

My Mate Has Two Wolves

MY MATE HAS TWO WOLVES BY JESSICA

Chapter 31

Catherine's POV

"Your apology is meaningless to me. I hope that you won't take my two children away. I can't leave them " I don't want him to apologize, which couldn't solve the problem,

Then do you have a better way to solve this problem asked Blake.

I bit my lower lip and was flustered. Previously, Blake acted like a bandit. So I could still throw a tantrum and curse at him.

But when he talked about our children with such a calm and rational tone, I found... my mind went

I don't know..." I lowered my head and answered him at a loss.

"How about this? Just let Noah and Hedwig live with me for a few days and then with you for a few days..." Blake seemed to feel it was fair.

*I don't want to be separated from them for a single day. Let them live with me, and you can come to us if you want to," I said. I bit my lower lip and didn't want to compromise.

"Catherine, do you want our children to be in danger? You know that I am Lycan King, and you also know that the pack under my management in New Jersey is safe, which makes many ferocious rogues see me as an enemy. Think about it. If they know that I suddenly have two children, what will they do? It will be a disaster for our children!" Blake suddenly reminded me with a serious face.

When I heard that my children would be in danger, I looked up and glared at him angrily. "Then you shouldn't have come to them. Don't let them be exposed to any danger."

"If they live by my side, all these dangers can be avoided," said Blake.

That was his purpose. I understand.

My hands clenched tightly. I suddenly felt that Blake was so hateful. He deliberately said those words to scare me. Wasn't he trying to ask me to compromise?

"But Noah and Hedwig can't leave me!" I said stubbornly.

"So, the best way is to move to my pack"

"I don't want to live with you!" I said immediately.

Blake sneered, "If it weren't for the fact that you're Noah and Hedwig's mother, would I let you move in?"

I was speechless. He looked down on me, and I really wanted to beat him up.

"I have a lot of houses. If you don't want to live with me in the villa on the hill, you can live in the villa by the lake. We will be separated by several kilometers and won't meet each other often," Blake said indifferently.

I was stunned for a moment. His words were much more pleasing to hear than what he said yesterday when he did not take me seriously at all.

“If you are willing to lend me a house to live in for the time being, I can consider your arrangement ... I hope that you will not interfere in my life.” Actually, when I was on my way to the airport with Noah and Hedwig just now, I was soft-hearted for a moment.

I felt pitiful for the longing and anticipation in their eyes when they mentioned “Daddy”.

We lived a happy life before because they never knew that they had a daddy.

Now, it was impossible for me to erase Noah’s and Hedwig’s memories of Blake.

I had been trying hard to be a qualified mother. However, no matter how much motherly love they received, they still needed fatherly love.

At that moment, I made a decision. I wouldn’t let them lack fatherly love in their childhood anymore.

Of course, all my concessions and considerations were for the sake of Noah and Hedwig. To me, Blake was just a stranger. Although we had sex with each other five years ago and had two children, I always thought it was an accident.

“Of course, we won’t interfere with each other.” Blake smiled meaningfully.

The car headed for Blake’s villa on the hill.

In the car, I tried my best to keep a distance from him.

Just now, I was so nervous that I did not feel that his aura was strong, which brought a strong sense of oppression.

Now, after we reached an agreement, I was relieved a lot and suddenly realized that Blake's aura was so dangerous.

He was staring at me with his deep eyes. His gaze displeased me, as if he was looking at an item that belonged to him.

"Why... Why are you looking at me like this?" I became alert again as I found him staring at me with ill intentions.

"Hedwig looks like you. She's very beautiful," Blake said calmly. He was entirely without malice, Instead, he praised me.

I was speechless. Although I had heard a lot of men compliment me, I felt that Blake's words were harsh.

Seeing my overly cautious and nervous look, Blake laughed lightly, "Are you afraid of me?"

"Why should I be afraid of you?" I retorted immediately.

"If you are not, why are you sitting so far away from me? Are you afraid that I will eat you?" Blake looked at me and said, as if he didn't care at all.

