Chapter 2791

That morning, after discussing matters with the Sixth Prince, Lin Mo snuck back quietly under the cover of the Sixth Prince.

The first time Lin Mo arrived in Heshan City he found the prince.

“There is something that I need your men to do.”

“Have you heard? The Kong family and the Ding family branch have collaborated inside and outside to steal the Ding family’s undersea treasure.”

“We’ve heard about this for a long time, didn’t the Kong family take the initiative to return all the proceeds, all of them, to the Ding family?”

“You only know one thing, gasp this Kong family secretly intercepted a large portion of the priceless treasures and hid them in the Kong family’s secret room.”

As the rumours continued to spread, news about the Kong family having a batch of priceless treasures hidden in their secret room within the Great Qu was spread more and more widely.

“Big brother, if we do this, it won’t affect the Kong family much, will it?”

Even if this rumour spreads throughout Da Qu, the Kong family will still be painless.”

The prince had directly gathered his men who intended to pilot the ‘Prince’ transport ship to exterminate the Kong family ever since he heard about the attack on Lin Mo by the Kong family’s dead soldiers, only for him to be stopped by Lin Mo in this act.

“All we have to do is for everyone to hear that the Kong Family has a batch of priceless treasures in their hands.”

“But people aren’t stupid, how could those forces believe such nonsense.”

A discerning eye could see that this was rumour-mongering, this matter had all fallen through completely, the Kong family wouldn’t dare to have an interception unless they were tired of living.

Lin Mo smiled faintly: “Believe it or not, it doesn’t matter, the real Da Qu and the Kong family have enemies of the forces, although not many, but also quite a lot.”

“If we put the news out, someone will naturally use it to turn on the Kong family, we’ll wait for things to fester before we act.”

According to the Sixth Prince’s speculation, the Kong family dared to carry out this a*sa*sination, there must be other princes of Wanxiang behind it, but we can’t be sure which one.

The Kong family has close ties with the arms dealers in Jinla, so one hair will move the whole body, and the direct force to push the Kong family will be met with great resistance, if the direct firepower to destroy the Kong family, their own side will also have massive losses, the most appropriate method is to take it slowly.

In time, more and more negative news about the Kong family began to spread within Da Qu, and this was Lin Mo's way of laying the groundwork for public opinion against the Kong family, as the Crown Prince stepped onto the warship with all his men.

"Brother Prince, that one is the Kong family's transport ship."

At the front of the 'Ah Fei' warship, his men pointed to a transport ship not far away and explained.

"Very well, increase the horsepower and dislike him for me!"

As the words fell to the ground, the hull beneath the Prince's feet suddenly shook, and with the propellers running at speed, the warship's speed jerked up, and then it rammed straight into the Kong family's transport ship, and the vice captain on the other hull walked to the edge of the ship with a grim look on his face.

"Seeking death, blind your dog eyes, you dare to ram even the Kong family's transport ship."

Da was already distracted by the rumours that kept circulating in Da Qu. Now that he had been hit by someone else, his anger immediately rushed up.

The prince's side didn't have to talk nonsense with him, as he landed on his feet the whole person was like a cannonball directly about on top of the other party's overtime.

"Slap!"

With a crisp slap sounded, the prince grabbed the other party's collar.

"f*ck you dam, I was driving the boat properly, you f*cking stopped in front of me, and now you dare to bleep with me."

The prince finished and rewarded the other man with a few more slaps.

When the crew saw their mate being beaten, they immediately pulled out their weapons and aimed them at the Prince who suddenly appeared on the boat.

As soon as the words left his mouth, dozens of flying claws shot up into the sky and then firmly clasped the guardrails of the transport ship.

Chapter 2792

The flames of the crew were lowered by the dozens of blackened guns pointed at them, and the Prince's knives and forks that they had wanted to f*ck up were dropped to the ground, and all could only stare fearfully at each other, lest the horrible guns go off.

"Are you guys tired of living? How dare you come to intercept my Kong family's transport ship."

After the captain, Wang Zexue, arrived at the scene, he directly laid out the Kong family, his Kong family had been running ships in these high seas for more than twenty years, and there were really some who were not afraid of death who dared to intercept their transport ships.

