

Married At First Sight Chapter 3441

Married At First Sight Chapter 3441-While Pedro was driving, he heard Kathryn's voice. He put on the emergency brake right away.

Realizing that this action was very dangerous, he quickly turned on the hazard lights, and when he was sure there were no cars behind him, he quickly pulled over.

"Miss?" Pedro turned his head to look.

Kathryn wanted to sit up, but she still felt dizzy, and the world was spinning, so she couldn't get up.

She could only continue to lie there.

She didn't know where her mother got the medicine, what it was, or why it was so effective.

She took a sip of warm water, but after drinking it, she felt that the water was not right, so she stopped drinking it.

That was it; she lost consciousness.

It took a while before she regained consciousness.

When she heard her mother's voice, she lay still and continued to pretend to be unconscious until Pedro carried her away from the Farrell family mansion.

In order to allow her to sleep more comfortably, Pedro put her in the back seat, where there were three seats for her to lie on, which was much more comfortable than leaning on the passenger seat.

Even if she fell asleep, Pedro wanted her to sleep comfortably so that she wouldn't feel uncomfortable when she woke up.

"Miss, are you okay?"

Pedro got out of the car, then opened the back door and leaned in to help Kathryn up.

Kathryn raised her hand to stop him and said weakly, "I feel very dizzy. I can't sit up. If I sit up, I will feel even more dizzy."

She closed her eyes again while speaking.

Her brows were tightly knit together, and she was truly dizzy.

Kathryn said, "The drug my mother gave me was really powerful."

Pedro touched her forehead and found that she didn't have a fever.

However, Kathryn woke up so quickly that Pedro felt relieved.

Kathryn said, "Mr. Fraser, inform Liberty... My mother is going to fight her to the death, and we will both be in trouble."

Liberty was the most suitable successor among her aunt's descendants, so her mother wanted to kill her.

Pedro said instinctively, "Miss, strictly speaking, Liberty is your rival and stands opposite you."

Kathryn opened her eyes. Due to the dizziness, she saw a double of Pedro. She rubbed her temples, trying to relieve the dizziness.

But she said, "One generation was wrong, but we can't make all generations wrong. It's not mine, and I don't want it."

She grabbed Pedro's hand, closed her eyes, and begged, "Mr. Fraser, if you still recognize me as your lady, just listen to my arrangements and contact Liberty immediately. I'm not actually interested in the position of matriarch."

The opportunity to meet Pedro was the most significant benefit of reuniting with her biological parents. Her mother held the family head position, which she snatched.

It wasn't hers, so she didn't want to fight for it. Besides, she lacked the courage to argue with Liberty and the others.

Her mother was responsible for the murders of Liberty's grandparents and family. There was a deep hatred between them.

She had no way to stop what happened decades ago, and she didn't even know where she was at that time.

Today, decades later, she can only do her best to protect her aunt's descendants as a way of atonement for her mother's sins toward her aunt.

Kathryn didn't care that doing so would make her lose the opportunity to become the head of the family.

She just needed to be true to her conscience.

She could see from her mother that what was snatched was indeed snatched, leading to constant unease and significant psychological pressure. Perhaps her mother also felt deep regret in her heart.

After killing my aunt, is my mother really happy? Is she really free of guilt? How much did my mother gain?

Kathryn still liked to be an upright person. She acted uprightly, and no matter what the outcome, she could hold her head high, not doing anything wrong and not being afraid of ghosts knocking on her door in the middle of the night.

Kathryn asked, "Mr. Fraser, if I don't become the head of the family, will you think I'm useless? Will you regret coming to me?"

Married At First Sight Chapter 3442-Pedro gently pinched her lovely nose. He said in a gentle voice, "You're still dizzy and uncomfortable, so just have a peaceful sleep and don't think about anything.

From the moment I came to your side, I must not regret it. I will not regret it. I will be loyal to you for the rest of my life, and I will never change my mind. As long as I am still alive, I will stay by your side, and I will never regret it."

Pedro said this, lowering his head, wishing to get closer and kiss her.

However, when he was about to kiss Kathryn, he stopped.

Kathryn understood his feelings.