“Nonsense!” I was embarrassed.

The sunshine shone through the window and landed on my face. It was somewhat dazzling, so I narrowed my eyes slightly. I saw that Blake was absent-minded for a moment.

Then, he seemed to think of something, and his aura instantly became cold again. There was a trace of displeasure in his eyes.

I found that he was still looking at me occasionally. I felt strange a lot.

Fortunately, we finally arrived at the destination.

With Henry’s care, the two little guys were so excited that their faces were red. It could be seen how happy they were to be able to live with their daddy.

“Mommy, how’s your talk with daddy? Are you done? Can we not leave?” Hedwig was always straightforward and said whatever she wanted.

I squatted down and gently touched Hedwig’s little head. I whispered, “Yes, we won’t leave. Stay and live with your daddy.”

“Really? I’m so happy. Thank you, mommy.” Hedwig was satisfied and immediately kissed me on the face.

I looked at Noah who was smiling like a little fool. Although Noah was introverted and not as eloquent as Hedwig, I could see that he also wanted to stay with Blake.

It seemed that I made the right decision.

I stood up and looked at the two little guys who were playing.

I couldn't help but sigh. As long as Noah and Hedwig were happy, the little grievance I would suffer was nothing.

"I'll ask Downen to prepare necessities for you. Also ... I'll send a few servants for you." Blake looked at Noah and Hedwig who were playing happily, his face became a little gentle.

I nodded. "Thank you. But there's no need to send the servants over. I can take care of myself."

"I send them to take care of my children." Blake ignored my refusal.

I looked at him, but he turned to look at Hedwig and Noah.

"Well, you can arrange it. I don't care." I didn't want to argue with him. Since everything was for the sake of my children, I accepted it.

"Can I lend you a car? I need to go to somewhere." Since I decided to stay, I had to return the money to Gina.

Blake turned to Henry and said, "Give her the car key."

I took the car key, ignored the man with a strong aura at the side, and went straight to Hedwig and Noah.

“Noah, Hedwig, I’ll go out for a while. Can you play with daddy instead?”

Noah and Hedwig looked at each other and seemed to understand something.

They nodded obediently and said, “Okay, mommy. Be careful when you drive.”

I noticed their expressions when they looked at each other. I couldn’t help but sigh and smile. It seemed that no matter what decision I made in the future, I couldn’t be too hasty. After all, my two little babies had their own thoughts now.

I pressed the car key, and the lights of a luxurious black car flashed.

I was not used to driving such a luxurious car.

However, I looked at the cars around. Which one was not worth more than a million? The answer was “no”.

“Do you need me to go with you?” Blake suddenly came over and asked in a low voice.

When I saw his face, I immediately waved my hand. “No need. I can drive myself.”

My instant refusal made Blake’s face turn gloomy.

King Blake was unhappy.

I got in the car and was trying to get familiar with the buttons in it. Then I caught sight of Blake walking back to my two children.

My hearing was good, and I could hear their conversation in the car.

“Daddy, how did you coax mommy and change her mind?” After playing games with her brother for

“I said that I would spoil her and love her in the future. And then she comes back!” Blake said gently.

I snorted in my heart. He clearly lied without thinking. The fact was that he forced me to compromise!

“Daddy, did you fall in love with my mommy?” Hedwig asked happily.

Noah said, “Hedwig, nine out of ten words of a man are fake. Do you believe them? Then you are so stupid.”

“Don’t say that I am stupid!” Hedwig immediately shouted. Noah liked to tease her. He laughed as he ran. “Mommy has fallen in love with another man. She won’t like daddy.”

I laughed. Noah didn’t know what love was, and he just liked to tease Hedwig.

I looked up and saw Blake taking a step forward with his long legs. He easily grabbed Noah’s little hand. "Noah, do you know which man your mommy likes?"

"I know, but I will not tell you!" Noah made a face at him.

