

A WARRIOR UNDEFEATABLE/

A Man Like None Other Chapter 3931-Divine Intervention “What’s going on? Why has the pressure suddenly disappeared?” “It’s also not hot anymore. So relaxing.” “Has the assessment become invalid?” Everyone suddenly felt the oppressive atmosphere lift, and they were all taken aback.

Even Carla was taken aback, expressing her disbelief. “How can this be? Could the test be broken?”

“Carla, regardless, we should seize the opportunity while there’s no pressure and hurry on. Otherwise, we’ll fall too far behind.” Jared hurriedly urged.

Once the pressure was gone, everyone’s speed increased remarkably. It didn’t take long before they caught up with Adan’s group.

“Adan, look quickly. How did those guys manage to catch up to us?” Someone spotted Jared’s group and quickly alerted Adan.

When Adan turned his head, he saw Jared’s group rapidly closing in.

Moreover, the speed of Jared’s group was impressive and was about to overtake Adan’s group at any moment.

“D*mn, what’s going on here?” Adan was also somewhat taken aback.

Just then, Jared’s group had caught up. Carla, with a smirk, looked at Adan and said, “Why are you so slow, like a tortoise? Weren’t you quite pleased with yourself just a moment ago?” “Hahaha, just like a turtle.” “You’re too slow, and yet you boast so much.” The other cultivators also sneered at Adan’s group.

“Carla, you guys are cheating. How come the pressure here seems to have no effect on you?” Adan noticed that Jared’s group was moving quickly and effortlessly.

It was clear that they were not under any pressure at all.

“Bullsh*t. Clearly, this assessment-” Before Carla could finish her sentence, Jared interjected from the side.

Jared cautioned, “Carla, the test hasn’t been deactivated. Look at Adan’s group.

Even though they're moving quickly, it's clear that they're expending a significant amount of spiritual energy." Upon careful observation, Carla indeed saw that Adan's group was flushed, their foreheads glistening with sweat.

Although their speed was impressive, it was only due to their immense strength and ability to resist pressure. It wasn't because the test had failed. The pressure was still there.

Carla was taken aback, thankful that she hadn't spoken out.

"Adan, you accuse us of cheating just because you can't beat us. Have you no shame? Earlier, you guys surpass us. Can I accuse you of cheating, then?" Carla rebutted Adan, simultaneously sending a message to everyone, urging them to show signs of distress.

Otherwise, if her group traversed too easily, it would arouse suspicion.

If an investigation were to be launched, she feared she might lose her qualification for the evaluation.

Upon hearing Carla's message, everyone gritted their teeth and grimaced, their foreheads slick with sweat. They appeared utterly distressed.

However, their pace was anything but slow.

Watching everyone's antics, Jared couldn't help but want to laugh. These guys are really good actors.

Everyone seemed to be struggling, but they quickly surpassed Adan's group.

That left Adan quite frustrated.

"Adan, what's really going on? When did these guys become so formidable?" "Exactly, the pressure is intensifying, yet they can still move so quickly." "I can't believe what I'm seeing." Everyone on Adan's side was confused.

Even though they were clearly stronger, Carla's group was surprisingly faster than them.

"Perhaps the stronger we are, the greater the pressure. Let's hurry and pursue them" Adan himself wasn't quite sure what was going on and could only hazard random guesses.

"Haha, it was satisfying to see the awkward expressions on Adan's group earlier." "If the test isn't broken, then why aren't we feeling any pressure?" "It's truly peculiar. Could it be divine intervention?"

They didn't know and even speculated that the heavens had lent them a hand.

By that point, Jared's group was long gone, completely out of sight there was no way for Adan's group to catch up.

At that moment, everyone remembered. There was nothing wrong with the test, so why couldn't they feel the pressure anymore?

A Man Like None Other Chapter 3932-A Thorough Examination Jared smiled, remaining silent. If one were to say that it was divine intervention, then he would be divinity. At that moment, beyond the assessment, Thiago also observed the situation.

Judd was there, too. After all, he had quite a bit of spiritual currency riding on this.

When Judd saw Jared's group being surpassed by Adan, his hands were drenched in sweat. However, upon seeing Jared's group suddenly quicken their pace, overtaking Adan's group, Judd smiled.

Thiago, however, was deeply furrowed his brow, his face clouded over with gloom.

"What's going on? Could there be an issue with the assessment? Someone, go check it out immediately." Thiago roared in anger.

Soon, someone went to inspect the test. After all, if there were issues with the test, the whole assessment would lose its significance.

"Thiago, my people surpassed yours. Even if there was an issue with the test, you should remember that your men were ahead. Why didn't you check then?" With a touch of pride, Judd posed a question to Thiago.