The prince did not eat this, besides it was the Kong family he was messing with.

"Dry rations, you're the loudest, aren't you."

The words fell, the prince did not wait for the other party to pull out the pistol on his waist, went forward is the foot that kicked Wang Ze directly over the deck, Wang Ze felt the intense pain in the abdomen, simply can not say any words, can only bow the body into a shrimp shape constantly wailing.

The prince also felt annoyed, crouched down and drew out the other man's pistol, then the edge was a gun butt smashed into Wang Ze's mouth, a time when the white teeth were instantly stained blood red.

"That's good, the whole world is quiet."

"See if any of you have an opinion or are not convinced, step forward, I am a man who likes to convince people with virtue."

The crew looked at Captain Wang Ze, who was whimpering with blood all over his mouth, and then at the Prince's terrifying smile, and immediately flew back behind them.

Convincing people with virtue? I'll believe you!

After the Crown Prince had done all this, he then clapped his hands in satisfaction.

"Since everyone is fine and blessed, let's talk about compensation."

"Your transports have wrecked our warships, so the repair costs will be secured by your ships."

After finding a lame excuse, the Crown Prince waved his hand and directly let his men escort the Kong family's people transport ship away.

After arriving at the pre-agreed Zhao family island, there were already a dozen ships parked here, and the ships were marked with the same Kong family emblem.

All this was naturally the work of the Prince and his beloved Fei.

By the time the Kong family received the news, it was already evening time.

"Family head, family head, something is wrong."

"What is it, stirring!"

Kong Jingtian, who was waiting for news from the dead soldiers, asked with a frown on his face, as he had felt uneasy as no news had come back from the dead soldiers during this period of time, and he was even prepared for the failure of the dead soldiers' attack.

However, there was no news on whether this was going to work or not, and this made him very disturbed.

"My lord, our transport fleet has been lost."

"If they're lost, they're lost. It's normal for ships to be out of contact with remote areas for a while."

Most of the remote seas had magnetic problems, and it was common to lose contact for a short period of time, something Kong Jingtian had long been used to.

"House Master, many of our transports follow the voyage before they travel to the high seas area and then lose contact, and so far there have been more than a dozen transports in such a situation."

"What!"

Kong Jingtian directly stood up in excitement, "Hurry up and send someone out to investigate, I want to see which side of the power has eaten the guts of a bear and dared to touch my things."

With so many ships in trouble together, this was definitely not a natural disaster but a man-made one.

As the Kong family's densely packed search and rescue vessels brought their armaments with them, they sailed out of the harbour and were immediately intercepted just as they reached the high seas. The people who intercepted all the Kong family's ships this time were none other than the Sixth Prince's forces.

"We are in the middle of a combat exercise, please go around!"

However, no matter which direction they went, they were intercepted one by one by the Sixth Prince's forces at sea, and the Kong family's sea transport was now completely blocked.

Chapter 2793

After Kong Jingtian learned that the Kong family's maritime power had been sealed by the Sixth Prince's, he also understood that his a*sa*sination attempt had failed, and at this point, he had not realized that he had been exposed. Merely thinking that it was all just a collaboration between Lin Mo and the Sixth Prince, intending to deal with their Kong Family.

"That black-robed man was indeed right, the Sixth Prince had already planned to make a move against our Kong family."

What he didn't know was that if there hadn't been the attack, Jia De Lie had merely intended to suppress their Kong Family, and now the situation was indeed unending.

"Father, what should we do then?"

When Kong Li heard that the Sixth Prince wanted to deal with the Kong family, he was scared to death.

When he thought of his sons who had died tragically, his eyes turned red with grief.

“Two little kids who haven’t even grown up yet, and they dare to touch my Kong family, what a joke.

Li’er, go down first, my father will take care of all this.”

“Da Qu is nominally subordinated to the Kingdom of China, his Sixth Prince’s forces don’t dare to go in to Da Qu blatantly.

Thinking of destroying my Kong family, think again.”

