

The Killer 101

Chapter 101 Grabbing Joe

After the opening ceremony, the game ushered in the first stage, round-robin competition system.

Except for their respective “Alternate Chess Association Masters” in the five major venues, the rest of the chess players need to compete in a two-day round-robin competition.

At the end of the round-robin competition, the group with the most points advances to compete with the alternate masters.

The final winner will be the new master of the corresponding chess type.

Under the guidance of the staff, the contestants were diverted to the five major venues.

Those who remained in the opening ceremony hall were all alternate masters. They greeted each other and planned to go to the arena to watch the match. By the way, they thought about who might be the dark horse, and then practiced against the dark horse.

Hedy didn't have that idea.

She left the building and returned to the business hotel, and found that Betty was standing at the entrance of the hotel, watching a group of children playing ball not far away, with envious eyes.

The ball rolled to Betty's feet, she bent down, picked up the ball with her crippled arms, and handed it to the children who ran over, smiling brightly,

“Here.”

The children were frightened when they saw that she had no hands, and grabbed the ball. He ran and yelled,

“Run, here is a monster without hands, it's so scary and disgusting!”

The reaction of her peers made Betty freeze in place, and tears burst out of her eyes unexpectedly,

She wiped her tears with her bare wrist, and warned herself while crying, “Don't cry, Betty, you can't cry!”

But the more she did this, the more fierce the tears flowed.

After all, she was just a little girl in her early ten years.

Betty probably needs a hug

Hedy thought. She picked up Betty and walked towards the hotel.

The warm embrace stopped Betty's tears, and she heard Hedy say in a cold tone,

“You are not a monster.”

The volume was not loud, but it had a power many times higher than the volume, and entered Betty's heart.

"Are you back?" Ray was smoking on the reception sofa on the first floor. When he saw her come back, he stood up with an apologetic face,

"The case has changed. I have to trouble you to take care of Betty today."

It is not convenient for him to disclose the specific changes. To the "Okay." Hedy didn't ask any further questions, and took Betty upstairs.

As soon as she entered the room, Betty opened her schoolbag, took out many colored pencil drawings, and stared at them carefully.

Hedy walked over and found that all the paintings on it were Joe.

"Sister Joe is my idol." Betty said in a low voice. By chance, she saw a live match between

Joe and others on TV. She felt that this big sister was so strong and powerful, and she was also attracted by Go for the first time, and officially entered the Go world.

She didn't expect her talent in Go to be so good, but every time she was hailed as a "gifted girl who might surpass Joe" by the outside world, she was a little unhappy. In her heart, Joe is the best.

Her biggest wish was to play chess with Joe once, but before her wish came true, her hand was crushed...

"I used to think that Joe was stronger than ordinary girls, but when I became disabled, I realized that it was so difficult to be strong. I also realize how valuable Joe's character is." Betty stroked Joe in the painting, and said firmly,

"I also want to learn from Joe, and I will never admit defeat!"

-Downstairs.

Ray looked at Sid, then at Fatty, out the case of severed hand, Betty is so young, her father Ted kowtowed me several times before he was arrested, I can't sit idly by ignore it."

"It's as if I'm going to ignore it." Sid stood up.

Fatty nodded, "Then the three of us will check it ourselves!"

The three of them returned to the small house that Ray rented, pasted the photos of the relevant tasks on the wall, and listed the relationship network.

At this time, Ray received a call from a fellow colleague,

Ray, I found several similar cases of severed hands in our police station. The victims were all Go players, and they were all killed during the competition. Cut off their hands.

I have sent their names and identities, as well as the Go tournaments they participated in, to your mailbox.”

The three of them took action, first finding out the participants in each game, and determining the players in these games. Overlap the chess players, and then screen the identity background of the overlapping chess players.

Finally, the answer is clear, the murderer is Joe.

Except for Joe, the rest are ordinary people who cannot cover the sky with one hand.

Joe’s Family is different.

In the USA, apart from the King Family standing at the top of the pyramid, if the giants are divided into echelons, Joe’s Family is in the second echelon.

The family business involves medicine and medical equipment, an annual operating income of up to 10 billion.

“It turns out that this case is not difficult to investigate, but that no one dares to investigate...” Fatty realized it later.

Sid took a deep breath, “The victims have one thing in common, they are all expected to beat the most popular Joe in the game.”

“Go! Go catch Joe!” Ray put on his coat.

The police department dare not offend Joe’s Family, nor will they arrest Joe, they can only go by themselves!

The three of them came to the Building, showed their police IDs, and went in openly.

Joe happened to finish the game with someone, holding the red suitcase, and controlled the wheelchair to the empty chess room to replay the game.

“Joe.” Ray walked in with Sid and Fatty. Seeing that they were the ones who came, Joe lowered his head and resumed the chess game by himself.

The straight and long black hairstyle made her look quiet and well- behaved, as pure as the girl next door, “You still found me here.”

This sentence is undoubtedly a confession.

She recognized it calmly and simply, as if she didn’t cut off other people’s hands, but just cut a few pieces of cake with a delicate fork.

Such a calm attitude made Ray ask in a deep voice,

“Do you know how difficult the life of those people whose hands you cut off is now!””

Then?” Joe tilted his head, with no guilt on his face feel.

Like a Barbie doll in a toy store, sitting in the window, motionless.

Ray squeezed out a sentence through the teeth, “ Betty is only ten years old, how can you have the heart to attack her!”

“Shouldn’t ten years old be more educated to prevent her from growing crooked?” Joe leaned on the wheelchair.

“Long crooked, what do you mean?” Fatty couldn’t figure it out.

Joe’s eyes gradually became gloomy,

“I, Joe, practiced ballet hard since I was a child, but became disabled in a car accident. I am the most unfortunate person in the world.

If God owes me, someone should compensate me. Go is my only skill. If some people don’t know how to be kind and try to take away the prestige and attention that I deserve.

Then I will help him to be kind and choose the most correct path for him... Is there a problem?”

Attacking Hedy in a five-star hotel is also true Because of Hedy’s appearance, she stole all her attention, leaving her alone with no one around her.

Ray didn’t expect Joe to be a normal person, he asked, “After you cut off their hands, where did you throw them?”

This is physical evidence.

“Here.” Joe generously opened the red leather case, randomly took out a bottle soaked in formalin with a severed hand, and rubbed it on his face gently,

“How about it, are they beautiful? I don’t even take a shower You have to take them with you.”

Ray made a gesture to grab them, but he didn’t notice a group of men with flower arms quietly appearing behind him.

The flower-armed man sprayed an unknown mist, Ray, Sid, and Fatty all fell to the ground in a coma, and a recording pen that was recording was found on them.

“Joe, did they kill or bury it?” The flower-armed man destroyed the recorder.

“No rush.” Joe stroked the bottle gently,

“After I finish the game, I’ll make specimens of them myself.”

She really needs to add a few cute “talismans”.

Chapter 102 He is really disappointed in Hedy!

Time flies by.

The next day, Hedy sent Betty to the police station, only to learn that Ray, Sid and Fatty were on vacation,

She frowned. When

Ray handed Betty to her yesterday, he said “help today”, not “help in the next few days”.

The expressions of the three of them at that time did not look like they were about to go on a trip.

What’s more, Ray has publicly stated that he wants to help Betty find the real culprit of the severed hand, and with his integrity, he will not ignore it halfway.

Something is wrong.

Hedy turned on the phone and contacted Ray, but found that he couldn’t get in touch no matter what.

She simply took Betty to Ray and Sid ‘s residence.

This is a small separate house, and through the windows and half- opened curtains, the clues on the walls can be seen. The word

Joe” was circled several times.

“Joe?” Betty saw the words too.

But she didn’t know what that meant.

Hedy’s eyes were sharp, and his pupils flashed coldly.

It seems that Ray, Sid and Fatty have found out who is the real culprit. in the murder case.

What about them?

Buzz–

Hedy’s phone vibrates, indicating that there is a new email in the mailbox, and the sender is Ray,

Sister Hedy, this is an email scheduled to be released in 24 hours. I took Sid and Fatty to catch Joe, she is the murderer.

If you receive this email, it means that we are in distress, please call the police for us,

This is what Ray left behind. What the citizens of

S City are most concerned about during this time is the four-yearly grandmaster selection in the chess world.

Hedy is the youngest female candidate master, more popular than Joe.

She speaks, more than anything else.

