

I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2877-Immediately after the loud noise, a flustered and exasperated voice roared from the sky.

“Sky Demons, what do you want?”

“What do we want? Get rid of you and occupy the Metaverse, of course! We want to make everyone in the Metaverse our slaves!” A domineering and rough voice replied.

“How delusional! The Metaverse will never surrender to invaders like you!”

“That’s not necessarily true! If we destroy you stubborn Almightyies, will the Metaverse still have the ability to resist?”

Boom! Boom! Boom!

While talking, they heard several more loud noises in the sky.

“Ah! Oh no! Super Sky Demons!”

All the Almightyies were shocked.

Super Sky Demons?

It seemed the Sky Demons were prepared to take over the Metaverse.

“Everyone, I won’t waste my breath because we have experienced this situation countless times. If we can stop the Sky Demons, everyone in the Metaverse can still live and work in peace and contentment. If we can’t, we’ll just die together. Now that the Sky Demons are coming in hot, we need to be prepared.

Even if we die, we have to do some damage to them too!” Blaze raised his head and said in a serious tone.

He did not know if they could stop the invasion of the Sky Demons this time.

Even if they could, how many people here could survive?

A Super Sky Demon’s strength was equivalent to peak Origin Realm.

Among the Almightyies in the Metaverse, only two people were at peak Origin Realm. They were Blaze and Eros.

However, these two had been injured in countless battles with the Sky Demons and never truly recovered.

Once they encountered a Super Sky Demon of the Sky Demons, it might still be fine if they worked together to deal with one. However, if they had to each deal with one, they would almost definitely lose.

“Attack!” All the Almightyies in the Metaverse shouted in unison.

Of course, they knew what losing in the extraterritorial battlefield meant.

The Sky Demons had spent a lot of effort sealing the Metaverse.

After all, it was so big.

Similarly, it was not easy to break the seal.

If the Sky Demons undid the seal, the situation would be completely out of control.

Blaze and others would definitely find a way to send a group of people out and seek revenge after they grew.

Therefore, there was no way the Sky Demons would allow this to happen.

Whenever they invaded a universe, they would kill everyone without leaving survivors.

This was what the Sky Demons would do every single time.

In other words, the Sky Demons would not invade the Metaverse from other places, and the only way was through the extraterritorial battlefield.

There would still be hope as long as the Almightyies could guard this place.

David stood in the crowd, his eyes narrowed slightly.

He was about to see living Sky Demons and fight them. Instead of being afraid, he felt a little bit excited.

‘Sky Demons, you came at the right time, so let me test my limits with you!’ David thought silently in his heart.

After the final evolution of the system, David still needed to learn where the limit of his combat power was.

He had yet to test his current strength level in any fights.

So, he would make the Sky Demons his test subjects.

To be honest, David did not worry that the Sky Demons would successfully invade the Metaverse.

He felt that since dozens of Origin Realm Almightyies could protect the Metaverse for such a long time, wouldn't it be easier if he added some of his clones?

“Let's go and meet them!”