Blake immediately squatted down and let Noah stand straight in front of him. He said seriously, "Noah, tell me. I will reward you with a toy."

"No, I will never betray mommy. I'm a man, and I have to keep my word," Noah said with a serious face.

I was a little speechless. Why did Noah make up a story for me? But soon I felt satisfied with his words protecting me.

Blake probably didn't expect Noah to be so determined, so he turned to ask his daughter, "Hedwig, do you know?"

"Know what?" Hedwig blinked her big eyes.

"Which man does your mommy like?" Blake tried to say with a gentle tone.

As soon as Hedwig heard his words, she immediately stretched out five fingers and counted. "Jack,

Tom... Oh, daddy, I can't count them with one hand!"

Hedwig said that her memory was not good enough and asked, "Noah, can you count all of them?".

"Forget it. I don't want to know!" Blake put down Hedwig and stood up.

I felt his gaze. I hurriedly stepped on the accelerator and left the villa.

I didn't know if Gina was in the Black Moon Pack, so I made a phone call to ask Harley. Then, I went to where Gina worked downtown –

After I stopped the car, Harley greeted me. He asked in surprise, “Cathy, did you buy this car?”

“No, I borrowed it from a friend.” I shook my head.

Harley nodded. I continued to ask, “Where’s Gina? I have something important to tell her.”

“I’ll take you to her.” When Harley took me upstairs, he suddenly asked, “Cathy, have you found your mate after so many years?”

“No, I haven’t found mine.” I sighed in my heart. Although I had my own wolf, I didn’t meet my mate.

“I haven’t, either,” Harley said.

“Really?” I laughed slightly, but for some reason, I didn’t have any feelings in my heart.

After entering the office, I saw Gina. Gina also saw me, and her face immediately became ashen.

“Why are you still here? Aren’t you supposed to be at the airport now?” Gina stepped forward and asked.

I had just transferred the money back to Gina on the way here.

“I won’t leave, so I’ve transferred your money to your card. Check it.” I ignored Gina’s twisted face and said indifferently.

“Catherine! You liar!” Gina roared at me.

I snorted and said, “You were the one who went back on your word. You said you would return the obsidian necklace to me in the morning, but you didn’t return it to me at all.”

Gina glared at me, but she couldn’t retort me because what I said was right.

“I’ve returned the money to you, and I didn’t receive the necklace from you, so the document we signed has been invalid. Don’t disturb my life again, “I said coldly and turned to leave.

“Stop!” Gina stepped forward and reached out to stop me. “You haven’t made it clear.”

I couldn’t help but smile. I sneered, “What else do you want me to say? I’ve said everything I should say!”

Gina glanced at Harley beside her and said to him, “Go out. I have something to say to her alone.”

Harley looked at Gina and me and frowned, but he still left the office.

When Harley closed the door, Gina’s imposing aura suddenly disappeared. Instead, she pleaded, “Catherine, you said that you were not interested in Blake, but why are you not leaving now? Are

I hated Gina’s phony face. I felt that she was always wearing a mask. Her expressions changed constantly, and her true colors remained unknown to me.

“I am not interested in him. But it is my business. Why should I tell you?” I sneered.

I was very stubborn, and the dispute I had with Gina five years ago was also because of my temper.

Otherwise, I would not have met Blake in Shadow Forest.

It was useless for her to hunker down to ask for my help. She probably knew this as well, so she put away her pitiful appearance.

“Do you really want to be against me? Think about it. You and I are from two worlds now. Making me your enemy will do no good to you.” Since I wasn’t moved by her acting, she began to play tough.

That was who Gina really was. She enjoyed the feeling of being high above others.

“New Jersey is so big. Does staying in New Jersey make me your enemy?” I no longer wanted to talk to this unreasonable woman.

Gina’s face became even more sullen. Her eyes were filled with resentment. “I am warning you. Don’t even think about taking Blake away from me. You know how important he is to me.”