Hedy stared at the mail, a look of anger flashed across his beautiful face.

It turns out that Ray, Sid and Fatty were not “on leave”, but they were “suspended in disguise” after they checked people who shouldn’t be checked.

But these three people insisted on investigating, and found out the murderer, went to find the murderer, and finally fell into danger.

“Ye, Hedy...” Betty shouted timidly.

“I have to deal with something, can you stay in the hotel alone?” Hedy asked her.

With the background of Joe’s Family, even if she went to the police, she would be dealt with coldly, and only she could solve it by herself. “Yeah.” Betty nodded. vigorously.

She will obediently stay in the hotel and never leave!

Chess World Building.

Go arena. After defeating his opponent,

Joe glanced at the “full victory” displayed on the standings, and entered his own independent lounge, ready to be interviewed.

The moment she closed the door, Hedy, who was hiding in the doorway, wearing a peaked cap, with arms folded and a cold body, also appeared in front of her.

“Hedy? How did you get in here!”

Joe was taken aback by this big change, after all, only she had the key card to open the independent lounge!

Hedy didn’t answer.

She is a killer, even able to sneak into the heavily guarded presidential palace, not to mention the small chess world building.

She walked up to Joe, grabbed Joe’s neck directly, and said in a tone as cold as the ice of the Far East.

“Where are they?”

Death is the best veritaserum

Bang-

the door to the lounge was pushed open.

Reporters came rushing in with recording equipment, yelling “Joe,” which turned out to be “Ms. Ellis.”

No one expected that there would be such a scene in the independent lounge.

The female genius in the Go field was strangled by the female genius in the chess field!

This is too explosive!

The reporter who came back to his senses clicked to take pictures.

“What’s ‘where are they’? I can’t understand!” Joe blushed from being pinched, struggling to spit out a sentence.

“Ms. Ellis! What happened?” Xavier ran in, eyes confused.

“Joe!” Tony also ran in. Seeing Hedy treat his beloved woman like this, Qingjun’s face was filled with anger, and he shouted, ”

Hedy, let go of Joe!”

Hedy did let go of Joe, not because of Tony, But knowing the current situation, killing Joe directly is useless.

This group of reporters was too anxious. They rushed in for the interview even though the interview time was five minutes later, disrupting her plan.

With a cold face, she pressed her peaked cap, and was about to turn around and leave, but was stopped by Joe.

“Ahem... Hedy, you want to find Ray, the neighbor brother who is the captain of the police, and his girlfriend and subordinate?” Joe coughed while covering his neck.”

Hedy stopped in his tracks.

Joe took out one thing, “Here is a blackmail letter written by Ray Together with his girlfriend and subordinates, he used his official position to come to the Building, secretly took pictures of me changing clothes, and demanded 10 million from me. I am worried about my reputation. At this moment, they should have fled with the money, and I don’t know where they went.”

Tony opened the letter, and after reading the contents of the letter, he was so angry that he wanted to use his eyes Kill Hedy.

He gritted his teeth and asked Hedy,

“Where did Joe offend you, let one of you take photos of her secretly and extort 10 million from her ;!”

Joe is Tony ‘s white moonlight.

When the women around him are either wearing Prada or Louis Vuitton attending the dinner parties of various celebrities, only Joe is practicing chess in a quiet corner.

The moonlight shines on her face, she is serious and focused, and is out of tune with the luxurious and rich people around her.

She was in a wheelchair, but the car accident did not limit her progress. Not long after, she won the USA Youth Go Championship in one fell swoop and successfully made headlines in the newspapers.

She was so tough, so strong, so different, so indomitable.

But such a good girl was bullied and hurt by Hedy and the people around her like this!

The rest of the Go players also rushed over, and you blamed each other,

“Why is Hedy bullying Joe again?”

“I have a guess, is it because Hedy didn’t get the spoils, so he came to Joe ? ”

“It’s very possible. Birds of a feather flock together and people are divided into groups. With such a neighbor brother, how can she be any better?” “I said she pushed

Joe down on purpose before!” “ Joe is the new generation of Go players.” My hope is that tomorrow is the final match against the alternate masters of the Chess Association, we must protect her well, and we will rely on her to defeat Shita Yamamoto!”

The reporters rushed to record these remarks. Mr.

Tod Lu walked in with a cane. He glared at Hedy and pointed out the door,

“Get out!”

He was extremely disappointed in Hedy!

Xavier looked left and right, and hurriedly pulled Hedy away, and it would not end well if he stayed any longer.

“Ms. Ellis, I believe you are innocent, because your eyes are clean. Eyes are the windows to the soul, and your heart must be clean.” Xavier said seriously.

He was born in a famous family, and he has seen a lot of dirty things. among rich and powerful families. Hedy must not be the kind of person his brother said.

“Thank you, I still have something to do, let’s go first.” Hedy didn’t stay long, and left the building in a hurry

Rather than being chased away and suspicious of her, the top priority is to find the three of Ray.

A mother and son passed by Hedy.

The son has a tattoo of flowers on his arm, the pattern is the same as that of the person who raided them at the food stall that night.

Chapter 103

The mother tugged at her son's ear, "Brat, who asked you to get a tattoo of the Heaven and Earth Gang? These people haunt S City, do a lot of evil, and do anything for money. Aren't you embarrassing my old lady by getting this tattoo?"

Hedy He stopped suddenly.

S City does not belong to Central South Province, but because it is next to Central South Province, Black Gang has also developed a lot of "business" here.

In terms of seniority, the Black Gang is greater than the Heaven and Earth Gang!

Hedy took out his mobile phone to contact Lucas.

The phone was connected quickly.

Lucas has a respectful attitude, "Master, what do you want?"

Hedy 's tone was cold, "Do you know the Heaven Gang in S City ?"

Fatty.

Lucas, "I know, I have fought against them before, and they are all vile scum. After being defeated, they can only roam around S City like rats. Do you have anything to do with them?"

Hedy, "My friend was killed by the Heaven and Earth Gang Someone took her away."

When her mother Malina gave birth to her dystocia, it was Mrs. White who worked tirelessly to take Malina to the town hospital on a tricycle, which saved Malina and her life.

Ray is Mrs. White 's son, and an upright law enforcement officer. She should rescue her regardless of her feelings or reason.

On the other end of the phone, Lucas was silent for a moment, with a solemn tone, "Please tell the boss in detail."

Hedy told Lucas about the severed hand case.

He gasped, "With Joe 's level of cruelty, your friends are probably already..."

"No, they're still alive." A certain light flashed in Hedy's dark eyes,

"Joe is a pervert with a twisted mind, and his behavior is logical and ordinary. Different.

From the perspective of criminal psychology, she has committed many crimes in a row. She has entered a state of obsession and will not easily spare the three of

Ray. Before the end of the master selection competition, they are all safe. After the master selection competition, it will be different It's over."

Because at that time, Joe had time to “deal with” Ray and them.

“The boss still understands criminal psychology?” Lucas was taken aback.

“I have nothing to do, just read the relevant books.” Hedy’s red lips parted slightly. People like Joe, who have tasted the sweetness of wanton crime, are evolving from simple cruelty to bloody perversion.

“When will the master selection competition end?” Lucas asked.

“Tomorrow.”

“I have informed the members of the Black Gang in S City to search for the remnants of the Heaven and Earth Gang. I will also go to S City with my cronies to dig deep and find out the friends of the gang leader!”

The call ended.

Hedy returns to the business hotel.

When she came back, Betty was holding a watercolor pen under her arms, struggling to draw a female face outline on paper.

Seeing her, Betty quickly turned the paper over, her face flushed, probably because she felt that her drawing was too ugly to be seen.

Hedy looks away.

It’s not hard to guess that Betty is drawing Joe to inspire herself.

She just didn’t know how she would break down when she learned that Joe was the one who cut off her hands.

In the afternoon, an explosive news permeated S City.

S City police captain Ray and two colleagues blackmailed talented female chess player Joe for 10 million and then disappeared!

After investigation, it was found that there was indeed an extra 10 million transfers on Ray’s bank card! This caused outrage.

Joe, a girl, is so “disabled and determined”, and Ray, as a law enforcement officer, did such a heartless thing, he is even more beast than a beast!

The police chief immediately said he was dismissed and wanted three people. The matter of Hedy pinching Joe has been reported by the media, emphasizing that Hedy and Ray are neighbors.

