

Read A Man Like None Other Chapter 1671

Chapter 1671 Who Do You Think You Are

Those airwaves crashed into Jared's sword energy. However, the airwaves were destroyed the moment they came into contact with Jared's sword energy.

After all, there was still a significant gap between Skylar and Jared's power. Nevertheless, Skylar did not panic. He lifted the scepter in his hand and smacked it downward.

The scepter let out a buzzing noise, and the sound spread in all directions like a wave. The sword energy Jared released, dissipated when it met the soundwave to his surprise.

At the same time, Jared stumbled back from the force of the soundwave. His expression darkened.

Skylar laughed arrogantly. "Hahaha! Jared, have you forgotten that I have a sacred martial arts relic? You won't be able to withstand a fatal blow from the sacred martial arts relic!"

"F*ck you! I'm going to kill you today!" Jared went cold with fury. In fact, he started shaking.

Jared was tormented by the sight of Josephine in a steel cage. It felt as if his heart had been shot by a thousand arrows.

While he shook, Dragonslayer Sword in his hand began humming as well.

The golden glow started flickering, and Golem Body activated. In the next second, golden scales covered Jared's entire body.

"Leave me, Jared! Just go! Hurry up and go! This is a trap!" Josephine screamed at Jared.

"Silence!" Skylar ordered before swinging his hand in her direction.

A burst of martial energy transformed into a whip that struck the steel cage.

The cage shook, and a red welt appeared on Josephine's body.

Yet, she never made a single sound.

“You sad f*ck!” Jared screamed before charging toward Skylar again.

However, this time, the second Jared moved, a dozen of Black Copper Robe warriors moved as well.

One of them smacked their palm at the back of Jared’s head, wind swooshing from the speed.

Jared was enraged and sad, and he did not hesitate in countering the Black Copper Robe warrior’s attack.

Whoosh!

Following the flash of golden light was an agonizing scream.

The Black Copper Robe warrior who attacked Jared had his arm cut off. Blood spurted out of the stump.

At that, the other Black Copper Robe warriors inhaled sharply.

“Everyone here has to die today!”

Jared widened his eyes as they turned bloodshot. The murderous intent he emanated became stronger and stronger.

Skylar was even more delighted to see Jared’s fury, and he continued to taunt Jared.

“Quite skillful in boasting, Jared. If you were capable enough, you would have rescued your girlfriend a long time ago. You’re boasting all the time, but you can’t even save your own girlfriend. Do you really think you’re someone great?”

Unsurprisingly, Jared became even more livid after hearing Skylar’s words. As he pointed his Dragonslayer Sword at Skylar, he gritted out, “Skylar Norton, I’m going to make you pull out your organs with your own hands today!”

The aura around Jared amped up, and Dragonslayer Sword on his hand lit up brighter.

Then, a golden dragon appeared and started circling Jared.

In the next instance, Jared swung his arm roughly to deal the first move of Nine Shadows Godly Strike.

The terrifying power of Jared's sword rushed toward Skylar.

However, Skylar had a sacred martial arts relic, and he did not fear Jared.

What he did was raise his scepter, which also glowed before unleashing a ray of light that headed toward Jared's sword beam.

Bam!

After the deafening sound, the shockwaves spread outward.

The Black Copper Robe warriors did their best to resist the shockwaves. Like them, Josephine was affected by the waves. The cage she was in shook aggressively, and marks began appearing on her body.

"Josephine!"

Jared was overwhelmed with concern when he saw her injured.

"Go on, Jared. Do use all of your power. That is, as long as you don't mind your girlfriend dying from it. I'm fine with it. I have the sacred martial arts relic, so you won't be able to hurt me," Skylar taunted as he remained standing in front of the cage.

Read A Man Like None Other Chapter 1672

Chapter 1672 The Upper Hand

Jared had no choice but to gradually lower the raised Dragonslayer Sword. He proceeded to put it away, worried that its sword energy would harm Josephine.

However, his apprehension deepened the vibrant smile on Skylar's face. "Seize him!" Skylar ordered the Black Copper Robe warriors with a wave of his hand.

As more than ten of them charged at Jared, his body emitted a golden hue while a terrifying expression descended upon his face.

Thereafter, two golden dragons entwined themselves around his fist. They emitted a light so jarring that it caused everyone present to squint their eyes.