When Kong Li heard his father’s majestic self-congratulation, the stone hanging in his heart fell, but what he did not know was that Kong Jingtian did not have a bottom in his heart either. Although the Sixth Prince could not march into Da Qu, but under his support, Lin Mo will be more difficult to deal with, to know that this Lin Mo itself is standing behind the Zhao family this big brother.

When Kong Li left, Kong Jingtian directly contacted the Wu family and made a greeting with the True La side, so that if Lin Mo dared to set foot in Annan, he would be killed with a thunderbolt.

While the Kong family was frantically mobilising its forces, rumours were building up in the outside world.

The public opinion was still very effective, and after the fermentation of the past few days, more and more news against the Kong family began to spread around, and under the fear of the people, many forces and businessmen who originally intended to live and were cooperating with the Kong family began to withdraw their investments or suspended their cooperation with the Kong family.

With such a background, Lin Mo opened a big move again, a paper announcement spread all over Da Qu, the general meaning of which was to invite the partners to discuss the maritime cooperation project, and anyone with a discerning eye would know that the maritime cooperation was just a name, the real purpose was to suppress the Kong family.

At first, most of the people were just waiting and watching, until Lin Mo offered a tempting condition, as long as those who joined the maritime cooperation project, Lin Mo would treat them once for free and give them a ‘Longevity Pill’ for free, and this pill had the endorsement of the Sixth Prince of Wanxiang Kingdom.

When such an offer was made, many people were immediately moved, especially those who already had enemies with the Kong family, and they left for Mount He in the night.

After pledging dozens of transport ships of the Kong family, the prince dashed back to Heshan City and began to prepare for the reception in a hurry.

According to Lin Mo’s words, there were hundreds and thousands of people who had joined forces against the Kong family, some of whom had come for Lin Mo’s medical skills, some for the ‘Longevity Pill’, and some who wanted a piece of the cake after the collapse of the Kong family.

The prince also took the time not to bother two masters and directly approached the Gan family, intending to use it as the reception for this plan.

The entire Gan family began to work in earnest on the reception in no time.

Chapter 2794

After a period of recuperation, Ding's leg, which had been broken by the Crown Prince, had recovered to a certain extent, and although he could not walk for a long time, he was able to get out of bed with his crutches.

During this period of recuperation, he had indeed learnt how correct Lin Mo's previous admonition was.

At first, those of his peers in the family mocked him, but over time, seeing him lying in bed without any movement, the attention he received slowly faded away, and now no one cares about him as a cripple except for his parents who come back to visit him and care about his condition.

This also gave Ding Li the opportunity to quietly develop his forces. After the bloodbath over Zheng Zhilong's treasure, the old group of men had grown up rapidly.

This was because he had listened to Lin Mo's advice and eliminated many suspected spies, otherwise he would have grown to over 2,000.

Half of the 1,500 men were his open forces, while the other half were hidden from everyone's attention and trained secretly in the shadows.

On this day, Ding Li, as usual, was leisurely enjoying the midday sun, sipping green tea while being served by his maids, even cozily.

"What elegance, brother!"

Ding Li sat up sharply at the sound of a familiar voice: "What brings you here, Brother Wen Qiang? It's been a while since we've been in touch."

It had been a while since they had last parted from Hai Fang Guangyao, and Ding Li was in awe of Wen Qiang, his smart and skilled brother.

"I've been busy with some important matters, but I've just had some time off, so I'm here to visit you?"

As Wen Qiang said that, he took off his black bowler hat, and after he was beside Ding Li, he took care of himself and served tea.

Ding Li also knew that this was a habit of Wen Qiang's elder brother, who always wore black clothing and always liked to see the brim of his hat pressed down so low that sometimes he could not see his face.

"How is it, is your foot better?"

"This is the medicine I brought you back from abroad, it says it's good for healing bruises."

"Thank you, Brother Wen Qiang, my leg injury is almost healed."

When he finished, he winked at the maids and waited until everyone had withdrawn before continuing.

“Brother Wen Qiang the matter of the Kong family and that Lin Mo, have you heard about it?”

