

Read I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2873

I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2873-Blaze then took David to an unknown space.

As soon as he entered, David smelled the strong smell of blood.

It was so strong that it was pungent.

The dozen or so Origin Realm Almightyies also followed.

Along the way, everyone remained silent, and no one made a sound.

The sky and earth were red in this strange space.

Even the flowing liquid was red.

David suspected that it was not water but the blood of some creature.

At this time, Blaze spoke, "David, this is the extraterritorial battlefield."

"The extraterritorial battlefield?" David wondered.

"Yes! Didn't you just ask if there are other Origin Realm Almightyies? Of course, there are, and there are quite a few. They are stationed here to fight against the extraterritorial Sky Demons and protect our homeland. Without their bloody battle, there wouldn't be the peaceful life we have now."

"Blaze, please tell me everything."

"Don't worry. I brought you here, so I will definitely tell you everything. What I will tell you next is the highest secret in our universe. Only those who have become Almightyies are qualified to know it, and you're not allowed to reveal this to anyone."

"Got it."

Blaze led David and others along the extraterritorial battlefield, talking as they walked.

As he told the story, David slowly gained a clear picture.

His brows furrowed, and his heart became extremely heavy.

He learned from Blaze that the universe they were in was called the Metaverse.

The Metaverse was so big that even if an Almighty wanted to reach the end of it at top speed, it would still take a long time.

However, the Metaverse was not the only universe. There were more advanced cosmic planes outside of the Metaverse.

The Metaverse could only be regarded as a medium-plane universe at best.

The Metaverse used to be open, so anyone who reached Origin Realm could leave freely to experience higher cosmic planes, contact stronger creatures, and become stronger.

However, everything changed when a powerful race targeted the Metaverse—the Sky Demons.

The Sky Demons wanted to occupy the Metaverse and make their other base.

However, the Almighties of the Metaverse, headed by Blaze, would not agree.

So, the two sides started a fierce battle.

Although all the Almighties in the Metaverse worked together and risked their lives to resist the invasion of the Sky Demons, they also suffered heavy casualties.

After the failed invasion, the Sky Demons did not give up. Instead, they made great efforts to seal the entire Metaverse and leave only a gap: the extraterritorial battlefield.

The extraterritorial battlefield was also the only channel connecting the Metaverse and the outside world today.

Not only that!

To prevent the power of the Metaverse from growing, the Sky Demons also placed a curse on it, making it at least a hundred times more difficult for the creatures in the Metaverse to break through to Origin Realm.

Hence, that was why everyone was so curious after discovering the new guy, David.

It was because no one in the Metaverse had broken through to Origin Realm for a long time.

It was not that the creatures in the Metaverse did not have enough talent. It was because of the limitations of the curse.

Sealing the Metaverse prevented the Almightyies within it from venturing out, growing stronger, and returning to seek revenge on the Sky Demons.

Therefore, the curse was laid to consume the Metaverse slowly.

However, this was not enough.