However, she hasn't responded to him yet.

Pedro didn't dare to act rashly.

"I'll listen to you and contact Liberty now."

Pedro gently touched Kathryn's head, then took off his coat, covered Kathryn with it, and said softly, "I'll send you to the hospital after I contact Liberty."

"Um." Kathryn responded with her eyes closed.

She didn't like the dizzy feeling.

She had to go to the hospital to check what medicine she took. She hoped that she would be back to normal by tomorrow morning.

Pedro got out of the car, returned to his driver's seat, and called Liberty.

Liberty quickly answered his call.

Pedro said, "Miss Hunt, Matriarch Farrell is going to kill you. Our young lady asked me to inform you that, if possible, you should stay at home for the next few days. It would be best if you temporarily left Jensburg and returned to Wiltspoon."

Liberty was not too surprised when she received Pedro's call.

Mr. Jimenez was alive, and he had met Audrey, her aunt. He lived in her house. It was not impossible that Matriarch Farrell, knowing that Mr. Jimenez was alive, would panic and take a risk to die with her.

Liberty had already prepared herself mentally. Audrey also reminded her to be careful, be on guard, and not fall into the vicious tricks of Matriarch Farrell.

"How is your young lady?" Liberty asked Kathryn about her situation with concern.

Pedro replied candidly, "Matriarch Farrell drugged the young lady. No matter how fast the young lady reacted, she still got the drug. She was unconscious for a while. She is awake now, but she is still dizzy and feels very uncomfortable. I will take her to the hospital now. Miss Hunt, that's it."

Pedro ended the call quickly.

After Pedro hung up the phone, Liberty immediately called Kevin.

"Sister Liberty."

Kevin was still living in the Queen family's old house. He was in a positive mood and smiled.

"Kevin, the situation of the Farrell family has changed. Matriarch Farrell drugged Kathryn and knocked her down. She plans to kill me."

Clarissa knew that Kathryn had a positive personal relationship with her, and Kathryn was not the kind of female devil who was so cruel as to kill people without blinking an eye.

If Kathryn knew that Clarissa was going to murder her, she would definitely try to stop her.

So Clarissa simply laid Kathryn down to prevent her from getting in the way.

From another perspective, Clarissa was also trying to save Kathryn's life. All the bad things were done by her.

What if she loses?

The people in Wiltspoon will let Kathryn go because she hasn't gone along with the evildoers.

That way, Kathryn can live a good life.

With Kathryn's ability and Pedro by her side, she can live well even if she leaves the Farrell family.

This can be considered a way out of what Clarissa, as a mother, has planned for her daughter.

Upon hearing this, Kevin's expression became serious.

Married At First Sight Chapter 3443-Kevin got up and walked outside.

Seeing this, Hayden followed him out silently, listening to him whisper something to Liberty.

She heard him say to Liberty, "Sister Liberty, I suggest you go back to Wiltspoon now."

"Although you have Jim and the others protecting you, the Farrell family has been operating in Jensburg for over a hundred years and has many members. If Clarissa really wants to fight to the death, you will be defenseless. Jensburg is the Farrell family's territory.

Wiltspoon is our territory. It will be safer for you to go back than to stay in Jensburg. Hurry up and arrange the company's affairs, and then go back to Wiltspoon. I'll notify my eldest brother and ask him to arrange a private plane to pick you up."

Kevin had the same idea as Kathryn and felt that it would be safer for Liberty to return to Wiltspoon.

After all, Jensburg was the Farrell family's territory. Even though the Farrell family was not as prosperous as it was in its heyday, they had been running Jensburg for many generations, and their family members were spread across every corner of Jensburg.

Although there were many tribesmen who were dissatisfied with Clarissa and defected to Liberty,.

But most people were unaware of what happened back then and still obeyed Clarissa's orders.

Even if Liberty has bodyguards following her, it's not safe.

Liberty said, "How dare she kill me openly? If she is honest, we can still guard against it, but she won't be honest."

Kevin said, "Think about your grandmother. She used to be the head of the Farrell family. It can be said that the Farrell family was under her control. What was the result? Don't underestimate Clarissa; she can do anything."