As for whether Hedy participated in the extortion case and whether the loot was shared, the media has no evidence and dare not make false statements.

But with this network of relationships coming out, it is inevitable that some people will imagine something bad.

at night.

Hedy closed her eyes, and it was difficult for her to fall asleep without Preston, the sleep companion machine.

Betty didn't sleep either."

She thought Hedy was asleep, so she got out of bed lightly, turned on the desk lamp, and continued to draw on the paper.

Hedy slowly opened his eyes. Does this girl adore Joe to the point where she needs to paint overnight?

Until sunrise in the east, Betty was painting.

Halfway through, she growled hungry, turned her head to look at Hedy who was "sleeping" on the bed, thought about it, and still endured hunger to paint without calling Hedy

When it was time to get up, Hedy got out of bed to wash up, and said to Betty," Today

I have a game, so you follow me to the chess field."

Betty can only take it to the Chess Building.

"Yeah!" Betty nodded, then blushed and handed Hedy the work she had painted all night with her stump, her big black eyes full of anticipation,

"In, in our hometown, there is a custom of blessing people with paintings, I drew a painting of my sister, if my sister doesn't mind..."

The

complete painting appeared in Hedy's eyes.

It is a portrait of a young girl wearing a cap, white shirt and black jeans.

To be honest, it's pretty badly drawn.

Because of the lack of hands, the lines of the characters are crooked, and the facial features are even more outrageous. It cannot be said to be "exactly the same" as Hedy, but only "irrelevant".

I don't know whether he studied under the Abstract School or the Fauvism School.

Even so, the painter has filled in the details very carefully.

The unknown icon on the peaked cap and the teardrop pendant on the neck are well drawn.

Next to the character, there is also a crooked line written,

I wish Hedy a successful start!

Hedy's pupils narrowed slowly.

It turned out that Betty had been busy all night... Was she painting her portrait?

"Sister doesn't like it?" Betty retracted her arms in frustration, looked down at her work, her voice became lower and lower,

"Actually, I don't like it very much, the painting is really ugly."

Pat.

A tear dripped from Betty's chin onto the paper.

Her sister is so kind to her, she actually wanted to draw her sister beautifully, but, but...

"No, I like it very much, this is the most beautiful painting I have ever seen."

Hedy took the painting, squatted in front of Betty, and gently Gently wiped away Betty 's tears, with a gentle smile,

"I'll give you one, worthy of it in return."

This was the first time

Betty saw Hedy smile. Hedy's appearance is very good. When she is not smiling, she is cold and alienated, and she rejects people thousands of miles away.

When you laugh, the spring is warm and the flowers are blooming, bright and sweet.

Betty stared blankly, and said, "What, what return?"

"I'll find out in due time, let's go." Hedy pulled out the room card, and the smile in his eyes slowly disappeared.

If Betty's hand hadn't been cut off, the outside world infers that the winning rate in the next game with Joe is 100%. She must beat Joe and become the champion of the tournament, banning Joe's status in the new generation of chess players.

Now that Betty has lost this championship medal.

Then let her be Hedy, and give her a more important Go champion medal!

Sky Street, Chess Building.

There were more reporters waiting outside the red carpet than on the day of the opening ceremony.

There is no other reason, Japan 's talented chess player Shita Yamamoto, finally arrived!

He is an alternate master of the Chess Association, so he doesn't have to participate in the preliminary round two days ago.

Chapter 104 Joe who lost miserably, Hedy who saved the game!

Shita Yamamoto came in a convertible Lincoln and looked very rich.

He has a typical Japanese appearance, with single eyelids, a flat face and a high nose bridge.

Dressed in a Japanese black samurai outfit, wearing tabi socks and stepping on clogs, when walking on the red carpet, the word “proud” was written all over his body.

The reporter asked, “Sir, why didn’t you attend the opening ceremony?”

At the opening ceremony two days ago, only Shita Yamamoto was absent.

The assistant beside him replied instead, “Mr. is skiing and soaking in hot springs abroad, and I don’t have time to come.”

The reporter was surprised, “The competition is coming soon, and Mr. didn’t hurry up to train, but traveled abroad instead?”” This time, Shita Yamamoto replied in person.

He can speak English, but his accent has a nondescript cadence, and his eyes are full of sarcasm.

The reporter who asked the question froze.

This Shita Yamamoto doesn’t pay much attention to the American people!

After reading the professional ethics silently, the reporter then asked, “Then how sure are you of winning the title of Go Grandmaster this time?” “100%!

I came here just to take the title of Grandmaster!” Shita Yamamoto was sure of winning look.

“Sir, you are too confident, but you are conceited.” Joe appeared on the red carpet with a cold tone, followed by the twin stars of the Holt Family.

The eyes of the USA reporters lit up!

The most powerful American female chess player in this competition is here to find a place for them!

Shita Yamamoto saw that the person who spoke was Joe, and sneered,

“I thought who it was, it turned out to be the so-called strongest Joe in the USA, you know you are the strongest, and if you go to our chess academy in Japan, you are only worthy of being a watchdog?

Ah, I’m sorry, I forgot that you were hit by a car and your lower body was smashed, and our chess academy only wants healthy dogs!”

Shita Yamamoto deliberately emphasized the word “dog”.

“You!” Joe squeezed the red suitcase tightly, with ferocious intent in his eyes, and dozens of ways to torture Shita Yamamoto flashed through his mind.

It’s a pity that Shita Yamamoto is the son of a Japanese consortium, and the family power is not weaker than Joe’s Family!

She suppressed the anger in her heart, and through the material of the red suitcase, she stroked the broken hand bottle hidden inside, with a smile on her face,”

Then the real Chapter will be seen on the field.”

“That’s right, Joe, let’s go to the field, Teach Shita Yamamoto to be a good man!”

“I believe Joe will be able to defeat Shita Yamamoto!”

“You are our last hope, let’s work hard!”

The reporters were also very angry at Shita Yamamoto. When they got angry, Hedy had already come to the chess game.

There are only eight entries for the alternate master competition.

Eight into four, four into two, two into one, one wins. As a family member,

Betty sat in the spectator seats, her eyes flickered and she was very curious.

Game start.

Hedy’s opponent is a forty-year-old middle-aged man.

Within half an hour, the middle-aged man conceded, and Hedy was the first to advance.

Betty was shocked.

Although she doesn’t know chess, but in a competition of this level, all the players have real strength. My sister can win so quickly, it’s too strong!

After another hour, the rest of the group competitions were over and they entered the second round.

This round, Hedy’s opponent is a lady with restrained eyes and charming eyes.

In fifty minutes, Hedy had two cars and one elephant, brutally killed the king, and successfully entered the final.

“I think the title of chess master this time must belong to you, congratulations.” The lady was convinced.

Although Hedy made it to the final, the other group fought fiercely for two hours, and it was not until lunch time that the winner was decided.

In fact, the speed of playing chess like this is normal.

In the game of masters, every move needs to be carefully thought out, and every result in the future needs to be deduced.

Thinking about it this way will naturally consume more time.

Not only the chess arena, but the finals of the Go, Shogi, Chess, and Checkers are all delayed until after lunch.

On the chess side, Hedy VS an elder who resembles Maitreya Buddha.

On the Go side, it's Joe VS Shita Yamamoto.

About Shita Yamamoto 's pre-match trash talk is too hateful, and most of the reporters are crowded in the Go arena.

After lunch, the finals began.

Chess field.

The elder, who resembled Maitreya Buddha, smiled and said, "Ms. Ellis, I've heard of your name. You have a super brain that can win 1v19." The word Hedy has long been spread in the USA chess world.

"Wonderful." Hedy glanced at the time on the wall, "How about we play fast chess?"

Rapid chess refers to one move in ten seconds, without thinking carefully, and only relying on the brain to memorize the game, the picture is cool.

"This is a good proposal, I agree." The elder did not refuse.

He can't play Hedy, so he loses anyway, and it's good to play in another way.

"Then let's start." Hedy moved chess.

Within fifty steps, the elder surrendered.

He smiled even more happily, "Ms. Ellis is so anxious to win me, is she also rushing to work?"

At the beginning, the sentence "I was in a hurry to work, 1v19, play chess together, and I will lose if timeout" was received by many Chess players regard it as the "Bible" and pass it on by word of mouth.

"No, I'm in a hurry to win another championship."