"Judd, it's part of my job to inspect the tests. I'll do it whenever I please. Is it any of your business?" Thiago glared at Jared in annoyance.

Before long, several disciples went to inspect the tests. However, they returned rather quickly.

After the inspection, the disciples addressed Thiago. "Thiago, there's nothing wrong with the test. Everything is functioning as it should, whether it's the array runes circuit or the reserves of spirit stones. Everything is normal." Thiago furrowed his brows, baffled. He couldn't understand how Jared's group managed to move so swiftly. It seemed as if the pressure had no effect on them.

He could never have imagined that this kind of pressure could be dispelled with a mere wave of Jared's hand.

“Go check it for me again. Make sure to examine it thoroughly.” Thiago once again sent people away.

At that moment, Jared’s group was on the brink of passing through that area with pressure.

His group’s journey was filled with ease and joy, marked by conversation and laughter, with absolutely no depletion of their spiritual energy.

“We’re about to face the fire spirit beast up ahead. Luckily, we managed to conserve our spiritual power along the way, so there’s no need to fear facing that fire spirit beast.” Carla addressed the crowd.

After hearing Carla’s words, Jared felt that the inner court assessment of the Violet Flame Sect was truly insane. The journey would’ve nearly drained their spiritual energy, and yet they were expected to kill a fire spirit beast afterward.

That was practically inviting the beast to toy with them until they were dead.

Fortunately, throughout the journey, everyone had Jared’s assistance, so they didn’t need to exhaust their spiritual power. Therefore, they were not afraid to face the fire spirit beast.

As the oppressive pressure vanished, thousands of fierce beasts, ablaze with flames, materialized before Jared’s group.

However, Jared saw at a glance that those fire spirit beasts were nothing more than illusions, merely nascence beasts.

If his group were facing real fire spirit.

beasts, the inner court assessment of the Violet Flame Sect would likely have turned into a massacre. Many disciples would have lost their lives.

Those nascence beasts wouldn’t actually kill the disciples being tested. After all, those were merely illusions controlled by the Violet Flame Sect.

Furthermore, the power of those fire spirit beasts was under the control of the chief examiner, who could adjust it at will.

Looking at the sea of fire spirit beasts before them, everyone couldn’t help but feel a sense of dread and fear even though they had conserved their energy.

“Carla, could you, explain the “Everyone, don’t be afraid. These fire spirit beasts aren’t as formidable as they seem. All we need to do is defeat a hundred of them, and we’ll be able to pass this level. However, no one is allowed to assist each other. The kill must be accomplished solo. If a fire spirit beast were slain by two or more people, it wouldn’t count.

At the time of the fire spirit beast’s death, only one person’s aura should remain on its body.” Carla was.

explaining things to everyone else.

characteristics of these fire spirit beasts? It would help us to deal with them,” someone asked

A Man Like None Other Chapter 3933- Truly Abnormal Carla shook her head, saying, “The fire spirit beasts lack distinctive characteristics, and its strength is unpredictable. The strength of the fire spirit beast in each assessment is adjusted by the chief examiner, so it’s never consistent. Moreover, the fire spirit beast doesn’t have any fixed features, all to prevent targeted training.” Upon hearing that, everyone felt a bit disheartened. It seemed they would have to give it their all. Relying on Jared was of no use anymore.

“Carla, shall we get started?” Jared suggested.

“Hold on. This fire spirit beast must be slain using a fire source. Other methods won’t work, and using a real weapon is absolutely out of the question,” Carla advised once again.

“Understood.” Everyone nodded in agreement. With a swift extension of their hands, flames danced in their palms. Those flames then transformed into various weapons.

“Kill!” The crowd, brandishing weapons that seemed to morph into flames, charged toward the fire spirit beasts.

“Jared, your fire source is too weak. These fire spirit beasts vary in strength.

Follow behind me. If we encounter a weaker one, I’ll leave it for you to slay.” Carla held Jared’s hand and shielded him behind her, much like a mother protecting her child.

“Carla, I want to give it a try myself.” After Jared finished speaking, he ignited a flaming sword in his hand.

Then, with a swift leap, he charged toward those fire spirit beasts.

“Jared!” Seeing the situation, Carla immediately followed.

Before she could reach Jared, she saw that as soon as Jared arrived, he swung his sword, causing a fire spirit beast to fall to the ground with a mournful cry.

Wherever Jared's sword flashed, the fire spirit beasts were all severed in two.

Jared was like a harvester, reaping the lives of the fire spirit beasts.

Everyone who witnessed that scene was utterly astounded.

