

I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2876-“Amazing!”

Even though the gourd was not big, there was a secret inside. If all the wine in the gourd was poured out, it could cause a flood.

“Eh? I don’t think I know this person beside you, Blaze. I haven’t seen him before!” Eros asked in confusion when he saw David.

“Since everyone is here, let me introduce you to David. He has just entered Origin Realm, so I brought him to tell him about the Sky Demons. From now on, he will also be one of us.” Blaze pulled David over and introduced him.

“Hello!” David clasped his hands and said respectfully to the Almighty.

David admired these heroes who risked their lives to protect their homeland from the bottom of his heart.

“David, these are the Origin Realm Almighty of the Metaverse. There were too many of them, so I won’t introduce them to you individually. You will know them after you get familiar with them. Some still haven’t arrived, as they are all monitoring the Sky Demons’ every move.”

“Son, you’re pretty amazing to break through to Origin Realm under the blockade of the curse!” Eros looked at David carefully.

The other Almighty also cast curious glances at David.

“It’s just good luck! I still have a lot to learn compared to you all.” David said modestly.

“Luck is also a way of reflecting strength. Otherwise, how can you get to Origin Realm even with the curse’s blockade and not the other partial Almighty in the Metaverse? Not bad! We finally have new people joining us.” Eros smiled.

“Eros, has there been any movement among the Sky Demons recently?” Blaze asked.

After hearing this question, Eros, who was originally smiling, suddenly became serious.

“Yes! According to my calculations, the Sky Demons are probably planning a large-scale attack!”

“Oh? A large-scale attack? How sure are you?” Blaze was stunned and asked quickly.

“I’m 80% sure!”

“80%? That high?” Blaze was shocked.

A large-scale attack from the Sky Demons was no joke.

Generally speaking, a small-scale attack that occurred once every few hundred years would not cause much damage to the Metaverse.

However, once the Sky Demons launched a large-scale attack, they would suffer heavy casualties almost every time.

One must know that before encountering the Sky Demons, thousands of Origin Realm Almightyies existed in the Metaverse.

Now, there were less than a hundred.

This was all because of the Sky Demons.

“It’s really high! So even if you don’t come this time, Blaze, I will send people to look for you. We must gather all our strength to deal with the large-scale sneak attack of the Sku Demons. Otherwise, we may lose our homeland if we are not careful,” Eros said solemnly.

The rest of the Almightyies at the scene had heavy expressions on their faces.

How many of them could survive this war?

“How long has it been? How could the Sky Demons launch a large-scale attack?” Blaze was very puzzled.

“I have no clue. Although some Almightyies from the Metaverse managed to escape, they can’t send news back since the Sky Demons sealed the Metaverse. So, we have no way of knowing the specific situation. This time, I discovered the Sky Demons’ movements in advance and then calculated this using my special means.”

“Eros, did you use a forbidden technique?” Blaze’s eyes widened.

'Yeah! Don't worry, Blaze, I can still hold on! Even if I die, I'll drag a few Sky Demons with me.' Eros looked angry.

"Sigh!"

Blaze sighed heavily.

Wars were so cruel.

Anyone could die, including him.

However, what was death compared to protecting his homeland?

A murderous aura started to fill the air.

The Almighty's had determination in their eyes.

They swore to protect their homeland even if they had to die.

This atmosphere also influenced David, so he clenched his fists and got restless. He wanted to see if the Sky Demons could resist his unlimited clones' self-detonation.

After the system's ultimate evolution was completed, even David did not know what level of combat power he had now because the system panel had disappeared.

At that moment...

"Boom!"

There was a loud noise in the sky. Everyone looked up, their eyes filled with a fierce determination!