“If he is meant to be your mate, I can’t snatch him even if I want to. But if he isn’t, then you shouldn’t blame anyone else,” I said sarcastically.

Gina looked like she had been pricked by a needle, and she became even more furious. “Even if Blake's mate is someone else, that person will never be you."

I thought Gina was insane. Did she really think all the women in the world wanted Blake's attention?

I ignored her and strode out.

Harley looked at me as I walked out and asked with concern, "Cathy, you two quarreled again?"

"I'm taking off now, Harley." I was in a bad mood and went straight to the elevator.

Inside, Gina suddenly swept the things on the table to the ground. I looked back and saw that the expression on her face was constantly switching between fear and anger. I shook my head and

After I was done with this, I went straight back to Blake's lakeside villa, which was the place where I was staying with the kids.

When returned to the villa and walked into the parlor, I saw a drawing board standing in the middle of the warlor, and Blake was holding Hedwig in one hand and drawing something on paper with the other hand,

I thought that Blake wouldn't be able to handle the two kids at first, but...

"Mommy is back!" Hedwig saw me first, She immediately jumped down from Blake's leg excitedly and ran over. She grabbed one of my fingers and pulled me forward. “Mommy, come over here. Daddy is drawing for us.”

I didn’t want to go over at all, but I couldn’t bear to see Hedwig’s big eyes, so I had to go over and pretend to appreciate it.

“What is it? A Bar.” I looked at Blake’s work and smiled

Blake’s eyes darkened in an instant, and he said with extreme unhappiness, “It is an angel.”

I couldn’t help but laugh out loud. Although Blake was under the nurturing of the royal family, his drawing was obviously lame,

“Seriously? You don’t say, “I teased.

Blake’s face sank. He walked away from the drawing board, threw away the pencil in his hand, crossed his arms, and snorted, “Then why don’t you draw it? I want to admire your painting.”

I didn’t want to, but when I saw his contemptuous face, I immediately sat beside him and took a brush.

I pondered for a moment. Then the image of the Moon Goddess that had appeared in my dreams emerged in my mind.

She wore a white gauze dress, and her body was surrounded by silvery white moonlight. She soothed my pain in my dreams, giving me hope.

I immediately waved the pencil in my hand and began to draw on the drawing board.

In fact, Blake didn't have any professional training in painting. For someone like him, it was already a good drawing. When I was in Pennsylvania, I went to a college together with humans, and I studied painting and design.

So, for me, painting was easy peasy. With just a few strokes, I sketched out the outline of the Moon Goddess in my dream. Blake saw it, and his face went even gloomier.

As time passed, the Moon Goddess on my drawing board had become more and more lively.

"Mommy is so great. The painting is so beautiful." Noah immediately clapped his hands.

Hedwig also supported her face with her hands, looking at the Moon Goddess I drew with great interest.

I finished my painting and looked at Blake provocatively.

However, I found that Blake looked strange. It was as if he had discovered some secret, and he looked at the painting with confusion and astonishment.

"What's wrong? Are you impressed by my outstanding painting skills?" I asked.

"Who is the woman in your painting?" Blake did not answer my question.

"The Moon Goddess. Or rather, the Moon Goddess in my dream." I was somehow confused, but I still answered him.

Follow current on NovelEnglish.net

“in your dream?” Blake looked at me with a frown.

“Is there a problem? This is what the Moon Goddess in my dreams looks like. I think all werewolves have dreamed of the Moon Goddess more or less.” I placed the brush in my hand on the table.

Blake’s expression softened a little, and his tone also became gentle. He said, “Then what did the Moon Goddess say to you in your dreams?”

My heart skipped a beat. I immediately said unhappily, “It’s none of your business!”

I did dream of the Moon Goddess. She guided me back to New Jersey and said that I would meet my mate.

Yet, I did not meet my mate. Instead, I found Noah and Hedwig’s father.

In fact, I was not so obsessed with finding my mate anymore. Now that I had Noah and Hedwig, even if I found my mate, he would find it hard to accept my children. He would probably reject me.