Liberty was silent for a moment, then said, "Okay, I'll listen to you. I'll arrange my work now and go back to Wiltspoon. I won't need a private plane. I'll go to the airport and fly back, or I can drive directly."

Kevin said, "Don't drive out. You don't know how many cars are waiting to hit you on the road. Like last time, you never thought that something like that would happen. Wait for the elder brother to make the arrangements. Sister Liberty, you'd better not wander around now and try not to go out. If you do go out, tell Jim and the others to let their car follow yours closely, and don't let other cars cut in line and separate you. I'll contact my elder brother now."

Kevin didn't dare to delay, and after instructing Liberty, he immediately called Zachary.

Seeing Hayden around, he didn't even have time to talk to Hayden.

Hayden said, "I will arrange a few bodyguards for Sister Liberty."

While waiting for Zachary to answer the call, Kevin nodded and agreed to Hayden's arrangement.

It would be safer to have more bodyguards accompany Liberty when she goes out.

Zachary answered the phone.

Kevin told Zachary about the situation, and Zachary immediately asked Josh to make arrangements.

Afterwards, Zachary contacted Clive.

Clive said, "I will personally fly to Jensburg to pick up Liberty. If anything happens to Liberty in Jensburg, our family will blame ourselves for the rest of our lives, and we will not be able to face Serenity."

Because it was his mother, Audrey, who arranged for Liberty to go to Jensburg.

Clive added, "Zachary, don't tell Duncan about this for now. He will be very anxious if he finds out, but he is unable to move."

If Duncan knew that Liberty was in danger, he would definitely not sit still and would follow her to Jensburg, but he was not mobile and would only drag Liberty down if he followed her.

Zachary was silent for a moment, then said, "I'm afraid I can't hide it. Sister Liberty also has bodyguards arranged by Duncan."

Liberty has six bodyguards around her. The York family, the Stone family, and the Lewis family each arranged two bodyguards for her.

Clive: "Please persuade him not to follow me. I will leave for Jensburg now. Please comfort Serenity. She is pregnant."

Zachary nodded.

The two ended the call quickly.

Married At First Sight Chapter 3444-Clive immediately set off to fly to Jensburg.

However, after Liberty contacted Kevin, she sat quietly in her office for a long time.

She was wondering: Was she really going back to Wiltspoon?

If she didn't leave and Clarissa really killed her, then there would be evidence that Clarissa killed her, and Clarissa could be convicted.

Her grandmother's family was murdered several decades ago.

Even if Mr. Jimenez was still alive and could serve as a witness, the incident happened so long ago that Clarissa might not be able to pay with her life.

Unless Clarissa has committed another capital crime of m*rder or arson recently, Clarissa can only pay with her life.

She acted as bait.

Thinking of this, Liberty immediately called Zachary. After Zachary answered the phone, she said to him, "Zachary, I've thought about it. I won't go back to Wiltspoon. I'll stay in Jensburg and wait for her to make a move. Once she makes a move, we can get evidence of her crime. I'm going back to Wiltspoon to escape. I can't hide forever, and we can't give up Jensburg either."

Unless she stops pursuing the truth about her grandmother's m*rder. But that's impossible.

“sister!” Zachary called out seriously, “Seren will be very worried if you are like this. Your cousin has already left for Jensburg.”

“Tell Seren that I will be fine and that I will be very careful. Tell her to rest assured and help me take care of Sonny. It would be best if we could keep it a secret from her. Don’t let her know that Sonny is on winter vacation. Let her and her nephew go to FC Manor for vacation.”

Sonny was still in Wiltspoon, but his heart had already flown to FC Manor.

Titus had his holiday earlier than Sonny.

The two little ones video chat every day.

Titus asked Sonny when he would come over every day.

Zachary wanted to hide the secret from Serenity even more than Liberty did.

But he was also afraid that if something really happened to Liberty, Serenity would find out and blame him for keeping it a secret.

Now Zachary hasn’t decided whether to tell Serenity.

Audrey and other elders also suggested keeping the matter a secret from Serenity for the time being, mainly because Serenity was pregnant. They were afraid that after Serenity knew about it, she would become worried and nervous, which would not be good for her and the baby.

