Married At First Sight Chapter 3336-Everyone saw the girl in red strutting in, and their boss kept a smile on his face. He was really a gentleman and had a particularly good temper.

Evan had a good temper among the brothers, but he could still become serious in the company, so the impression left on the company employees was that of seriousness. Everyone privately said that he had the demeanor of his eldest cousin, Zachary.

Although they have never met Zachary in person, they have all heard that Zachary is indifferent and always has a straight face and a very serious expression.

Thinking of Evan saying that the girl in red was here to collect debts, even their boss Evan had to smile with a smile on his face when facing the creditor.

They wondered how much debt the boss owed to this girl?

After the door to the general manager's office closed, everyone entered the elevator one after another.

"There is no problem with our company, right?"

Captain Li asked the front desk. He was only responsible for security. He thought the front desk should know better than him about the internal affairs of the company.

The front desk asked, "What problems does our company have? Everyone goes to work as usual every day and sometimes has to work overtime on weekends. This means that the company's business is very good.

Salaries, bonuses, and various welfare subsidies are paid as normal. Daily afternoon tea is still provided and has not been reduced. The snacks are still from the same snack shop. Everything is normal."

The front desk thought that the company could still pay wages, and benefits had not been reduced, so there was no need to worry about unemployment.

“Mr. York said that the girl came to collect debts. I thought there was something wrong with our company’s operation. Otherwise, how could Mr. York be in debt?”

The front desk: “What you say makes sense, but everything in the company is normal. It’s impossible for Mr. York to run away, right? There are Yorks behind him. The Yorks are the richest in Wiltspoon. Mr. York owns more than just this company. He is also responsible for some projects and branches of the York Corporation. It stands to reason that Mr. York will not be short of money.

If anything happens, Mr. York will not be short of our wages. He has the York Corporation to support him. Captain Li, you don’t have to worry about that. As long as we go to work normally, we will get the wages we deserve.”

A security guard suddenly said, “When Mr. York said he owed a debt, he didn’t necessarily owe money. Maybe he owed a love debt.”

Everyone looked at him.

The security guard said a little nervously, “Why are you looking at me? Mr. York is young and handsome and has a good family background. There should be many girls who like Mr. York. We don’t know if Mr. York likes others. In this case, is there really a debt of love?”

Didn’t you see that the girl in red was angry and obviously unhappy? When Mr. York saw her, he was smiling and had a good temper. He was extremely tolerant of her. Based on my manly intuition, Mr. York likes the girl in red.

Only when you like her will you tolerate her. Even if she has a dark face, you will still think she is beautiful.”

Everyone looked at each other’s faces and felt that his analysis made sense.

Evan didn’t care what his staff thought about his relationship with Fox.

Thinking of the two of them as a pair of lovers would be just what he wanted.

After he invited Fox in, he asked her, “Tea or warm water?”

“I want to drink your blood!”

Fox looked resentful. She walked to the sofa and sat down on her own, leaning back on the back of the sofa, glaring at Evan with her beautiful eyes.

Evan thought she looked very pretty when she was angry. He poured her a glass of warm water.

He was afraid that if she drank tea, it would affect her lunch break.

Regardless of whether she took a lunch break or not, he wouldn't let her drink tea. If she has the habit of taking a lunch break and is disturbed by the cup of tea, she will be even more angry with him.

Evan said, "It's not impossible to drink my blood. I'll bring you a knife, and you can do it yourself. If you drink a glass of my blood, I won't die. At most, I'll just lose too much blood, and my face will be a little pale. You just make me some soup to replenish it."

Fox said angrily, "Drain all your blood, and then throw you into the deep mountains and forests to feed the wild be*sts."

Evan smiled. "You are not bad; you are just acting that way. I am aware of it."
