

The prince walked over to the camera with a bitter smile on his face.

He danced to the materia medica that Lin Mo had just danced to, and the bitterness on that face was about to spurt out.

On the other side, when Bai Shaoer saw Lin Mo start dancing the exercise.

There was a faint smile on her face.

When she got to the back and saw Lin Mo go down and the prince come up.

He almost couldn't help but tense up.

Bai Shaoer really wanted to say that she was professionally trained and would certainly not laugh under normal circumstances.

But really couldn't help it.

Just about the entire live room was in a joyful atmosphere.

Even the curses as well as the smears were simply ignored by all.

Bai Shaoer's expression, which was originally oozing tears from the corners of her eyes, changed for a moment before she opened her mouth and said.

“So, welcome our second guest today, everyone can guess who it is!”

As soon as Bai Shao'er's words came out, the Prince's face suddenly relaxed.

The entire person directly turned into a streak and left the camera.

He was already thinking about whether Mars was habitable or Mercury was habitable.

Lin Mo returned to the camera, his face flat.

The list of guests had been drawn up by himself, so he naturally knew who the next guest would be.

A small window appeared above Lin Mo's window.

A black window made all the viewers a little confused as to what was going on.

Previously, Lin Mo's factory was also a black, how come this appearance was also a black ah.

"Which god is this again, let me worship it quickly."

"Hiss, slightly expectant."

"Why do I feel as if the blackness in this window is different from the others"

The appearance of this pop-up instantly attracted everyone's attention.

Their eyes were firmly fixed on that tiny window.

Suddenly, a streak of crimson light surged out of that darkness turnaround.

A streak of red light appeared within the darkness, converging and eventually forming a great pattern.

Above that pattern, there were a few large words.

The Pearl of the Capital!

Chapter 3399

Large golden letters appear above a black screen.

Below the big golden letters, there was also a very beautifully painted tower.

"Holy sh*t, this is the Capital Pearl's appearance!"

"Walter Falk, what's the Capital Pearl and why are you guys so excited?"

"The Capital Pearl seems to be the most representative TV station in China."

As everyone was shaking, a lovely looking young girl appeared in the window.

"Hello everyone, I am Capital Pearl's trainee host, Nan Bing'er."

The young girl's polite greeting had netizens hitting their arrows.

"Wow, the old girl's heart!"

"This girl, you don't want your either."

"Japanese netizens upstairs please stop!"

A mature and sensual woman strides slowly over and introduces herself.

"Hello everyone, I am the host of Capital Pearl, Nalan Mingzhu."

Her manner of speaking as well as her temperament had netizens raising their flags and shouting.

"Is this Miss Nalan Mingzhu, who is known as the Princess of the Capital!"

"I'm Miss Nalan Mingzhu's dog!"

“Upstairs, it was also you who just said Miss Bai Shaoer’s dog, wasn’t it, a slave with three family names!”

“Bullsh*t, I’m still Miss Nan Bing’er’s dog!”

Not bothering with the netizens’ bickering, Lin Mo’s expression also became serious.

His lips parted as he spoke softly to Nalan Mingzhu.

“Miss Nalan Mingzhu, may I ask you a question in the name of the Amba*sador of the Wanxiang Kingdom in the country?”

Nalan Mingzhu was not the least bit surprised, after all, she had contacted him in private long ago.

“That is natural, the Wanxiang Kingdom has served as a solid and reliable ally of China since ancient times, and China will answer to the extent allowed.”

At the Xu family mansion in Kyoto, unease gradually rose within the two old men who were watching the live broadcast.

Their hearts kept praying that it would not be like what they had imagined it to be.

Lin Mo’s voice remained steady and spelled out clearly, ensuring that all the netizens could understand.

“The Wanxiang Kingdom is naturally deeply honoured to be an ally of China.”

“But I would like to ask about the fact that nowadays Wanxiang is in the midst of reform and development and is poised for growth.”

“According to the friendship contract between the two sides, the Wanxiang Kingdom will pay a large amount of Wanxiang circulars to buy China’s production every year.”

“There is really a lack of sufficient food and the Wanxiang country imports seventy percent of its food in China every year.”

Nalan Mingzhu nodded in the face of these words, agreeing with Lin Mo’s words.

“Then the Vientiane Country wants to know that this year’s purchase is close, although it has not yet begun.”

“As an ally of Huaxia, the Wanxiang Kingdom has always been very trusting of Huaxia, a great country with great manners.”

“But this year, it has suffered a steep domestic turmoil, and all the Wanxiang phase has imported five hundred tonnes of production from the Chinese side in advance.”