Meanwhile, the warriors were cognizant that they were no match for Jared individually. Hence, all of them combined their strengths to unleash sky-splitting martial energy in Jared's direction.

In response, Jared let out a battle cry as he threw a punch forward, setting off a dragon roar that shook the entire earth.

His attack neutralized the combined martial energy attack of more than ten Black Copper Robe warriors, taking them by surprise.

Seizing upon their momentary shock, Jared roared again as he hurled another punch forward.

The Sacred Light Fist was an ancient and holy technique.

Even though Jared had yet to master it, learning the basics was enough to unleash devastating power.

As a dazzling light illuminated the entire Warriors Alliance, an overwhelming force exploded toward the Black Copper Robe warriors.

The impending attack filled their eyes with terror, for no one expected a single person to be capable of unleashing such overwhelming power.

Even Skylar's brow furrowed as he began to question his decision to infuriate Jared.

Boom!

The punch exploded in the middle of the Black Copper Robe warriors.

As many in the group were sent flying by the blast, the one closest to ground zero was physically obliterated, leaving behind nothing but a pool of blood and mush.

As he stared at the gruesome remains, disbelief filled Skylar's eyes.

Subconsciously, he tightened his grip on the scepter, as the sacred martial arts relic was the only thing that gave him a sense of security.

Thereafter, Jared glared at the remaining warriors, sending a chill down their spines.

As he approached Skylar step by step, the Black Copper Robe warriors didn't dare attack again.

Noticing their hesitation, Skylar yelled, "Hurry, kill him!"

After the warriors exchanged a quick glance, a vicious glint flashed across their eyes as they lunged at Jared again.

They knew that even if they saved their lives by not attacking Jared, Tanner would never spare them.

As Tanner's methods were worse than death itself, all of them rather take their chances with Jared.

"Come on!" Jared roared as a murderous intent surged within his body.

Meanwhile, gusts of black mist began to appear above the heads of the Black Copper Robe warriors.

Swirling in the air, they gradually took the form of a few human figures.

It turned out that the Black Copper Robe warriors had spirits embedded in their bodies, whose age was long forgotten.

Upon the spirits' appearance, they began covering the warriors' bodies, forming a layer of armor.

Shrouded in black mists, the Black Copper Robe warriors looked like wraiths themselves.

As the golden light on his body continued to flicker, the fearless Jared threw out another punch.

Thereafter, the Black Copper Robe warriors engaged in a brutal battle with him, engulfing the battlefield in a hurricane.

Consequently, a massive aura battered Warriors Alliance's arcane array incessantly.

If it wasn't for the array, a battle of this intensity would have leveled the entire place.

As Jared wielded his fists ferociously, every one of his attacks was accompanied by the roar of a dragon.

Throughout the entire battle, none of the Black Copper Robe warriors were able to even get close to him.

Despite taking on ten foes singlehandedly, Jared continued to maintain the upper hand.

Read A Man Like None Other Chapter 1673

Chapter 1673 Refining

If it wasn't for the appearance of their spirit bodies, Jared would have already battered the Black Copper Robe warriors to death with his fists.

The spirits were extremely powerful. Acting as a cushion, they were capable of negating half the power of Jared's punch.

As Jared expended spiritual energy at a rapid rate, the golden dragons that covered his fists gradually faded.

The sight of Jared's dissipating strength delighted Skylar, for he hadn't expected the group of more than ten Black Copper Robe warriors to be able to defeat the former.

"He's almost done for! Pile it on!" Skylar urged.

As they, too, noticed that Jared was being weakened, the eyes of the Black Copper Robe warriors sparkled with hope.

"Hmph! Do you really think that you can kill me?" Jared roared at the top of his lungs.

With the golden hue of his body glowing as gloriously as ever, Jared's eyes brimmed with his eagerness to battle.

The next moment, his Focus Technique began to kick in, causing the spiritual energy of the heavens and earth to surge into his body.

The pulling force was so great that the black mists shielding the Black Copper Robe warriors' bodies were also sucked in.

The spirits in the form of human figures were also not spared as they were forcefully absorbed into Jared's body.

Jared's Focus Technique was capable of refining anything including negative and resentment energy. This naturally included spirits that didn't possess physical bodies.

The sudden turn of events struck fear into the spirits, causing them to return to the bodies of the Black Copper Robe warriors.