“Zachary, you can’t get a tiger cub without risking it. What am I doing in Jensburg? I knew there would be dangers before I came here, and I’ve experienced dangers. If I go back like this, won’t all my efforts be wasted?”

Liberty decided not to return to Wiltspoon but to stay in Jensburg.

She wanted to see how Clarissa dealt with her.

She had to seize this opportunity and get evidence of Clarissa’s crime so that she could send her to jail.

Going back to Wiltspoon was much safer than staying in Jensburg for her now.

However, it was difficult to have a result from the open and secret struggles with Clarissa.

Zachary knew that it was useless to persuade her any further, as Liberty’s personality was slightly stronger than Serenity’s.

Especially after her divorce, she regained her confidence in life and re-entered the workplace and business world.

Liberty's strength gradually emerged.

Audrey said that this was the nature of the eldest daughter of their Farrell family.

Zachary said, "Since you have made up your mind, I won't persuade you any more. You must be careful. Seren and Sonny are waiting for you to come back home to celebrate the New Year. I'll also ask Josh to arrange for some people to go over there. But, sister, try not to go out. I think they'll use a car accident. Unless Clarissa really doesn't want to live anymore, she would just hack or shoot people."

Married At First Sight Chapter 3445-Liberty said, "I will be careful; you don't have to worry too much about me."

She was very busy every day, and the places she went to most often were the company and the Fortress Hotel.

The company may be a little safer than the Fortress Hotel.

The hotel was open to the public, with so many people coming in and out every day from all over the world, so it was easy for a killer to hide.

Liberty said, "My aunt sent me a message. I'll talk to her first."

Zachary said, "Okay, sister, you must be careful."

"I know. I will." Liberty quickly hung up the phone and turned to talk to Audrey.

Serenity, who was still unaware of the changes in the situation in Jensburg, remained at Wildridge Manor.

Several seniors liked the environment of Wildridge Manor and originally just went there to have a meal, but because they were attracted by the beauty of the villa and the old lady's repeated persuasion, they decided to stay in the villa for a few days.

When people of the same generation get together and talk about the past, they can talk for days and nights.

Even Mr. Jimenez didn't want to leave.

He thought Old Mrs. York really knew how to enjoy life and built a villa like this for her retirement.

Most of the young people in the York family usually lived in the city. They had to go to work and often travel on business. It was more convenient to live in the city.

They would only return to the villa during festivals.

Retired people lived in the villa, enjoying their retirement and leading a leisurely life. This was the highest level of retirement life.

Because the seniors liked this little kid, Sonny, and the kindergarten only required one day before the winter vacation, Serenity simply asked for a day off for Sonny, went to the kindergarten to get all of Sonny's things, and started the winter vacation one day early.

Without going to kindergarten, Sonny was like a wild horse that had broken free from its reins. After getting up in the morning and having breakfast, he disappeared without a trace. It was not until eight or nine in the evening that Serenity could find him.

Tonight was no exception. It was nine o'clock in the evening before Serenity found Sonny at Rosella's place and brought the little guy back.

"Auntie, I haven't had enough fun yet; let me play for a while longer." Sonny, who was pulled back by Serenity, kept saying along the way that he hadn't played enough and wanted to play for a while longer.

Serenity said, "Auntie is about to rest, but you are still playing. Auntie doesn't have time to pick you up."

As Sonny walked, he said, "Second Grandma will take me back."

Serenity said, "Second Grandma is old; it's dark, cold, and windy; don't always ask Second Grandma to bring you here late at night."

Sonny said, "Then I can wait until my uncle comes back and ask him to pick me up. I really want to play."

Serenity said, "No, you have to go home to take a shower, rest, and play again tomorrow."

Sonny said, "Auntie, I'm on winter vacation now. When will you take me to visit Titus? I really want to go to his house. It's more lively there, with little brothers and sisters."

It's not like his family is just him and his mom.

There were no children in her aunt Serenity's family, so she could only play with the children of the workers in his uncle's family.

This was also the reason why Sonny had so much fun at the villa.

Not only did several old grandfathers teach him many new tricks, but many friends at the foot of the mountain also played with him.