Hedy took away the championship medal and went straight to the Go field with Betty in his arms. Behind her, the elder was stunned.

In a hurry to grab another title?

How do you become more domineering every time?

-The atmosphere in the Go arena at the moment is very heavy.

Joe is going to lose.

No matter how much Joe touched her red suitcase, Shita Yamamoto couldn't stop her from strangling her.

The faces of all the masters in the referee's seat were not very good, especially Tod, who was about to break his crutches!

Joe is doomed.

The strongest player of the new generation of chess players in the USA lost to Japan's Shita Yamamoto in the end.

Compared to the sarcasm that Shita Yamamoto will say later, he is more pathetic than the great USA, who can't even carry forward the culture of his own country! Sad!

sad!

"I won." Shita Yamamoto stood up.

He looked down on the pale-faced Joe, then looked at the unwilling American chess players and angry reporters around him, tapped his temple with his index finger, and grinned,

"A hundred years ago, you Americans were called the 'sick men of East Asia', your weakest body is your body.

Now, your physical fitness is improving, but your brain intelligence is getting weaker and weaker, and you can't even play Go, which was invented by your own country." The voice fell, and the surroundings were as silent as a dead pool.

Can't refute, can't refute.

Shita Yamamoto's Go skills are really powerful.

The "cosmic flow" tactics he is good at completely overwhelm

Joe! Shita Yamamoto looked down at Joe again, and pointed to her face, "Just you, you still want to 'see the game' with me? Are you worthy?"

After speaking, he pointed to the reporters around, "Just you, still 'believe that Joe can Beat me'? You deserve it?"

Finally, he turned around and pointed his index finger at almost everyone, including the referees.

Turning around, he pronounced the words very clearly,

"You, all of you, are all rubbish!"

Crack!

Tod slapped the table and stood up, "Shita Yamamoto, don't go too far!"

They just lost the game, how can the country and the nation be belittled and humiliated to this point!

"It's not too much, this medal is mine, old man!" Shita Yamamoto went to the place where the medal was placed, and took it away rudely.

“One is probably not enough.” A clear female voice sounded.

Everyone looked over and saw Hedy leaning against the door, his palm loosened, the chess master medal fell down and hung in the air.

She asked Shita Yamamoto, “Do you want a second one?”

Chapter 105 The appearance of Hedy VS Shita Yamamoto

Hedy attracted reporters to take pictures one after another.

“Ms. Ellis has won the title of Chess Grandmaster? The speed is so fast!”

Became a Chess Association Grandmaster at the age of 18, not to mention unique in history, is it rare?”

Same as Shita Yamamoto, both They are geniuses who are good at chess!”

“But why did she ask Shita Yamamoto if he wants a second one?”

The reporters were puzzled, and the chess players were puzzled.

Tony and Xavier don’t understand, neither do Joe and Shita Yamamoto.

Even the elderly masters in the referee’s seat all had foggy expressions.

Only Tod’s eyes widened slowly, and he asked Hedy with a trembling voice,

“You...you want to upgrade the ‘Master Selection’ to ‘Master Challenge’, and then challenge Shita Yamamoto, right?!”

“Yes.” Hedy admits.

That was the reason she had rushed over from the chess game.

She plans to give the medal in Shita Yamamoto’s hand to Betty as a return gift.

Secondly, I also want to give Joe a fatal blow. Isn’t Joe committing so many crimes just to maintain his nickname of “the strongest female chess player of the new generation in USA”?

She will personally destroy what Joe cares about most!

“What ‘Master Challenge’? Why haven’t I heard of it?” Shita Yamamoto frowned.

Tod stepped down from the referee’s seat and looked at the crowd,

“Presumably all Go players will try to get in touch with other types of chess in their spare time, right? Just like some pianists can also play a piece of violin.”

Everyone nodded.

Go is a game of intelligence, and other games are also games of intelligence. It is quite interesting to play other games once in a while.

It is not uncommon for many people to have ranks in Go as well as other ranks.

Tod added, "The Master Challenge is an independent rule set by the selection competition for this kind of special players.

That is, the masters of the A-type chess association can challenge the B-type chess masters to the B-type chess association masters.

If Both parties agree that the competition will be upgraded, and the winner can directly deprive the loser of the master medal and title, and become the double master of this competition!" "I remembered!" Another elderly referee stood up, his face flushed,

"This is indeed one of the rules of the selection competition, but since the rules were finalized, no chess player dared to try this, and everyone gradually forgot about this rule!" The corners of everyone's mouths twitched after saying this.

You judges, think that the title of master is the cabbage in the vegetable market, you can see it everywhere?

How many chess players have exhausted their lives, but they can't reach the rank of "master".

If a chess player really becomes a "master", he must be a treasure, how can he easily upgrade the game?

In case of losing, my hard work for so many years will be in vain, and I have to start all over again!

Shita Yamamoto understood. He squinted his eyes and looked at Hedy as if looking at a fool,

"So, you want to start a Go challenge as a chess master against me, a Go master?"

Hedy gently nod.

"I agree! Haha! There are American women who think I'm not full and want to give me a few more 'dishes'. It's so sweet!" Shita Yamamoto laughed.

As the challenged party, he feels that this is a free "score question".

He sat down again, and coldly scolded Joe, who hadn't left yet,

"You loser, let Hedy come and play with me! I want to become a master of double ingredients!"

Joe's face was blue and blue, and he pinched the handle of the red leather suitcase His knuckles turned white with force, and he looked up at Hedy, like a jungle snake.

She lost, what qualifications does Hedy have to take over the game!

Do you want to try your best to attract the attention of the media and the outside world!

Bitch!

Joe, don't lose heart, you are already great." Tony came over and pushed the angry Joe away.

On the way out of the battle zone, he glanced at Hedy, and there was a hint of doubt on his handsome face.

He didn't understand why Hedy took the risk.

Xavier looked at Hedy through the crowd, his mouth was aggrieved – he couldn't squeeze through!

"Hedy." Leaning on crutches, Tod stopped in front of Hedy, his eyes burning like a torch, "Do you know Go?"

In his opinion, Hedy must have spent all his spare time on chess.

Otherwise, how could it be possible to win the title of Chess Grandmaster by passing five stages and beating six generals at the age of eighteen?

In this way, does she still have time to learn Go?

Does she really know how to play Go?

"Understood." Hedy's eyes flickered slightly.

She came into contact with Go, in fact, earlier than she came into contact with chess.

The grandfather who gave her warmth in the slums could play Go and taught her a lot about Go.

Later, in order to exercise her brain power, she also studied Go carefully.

Shita Yamamoto is best at 'cosmic flow layout, you have to be careful." Tod 's heart is very uncomfortable.

He beat Hedy several times, and also expelled Hedy several times, asserting that Hedy "worships foreigners" and did not give her a good face.

But when all the USA chess players were wiped out, it was Hedy who stood up and took the risk of losing to upgrade the selection competition to a challenge competition.

No matter whether he can win this game or not, just this courage makes him admire.

He felt that he was blaming Hedy.

Hedy didn't care, she patted Betty 's head, and said in a gentle voice, "Wait for me in the spectator stand."

"Okay!" Betty obediently sat in the spectator stand.

Hedy just sat down in front of Shita Yamamoto

The spotlights of reporters from all walks of life hit like a storm.

S City local TV station is also broadcasting this challenge.

Game start.

As the challenger, Hedy took black and moved first.

Shita Yamamoto calls White.

Hedy goes again, Shita Yamamoto goes again.

In the third move, Hedy's black pieces form a "three-in-a-row" game.

Shita Yamamoto's pupils shrank slightly.

At this moment, like a magic spell from the sky, he felt that the chessboard between him and Hedy had turned into a boundless universe.

The black and white chess pieces are just stars in the vast universe, empty, deep, and mysterious.

"Three consecutive stars? Ms. Ellis actually wants to use 'cosmic flow!'"

Xavier outside the venue was quite surprised!

Cosmic flow is one of the ways of Go layout.

Most people play Go, and they are used to starting from the corners and extending outwards.

It is "from the small to the big", from every grass and tree, to the luxuriant branches, to touching the sky and the Milky Way, and picking the fruits of victory.

The cosmic flow is the opposite.

The first few pieces of the chess player will form a "surrounding" tren on the periphery of the chessboard and extend inward.

Achieve "I am the universe, I am the galaxy, all changes are in my belly".