I couldn’t get over the fact that I lost the obsidian necklace my mother gave me. That was why my dreams hinted at me using such a way.

And that was why I brought Noah and Hedwig back to New Jersey this time.

But I didn’t want Blake to know any of this.

Fortunately, he didn't ask further. Instead, he said indifferently, "Fine. You win. Tell me what you want, and you shall have it!"

I was stunned and blinked. Did I make a bet with him back then when I was drawing?

"Mommy, hurry up and tell him! Daddy is offering you a chance," Noah immediately jeered.

I coughed unnaturally. "I ... I don't want anything."

"Are you sure?" Bloc raised his eyebrows.

I nodded.

"What a shame. I was going to offer you a job in the Chavez Group, but since you said that..."

"Wait!" My mind had been a little blank, but when I heard his words, I was suddenly filled with hope. "A "Well? Is that not good enough for you?" Blake mocked.

I became angry at the mention of this, and I glared at him. "If it weren't for you, I would have joined the pack already."

I was so close to joining the Black Thorn Pack.

“Isn’t it better now?” Blake’s eyes flickered.

“Even if you don’t make such an offer, I would still go to other packs to give it a shot.” Since I had decided to stay, I needed to join a pack and find a job, so Noah and Hedwig could have a better life.

“We’ll go out for dinner tonight. You’re OK with it, right?” Blake suddenly asked in a low voice.

“Sure!” Noah and Hedwig answered in unison.

Seeing how excited Noah and Hedwig were, I knew that they were looking forward to it. How could I turn them down?

Maybe the life I provided for Noah and Hedwig was too dull. So, any proposal made by Blake could make Noah and Hedwig feel and excited.

It seemed that Blake also came to realize it. Whatever decision he made, as long as Noah and Hedwig were OK with it, I wouldn’t have a second opinion.

I suddenly felt quite out of place without the noise of the little ones.

I raised my head, and I accidentally met Blake's deep, probing eyes. My heart skipped a beat.

"Who did you see just now? The man from last night?" As soon as Noah and Hedwig left, Blake's expression changed, and his voice was full of sarcasm.

My heart sank, and my voice became indifferent. "It's none of your business."

"I heard that you have quite a few wooers. Which pack are they from? Or are they humans? How can you expose Noah and Hedwig to adults' emotional problems this early?" He pulled a long face.

I was dumbfounded, and I looked at the unhappy expression on his face. "Who told you that?"

"The children, of course."

"And you believe them? How naive," I said sarcastically.

His face was even more livid.

"Catherine, just because you gave birth to two kids of mine doesn't mean you can challenge me. You will be a member of the royal pack as well. I am warning you. If you say such things to me again, I won't let you off the hook easily," Blake said, wanting to intimidate me.

I curled my lips disapprovingly. "I'm tired. Do you have a room upstairs? I want to lie down for a while."

"Are you so assured to sleep at my place? Aren't you afraid that I will sleep with you again?" Blake suddenly became vicious.

I stared at him in disgust. "Who said not to expose the kids to such adult things too early? What would they think of you if they knew?"

Blake froze slightly.

I knew he was just bluffing. He didn't mean to do anything to me. That was why I was so calm.

"You can sleep at ease. You can hardly arouse me with that face of yours," he sneered.

"Good. To be honest, I am not interested in you at all," I retorted.

I leisurely walked to the second floor, leaving the stunned man behind in the parlor.

I pushed open the door of a guest room and lay on the bed tiredly. Ever since Blake knew about the kids, I had always been tense. I might have a breakdown at any time.

I had a nightmare last night and didn't sleep well at all.

But now, everything was settled, and I could finally sleep soundly.

Since there was nowhere I could escape, I might as well accept the fact calmly.

There was nothing wrong with children needing a father. I shouldn't be selfish and stand in their way.

I took a nap. It was dark when I woke up.

I felt someone beside me. I looked down and saw Hedwig lying in my arms. She was sleeping soundly.