Seizing the opportunity, Jared smashed his fist into the chest of one of the warriors.

Boom!

The punch instantly pierced through his victim's body, leaving a pile of fresh blood and mashed organs in its wake.

However, when the spirit who possessed its body attempted to flee by ascending into the air, Jared grabbed onto it.

Thereafter, he opened his mouth and instantly sucked it into his body.

Given no opportunity to even struggle, it was instantly refined by Jared's Focus Technique.

The gruesome sight gave the Black Copper Robe warriors a rude awakening, for no one was ever capable of absorbing a spirit. After all, most people were focused on running for their lives instead.

Isn't he allowing the spirit to control his body?

Nonetheless, the moment the spirit entered Jared's body, it was instantaneously refined without any opportunity to assert its authority.

That was the first time the warriors witnessed such a terrifying technique.

As the urge to flee swelled within them, none of them dared to approach Jared.

Unfortunately, the latter wasn't going to let them off the hook even if they refrained from attacking.

In the blink of an eye, Jared appeared in front of another one and fired away a devastating punch.

Pfft!

After his victim's brain was blasted into smithereens, a black mist began ascending into the air.

Once the spirit's host was killed, it was their nature to leave it in search of another.

Nevertheless, Jared repeated his tactic by opening his mouth to swallow it.

Instead of landing a scratch on Jared, the Black Copper Robe warriors ended up being turned into a resource for him to draw upon.

"Cast your spells! Cast your spells!" Skylar yelled.

At this rate, the Black Copper Robe warriors would be decimated by Jared one by one with their respective spirits swallowed accordingly.

As the remaining warriors exchanged glances, they could clearly see the terror and helplessness in their comrades' eyes.

In the end, all of them stood in a group with black mist rising continuously from above their heads.

Thereafter, the mist amalgamated together and formed the figure of a giant.

Exuding a fearsome aura, it was the result of all the spirits combined.

As a listless look descended upon them, the group of warriors stood frozen. What was left of them looked no different from corpses.

In between their brows, a drop of red blood essence gradually oozed out before floating into the air.

They subsequently combined together to form a gemstone the size of an egg before settling into the forehead of the giant figure.

Read A Man Like None Other Chapter 1674

Chapter 1674 It Is Your Turn

At the same time, the Black Copper Robe warriors collapsed to the ground. Their bodies shriveled quickly as if they had been sucked dry of their strength.

Giving Jared a condescending look, the giant emitted an oppressive aura that filled the entire surroundings. Compared to his towering body that blocked off the sky, Jared was like a mere insect standing in front of him.

Meanwhile, the wide-eyed Skylar stared at the giant, unable to believe his eyes. That was the first time he ever saw the magecraft spell known as Infinite Devil's Heart.

Once the spell was cast, it would plunder everything from the user. Not only would the Black Copper Robe warrior's body dry out, but the spirit attached to it would also become part of the giant.

Consequently, the giant's power was directly proportional to the caster's strength. The stronger the caster, the longer the duration the giant could sustain.

Therefore, based on the Black Copper Robe warriors' strength, the giant had a time limit of half an hour.

After that, he would fade out of existence, while the warriors and their respective spirits would also die out.

The brutality of this particular spell was the reason why it was rarely used.

"Jared, death awaits you this time."

A smug yet maniacal expression broke out on Skylar's face.

Even though the Black Copper Robe warriors had sacrificed their lives, Skylar didn't think much of it. All that mattered was that he was still alive.

"It that so? In that case, just you watch."

No sooner had Jared spoken than he stomped on the ground, launching himself into the air.

Despite facing off with the gargantuan giant, Jared didn't feel an ounce of fear. With his fist glowing with the Power of Dragons, he unleashed another punch.

Amidst the roar of a dragon, Jared gave his punch everything he had as it exploded forward just like a cannonball.

In response, the red jewel on the giant's forehead began to glow before he intercepted the attack with his own fist.

Although the size of Jared's body was minuscule compared to the giant—it was in fact smaller than the giant's fist—his eyes showed only determination and were devoid of any fear.

Boom!

The moment their blistering punches smashed into each other, Jared was instantaneously thrown back, whereas the giant was visibly shaking from the impact.

Upon regaining his balance, Jared felt his conviction deepen after observing the result of his attack.

"You're not as tough as you look. I'm going to smash your head with this punch."