“Wanxiang also knows that this request is very difficult for China, all can increase the price by one tenth on the original basis.”

After Lin Mo’s words were said, everyone was dumbfounded.

Although what you said was for the good of the Vientiane country.

But you, a Chinese, are here blathering about my Wanxiang country, blathering about the great Chinese country of etiquette.

For a while, the audience was speechless once again.

When faced with Lin Mo's question, Nalan Mingzhu seemed to think seriously for a long time before raising her head again and saying.

"Your country's late king had been in good standing with China for eternity, and His Majesty Jiadrei also had an alliance attitude with China after his reign."

"And also hired the strongest genius of our Martial Alliance, Lin Mo, as the ambassador of Zhen Yue, all my country decided."

"The request of the Wanxiang Kingdom to buy food in advance can be accepted."

"As for the tenth of the price increase, it is not necessary."

"The great nation of China will never fail its friends."

Chapter 3400

"Is this the boldness of the great nation of China?"

"Yes, yes, if I were I would probably raise the price by half before I would sell."

"Brothers, what do you need to immigrate to China?"

Above the pop-ups one by one, they all started to get envious.

Nalan Mingzhu's face was calm as he continued to speak.

"And China will try to guarantee the exchange between the two countries."

"At the same time, any and all who wish to disrupt the friendly relations between China and Wanxiang."

"Will be sanctioned by the laws of China!"

Nalan Mingzhu's last sentence had taken on a bit of coldness.

"Snap!"

At the Xu family mansion, the mobile phone in Elder Xu's hand had fallen to the ground at this moment.

Whether it was true to say that it was heartless or not they didn't know.

But those who heard it meant it.

The words were clearly a warning to them, the great families of the world, to be honest one by one.

If you break the diplomatic relations between the two countries, you will be waiting for the law to punish you.

Elder Xu's face was now blue, and his eyes held an endless rage.

The appearance of the Capital Pearl also represented the will of China.

If people like himself really still did that kind of thing, there was only one outcome.

Being ruthlessly crushed to death.

"By what right, how can he, a superfluous son-in-law, have such power!"

On the side, Elder Xie's face was also ugly.

Now all the efforts had been wasted, and he had even spent more than ten billion before and after for nothing.

"Master, all the people we sent out have been chucked back!"

Came the anxious voice of the butler from outside.

This had all been guessed by the two long ago the moment they had just seen the Capital Pearl appear.

"It's fine, it's fine, Xu Ming at least got his hands on the Xia Mo morning tea"

Elder Xu forcefully suppressed his anger as well as his stifled frustration.

He was really afraid that if this emotion exploded out, he might have to go straight over.

When the time came to hand over the Xu family to this group of trash, Elder Xu was not at ease either.

Just after his anger had gradually been suppressed, the butler next to him pressed himself to his ear.

"Master, news has come from Young Master Xu Ming that he is trapped in Panyang City."

"The contract can't be sent back at all now, and it could be taken away again by Lin Mo at any time."

The butler's words became the last straw that crushed the camel.

Elder Xu's eyes glared as a mouthful of fishy sweetness surged up his throat.

"Poof!"

A mouthful of blood mist spurted into the air.

Elder Xu's face was instantly pale and his breath was as white as a whisper, frightening the two men.

"Someone, something's happened to the old man!"

.....

"Okay, thank you very much for linking up with Capital Pearl, I look forward to our next link up."

The Nalan Mingzhu on the screen nodded and then simply disconnected the connection.

"So, next, welcome our third guest!"

Bai Shaoer's tone revealed excitement.

“Hey, this is the first time that the anchor is so excited, the previous two didn’t even appear this happy just now.”

“Yeah, yeah, is it some big shot making an appearance this time?”

“Goddess Asael, I’d like to be the next guest’s dog!”

“The social animal upstairs please stop!”

Bai Shallow’s finger lightly tapped on the connecting line on the screen.

In the next moment, another screen appeared above Lin Mo’s.

Everyone waited with bated breath for the next guest to appear.

In the small screen, after a short black screen, a figure appeared.

With a long white ancient style dress and exquisite long hair draped over her shoulders, she looked like a fairy who had stepped out of a story.

“Good morning everyone, my name is Bai Rongruo.”

Bai Rongruo’s light red lips opened slightly as she said softly.

After a brief disappearance, the pop-up screen reappeared the next moment.

“This is my goddess!”

“I love it yeah, which goddess is this, please send me the account number.”

“The white dress is floating, it’s like a fairy!”