I looked at Hedwig's two hands holding my arms and her face pressing against mine. My heart was soft.

I nodded.

I helped Hedwig wash her face. Then I held her hand and went downstairs.

"Daddy, where's Noah?" At the sight of Blake, Hedwig immediately ran to him and let him hug her.

"I asked Downen to play with him," Blake answered Hedwig patiently.

"Then can we go out to eat now? I'm starving." Hedwig immediately reached out and touched her small Seeing how cute Hedwig was, Blake couldn't help but kiss her delicate face and said gently, "Let's go.

We'll go find Noah and then go out to eat.”

I stood at the side and looked at them, feeling a little unnatural. Seeing how close Hedwig and Blake were, I had mixed feelings. But I couldn't deny that I was also happy. Now that Blake was here, would Hedwig become braver?

“Let's go!” While I was in a daze, someone fixed his eyes on me earnestly.

“OK!” I nodded. In the past, when my kids and I went out, Hedwig always asked me to hug her. Now that someone else took my place, I felt more at ease.

After a while, Downen brought Noah out with him. Noah was holding an electric robot in his hand happily

Seeing how cute Hedwig was, Blake couldn’t help but kiss her delicate face and said gently, “Let’s go.

We’ll go find Noah and then go out to eat.”

I stood at the side and looked at them, feeling a little unnatural. Seeing how close Hedwig and Blake were, I had mixed feelings. But I couldn’t deny that I was also happy. Now that Blake was here, would Hedwig become braver?

“Let’s go!” While I was in a daze, someone fixed his eyes on me earnestly.

“OK!” I nodded. In the past, when my kids and I went out, Hedwig always asked me to hug her. Now that someone else took my place, I felt more at ease.

After a while, Downen brought Noah out with him. Noah was holding an electric robot in his hand happily

I stood aside, sharing my kids’ happiness. Accidentally, my eyes caught Blake’s deep, smiling eyes,

For a moment, we both froze, and I quickly looked away.

Chapter 35

Catherine’s POV

I looked away. I felt happy to be with the children, not to see him.

The enthusiasm in the bottom of Blake's eyes was gone after I gave him a cold shoulder. He frowned in displeasure, but I didn't care.

It was a harmonious dinner. It was the first time for the two little fellas to eat at the same table with their parents, so they smiled all the time.

The royal chef seemed know the kids' tastes well, and Noah and Hedwig liked the steak very much.

"Daddy, Mommy likes to eat fish. Can you ask the chef to cook fish for her?" Noah suddenly looked up with cunning in his big eyes.

Blake frowned slightly. I was stunned when I heard Noah's idea.

"Focus on your meal and shut up!" I shot Noah a stern glance.

I grew up in the Black Moon Pack where my father came from and had never heard of an Alpha racking his brain to think about his members' tastes. Blake was the mighty Lycan King, so it was less likely for him to do that.

I was sure that Blake wouldn't do such a thing to flatter others when he waved to the servant standing next to him. The servant approached him, and Blake said, "Ask the chef to cook fried codfish."

This was unbelievable. Blake actually asked the chef to serve me!

I didn't know his purpose in fawning me, so I was somewhat resistant to it in my heart.

This man was fickle. He would be good to me in front of the kids, and once the children left, he would become who he used to be.

I would never buy his flattery.

"Sorry, I don't feel well today. I don't feel like eating fish."

As I spoke, I looked at the servant who was about to leave. The servant stood in place awkwardly.

The beautiful dinner came to a sudden halt!

Noah blinked his big eyes as if he was guilty as a thief.

The spoon that Hedwig brought to her mouth was full of meat that she liked. Her small mouth was wide open, but she stopped eating while blinking her bright eyes.

She looked at Blake and then at me.

I felt that I seemed to have made the atmosphere awkward, but I didn't think I had done anything wrong

My resistance made me make this decision out of instinct.

Seeing that something was off, the kids behaved themselves and began eating in silence.