Wen Qiang nodded and drank from the cup of tea in his hand, “The whole of Da Qu is abuzz with this matter, how could I not know about it.”

“By the way, what do you think about this matter?”

“What can I think, both of them are not good people let them bite the dog.”

He, Ding Li, had first sent his men to find trouble with Lin Mo, then he was imprisoned by Lin Mo, and then his leg was broken by the crown prince, so he and Lin Mo were enemies from the outside.

He and the Kong family had fought over the sea before, and their relationship was cold.

So there was nothing wrong with Ding Li saying that the two of them were dog-eat-dog.

It was only when he finished speaking that the movement of pouring tea in Wen Qiang’s hand suddenly paused for a moment, and then immediately reverted back, in his opinion this was the biggest anomaly, according to Ding Li’s previous temperament, even if he was lying down, he would crawl over to make up for it, but now he was unusually steady.

“Brother Ding, you’ve grown up!”

The former rash young man had unknowingly grown up slowly.

Ding Li froze his expression in the face of his inexplicable remark.

Chapter 2795

Wen Qiang didn’t answer Ding Li’s question, and the conversation turned.

“It’s nothing, I came over this time, on the one hand I came to take a look at your leg injury, on the other side I came to talk to you about this matter.”

“You have quite a bit of hatred with that Lin Mo, this time when he fights with the Kong family, do you want to consider stepping in to give Lin Mo a little trip.”

“Although there are rumours that the Kong family has the support of the True Wisdom, but that Lin Mo not only has the Sixth Prince’s backing, but also has the Zhao family as a backing, so if I go and trip up Lin Mo, I’m not just looking for a bore!”

“When the time comes, not only will I draw fire, I will also have to share the fire with the Kong family, it’s not worth it, I’m better off watching the fire from across the river.”

As Ding Li narrated the story, the relief on Wen Qiang’s face grew stronger and stronger.

“Indeed, as you said, without any surprises, there is little chance of winning this boom, unless he still has hidden cards.”

“Therefore, I hope you can participate in it and help Lin Mo deal with the Kong family together!”

Seeing Ding Li’s puzzled side, Wen Qiang explained again.

“It’s not for you to shake hands with Lin Mo and make peace, it’s purely to join in and have a share of the pie. Whether you want to develop your power or strengthen your arms, the Kong family’s fall side this time is a good opportunity.”

Although he had more and more men, the resources brought him more and more restrictions, if he could withhold a piece of meat from the Kong family, it would indeed be a great tonic for him.

It was just that Ding Li thought of Lin Mo’s previous admonition and did not immediately agree to it.

“Brother Wenqiang, I still need to ask the family for advice on this matter, you know the last Zheng Zhilong treasure is a piece, our Ding family has a lot of resentment towards Lin Mo.”

This matter is also known by many people.

“Indeed, this is as it should be.

Then all right, is a piece also not early, you just take good care of your injuries, if you have decided, your own direct action.”

Wen Qiang said and stood up, ready to leave.

“Brother Wen Qiang, won’t you help me with advice? Last time I just acted without permission and almost gave up in Heshan City.”

From the bottom of his heart, Ding Li still hoped that this capable brother would give him advice, so that he would have a bottom in his heart.

“You have grown up, you can make your own decisions on many things, I am not always right.”

It was true that Wen Qiang had come to Ding Li’s home to give him advice and help him speed up his development, but he also had other small thoughts, such as involving the Ding family in this big dye bath.

What he didn’t know was that Ding Li didn’t give a full account with him. After Wen Qiang left, Ding Li leaned on his crutches and went to his study. After dialing the phone, and after repeated confirmation, he asked the Ding family elders’ council for permission to participate in the Lin Kong dispute.

After Lin Mo hung up the phone, the crown prince b*tchily came up to him.

“Big brother, what’s this Ding Li doing calling you?”

“What can he do? He wants to get involved too. The Kong family’s cake isn’t big, but it can feed many people.

How are the arrangements for the reception going?”

At the mention of this, the crown prince immediately patted his chest in triumph.

“I have naturally done the things that big brother has arranged, all the people from the Gan Pei family have been drafted by me.