Jared was cognizant that the giant derived its power from the gemstone on his forehead that comprised of solidified blood essence. As long as he could destroy the gemstone, the giant would definitely disappear.

Holding that thought, Jared fired another punch. This time, the golden hue on his body dazzled brilliantly as his entire being exploded in the giant's direction.

In an attempt to counter the attack, the giant threw a punch of his own. Unfortunately, his fist was immediately shattered by the impact.

The giant subsequently collapsed to the ground, throwing a cloud of dust into the air.

Next, Jared unleashed a relentless attack upon the gemstone located on the giant's forehead in order to destroy it.

He looked as if he had gone berserk as his golden fists pounded the giant's head again and again.

Once, twice, thrice...

Laying on the ground, the giant was incapable of counterattacking.

After suffering just two attacks, it had fallen down and become nothing but a punching bag.

The scene simply filled Skylar with disbelief.

This giant was formed from the combined power of more than ten Black Copper Robe warriors and their spirits. How did it end up being so weak?

Boom!

When Jared's final punch landed, it shattered the gemstone on the giant's forehead.

Following that, the giant's head was split wide open, while its body gradually dissipated into thin air.

Once he gradually got back to his feet, Jared gave Skylar an icy stare.

"And now, you're next."

With a sharp glint in his eyes, Jared leaped into the air and smashed his golden fists in Skylar's direction.

Read A Man Like None Other Chapter 1675

Chapter 1675 Are You Now Afraid

"Jared, I possess a sacred martial arts relic. You're the one who's going to die." Snorting, Skylar raised his scepter, which released a terrifying power.

Weapon in hand, he swung it in Jared's direction, directing the powerful force at the latter.

Boom! Upon impact, the massive energy sent Jared flying, his Golem Body fading away. As the sacred martial arts relic contained the power of a Martial Arts Saint, Jared was no match for it in his current condition.

“Hahaha, Jared, you had better surrender obediently!” The sight of Jared being beaten back easily triggered a maniacal laugh from Skylar.

“F*ck you!” Jared cursed, before lunging at Skylar with the Power of Dragons raging within him.

Nevertheless, his strength paled in comparison to that of a sacred martial arts relic.

Despite attacking at full strength, he was still smashed away by the scepter.

As he spewed a mouthful of blood, it was evident that he had suffered grievous injuries from the two powerful strikes.

Looking grim, Jared rapidly adjusted the aura in his body. In spite of that, he was at his wits end in the face of the sacred martial arts relic.

“Jared, run. Just leave me... Let me be...” Josephine yelled at the top of her voice.

She didn’t want to see Jared sacrifice his life to save her.

“Josephine, I’ll rescue you today regardless of what it takes.”

He was cognizant that once she was locked up in the dungeon, rescuing her would be a significantly more daunting task.

Nonetheless, Jared’s efforts were being frustrated by Skylar. How can I defeat Skylar to save her?

It was then that he looked in Evangeline’s direction.

Chester mentioned before that Evangeline has the strength of a Martial Arts Saint. Perhaps she’s capable of taking on the sacred martial arts relic Skylar is wielding.

“Evangeline, Evangeline, can you kill this kid for me?” Jared asked.

Unfortunately, she didn’t move at all. With the listless look in her eyes, it was as if his words fell on deaf ears.

Her response, or the lack of it, filled Jared with helplessness. Despite possessing the power equivalent to a Martial Arts Saint, she was now no different from a retard, perhaps worse. I shouldn't delude myself that she's capable of helping me.

"Hahaha, Jared, are you now so afraid that you have to get a fool to fight me?"

Skylar burst into hysterical laughter.

When he laid eyes on Skylar's deranged expression, a piercing glint flashed across Jared's eyes.

Pulling out the Dragonslayer Sword, he knew that he had to lure Skylar away in order to save Josephine. As long as the latter was guarding the steel cage, there was no way he could strike.

"Skylar, even though you wield a sacred martial arts relic, I'm still capable of killing you."

Just as he spoke, Jared leaped into the air and slashed his sword at Skylar, firing a massive sword arc.

Smirking at the impending attack, Skylar brandished his scepter to unleash a powerful force to counter Jared's sword arc.

The next moment, all Jared felt was the approach of overwhelming power before his body was blown far away from his previous position.

In the midst of flying backward, Jared bellowed, "Skylar, I'm going to f*cking kill you sooner or later."

