

Married At First Sight Chapter 3371

Married At First Sight Chapter 3371-Kathryn looked at Marco for a moment and said, "I'm very busy now, and mom is not in Jensburg. If you get into trouble, I don't have time to help you clean up the mess."

Marco said, "No, no, every day, I'm either at work or at my mother-in-law's place, arguing with your sister-in-law. I don't have time to get into trouble. Besides, I'm already in my forties. If I really get into trouble, I will clean up the mess myself. How dare I ask you to help me clean up the mess?"

"That's the best. Go back to work, brother. I'm leaving too." Kathryn stood up and walked around the desk.

The brother and sister walked out of the office together.

Marco wanted to find out what Kathryn was doing outside, but Kathryn kept her mouth shut, and he couldn't get anything out of her.

After entering the elevator, Kathryn stood in front, standing straight. She was wearing a women's suit and actually looked quite heroic.

Marco cursed a few words in his heart.

He had to keep a gentle smile on his face.

When they reached the floor where his office was, the elevator door opened.

Marco walked out.

Kathryn took the elevator and went directly to the next floor.

When Marco passed by the secretary's desk, he stopped and walked to the secretary's desk. The secretary looked at him.

"Go ask Kathryn's secretary what Kathryn is doing outside."

The secretary replied, "Vice President Farrell's secretary is very tight-lipped and will not easily reveal her schedule. Manager Janzen, you are the vice president's elder brother; why don't you ask the vice president yourself?"

Marco choked and said, "Forget it."

He handed the document signed and sealed by Kathryn to the secretary and said, "Kathryn has signed and sealed it."

This was originally his secretary's job, but he took over the secretary's job mainly because he wanted to get the inside scoop from Kathryn.

He knew that Kathryn and Liberty often interacted privately.

He sent people to bump into Liberty but failed. Who knows if Liberty will ask Kathryn?

If Liberty had any suspicions, the first person she would suspect would definitely be the Farrell family.

Just now, Kathryn seemed to be testing Marco and trying to get him to talk.

Marco suspected that Kathryn might be going out to see Liberty.

He arranged it so well that even if it failed, people would not suspect it was a conspiracy. He guessed Liberty would not suspect it, right?

He really doubted it, but Liberty had no evidence.

He was afraid that Kathryn would interfere in this matter and let Pedro investigate. Marco was still very wary of Pedro. He knew very well how powerful it was to be an assistant who was assigned to the side of the head of the family, or the young master.

He didn't know what means they used to make those well-informed people give them faces.

If he got help from such a person, what would he worry about?

Unfortunately, he was not qualified to take over the Farrell family.

Marco returned to his office, sat down, thought about it, and decided to call the two young female drivers.

When he asked them about the follow-up, he learned that they apologized to Liberty and then left the Fortress Hotel.

Thinking that he wasn't suspected, Marco felt a little relieved.

Then he thought, 'What if Liberty suspects it is me? What if she has evidence?'

He just wanted Liberty to die.