For the reception, big brother, just put your mind at ease.”

He had originally just dumped the matter of the reception onto the Gan family, only later on, after Master Pei learned of this, he fatted around and found the crown prince, repeatedly requesting to be involved, the crown prince naturally wouldn't feel overwhelmed with people, and simply let the Pei family join in as well.

Chapter 2796

In less than two days after his announcement was made, the port of Heshan City was full of cruise ships and countless luxury cars were arriving one after another.

And this was only the first group of invitees, many more were on their way.

By the time Lin Mo came to check on the arrangements, the Gan family, as the main reception venue, had been completely cleaned up and the whole family had been renovated and refreshed.

And all the rooms had been arranged to house the guests, while the situation was similar on the Pei family's side, with members of both families rushing off to stay in hotels. There were only two or three upscale hotels in the backwoods of a city like Heshan, and they were all used for reception accommodation, so there was no room for them.

If it wasn't too late, the old men of the two families would have even wanted to build a luxury hotel on site.

As Lin Mo looked at the busy people, his expression suddenly froze as he saw an old acquaintance, Gan Xing, within the group of receptionists.

“Medical Sage Lin, what brings you here? These people are also busy and confused, they didn't even know to receive you.”

Once Lin Mo turned around, he saw a warm-faced Elder Gan greeting him.

“Come on people, don't show young Lin tea!”

“Forget it, these people are hairy, it's better for me to come myself.”

Elder Gan said and quickly went to prepare the tea.

It had to be saddening that the man who once wanted to put Lin Mo to death was now groveling to him.

After Lin Mo took the tea, he politely stated, "Elder Gan has troubled you with this matter."

"We are more than happy that Lin Shao has placed the reception place in our Gan family, so how could we possibly find it troublesome.

It's just that, hopefully, after this matter is over, you, Lin Shao, will be kind enough to disregard that previous"

At the end of the sentence, old man Gan began to stammer, once that little bodyguard had transformed into a Fang big brother, and even the Kong family, which they had feared like a tiger at first, might be overthrown in its hands.

This made Elder Gan tremble when facing Lin Mo, fearing that the other party would settle his old grudge.

Lin Mo naturally understood the other party's meaning: "After this matter is over, the matter of the Merillia will be written off."

At the beginning, under the lead of Guan Yao, the two old men of Gan Pei also wanted to f*ck Lin Mo to death, only afterwards Lin Mo had been busy with matters large and small, and had not had the time to deal with them, the two Gan Pei families were ruled by the Crown Prince in submissiveness, to the extent that they did not give Lin Mo the opportunity to make a move.

After hearing this, old man Gan was overjoyed, and the huge stone hanging in his heart fell to the ground, he couldn't help but pour the tea in his hands a little bit faster.

"Thank you, young Lin, for your generosity, I will ensure that the reception is done properly."

In order to prevent accidents, the two elders of Gan Pei had also arranged for all the people of the family to be waiters, which was indeed quite attentive.

Of course, the gathering of all the forces in Heshan City would also bring out the fame of this nook and cranny, and the hidden benefits it would bring would be extremely huge, for example, the trade in specialties, tourism and ports would be completely opened up, and all this was brought about by Lin Mo.

"Alright, the reception will be hard on Elder Gan, for the first meeting tomorrow at noon, everyone will just simply meet up, not by too tedious.

When the time comes for the formal banquet, please ask Elder Gan to take the trouble again."

"Don't worry, Lin Shao, I will dovetail clearly with the Prince's side for the specific arrangements for the reception."

Lin Mo had not only invited cooperation this time, he did not only want to deal with the Kong family, he also wanted to accumulate his own connections through this Kong extermination operation.

Chapter 2797

Lin Mo has been in Da Qu for a long time, from the initial purge of Pan Yang, to the subsequent exploration and mountain, the united Sixth Prince to the destruction of the Kong family, his most fundamental purpose is to reorganize Hanoi, and the existence of the Kong family is the biggest stumbling block on the way to reorganization.

