I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2816-After Jagger finished speaking, he waved his hand and motioned for the other party to go quickly.

Margie turned and left.

Soon, she went to the top floor of Nightly Desires.

This used to be a place where the big boss would rest when he occasionally visited, but now, it was given to Jade.

This showed how much the big boss valued Jade.

Margie knocked on the door.

She would only do this when meeting Jade. When meeting other women at Nightly Desires, she would just push the door open and enter.

“Who is it?” Jade’s maid asked from inside the room.

“I’m Margie. I want to meet Miss Jade.”

“She is resting now. You can talk to her tomorrow!” The maid did not show the owner of this establishment any respect at all.

“Please report this to Miss Jade, Miss Cherry. I have something urgent to tell her,” Margie said quickly.

How would she explain to the younger chief if she just went back like this?

She would not be able to work in Village Pott anymore if she offended the younger chief.

“Wait!”

After Cherry finished speaking, the room fell into silence.

Creak!

After a while, the door opened.

Cherry stood in the room and said, "Miss Jade asked you to come in."

"Thank you, Miss Cherry!" Margie said politely before entering the room.

The room was very large.

This was the place where the number two of Village Pott occasionally came to rest and it occupied the entire top floor of Nightly Desires.

Cherry took Margie through two rooms and arrived at the place where Jade was resting.

She then said respectfully, "Miss, Margie is here."

"I got it. Cherry, please go out first," Jade replied softly.

"Yes, Miss!" Cherry left the room.

Then, Jade and Margie were the only ones left in the house.

At this time, there was a layer of translucent gauze between the two of them.

Margie could only faintly see a figure sitting across from her, but she could not make out Jade's appearance.

Even Margie, the person in charge of Nightly Desires, had never seen Jade's true face, let alone the others.

Perhaps only the big boss had seen her face!

Sometimes Margie wondered why the big boss would hire such a diva.

"Margie greets you, Miss Jade," Margie said politely.

"What's the matter?" Jade asked.

"Miss Jade, Jagger, the younger chief of Village Pott, was very amazed after watching your performance. So, he came to me asking to see you. May I know if you have time?" After Margie asked that, she nervously waited for the other party's reply.

It would be best if she could agree.

That way, everyone would be happy and Margie could explain everything to the younger chief.

Jade would not lose anything from meeting the younger chief anyway, and Margie believed that the younger chief would not dare to mess around.

However, if Jade refused, then there was nothing she could do.

If she had to choose between the younger chief and the big boss, Margie would of course choose the big boss without hesitation.

Not just because the other person was her boss, but also because the big boss' status in Village Pott was second only to the village chief.

Before Jagger became village chief, his status would still be miles away.