Serenity replied, "After the old men go home, I will take you to play with Titus. Otherwise, you can go with the genius doctor, grandfather, and I will not go with you."

The old doctor would also have to return to FC Manor in a few days.

Serenity originally planned to take Sonny and the old doctor to FC Manor.

If the old doctor is willing, it would save her trouble.

After thinking about it, Sonny refused, "Auntie, I want you to accompany me. Don't you miss my little sister, Avah? Didn't you always say that you wanted to hug Avah and give birth to a little sister for me in the future?"

Serenity: "You said that there is only a little brother in my belly, and I can't give birth to a little sister."

Sonny suddenly became speechless.

Married At First Sight Chapter 3446-After a while, Sonny looked up and asked Serenity, "Auntie, will my mother give birth to a little sister?"

He was still young and didn't understand love, but he knew that his mother would marry Uncle Duncan soon. He didn't understand what marriage meant; he just knew that marriage meant living together.

Uncle Duncan will move in and live with them in the future. Or he and his mother could move to Uncle Duncan's house.

When you get married, you will have a baby. For example, his aunt Serenity and uncle Zachary got married, and now his aunt is pregnant with a little brother.

Sonny wondered if his mother would give birth to a little sister for him.

"It's hard to say. Maybe there will be, maybe there won't be."

Serenity didn't dare to say that her sister, Liberty, would definitely have a second child after remarrying.

It depended on what Liberty thought.

Of course, the Lewis family hoped that Liberty would give birth to a second child, no matter whether it was a boy or a girl. If she does, Duncan will have a successor.

Sonny said, "I want a younger sister. When mom and Uncle Lewis get married, I will ask mom to give birth to a younger sister."

Serenity smiled. "Do you know what marriage is?"

Sonny replied, "It's marriage; a man and a woman, it's marriage. Auntie, I want to get married when I grow up."

"You are just a kid, and you are thinking about such far-reaching things."

Serenity rubbed Sonny's head with amusement, thinking that she should be careful when speaking in front of Sonny in the future so that the little guy wouldn't overhear.

However, Sonny was smart and had eyes watching.

Yes, kids nowadays are too smart.

Serenity asked, "Sonny, do you want mom to be with Uncle Duncan?"

"Of course I am. Aren't they together? Whenever Uncle Duncan sees my mom, he only has eyes for her. He always says that he loves me the most, but he's lying to me. He thinks I'm a three-year-old kid who's easy to fool."

"I observed it. I can see that Uncle Duncan is like Uncle Zack. He is afraid of you, and Uncle Duncan is afraid of my mother. If I did something wrong and my mother said she would beat me with a clothes hanger, Uncle Duncan would not plead for me but help my mother get the hanger and tell her not to beat me too hard or she would get tired."

Sonny pouted as he spoke, feeling that Uncle Duncan did not really love him.

He was saying that Uncle Duncan liked him, which was fake.

Whenever he went against his mother, Uncle Duncan would always stand by her side.

Serenity covered her mouth, and she laughed.

Sonny looked up and glared at Serenity.

Sonny said, "Auntie, you are laughing at someone else's misfortune. You're laughing at me."

Serenity tried to hold back her laughter. "Auntie won't laugh at you; Auntie won't laugh at you."

She bent down and tried to pick up Sonny.

Sonny didn't need her to hold him.

"Auntie, uncle said I'm grown up and don't need to be held in your arms because he's afraid I'll kick you in the stomach."

Sonny carefully touched Serenity's belly. In fact, he was very careful.

He wouldn't kick Serenity. Not to mention that Serenity was pregnant; even if she wasn't, he never kicked her.

Serenity was like his second mother and took very good care of him. His mother said that when he was just born, it was his aunt who took care of him day and night.

The person he loved most was his mother, and the second person he loved was his aunt, Serenity.

Sonny hoped that he could grow up quickly so that he could protect his mother and aunt.

"It's okay; you're not that heavy. I'm very strong; I can carry you for an hour." Serenity still picked up on Sonny.

"Ring, ring, ring."

Just as Serenity picked up Sonny, her cell phone rang.