Thereafter, Jared's figure began to distance itself in his attempt to flee.

"F*ck, how dare you escape."

Exploding into the air, Skylar gave chase.

With the sacred martial arts relic in hand, there was no way he was going to allow Jared to flee.

However, the moment Skylar began his pursuit, Jared had already begun to circle back.

His real intention was to divert Skylar away so that he could return to rescue Josephine.

After all, it was impossible for him to leave without saving her.

Read A Man Like None Other Chapter 1676

Chapter 1676 The Trap

Thinking that Jared had escaped, Josephine heaved a sigh of relief but grew anxious immediately upon seeing him return. "Jared, just go. Leave me. They won't dare kill me."

Her pleas were never going to be obeyed by Jared. "Josephine, I'll definitely get you out of there today!" No sooner had he spoken than he stepped forward to pry open the steel bars of the cage with brute strength.

Before he could break them, a ray of light suddenly shot out of the ground, engulfing both Jared and Josephine within it.

Subsequently, densely arranged runes began to appear at their feet. Emitting a radiant glow, the runes floated into the air and began circling the two of them. "What are these?"

Jared's brows furrowed curiously. Not knowing what it was, he guessed that it was an arcane array. While still baffled by the sudden appearance of the runes, both of them noticed a black hole open up beneath their feet.

The hole contained a suction power that gradually pulled them down into it.

Shocked by what was happening, Jared desperately struggled to free himself. Nonetheless, his efforts were futile as they continued to sink as if they were stuck in quicksand.

"Hahaha, Jared, you're such a fool. Did you really think that I was pursuing you? I left on purpose to allow you the opportunity to save your girlfriend. Now that you have taken the bait, you and your girl will be locked up together in the dungeon. You're nothing but a fool to think that you can actually defeat me."

Skylar's eyes brimmed with unreserved triumph.

Despite staring daggers at Skylar, Jared was unable to free himself from the black hole no matter how hard he tried.

Just like that, both Jared and Josephine gradually sank in.

“Why? Why were you so foolish? Now that you have gotten yourself captured, is it worth it?”

With the steel cage separating the two, Josephine reached out to gently stroke Jared’s face.

“It is. Even in death, dying by your side is well worth the risk.”

Jared held Josephine’s hand tightly, his eyes brimming with affection.

A long time had passed since both of them had any physical contact.

The warmth they gave each other extinguished any fear that Jared had felt.

Unfortunately, the tender moment ignited the burning rage within Skylar’s eyes. “Jared, I’ll make sure both of you are separated forever. Even in hell, you won’t be able to see each other!”

Ignoring Skylar, Jared continued to hold Josephine’s hand tightly, treasuring what might be their last moment together.

By then, both of them were chest-deep in the hole and would soon sink into the dungeon.

As Skylar watched on, a sense of satisfaction descended upon him, for he had finally sought vengeance for his family.

All this while, Jared had been a nightmare to him, but now, the nightmare’s end was nigh.

While watching Jared’s final moments before he ended up in the dungeon, Skylar noticed a figure flash by in front of him.

Upon regaining his senses, he saw the previously clueless Evangeline standing by Jared’s side.

Although her body was within the effective area of the arcane array, she didn’t sink at all.

Thereafter, she gave Jared a gentle pull and easily flung him out of the hole.

Gripped by elation, Jared frantically yelled, “Evangeline, pull my girlfriend out! Hurry!”

Regardless of how loud Jared's screams were, Evangeline didn't move a muscle. In the end, all he could do was watch helplessly as Josephine fell into the dungeon.

"Argh!" Jared roared in frustration.

This was the closest he had gotten to rescuing Josephine, and yet, failure was the result.

Read A Man Like None Other Chapter 1677

Chapter 1677

Meanwhile, Skylar stared at Evangeline, his eyes filled with bewilderment. How can a retard who doesn't exude any aura rescue Jared from the arcane array with such ease?

The answer eluded Skylar. Snap out of it. Even if Jared isn't imprisoned, you still hold the sacred martial arts relic and are capable of killing him. Do it now! The spirit within Skylar's body reminded him.

After he was jolted back to his senses, the scepter in his hand began to glow, unleashing a terrifying aura in the process. Just the aura alone was enough to pressure a Martial Arts Marquis into throwing out blood and dying.