Just listening to the name, the three words "cosmic flow" are fascinating

But the "cosmic flow" is not so easy to control. It requires the chess. player to have a strong attack power and a sense of balance with the situation.

Chapter 106 Hedy's Calmness!

"Take the ax!"

Joe, who was already in the spectator seat, was holding a red suitcase, spit out four words coldly, and said,

"Cosmic flow is a tactic invented by the Japanese, and it is more proficient and smoother than us Americans. Hedy uses this to start, Too stupid and ignorant!"

Tony heard a little weird, and felt that his sweetheart's tone and attitude seemed not quite right.

But after a closer look, Hedy's move is indeed "hands-on-hand".

Cosmic flow was invented in Japan and is what Japanese shogi player Shita Yamamoto is best at.

Playing what you are best at in front of others has a bit of "seeking abuse" in it.

"Joe, your words are too much. Ms. Ellis is now playing instead of USA. We should cheer her on instead of scolding her." Xavier wrinkled his nose, feeling a little unhappy.

He used to think that Joe was pretty good, but when he met "Hedy", he changed?

"I just think she's too reckless, and shouldn't be. Wouldn't it be more embarrassing for the people of USA to lose the chess medal to others? JoeSusan lowered his head.

"I, I don't think Hedy is embarrassing to the Americans! Hedy is very brave!" Betty, who was also sitting

Joe squeezed the red leather case tightly.

She shouldn't have chopped off Betty's hands, she should have stitched Betty's mouth up!

Battle zone.

The stars in the chessboard universe travel through the galaxy, flickering and disappearing.

It disappeared because it was eaten, and it appeared because it was replenished.

Shita Yamamoto couldn't help but laugh.

In the beginning, he could still eat a few pieces from Hedy, so that he could evenly win.

Why did Hedy's moves become more and more tricky as time went by?

He didn't dare to attack rashly, so he could only guard against it and resolutely prevent Hedy from expanding his advantage.

However, what Shita Yamamoto didn't know was that she deliberately gave up the rice Hedy gave him.

The purpose of the tactical abandonment is to lure the enemy to go deep and set up a dragon-slaying array.

Thirty minutes later, Yamamoto stood up with a sullen face and said, "I apply to close the game and take a break."

The game stipulates that chess players can take a break at halftime.

Wow –

exclaimed from reporters and spectators.

Chess master, in the game of Go, forced the Go master to apply for a rest?

Hedy is a monster, right?

How can you know everything, everything is awesome?

Tod discussed with several referees for a moment, nodded and said,

“Yes.”

Shita Yamamoto and Hedy entered the waiting room respectively.

Betty also came to the lounge and handed the water prepared in advance to Hedy, “Thank you, sister!”

After Hedy finished drinking the water, he received a text message on his mobile phone.

Lucas, Guild Master, we have identified your friend’s location and are on our way to rescue him. Please play with peace of mind!

Hedy was about to reply when he heard a strange pulling sound.

An unknown mist sprayed in from the vent.

She caught her breath quickly, and Betty fell unconscious at her lap.

“You’re very alert.” Joe came out of the small room inside, followed by four men with machetes in their arms.

When the referee was discussing, she led people into the female chess player’s lounge first.

Originally, she wanted to do the same thing and cut off both of Hedy’s hands, but unexpectedly, Hedy was not stunned!

“Go!” Joe waved his hand.

The four flower-armed men rushed over immediately.

While the five were fighting, Joe manipulated the electric wheelchair and came to the unconscious Betty with fierce eyes.

She drew out the dagger and slashed at Betty’s mouth! Seeing this, Hedy’s eyes froze, kicked the man with arms, ran over and stretched out his arms to block the dagger.

laugh!

The dagger cut a centimeter-long deep wound on Hedy’s left arm, and blood gushed out, covering the surface of the skin.

Hedy didn’t frown, and kicked Joe hard in the chest.

“Ah—” Joe turned directly on his back, lying on the ground with blood spilling from the corner of his mouth, and she shouted,

“Help! Help!”

The security guard and several people rushed in quickly. The scene in the lounge shocked everyone.

See blood!

“Joe!” Tony pushed aside the crowd, and quickly hugged Joe, his eyes were distressed.

Tod also strode in and asked sharply, “What’s going on!”

Hedy hugged the unconscious Betty, and said in a cold tone,

“Joe led the Heaven gang to squat in the lollige, hands so that I wouldn’t take them away. She is the title of the strongest female chess player of the new generation!”

“You are talking nonsense! I clearly came here to help you review the chess game, but you found four people and wanted to kill me! You hate me for revealing that your brother Ray blackmailed me Crime!” Joe retorted loudly!

The four flower-armed men stood in front of Hedy and apologized, “Ms. Ellis, I’m sorry, the plan was wrong, we failed to kill Joe.”

“Call the police and take her away! I’m so scared!” Joe shivered in Tony’s arms trembling.

The police arrived soon, as if they had been waiting outside for a long time,

“Hedy, you are suspected of intentional homicide, come with us!”

These things happened so fast that the reporter couldn’t react.

All I know is that when I come to my senses, Hedy is about to be arrested!

Xavier.” Hedy’s beautiful face was as cold as snow, and he called the younger brother of the twin stars of the Holt Family. “I’m here.” Xavier stood up.

“Help me take her to the hospital for a checkup, and it’s faster!” Hedy handed Betty to Xavier, fearing that he might harbor suspicions, and emphasized his tone,

“The child is innocent, she has already lost her hands!”

“Okay!” Xavier hugged Run out with Betty. “Hedy, come with us?” Policeman A took out the handcuffs.

“Why should I go with you?” Hedy only had time to deal with the police, his tone was as cold as Nine Serene Cold Pool.

“Since you want to kill me, your accomplices have admitted it!” Joc pointed to the four men with flower arms.

As long as Hedy is taken away, Hedy will not be able to continue to play against Shita Yamamoto. She, Joe, is the strongest female chess player in the new generation of USA!

“Joe, do you think everyone is mentally retarded just like you?” Hedy sneered, showing off his chess master medal,

“I am a person who is proficient in chess and layout, and I will order my accomplices to play in front of the public.”, Admit my crime?”

She calmly pointed out the illogicality!

Many people agree with this statement.

“Whether you have anything to do with these four men, the police will only find out after investigating! Take her away for interrogation!” Joe ordered the police sharply.

The policeman nods.

No one else stopped him.

Interrogation and investigation is indeed the process that should be followed.

Hedy looked at Joe coldly, “You can catch me if you want, wait until I finish playing chess with Shita Yamamoto .”

Joe didn’t want her to finish the game, she just wanted to finish it 131

Joe to see!

“No, take her away! I am the daughter she wants to kill!” Joe was visibly anxious.

“Why not?” Hedy articulated clearly,

“I’m here, and I can go to the police station to investigate at any time. Why are you guilty of stopping me in such a hurry? Can I still escape in full view?” She said from beginning to end

They are all calm and unhurried!

Joe’s fingertips pierced his palm, unable to answer.

Today’s matter was originally a temporary idea, and she couldn’t take care of every link!

“I think it’s not too late to let Hedy finish playing chess before cooperating with the investigation!” Tod thought for a moment before expressing his opinion.

“Yes, let Hedy finish the game first! She is playing against Japan’s Shita Yamamoto, and she is about to win!” “There are so many of us in the game, and Hedy won’t be allowed to run away. Don’t worry, Joe!”

Chapter 107 Hedy, the youngest double master in history!

Almost everyone proposed to let Hedy continue the game. Because Hedy is the only player who can beat Shita Yamamoto in this master selection tournament.

This is about national dignity.

“Then continue the game!” Tod said to the police, “We will close the doors and windows to ensure that Hedy will not escape. I believe that comrades in the police are not in a hurry, right?”

look at you and can only nod in agreement.

Joe nearly gritted his silver teeth.

“Hurry up and get someone to bandage Ms. Ellis, the blood is dripping down the fingers!” Someone reminded outside.

Only then did everyone notice that the blood on Hedy’s arm was already rushing, which was very scary.

“Doctor on site!” Tod raised his voice.

“Don’t bandage her!” Joe sat on the wheelchair again, his eyes became more gloomy.

Hedy was injured in an artery, and the blood flow in the artery is fast. If it is not bandaged in time, it will continue to bleed.

Bleeding to death is also a good way to die!