With the help of this gathering, Lin Mo accumulated his own network, which was also convenient for restarting the Martial Union in Hanoi Province in the future, and as long as Lin Mo could ensure enough benefits for the guest forces, together with the cooperative relationship, the resistance to restarting the Martial Union would be much less.

The prince’s side was working on the policing of the city of Heshan, with such a huge flow of people, plus the presence of the vast majority of the city’s non-wealthy and wealthy, it was inevitable that all kinds of cattle and snakes would be mixed in with them the necessary armament still needed to be prepared.

For this reason, the prince has specially drawn a large number of armed men from within the Gan and Pei families to form a security maintenance team of more than 1,000 people.

“In the early hours of the morning, I already had the Prince anchored at the island 30 miles away from the port of Heshan, the entire city of Heshan is within precise striking range. And with Fei watching over there, it’s guaranteed that no one will be able to spot our transports.”

“En, that’s good, we need to prevent the Kong family from jumping to the wall, you’ll be watching the security side, and on the sniper side, you arrange that as well.”

And after Lin Mo’s side instructed the security arrangements, a steady stream of guests had already left for the Gan family’s first meeting.

The streets were originally cluttered and the two northern Gan and Pei families had become neat and orderly after the renovation.

“Also this little take, if it wasn’t for this time to deal with the Kong family, I wouldn’t bother coming to such nooks and crannies.”

“That’s true, I learned on the way here that land is very cheap here, and it’s a good place to develop property.”

The first meeting was held at noon.

At midday, the first meeting officially began.

“My humble servant Lin Mo, thank you all for your kindness in coming to participate in Lin’s initiation of the maritime development project

The moment these words were spoken, the crowd’s eyes were instantly drawn to them.

Although Lin Mo was interrupted and mocked, he was not angry, he had expected the situation at hand, and it would have been a real surprise to Lin Mo if no one had caused trouble at the moment.

“I wonder if this gentleman, what is his name?”

There were quite a few forces that had enemies with the Kong family, and likewise quite a few forces that had close ties with them.

The Wu family is one of the latter, and it can be said that the Wu family’s development in the past few years has been made possible by the Kong family, and the Wu family has developed into a major power through its continuous arms trade with Jinla in the past few years, and its armed forces are far more than those of ordinary families.

“I wonder what the representative of the Wu family meant by what he just said?”

“Nothing, I just don’t like it. In terms of seniority, which one of us here is not your elder, when did it become your turn to tell you what to do?”

The other people instantly showed their interest, although Wu was here to make trouble, but what he said was not without reason, this Lin Mo was only relying on the Sixth Prince and the Zhao family as the backer, foxes and tigers, since he was the leader, why couldn’t he be himself?

Chapter 2798

The first meeting became a bit serious because of Wu’s live atmosphere, and all the participants’ attention was focused on Lin Mo’s body at this time, if he couldn’t handle it well then there was no need to start this subsequent cooperation.

Lin Mo stepped forward and looked straight at the other party: “Before you were invited, I had already made everything clear. I have peerless medical skills and a ‘Longevity Pill’.”

Saying this Lin Mo directly stood up, “Representative of the Wu family, if your also have all of this, then this seat is yours.”

“Mr. Lin, your medical skills are inferior to mine, but we are all here to do ‘business’.

You don’t just want to follow the name of the Sixth Prince and the Zhao family and dictate to us seniors, do you?”

The word ‘business’ was accented, and everyone in the room knew that the maritime project was just an excuse to bring down the Kong family.

Wu Yi’s purpose was also clear, he was the one who was elected by the Wu family to ruin this first gathering, and he did not come here to fight in his former residence.

“Isn’t this Lin Mo just relying on the Sixth Prince and the Zhao family to take care of him, or else with those little shrimps under him, they would be worthy of us telling them what to do.”

“All of us here, who are not long-established forces of Da Qu, why should we listen to him, this hairy boy.”

“If you want me to say so, it’s most appropriate for Mr Qiang to take the lead.”

With these whispers, the guests’ minds were torn. If they could be the leader of this fight against the Kong family, not only would they be able to maximise their own benefits, but it would also be an opportunity to grow their reputation.