The moment he sensed the massive power of the aura, Jared scowled in response. Nevertheless, he knew that now wasn't the time to go all out with Skylar. With Josephine locked in a dungeon again, saving her that day was no longer possible.

Therefore, he had to survive, for his death would snuff out any chance of Josephine's rescue. With that thought in mind, Jared leaped into the air to flee.

Obviously, Skylar wasn't going to give him the opportunity. Brandishing the scepter in his hand, he unleashed a devastating force to overwhelm Jared.

Gritting his teeth, Jared didn't dare slow down one bit. All he could do now was to pray that he could survive the sacred martial arts relic's attack.

Boom! Following a thunderous rumble, powerful shockwaves were unleashed in every direction!

Prepared to be grievously injured by the massive attack, Jared was surprised when he didn't feel anything at all.

"What's going on?"

Filled with curiosity, he turned around to look.

He was immediately greeted by the sight of Evangeline following him from behind. It was evident that she had shielded him from the attack.

Shocked by the turn of events, Jared quickly examined Evangeline's body. There was no way he could allow her to be killed after Chester had instructed him to look after her.

Upon scrutinizing her quickly, he realized that she was unscathed. Other than that, she just stood there with the same listless look in her eye.

Meanwhile, Skylar was dumbfounded by the sight. "H-How is this possible?"

That was the power of a sacred martial arts relic! Even though it's weaker than the true power of a Martial Arts Saint, the difference isn't big. How could it have failed to physically harm an ordinary person?

The devastating force unleashed just now was enough to cause a Martial Arts Marquis to explode into mush, and yet, it didn't even land a scratch on Evangeline.

Upon realizing that Evangeline was significantly tougher than he had imagined, Jared broke into a smile.

Back when Chester told him about how hardy Evangeline's body was, Jared was skeptical, for there were few in this world who possessed a physical body more durable than his.

However, he didn't need any more convincing after watching her display her prowess.

It also led him to wonder if it had something to do with her body being constantly exposed to Preservation Incense.

"If only she could regain her presence of mind and follow my instructions."

Jared stared at Evangeline, his mind filled with hope. If she was capable of obeying Jared, they would have been able to rescue Josephine just now.

“Skylar, just you wait. It’s just a matter of time before I take your life.”

No sooner had he spoken than Jared continued to flee. With Evangeline covering his rear, there was nothing left for him to fear.

“Jared, your delight is premature, as I’m not going to let you off the hook!”

With that, Skylar’s scepter glowed with greater intensity before an even more powerful aura was released.

Sensing the impending attack, Jared picked up his pace, for fear that Evangeline wasn’t strong enough to withstand it. “How dare you flee...”

Just as he spoke, Skylar hurled the scepter in Jared’s direction.

Read A Man Like None Other Chapter 1678

Chapter 1678

At that moment, waves of energy surged toward Jared like a raging tsunami.

The energy waves caused their surroundings to tremble violently and dark clouds to billow in the sky.

Many people, who had no idea what was going on, ran out of their rooms and stared at the strange phenomenon in the sky.

Even those in the Deragon residence dashed out.

“It’s from the direction of Warriors Alliance. I wonder how Mr. Chance is doing.”

“Don’t worry. He’ll be fine.” “Hope that the heavens are protecting Mr. Chance.”

Everyone was praying for Jared.

Boom! A deafening explosion resounded across the place. Despite feeling powerful gusts of hot air rushing toward him, Jared did not turn around and look. All he could do was hope that Evangeline would be fine.

The dust scattered. By the time Skylar caught up, Jared had already disappeared into thin air.

“D*mn it! let him escape. What’s up with that woman?” cursed Skylar, unable to hold himself back.

“With the sacred martial arts relic, you don’t need to feel threatened by Jared,” said the spirit calmly.

“You’re right!” As Skylar stroked the scepter gently, a passionate look raged in his eyes.

Meanwhile, Jared escaped back to the Deragon residence. Everyone heaved a sigh of relief when they saw him return.

The commotion in the direction of Warriors Alliance was simply too huge. “Are you okay, Jared?”

Upon spotting him, Lizbeth rushed forward and scrutinized him. “I’m fine.”

Jared’s face was quite pale. He quickly spun around to face Evangeline, who had been following him. With a worried expression, he inspected her body.

An envious glint flashed across Lizbeth when she witnessed that scene.