She looked around and said in a threatening tone, “I can tolerate a person who wants to kill me and continue the game. This is the limit! Whoever dares to bandage Hedy will be my enemy from now on!

“There was no sound.

The resident doctor even showed a troubled look.

They specialize in medicine and medical equipment, how can they dare to offend these little doctors so easily?

“This...” Tod changed his expression.

Thinking about it in another way, Joe should be resentful.

“Then there is no competition, life is at stake.” Tod gave up.

Human life is more important than the outcome of this game.

Stab.

Hedy tore open his sleeve, pulled out a strip of cloth and tied it above the wound, and said indifferently, “Go ahead!”

She didn’t tie it too tightly.

If it is too tight, the blood will not flow. Although it can stop bleeding, if it is not treated in a short period of time, it will face the danger of wound necrosis or amputation.

She can only artificially regulate the amount of blood flow to keep the blood flowing while minimizing the outflow of blood.

—She must continue playing chess and give Lucas time to search and rescue the three of Ray, otherwise Joe will have time to kill the three of Ray once the game is over.

The break also just ended.

Hedy and Shita Yamamoto return to the battle zone.

“I didn’t expect you to be a murderer. It will be very painful if you are caught and imprisoned later, right? Lost both fame and fortune.”

Shita Yamamoto knew about this sudden incident, and he wanted to put pressure on Hedy psychologically to let Hedy appear Mistake,

“I heard that the prisoners in the prison are very scary. They—” ”

Put down your three-legged cat-level psychological tactics and put pressure on me when you have time. Why don’t you think about how to make yourself look better when you lose.”

Hedy Interrupting his words, his eyes were calm, and there was no panic or timidity in his aura.

She made a move, and the chessboard universe was opened again, and the vast galaxy was magnificent.

“Idiot!” Shita Yamamoto yelled.

He looked at Hedy’s bleeding wound, and had a vicious plan in his mind, even if he was playing Go, he would lose if he overtimed.

But he can step on the tail of timeout and delay the game time!

The longer the time, the more this guy Hedy bleeds, and it’s time to go. into shock and faint!

Shita Yamamoto began to deliberately slow down the speed of playing chess, frantically testing on the verge of overtime and losing.

Half an hour passed.

An hour passed.

An hour and a half passed.

Drip-

this was the sound of blood falling from Hedy’s fingertips, onto the marble floor.

There was an ever-expanding pool of blood on her side.

His face was slowly turning white.

Only calm and reason, without fading half a point!

-West City

District, chemical plant. The remnants of the Heaven and Earth Gang were surrounded by Black Gangs that were several times larger than themselves.

After a "warm and friendly" communication, all the HeavenGang rushed to the street.

Lucas ordered the gang members to clean up the scene, and then opened a door with his cronies. Inside the door were

Ray, Sid and Fatty who were tied up and blindfolded .

"Who are you?" Ray asked warily.

Black Gang." The confidant said fiercely.

"Help?" Sid was more wary.

Slap, Lucas slapped his cronies on the back, "That's the abbreviation, our full name is, Black Mango Unity and Friendship Study Group."

Fatty black face with question marks.

"Thank you so much, time is running out, we still have to arrest the criminals..." Ray flexed his muscles.

Joe can't get away with it!

"Business matters." Lucas made way for the three of them.

Ray and Sid went out one after another, and Fatty was at the bottom.

He was about to go out, when there was a bang, Lucas ' Knife fell from his clothes to the ground.

Fatty's eyes widened.

Dangerous Regulated Knives!

"Oh." Lucas picked up the Knife, put it into his clothes unhurriedly, and smiled,

"I'm studying, it's inevitable that I have to sharpen pencils. I carry a knife with me, is it reasonable?"

Just as he finished speaking, there was a bang, the ax of the confidant, fell out of the clothes.

Fatty's eyes widened.

"Oh." Lucas helped to pick up the axe, stuffed it into his confidant's clothes, calmly,

"He is an artist, art student, it is inevitable that he has to cut paper, so it is reasonable to bring an ax with him?"

Fatty spread out With both hands and puzzled eyes, “Do I look like an idiot?”

“Don’t be an idiot, go catch someone!” Ray, who had returned the same way, took Fatty by the back collar and left.

Sky Street, Chess Building.

Go arena.

With a pale face, Hedy played against Shita Yamamoto.

Excessive blood loss caused her body temperature to drop, getting colder and colder.

But it’s okay, she’s used to this feeling.

Those dangerous killer missions can always push her to a corner.

She is already familiar with it and knows how to face this situation.

Shita Yamamoto, you’re about to time out again.” Tod’s tone was full of anger.

Anyone can see that Shita Yamamoto, who has a good life, is deliberately procrastinating.

For a man to use such a despicable method to bully a wounded woman is really embarrassing

Japan! But what if he plays tricks again?

Hedy, why don’t you drive him to a corner?

Shita Yamamoto held up the white stone, and it was too late to fall, with an embarrassing expression as if someone had dug his ancestral grave!

This time, if he falls, he loses.

If you don’t fall, you lose, because it’s timed out!

He has indeed reached the point where he should think about which method of loss will make him look better!

While he was thinking, Tod stood up, and his voice was full of joy,

“It’s time, Hedy, win!”

“Wow!”

Cheers filled the arena.

Hedy won!

Hedy won with injury!

Hedy beat the vile Shita Yamamoto with injuries!

The tactics used to win Shita Yamamoto are still Shita Yamamoto ‘st best “cosmic flow”!

She not only won Go, but also chess!

She is the youngest, most legendary, and most beautiful double master in history!

Chapter 108

Amidst the cheers of Preston’s return, Hedy held onto the chessboard and stood up unsteadily.

If she had eyes behind her, she would see a tall, handsome and noble man walking towards her with distressed and angry eyes.

It’s a pity that she doesn’t have eyes behind her. She took away the Go master’s medal, ‘looked at Shita Yamamoto who wanted to bury her head in the ground, and said with a weak voice,

“I don’t know if the intelligence of Americans has declined, but you, Shita Yamamoto, really should Ask your parents, what is propriety, righteousness, integrity and shame, and what is integrity without arrogance!”

There is no humiliation, no irony, no showing off, and no belittling.

Only, the people of the United States have the demeanor they should have!

“Well said!” Tod led the applause.

Hedy was exhausted and fell to the side.

She thought, hitting the marble floor was actually okay, at least there were no protruding spikes, no nests of entangled snakes.

The expected pain did not strike, she fell into a warm and generous chest.

A familiar breath came from behind, and for some reason, she suddenly felt her nose sore.

“Preston.”

Why does this man always appear when she needs help.

Does he know that this will make her form a habit and become dependent?

“Sorry, I’m late.”

Preston hugged her, suppressing deep self-blame in his deep voice.

He looked at the bleeding wound and shouted, “Aiden! Where is the doctor!”

“Come here!” The best surgeon in S City appeared with a medical kit. The doctor squatted in front of Hedy, bandaged Hedy's wound, and fed Hedy special medicine.

Hedy's complexion improved a bit.

Her condition is improving.

The situation of other people in the Go arena is not good!

One or two eyeballs have to break through the eye sockets, and the mouth cannot be closed!

How did the famous Childe King come about?

He who has never been close to women, how could he hold Hedy in his arms?

What is the relationship between these two?

"Childe King, Ms. Ellis has lost too much blood and needs to go to the hospital for blood transfusion."
The surgeon judged the condition.

Preston didn't speak, just picked Hedy up by the waist and walked out.

"Childe King!"

Joe drove the wheelchair and walked around in front of Preston, "Do you remember me, I am the daughter of Preston, we attended the same banquet five years ago.

The Hedy you hold in your arms is the murderer who wants to kill me The murderer, her neighbor's brother Ray is still treating me.

Preston's eyes were full of violent and murderous intent, and he kicked. over, kicking Joe with his chair and red suitcase down the stairs behind him!

"Ah!"

Joe screamed and flew out of the wheelchair, tumbling all the way down the stairs, his head was bleeding and his eyes were full of horror!

"Joe!" Tony yelled.

Preston said coldly,

"Whoever dares to touch Joe will be the enemy of the King Family from now on!"

The weight of these words is thousands of times heavier than Joe's words! When Joe said that, everyone was too scared to touch Hedy.

Now, everyone is even more afraid to touch Joe.

"Childe King, Jòc, she's the victim!" Tony clenched his fists.

"Who said Joe was the victim?"