“Am I not the right person? As the general director of Da Qu’s top 50 groups, it would be most appropriate to say that General Liang is leading it.”

“Oh, in terms of wealth we Zhao is the one who is loud and clear, this time the project must be invested in a large scale in the early stage, we Zhao wants money and people, he is the most leading person, I am only convinced

“Master Luo is highly respected, I think he is the most suitable

Under a flurry of encouragement from Wu Yi and his joint forces, the heads of the various group forces mentioned could not help but straighten their clothes, and some had even begun to canva*s for themselves, joining in the scene of the argument.

As Wu watched the heated arguments and the expressions of intent on the faces of many of the guests, he could not help but feel pleased with himself.

Let’s argue, let’s argue, let’s argue as fiercely as possible, let’s get into a fight, and then everyone will disperse and this party against the Kong family will not be broken.

The main thing is, everyone on the scene except Lin Mo then the backer behind the party can hold the scene, if others are elected to lead the party, the vast majority of people are guaranteed to turn their heads and leave, many of them know that, only the heart of profit drives them to involuntarily come forward to argue for themselves.

“Lin Mo, not only will I let this first meeting fall apart in disgrace, but you won’t be able to hang around in Da Qiu any longer.”

If the scene had been this noisy in the end, it would have only ended in an unhappy end, and he, Lin Mo, would have been disgraced.

Wu's plan had been successful so far, and Lin Mo, the initiator, had been completely ignored by the crowd.

Lin Mo just didn't care about it, still letting them argue and get red in the face, while he tasted the tea in his hand by himself.

"Big brother, do you want me to control the scene."

If it wasn't for Lin Mo's presence, he would have gone up to the group of noisy guests and given them a big slap on the mouth.

Chapter 2799

Lin Mo's face was calm as he shook his head, a heartfelt smile left his face as he watched the chaotic scene.

"Businessmen? It's their nature to chase after profits, if everyone can calmly do down and talk properly, it would be a hell of a thing."

"But, if they keep on arguing like this, we won't need to hold this meeting, when they just leave in a fit of anger, won't they just fall for that Wu Yi's treacherous plan."

Faced with the prince's concern, Lin Mo explained calmly.

"Don't worry, since they can come here, they are running for the benefits after the destruction of the Kong family, I admire them if they really want to be so high-minded and give up their benefits to others."

"Let them argue until they are exhausted, of course if they can really argue for a leader that will convince everyone then that will be their talent, I will immediately give up my position obediently."

"You just let your men, take good note of the people who are picky eaters, come and drink tea, this is a royal special I got from the Sixth Prince's side, it smells good."

In this way, the first meeting had just begun to form a strange scene, the guests' side was noisy and alarmed, while Lin Mo, the initiator, and the Crown Prince calmly sipped their tea, while Wu Yi and several other troublemakers took great pains to fan the flames.

The scene went on for over an hour and the crowd was already dry-mouthed, but with Lin Mo's orders, the waiters visited a pile of pastries in front of the guests.

What was most annoying was that at this moment, Lin Mo and the two of them were baring their fragrant tea, which made the guests, whose throats were already on fire, even more thirsty.

The only thing that displeased Wu Yi was that despite all the noise everyone was on the verge of making a move, very few people left the scene in anger, even verbally Fen Fang, finger Qian Kun feet but did not move, as if they were nailed to the spot, only to stare deadly at Lin Mo duo, throat constantly swallowing.

The scene of the incessant argument, now also slowly calmed down.

“Quarrel, you guys continue, don’t care about us.”

Lin Mo finished and blew the hot air from his cup of tea, while the opposite side of the room could not help but reply with a smile.

“Young Lin, we’ve been here for so long, shouldn’t this tea come up?”

The more people looked at the tea in Lin Mo’s hand, the more thirsty they felt.

As the words fell, Wu Yi, who was still depressed at the side, instantly found an opportunity.

“Lin Mo is this how you treat your guests, you don’t even know the most basic rules, you don’t respect us at all, and you’re holding some kind of banquet, you’re also worthy of being the leader.”