Although Evangeline seemed quite foolish, almost like a puppet at times, she was still a woman. Naturally, Lizbeth would feel jealous upon seeing Jared touch her all over.

“You’re fine... You’re fine... Your body is quite strong. After Jared inspected Evangeline and discovered that she was completely unscathed, he patted her shoulders happily.

“Jared, she’s still a woman. It isn’t appropriate for you to keep touching her,” Lizbeth reminded Jared with a pout.

The rest laughed when they saw that, knowing that she was jealous. “Are you jealous, Lizbeth?” asked Jared with a laugh.

“Who’s jealous? I’m just reminding you...” With that, Lizbeth whirled around and ran back to her room.

Jared immediately chased after her to explain himself while Evangeline continued to follow him closely.

She would go everywhere Jared went!

After entering the room and seeing the furious look on Lizbeth’s face, Jared explained, “Listen to me, Lizbeth...”

Jared told her what Evangeline’s true identity was; however, he left out the fact that he was the overlord of Dragon Sect.

As Lizbeth listened to Jared’s explanation, she shot a look of pity at Evangeline.

“She’s so pitiful! Is there a way to help her recover?” Lizbeth asked Jared.

He shook his head. “I still don’t have a solution yet, so I’m planning to bring Evangeline to the Medicine God Sect to see if we can find a pill that can cure her. If that doesn’t work, we’ll have to seek another solution.”

“What other solutions are there?” prompted Lizbeth.

“Perhaps, charm can help people regain their souls...”

After paying a visit to Skywrath Sect and realizing how powerful charm spells were, Jared had been extremely interested in them.

He chatted with Lizbeth for a while longer before leaving to rest.

Although the battle with Skylar did not kill him, there were injuries scattered all over his body. He would need to recuperate for some time.

However, he soon discovered an awkward problem. Since Evangeline would remain by his side even when he slept, it meant that they would have to stay in a room together despite being the opposite s*x.

Read A Man Like None Other Chapter 1679

Chapter 1679

Although Jared was quite reluctant initially, the thought that Evangeline was no different from a puppet dispelled all his worries.

After he rested in the Deragon residence for a few days, almost all of his injuries healed.

He planned to bring Evangeline to the Medicine God Sect to see if there were any pills that could cure her.

After all, the Medicine God Sect was capable of creating higher-level pills with the Divine Cauldron. However, just when Jared was about to take Evangeline to the Medicine God Sect, someone suddenly informed him that there was a girl outside requesting to meet Jared.

Jared was surprised as he could not figure out why a girl would suddenly come looking for him.

When he went out, he realized that it was Astrid.

Astrid instantly patted his cheek upon spotting him. "You haven't seen me for a few days. Do you miss me?"

She did not take heed of Fernando's advice at all.

Jared took a few steps back and asked awkwardly, "Why did you look for me, Ms. Gunderson?"

"It's not me who's looking for you. My father would like to invite you to the Gunderson residence, clarified Astrid. Knowing that something must have happened for Fernando to invite him, Jared said, "Okay!

Let's go..."

Without saying anything else, Jared opened the car door and entered the car.

Smirking, Astrid entered the car and sat in the backseat as well.

"Start driving," she instructed the driver while pressing closely against Jared.

Jared was left at a loss for what to do. With Astrid sitting on his left and Evangeline on his right, he was pinned in the middle of both of them, unable to budge at all.

After the car drove off, a sorrowful look surfaced on Lizbeth's face as she stood in the Deragon residence's courtyard.

"I've told you that Jared's an exceptional man. There'll be many girls fancying him in the future. If you continue to follow him, you must accept that reality..." advised Rayleigh calmly, who was beside Lizbeth.

Lizbeth forced out a smile. "I can accept it, Mr. Deragon. Don't worry..." Meanwhile, Astrid was persistently leaning against Jared's body.

He did not dare to move even for the slightest bit as he would touch her body if he did so.

Noticing how stiff he was, Astrid teased him with a smile, "Are you afraid of me? You've seen every single inch of my body, so it's no big deal even if you touch me. I've told you that like you and will go to any lengths to pursue you..."

After saying that, Astrid even shot a glance at Evangeline provokingly.

Women were just like that. Even though Evangeline's eyes were completely lifeless like a puppet's, Astrid still viewed her as a rival.