After all, at the outset, everyone assumed Jared was just another rich kid who had only been brought into the Violet Flame Sect by Dario due to nepotism.

However, it seemed that Jared was quite powerful too.

"Carla, isn't this junior just a rich kid? How is he so impressive?" "Could it be that he encountered the weakest fire spirit beast?" Everyone turned to Carla and asked different questions.

"Stop spouting nonsense. Who said that rich kids can't also be competent?"

Jared, for instance, is both affluent and capable." Carla watched Jared display his impressive skills, her eyes filled with nothing but admiration. Jared is wealthy, handsome, and incredibly capable. If we can perform dual cultivation, that'd be delightful... Carla was utterly captivated by the sight of Jared, so much so that she was practically drooling in her infatuation.

The other disciples couldn't help but burst into laughter when they saw Carla's expression.

"What are you laughing at? Get moving already. Choose the weaker fire spirit beasts to slay. Once Adan's group arrives, there'll be nothing left for us." Carla glared at everyone and spoke.

Only then did everyone react, and they all began to take action.

At that moment, Adan's group finally arrived, only to find Jared's group already in the midst of Slaying the fire spirit beasts. The ground was littered with the bodies of the fallen beasts.

Upon seeing that, Adan was filled with rage.

"These guys are so fast and took down the fire spirit beast with such ferocity.

They definitely weren't affected by the pressure," Adan said in anger.

“Adan, these guys are really something else, each one of them so fierce, especially that newcomer. He’s already slain so many fire spirit beasts.” Someone pointed at Jared.

Adan glanced at Jared and noticed that Jared had already slain dozens of fire spirit beasts. The latter was on the brink of passing the test.

“Let’s get moving too. We shouldn’t mingle with them. Let’s go somewhere else.” Adan leaped into action, leaving Jared’s group behind as they were engaged in slaying the fire spirit beast.

He moved to another area to start his own battle.

Upon seeing Adan’s group distancing themselves to slay the fire spirit beasts, Jared initially thought that those fellows went elsewhere because most of the weaker fire spirit beasts in the area had already been nearly wiped out.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 3934-Following Them Carla’s group thought the same way, so they didn’t pay much attention to Adan’s movement.

Someone, puzzled, questioned Adan, “Adan, why are we hiding from these guys? We could also charge in and slay the fire spirit beast, even trip them up a bit.” Adan glared and said, “You fool. The power of the fire spirit beasts is all controlled by Thiago. Once we split up, Thiago can weaken our fire spirit beast’s power and strengthen theirs. If you can’t even understand this, I suggest you might as well go back.”

Upon hearing those words, everyone else immediately burst into laughter. It seemed they had the privilege of getting the easy way out.

“Carla, when Adan’s group saw us, they were so scared they scurried off to the side.” “Exactly. They must have felt they couldn’t match up to us and were afraid of being embarrassed.” “Hahaha, I never thought they’d see this day.” Upon seeing Adan’s group move off to one side, all the cultivators from Gael’s faction began to tease and jest among themselves.

However, Carla’s brows furrowed slightly as if she had a bad premonition.

“Enough talking. Quickly slay the fire spirit beasts and pass this challenge.” “Roger!” the group of cultivators responded.

However, when those people began to engage with the fire spirit beasts, they soon realized that the creatures, which seemed so easily defeated moments ago, had become significantly more formidable.

“What’s going on? How did the fire spirit beast suddenly become so powerful?” “Exactly. It was quite easy just a moment ago.” Everyone voiced their confusion one after another.

Jared could also sense the fire spirit beasts had suddenly become more powerful.

That slight increase in strength meant nothing to Jared, but for other cultivators, it was not so simple.

After quite a while, the group couldn’t manage to slay even a single fire spirit beast. Instead, they found themselves in a rather embarrassing predicament, thanks to the beasts.

Adan’s group were effortlessly slaying the fire spirit beasts. When they saw Carla’s group struggling and in complete disarray due to the fire spirit beasts, everyone in Adan’s team couldn’t help but burst into laughter.

“Carla, the difficulty of the fire spirit beasts has increased. For now, we should join up with Adan’s group. Wherever they go, we follow. The fire spirit beasts on their side must have been a piece of cake to kill.” Right off the bat, Jared pinpointed the problem.

Adan led his group to the other side, not out of fear, but rather deliberately separating themselves. His intention was to cause trouble.

Upon glancing at Adan’s group, Carla noticed how effortlessly they seemed to be slaying the fiery beasts.

“D*mn it, I’m sure that Thiago is behind this. To think, as the main examiner, he actually dared to show favoritism.” Carla cursed under her breath, then led her men toward Adan’s group..