“Respect? You still know respect, I have said two words since the meeting until now, you are the one who keeps nagging without listening, have you ever respected me, the organiser?”

“I have already laid out the terms of cooperation, those who are not feeling well will be diagnosed for free after the official banquet and given a ‘Longevity Pill’, if you are not satisfied you can leave, the gate is just over there.”

Now that the troublemakers had been exposed, Lin Mo didn’t bother to talk to this Wu any more.

“You have all heard it, this is Lin Mo’s attitude, we are all good-natured people, since Lin Mo is ignoring us, why should we suffer this nuisance here.”

“I’ll invite everyone to tea, this kind of meeting is for whoever likes to attend.”

These words, coupled with Lin Mo’s words just now, did cause a lot of people to be discontented, and for a while many people were encouraged by Wu to back off in their hearts.

Chapter 2800

At Wu’s behest, the actors he had placed among the guests rose one after another, and after rebuking Lin Mo for his arrogant attitude, they simply left, and with them taking the lead, one after another there were people who left together.

Of course, the majority of those who left were small forces and businessmen who wanted to take advantage of the situation, but the real bigwigs stayed put, silently handing out dry mouths.

The stupid ones are still in the minority after all. As the representative of the Wu family and the Kong family are so close to each other, how can they trust his words?

Seeing that his goading was beginning to bear fruit, Wu Yi Yi made another big move.

“Lin Mo, you are just a dog fighting for power, without our help, he would be nothing more than a commander in chief.”

“Now that things have come to a head, I won’t hide it from you all, I, Wu Yi, on behalf of the Wu family and the Kong family, jointly declare that the core trade of the two families will be completely opened to the public, the Kong family’s shipping and casino industry, and the Wu family’s arms trade, all of you can join in if you are interested.”

These are the core trades that the two families rely on for their survival, and they are profitable industries in the city, but now they are open to the public?

“Sir Wu, if we were to join in, what would the purchase price be?”

Wu smiled lightly, “The exact price will need to be negotiated in person, but what I can guarantee is that the purchase price will be more than 30 per cent below the market price.”

The faces of several people who were still unperturbed changed instantly, they could not be blamed for their lack of determination, but the figure was too tempting.

Wu’s movements did not stop there, as he gestured with his eyes, the old man Luo on the guest table slowly rose up.

“Although I am old, if Little Brother Wu does not mind, I would like to participate in a few things.”

When he finished, the crowd was amazed, this old man Luo was the vice president of the Hanoi Chamber of Commerce when he was young, even though he had retired for many years, he still had huge connections, with his participation, the strength of the Wu and Kong families in the business battle would definitely rise to another level.

Wu Yi laughed: “Master Luo is old and strong, it is an honour for the younger generation to be involved in our cooperation, there is nothing to dislike.”

The two sides had already agreed to cooperate a few days ago, and now everything was just an act.

Half of the people on the scene started to speak up as Luo stood in line and proposed their intention to cooperate, and Wu Yiyi also agreed to all of them, pending the pricing and signing of the contract later.

There were only three or two guests left who had not yet taken a position.

Seeing that his goal had been achieved, Wu Yi Yi’s face slowly became smug.

“How about this, I’ll be merciful today and give you the opportunity to join the Wu and Kong families.”

Without waiting for Lin Mo's reply, several businessmen beside Wu Yi began to express their loyalty first.

"Mr. Wu, why bother talking to this Lin Mo? Just a few of them want to deal with the Kong family, it's like talking about a fool's dream."

"That's right, what a nice thing to say, and what maritime cooperation, but just want to unite against the Kong family."

"Little brats who haven't even grown hair, and they're still telling us what to do."

Surprisingly, they had already joined the Wu Kong Alliance, they gave no more face to Lin Mo.

The prince's face sank, "Since you have chosen to join the Wu Kong camp, hurry up and get the hell out,"

"Che, I'm still not willing to stay!"

"You"

The prince was just about to step forward and make a move when Lin Mo on the seat reached out and stopped her, he slowly got up after putting down his tea cup.

"It's childish, but it did help me weed out quite a few wallflowers."