The sloppy Ray, Sid, and Fatty appeared at the entrance of the Chess Building.

Ray went straight to the red suitcase that fell not far from

Joe. Joe stretched out his hand, trying to grab it first.

But after all, she is a paraplegic person, and she was injured again, how can she move her disabled body half a step!

Ray stomped on the red suitcase hard, smashed the suitcase, took out a severed hand bottle labeled "Betty", and held it up to Tony upstairs,

"This is Betty's severed hand!

Betty has always regarded Joe as an idol." Motivated himself, but Joe was worried that Betty would steal her fame in the Go world, cut off her hand cruelly, and kept it with him all the time to admire!

You tell me, what kind of victim is this!"

Sid and Fatty Quickly take out the other broken hand bottles.

They wanted to check whether the "physical evidence" bottle was broken and leaked, but by accident, they exposed all the physical evidence to the public.

Those pale, terrifying, and terrifying severed hands frightened everyone upstairs!

Tony's pupils constricted, he turned around and retched in disgust!

He has carried the red suitcase for

Joe countless times! Joe told him that the boxes contained medicines, but in reality they were severed human hands soaked in formalin!

"That's my baby! Give it back! Give it back!" Joe screamed heart-piercingly, his eyes were eager, and he reached out to the three of Ray Ray ignored it.

Well, the director taught him that there are some people he can't afford to mess with.

Childe King said he couldn't touch Joe anymore, how dare he touch him.

Brother Tony, save me! Help me!" Joe looked for Tony.

Tony shook his head and backed away, only regret and disappointment in his eyes!

"Old Lu, save me! I am the hope of the new generation of female Go players!" Joe called Tod.

Tod shook his head sadly.

"You guys, come and save me! I'm the daughter of my wife!" She took the next best thing and set her sights on the reporter and the chess player.

The reporters and chess players did not go to rescue them, their eyes were disdainful, condemning, and there was a trace of fear of facing perverts.

These looks made Joe feel worse than killing him!

Unable to bear it, she rolled her eyelids and passed out.

Preston carried Hedy downstairs.

“Hedy!”

Betty ran in from outside the Chess Building, followed by Xavier who was chasing her.

“Put me down.” Hedy said softly.

She regained some strength.

Preston frowned slightly, and finally chose to let her go.

Hedy crouched in front of Betty.

Betty looked at Joe who fell to the ground, then at Tod and everyone upstairs, and finally at Ray’s trio.

Since the Ray trio had their backs to her, she didn’t know what they were holding.

She looked directly at Hedy in front of her, crying in her immature voice, tears like broken pearls,

“My hand, did Joe cut it?”

She is still young, and she is not very good at straightening out everything.

Only through what happened around me, I vaguely touched the edge of the truth.

What the girl said made everyone present feel complicated.

Betty has always regarded Joe as an idol.

Joe chopped off her hands and ruined her bright future.

Can a child bear this gap?

“No, your idol didn’t treat you like this.”

Hedy told a white lie, she wiped away Betty’s tears, hung the Go master medal she won from Shita Yamamoto around Betty’s neck, and smiled softly,

“This is a reward for that painting. I wish you success in the future and become a master in your own life.”

Betty held up the medal with her stump, stared at it carefully, and then looked up at Hedy with a smile,

“Thank you sister, I love it!”

But, Hedy.

My current idol is you.

Gentle, fierce, smart, beautiful Hedy

Chapter 109 Joe 's Ending After

Hedy and Betty finished talking, Preston pressed his thin lips into a Rolls-Royce and headed to S City No. 1 Hospital.

The comfortable temperature in the car made Hedy fall into a deep sleep

When she arrived at the hospital, the surgeon sewed up her blood vessels, and then gave her a needle for blood transfusion.

After doing this, he untied the cloth strips tied around Hedy's arms, and nodded while looking at the cloth strips.

"What?" Preston had a gloomy, heavenly handsome face.

From the chess world building to the hospital, he has always had this expression.

"Childe King, Ms. Ellis has studied medicine, or plans to develop medicine, read medical books." The surgeon held up a cloth strip, "Her wound is in the aorta, and the blood flow speed of the aorta is faster than the platelets responsible for hemostasis.

The coagulation speed is fast.

If she left the wound alone, she would bleed to death soon.

If she tied the cloth too tightly, the blood would not circulate, and she would face the risk of amputation.

She used a compromise method, lightly tied the blood vessel, and saved She took her own life, smart."

Preston's dark eyes flickered.

Hedy is a killer who often walks with danger, so it's normal to learn some life-saving knowledge for first aid.

The surgeon leaves.

Aiden walked in,

"Childe King, Joe 's parents got the news, they are rushing to S City, probably to save their daughter."

The disabled woman who hurt Ms. Ellis is still lying on the first floor of the Chess Building, and no one dares to do anything. save.

"Keep an eye on them, whenever they touch Joe, they'll cross off", from the list of wealthy families!"

Preston's tone was cold.

He always walks the talk.

"Yes!" Aiden accepted the order with a respectful expression.

Childe King is the real king of USA, he will die in the third watch, and no one can stay until the fifth watch.

-The

night quietly filled the earth. The citizens of

S City, who were supposed to calm down gradually, became uncharacteristically more lively.

I can't blame them, who made so many explosive incidents happen today?

The first one is Joe, the daughter of a wealthy family and a talented

Female Go player, murder case.

any

Not only was she not capable enough to cut off the hands of all those who might surpass her, but she also slandered three justice policemen to blackmail her.

The truth is perverted and hateful.

The second is Hedy, who was only 18 years old. After killing all sides in the chess game, he came to the Go game to upgrade the game and defeated the Go master Shita Yamamoto who has been humiliating the USA and the people of the USA

People clapped her hands more for what she said after defeating

Shita Yamamoto than the title of "Double Master". Such a young, beautiful, talented, and stylish girl is too rare to see.

The third is the process of the challenge that revolves around "Hedy,

Joe, and Shita Yamamoto ". Joe scratched Hedy before and refused to heal her. Later, Shita Yamamoto maliciously delayed the time, which aggravated her injury.

With such double pressure, Hedy won, it can be said that he is not tough.

The organizer of the event also issued a statement,

It stated that it had taken photos of Hedy's blood dripping on the ground as a commemoration for subsequent display.

And I plan to use paint to restore the blood stains on the ground 1,1 according to the commemorative photos, and name this route "Road of Indomitability" to inspire every chess player who wants to pass this

The fourth thing is what happened to Joe and her. It is reported that Joe 's parents rushed to South River in a hurry and sent Joe to the hospital for emergency treatment. The result was very touching.

Joe went from hemiplegia to general paralysis.

According to the nurse who rescued her, Joe's whole body is now up and down, only his head can move.

She couldn't open her mouth, couldn't speak, couldn't move her fingers, and couldn't take care of herself. It was more painful than dying. directly.

But even so, the way she looked at the ceiling was still perverted and terrifying.

The nurse didn't even dare to look at her.

What is even more incredible is Joe 's parents.

When the glamorous couple was paying for their daughter to be hospitalized, their bank cards were frozen.

Check it out carefully – oh ho, bankrupt, that's how fast it is.

A man and a woman beat their chests and feet in front of the payment. window, constantly regretting that they had provoked the man they should not have provoked.

No one knows who the "man who shouldn't be messed with" is.

No one spread the news, reporters and chess players kept their mouths shut, and even the couple themselves were jealous.

Originally, the S City local TV station had a complete live broadcast of the master selection process of the five major venues.

The upgradeable "Master Challenge" was not in the program at the beginning, and the TV station broadcast other programs.

No one knows what happened at the end of the game.

Credit goes to Aiden.

Childe King said, Ms. Ellis does not like high-profile, as before, to avoid gossip.

Although Ms. Ellis' strength has already made her very high-profile. the next day.

Hedy woke up in the VIP ward, her face much ruddy.

On the bedside table were her luggage in the business hotel and a newspaper.

Hedy picked up the newspaper and found the headline of the newspaper, which was "Serial Murderer Arrested, Three Policemen Cleared of Stigma".

The accompanying picture is a photo of Ray hooking Sid 's neck, Sid is a bit shy with a stern face, and Fatty is smiling behind them.

Ding Dong-

Mother Malina sent a message,

“Mrs. White asked me to ask, how is your Ray’s girlfriend Sid ?” She was far away in Geary Village, and she didn’t know what happened in S City. Hedy thought for a while, and took a picture of the newspaper headline to his mother, with a postscript,

“She is a brave, kind, and heroic woman.”