Regardless, the task was to slay the fire spirit beasts. As long as one could slay a hundred of them, that was all that mattered.

It didn’t matter where the killing took place.

When Adan saw Carla approaching with others, his initial instinct was to put some distance between himself and Carla’s group.

However, wherever they went, Carla would always follow them with her people.

“Carla, have you no shame? Why is it that wherever we go, you alwaysn have people following! Adan was panicking and raised his voice in reprimand toward Carla.

Everyone began to engage in a reckless slaughter.

“Adan, it’s you guys who have no shame, including that Thiago. Don’t think we won’t catch him playing favorites and bending the rules. The only way all of us have to do to pass this test is to slay a hundred fire spirit.

beasts. It doesn’t matter where I do it.” After Carla finished speaking, she then loudly commanded, “Juniors, swiftly slay the fire spirit beasts and pass this trial.”

Adan could only seethe in anger, utterly helpless.

Jared was quietly observing from the side, for he had already slain a hundred fire spirit beasts.

As the time limit for that test ended, Jared’s group had all successfully completed their test slaying a hundred fire spirit beasts.

Surprisingly, a few individuals in the group led by Adan failed to complete the assessment.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 3935-Sneaking Around “Ah, I’ve slain ninety-nine! I’m just short of one more...” A cultivator roared in frustration, but a beam of light ultimately transported him out of the assessment field.

Upon seeing that Jared’s group had all passed, Adan scowled.

“We all may have passed this stage, but special attention must be paid to the next one, which is the ultimate test of your fire source,” Carla addressed the crowd.

She was also saying that for Jared because his fire source was too weak.

Hence, the next stage was crucial to him.

Accompanied by a vast beam of light descending, Jared’s group slowly found themselves enveloped by the radiance. Then, everything before their eyes turned pitch black.

When Jared opened his eyes again, he found himself surrounded by a vast expanse of white, unable to see anything. Even his spiritual sense couldn’t penetrate through it.

At that moment, Jared felt as though he was in a confined space.

Jared tried to navigate through the vast expanse of white, but he found that he couldn’t escape.

Suddenly, Carla's voice reached him. "Jared, don't be afraid. You just need to harness the fire source within you and withstand the test for a moment. Rest assured, there's no threat to your life. If you really can't hold on any longer, you can call it quits." "Understood, Carla." Jared nodded, then quietly took a seat, silently awaiting the arrival of the test.

Quickly, waves of heat rolled in, and Jared felt as if he was completely engulfed in flames.

Jared could sense the intense flames burning around him. Even though he couldn't see them, he could definitely feel them.

Hence, everyone was using their inner fire source to resist that wave of heat.

The fire source raging within oneself made it impossible for the surrounding heat wave to penetrate one's body.

Jared was sitting quietly, unaffected. The heat wave of such low power couldn't possibly bother him, so he didn't even need to use a fire source.

After sitting for a while, Jared began to feel a touch of boredom creeping in.

Unexpectedly, he started to embrace the heat wave willingly, curious to discover what kind of flame that heat could produce.

As Jared absorbed the heat waves, he was astounded to discover that those surges of warmth were actually emanating from the fire source of the Violet Flame Sect.

Feeling that aura, a sudden joy surged within Jared's heart.

That was the fire source of the Violet Flame Sect, something Jared had never seen before. If he could absorb and refine that fire source, making it his own, he could add another fire source to his arsenal. Upon having that thought, Jared began to absorb the heat waves, his spiritual sense expanding outward in tandem with the relentless surge of heat.

Jared had to locate the position of the fire source before he could attempt to refine and absorb it.

All around was a vast expanse of white, effectively obstructing his spiritual sense. However, Jared ingeniously utilized the heat wave to extend his spiritual sense outward.

As Jared's spiritual sense expanded, he realized that, at that moment, everyone was situated within a vast space. The distance between each person was not far, but they were all enveloped by a formation.

Among them, a ball of fire source continually danced and leapt ft was clear the rolling cheat wave was emanating from that ball of fire source.

Just as Jared was preparing to examine the fire source, suddenly, a figure was stealthily approaching it.

Jared was taken aback. He couldn't comprehend how during the o m assessment, someone could actually leave their designated spot.

Jared saw that the figure was unexpectedly Adan.

After all, no matter where Jared went, he was never able to leave his own area.

Yet, Adan manage to leave his own area.

Jared used his spiritual sense to examine Adan. He wanted to see what exactly the latter was'up to.

Adan was seen holding an object wrapped in red cloth, ypon unyelling, it, was a pronze mirror intricately etched with many array runes.

Adan was using that bronze mirror to traverse within that region effortlessly.