I could feel that Blake's gaze was filled with annoyance towards me.

How ridiculous he was. Didn't he stop my car and force me to go home with him?

I didn't care about his angry eyes. Instead, I felt that I loved all the food on the table.

After dinner, we, the family of four, went home by car.

I went to the lakeside villa, and Blake also stayed in the parlor, looking like he didn't want to leave.

"Daddy, can you help me take a bath?" Noah became closer to Blake, which was why he made such a request.

Blake immediately showed a look of joy. I frowned at Noah's request when I was thinking about driving Blake out with an excuse.

"Noah, I'll help you with the bath. Daddy needs to rest," I said tactfully.

However, Noah curled his lips and said shyly, "Mommy, you are female. I can't let you bathe me every day. It's weird."

"Let me bathe Noah. It's not a big deal." Blake spoke up for Noah.

I couldn't say anything as they echoed each other.

"I hate to hear you," I said.

The corner of Blake's mouth twitched as if he didn't expect me to express my dislike for him so straightforwardly.

However, he had my acquiescence. Blake held Noah's hand and walked into the bathroom. I stood at the door of the bathroom and listened to the sounds inside.

"Daddy, wash my hair." Noah's sweet voice sounded.

As the Lycan King, I could imagine that servants would always be around Blake since he was a child. I just couldn't imagine that he would bathe someone.

"How does mommy usually bathe you?"

Sure enough, Blake's dejected voice rang out.

"Mommy always made me lie flat on her lap and wash my hair," Noah said solemnly.

I leaned against the wall next to the bathroom and shook my head. I remembered that Blake was in a suit.

The bathroom was silent for a few seconds. Just as I was about to ask if they needed help, Noah's voice sounded again.

"Mommy, mommy, come in! We need you!"

Noah shouted, and I thought that something bad had happened. I quickly pushed open the bathroom door.

When I went in, Blake's charming face was red from embarrassment. He was extending his hand to cover Noah's mouth.

Noah widened his eyes and shook his head in dissatisfaction.

“What are you doing, Blake?” I rushed in and saw Blake cover Noah’s mouth in fury.

Blake froze. He quickly removed his hand from Noah’s mouth when I heard Noah speak with a smile, “Mommy, look, daddy’s pants are torn.”

Upon hearing Noah’s words, I subconsciously looked at Blake’s pants.

“Don’t look at me!” Blake had never been so embarrassed before. He covered the front of his pants with his big hands.

I couldn’t help laughing.

“You, turn your head right away...” commanded Blake with a cold face.

I curled my lips in disgust. “I just looked at you. It’s not a crime. What right do you have to make me turn my head?”

Blake had to leave, and when he left, he had to cover his pants with both hands.

OVE

I was brooding over the fact that Noah despised me for bathing him, but now that I saw Blake make a fool of himself, my mood suddenly changed.

“Mommy, don’t worry. No matter how Hedwig likes daddy, I will always be on your side and never betray you,” Noah promised.

“As expected of my boy!” I held Noah’s face and kissed him like mad. After that, I slowly washed his hair.

After it was done, I took Noah out of the bathroom. Blake had come downstairs after going up to change his clothes.

Hedwig was sitting alone on the sofa while folding paper clumsily. I didn't know what she wanted to make.

"Daddy, can you help me make a paper plane for me?" Hedwig was full of joy when seeing Blake coming to her.

Blake said gently, "Sure."

"Yeah, daddy is so cool!

"You are so nice to me. I love you, dad!"

Every time Hedwig obtained something new, she would clap her hands and shout happily. She looked excited, as if she had received a reward.

I watched the warm scene in the parlor.

Hedwig was in high spirits as she played with Blake with enjoyment.

"Mommy, Noah, look, daddy made the paper plane for me. It's so cool!" Hedwig looked back at us with a bright smile like she was presenting a treasure.

"Yes, it's good. Hedwig, can you give it to your brother for now? You can play with it after mommy bathes you!" I squatted down and said gently to Hedwig