After sending the message, the door of the ward was pushed open.

It was Preston.

He was wearing a well-tailored white shirt, with two collar buttons unbuttoned casually, revealing a somewhat muscular chest. He was wearing straight trousers, and his long legs were very eye-catching.

Cough...

Hedy looked away without a trace.

It’s time to admit that Preston is a peerless beauty.

“Awake?” Preston raised an eyebrow

He was holding a tray with a hot breakfast on it.

It’s porridge with preserved egg and lean meat, and a few small and exquisite buns.

Hedy got out of bed to wash up.

After the blood transfusion, her health improved a lot.

She blinked her mirror-like eyes and asked Preston, “How do you know I’m participating in the competition?”

Preston’s appearance in the Chess Building was indeed beyond her expectations.

Kelly said, he heard that you were injured, and he gave you a few days off.” Preston chuckled lowly,

It just so happens that I can go to the family dinner with me.”

Hedy nodded.

Kelly refers to Kelly, the principal of Lowell High School, a friend of Preston.

After breakfast, Hedy wanted to leave the hospital.

“No, you need an infusion.” Preston refused.

at night.

Preston and Hedy huddled together on the single bed.

“So, why are your hands here?” Hedy pointed to the big hands on his waist.

“The bed is too small, I’m afraid of falling... You don’t think I want to eat your tofu, do you?” Preston’s handsome face was full of innocence.

Hedy looked at the narrow bed, then at the big Preston, and after thinking about it, he turned off the bedside lamp.

She fell asleep quickly.

Preston couldn’t sleep.

Chapter 110 Lovely grandma, returnee female doctor

Preston looked at the hand she was holding on Hedy’s waist, her eyes. became darker and darker.

Respect for women is what his parents and elders taught him.

But people are greedy after all.

When he saw her, he wanted to get close to her.

When he got close to her, he wanted to hug her.

Hug her and want to be close to her.

When he saw that her arm was bleeding and her face was pale, he wished he could lock her by his side so that no one could hurt her.

But he can’t.

He feels tormented.

He never felt so tortured when the King Family suffered a catastrophe.

The person who tormented him was still asleep in his arms, not knowing anything.

He was really angry.

I don’t know who I’m mad at.

-Two

days later, Hedy, who looked completely normal, was discharged from the hospital.

Tonight’s family dinner is a hight pretending to be Preston’s girlfriend.

She took the “Double Master” bonus she just received, looked at her simple casual clothes, and frowned and asked Preston,

“Do I need to buy a decent dress for the banquet?”

She doesn’t really pursue clothes brands.

Just wearing luxury goods seems to give Preston a little face... although Preston doesn't necessarily need it.

"No, they don't pay attention to that." Preston chuckled.

The real her is already pleasing enough, so there is no need for decorations.

"Okay." Hedy collected the money.

Preston drove, Hedy sat in the co-pilot, and the two set off towards their destination..

The destination is in the "deep mountains and old forests" in the suburbs. The population here is less dense than that of Geary Village, but the road is wider and flatter than Geary Village.

On the way, Preston suddenly thought of something, and told Hedy,

"Grandpa sent a message in the morning, saying that there will be a new guest for tonight's family dinner."

"What guest?" Hedy was a little curious.

"A returnee female doctor in cardiac surgery." Preston turned the steering wheel with his knuckle fingers, with a handsome profile.

Hedy nodded.

It is known to the outside world that Preston's grandma has a bad heart, congenital mitral valve stenosis, insufficient blood supply to the heart, and difficulty breathing.

Therefore, I have been raised in the mountains to cultivate my body and mind.

As we grow older, Grandma Preston's heart problems will bring more adverse reactions.

The returnee female doctor from the cardiac surgery department was invited, probably because she wanted to discuss and treat this matter.

Half an hour later, Hedy and Preston came to a farm compound.

It's really big.

The outer walls of the courtyard are absorbed by bright red or pink flowers, forming several natural flower walls, which are very girlish.

Pushing open the wooden door, the first thing that catches the eye is a road that leads directly to the living room, made of red bricks crossed diagonally.

On both sides of the road, there are flower bushes and vegetable gardens, a few fruit trees, and a small gazebo with a set of bamboo tables and chairs under the gazebo.

Preston hung his arms over Hedy's shoulders, eyebrows and eyes. frowned,

"Do you mind if I hold your shoulders, my dear girlfriend?"

"I don't mind." Hedy lowered his voice.

She came to “pretend” to be Preston’s girlfriend, so she naturally wanted to be “intimate” with Preston.

“Then let’s go.” The smile in Preston’s slender eyes deepened, he hugged Hedy, and walked inside.

Hearing footsteps, an elegant and kind old woman walked out of the living room.

She wears a cream shawl, an indigo velvet cheongsam, a pearl necklace and a gold eyeglass chain.

“General King, Preston is back with his girlfriend!” Grandma shouted into the house.

Amos, the founding general who was cooking in the kitchen, poked out his calm and majestic head.

“General King” is grandma’s pet name for Amos.

These two people were in the era when wars were raging, one was the powerful general, and the other was the famous Miss Jiao in the concession.

She called him general, and she kept calling him for the rest of her life.

“This is Hedy, right? It’s so beautiful! It’s cheap for Preston!”

Grandma gave Preston a dissatisfied look, and took Hedy’s hand into the living room.

Preston was taken aback for a moment, and immediately raised his thin lips.

Well, he is an outsider.

He went into the kitchen and gave Amos his hands.

“What’s going on with you and her?” Amos asked Preston.

His grandson was fine, before he left, he said that he wanted to repay his life-saving grace.

Reported and reported, and took the little girl home.

“It’s reasonable to promise life-saving grace.” Preston said, he couldn’t help himself, and laughed, “She’s a good girl, don’t let her down.” Amos urged.

When his grandson told him that his girlfriend’s name was Hedy, he didn’t believe it.

After all, the grandson has high vision and is stubborn, which is hard for ordinary women to catch.

It’s true that Hedy can fight, but there are too many people who can fight. How did the grandson fall in love with her?

With this question in mind, he asked the guards to check Hedy’s recent performance.

I will understand after checking.

Hedy is a good girl.

Their evaluation of the granddaughter-in-law is that “satisfaction” opens the door to “satisfaction”-satisfaction is at home.

“I won’t let her down.” Preston sighed inwardly.

Hedy isn't his girlfriend yet.

living room.

Hedy took out the gift prepared in advance from the backpack and handed it to grandma, "Grandma, I wish you a long life than Nanshan."

Grandma opened it and found that it was a longevity card made of ginkgo wood.

The Longevity Card is a sign for living people, praying for good fortune and longevity.

Ginkgo also represents longevity, which together is a double blessing.

"I have a heart." Grandma's eyes almost formed a line of laughter.

This granddaughter-in-law is really more and more satisfied.

Soon, the food is out.

The returnee female doctor never came.

"Let's eat first." Amos made a quick decision.

"Don't wait for the female doctor?" Hedy looked at grandma.

She came to treat

grandma. "No need to wait." Grandma picked up the fork

"I didn't ask her to come. It was she who asked to come, and the General King agreed."

She was not afraid of death, but the General King was.

"Let's eat." Preston prepared the dishes for Hedy.

During the dinner, the three of them chatted and laughed, and asked Hedy for opinions from time to time, which made Hedy talk more.

On the way, grandma was greedy for cold and wanted to eat a small ice cream.

"No." Amos scowled.

"I was wrong." Grandma turned her back and wiped her tears, aggrieved and heartbroken,

"I was really wrong, I shouldn't have saved you from the very beginning, I shouldn't have run away from marriage, I shouldn't have gone to the front line with you, I shouldn't"

Amos, "..."

He put the plate of small ice cream in front of grandma .

Grandma shut up and started eating ice cream.

Hedy turned his head slowly, looking at Preston suspiciously.

Preston is innocent.

He has seen this scene countless times.

At this time, Aiden came in with a professional woman in a trench coat and dragging a suitcase.

“General King, Grandma, Childe King, I’m sorry, the plane was delayed and I’m late.” The working woman bowed to the three of them and apologized.

“Sit.” Amos randomly clicked on an empty seat.

The working woman nodded, seeing Hedy, she wondered, “Who is this?”
