

A psychopath!

Lyra's P.O.V

Listening to his sarcasm and irony in the name of a speech, I wished that my wolf was alive, I could have wiped the smug from his face with Nala's paws. I couldn't imagine how stupid I had been to fall in love with such a psychopath. So, it was his plan all along! To use me and leave me wanting him! The desperate hints that I had once shown him, the silent seduction that I had once tried, he had been aware! He was enjoying me making a fool out of myself! The messages that I had sent him through his Beta, he was aware of it! I had never been humiliated like that in my entire life!

Biting my lover's lip to maintain composure, I tried acting like I was not affected by his words. I couldn't give him the satisfaction of getting through to me, " Smitten with you? What is there to like about you? Isn't it obvious that you have low self-esteem? And that explains why you never had s*x with me again after our wedding night? You felt undeserving. You think that you are not good enough and that's why you are walking shirtless, to soothe your manly ego when people admire you. Well, if you ever thought that you were punishing me by taking my rst then you were wrong. I never regretted giving my virginity to you because I had a good ride, at least one part of your body is useful! I could have given it to anyone as long as I wanted, don't feel special because you are not! "

After I nished speaking, I peered at him and I saw his eyes turning red, evidently, he wanted to rip my throat apart!

" You want to kill me, go ahead, I will appreciate that! You will be putting an end to everything that you started! " Saying that, I heard a heavy rumble from his wolf and I was confused!

" If you think you will escape from me, then you are wrong! You are mine, dead or alive! "

With a frown, " I always knew that you are a psychopath but I have conrmed it. You are mental! What right do you have to keep me locked? What crime have I committed? If the wolf's counsel nds out about how awfully you are treating your Luna, together with your mistress, you will kiss goodbye to your position as the Alpha of this pack"

Coming close to me, he spoke with clenched teeth, " Well, they will not nd out if you don't tell them," Putting his hands on my neck, choking me, and pinching my lips together, he continued, stretching each word " And I have a million ways to keep your mouth shut! " Lifting his face to face the door, he shouted " Guards! Bring my tools! "