"Ms. Gunderson, know that you like me but I don't want to think about it for the time being. Furthermore, I already have a girlfriend... explained Jared awkwardly.

"I said that I don't care. You have more than one girlfriend anyway, so it doesn't matter if I join the ranks too."

As Astrid spoke, she even rested her head on Jared's shoulder.

There was nothing Jared could do but let her lean against him. He closed his eyes and recited the calming incantation in his mind.

Otherwise, he could not guarantee that he could hold himself back from taking advantage of Astrid there and then. After all, he was a normal man.

Just when he was reciting the calming incantation, he suddenly felt someone also leaning on his right shoulder. When he opened his eyes to look, he realized that it was Evangeline. Although her eyes were still lifeless, she was mimicking Astrid's actions and resting her head on his shoulder.

That surprised Jared greatly. If Evangeline had developed feelings, it proved that she was recovering gradually.

The driver was engulfed with envy when he saw how Jared was surrounded by two gorgeous girls, yet looking like it was a torment.

Read A Man Like None Other Chapter 1680

Chapter 1680

After Jared arrived at the Gunderson residence, Fernando welcomed him respectfully. He even treated Evangeline, who remained silent throughout, with utmost care.

Astrid was confused when she saw her father acting like that, unable to understand what had taken over him. "Please sit, Mr. Chance..."

Fernando let Jared take his seat, which was designated for the master of the house.

Even Jared wanted to reject it at first, he saw that Franklin had already sat down at the side.

Left with no choice, Jared could only take the seat while Evangeline stood beside him motionlessly.

"Why did you look for me, Mr. Gunderson?" asked Jared. Fernando glanced at Astrid. "Go out for a while, Astrid."

"Dad, what is it that am not supposed to know?" she protested unhappily with a pout.

"Just get out if I tell you to. Why are you asking so many questions?" A cold look appeared on Fernando's face.

Astrid had no choice but to leave when she saw that. With a casual wave of his hand, Fernando surrounded them with teleportation magecraft.

Noticing Fernando's mysterious behavior, Jared had a feeling that it was about something important.

"Mr. Chance, Great Elder has relayed a message to us. Now that strange phenomena are being observed everywhere in heaven and earth, the spiritual energy revival might be coming soon! The major sects and prestigious families in the eight secret realms are growing restless. Many of them start to reveal themselves through their representatives in the mundane world.

Having stayed concealed for so many years, exposing themselves at this precise moment implies that a drastic change is going to befall the martial arts world soon. If it's actually a spiritual energy revival, the eight secret realms will collapse.

Hence, the sects and prestigious families. within them will need to gain control over resources and territory in the mundane world beforehand. Great Elder hopes that you can start preparing now. When the secret realms collapse, the Gunderson family can quickly reclaim territory and resources under your lead. That'll secure us some breathing room."

It was hard to digest Fernando's speech in at short moment.

If the secret realms collapsed, the sects and prominent families practicing spiritual energy cultivation would return to the mundane world, introducing utter chaos.

What would happen to the martial arts world and its people?

After all, the martial arts world could not be compared to the heavenly realm. "Mr. Gunderson, if the secret realms collapse, doesn't it mean that the martial arts world will be gone too?" asked Jared.

Fernando smiled. "Mr. Chance, even if the secret realms collapse and the sects and prestigious families return to the mundane world, the martial arts world will not be doomed. However, it will not be as glorious as it is now. The major families of the martial arts world will also be reduced to lowly servants of energy cultivators. Many martial arts families are currently supported by families practicing.

spiritual energy cultivation, acting as spokespersons of these families in the mundane world. It's quite rare for families practicing spiritual energy cultivation to personally send representatives to the mundane world such as the Gunderson family.

After all, it would weaken the family's strength. The members of the Gunderson family are: -unable to upgrade themselves as their abilities. have been suppressed. This is why I made Astrid train to become a martial artist since young instead of divine martial art. If she practiced divine martial art, she won't be able to level up much in the mundane world."

Jared fell into deep thought when he heard what Fernando said. If that's the case, I should really pay attention to developing my power and territory.

Such a thought had never crossed his mind. All he wanted was to save Jared and his mother.

He had never even considered starting a faction. Even for the regiments in Dragon Sect, Jared held a laissez-faire attitude and barely took charge of them.

Although he was the lord of the Medicine God Sect, it was merely an empty title. In fact, he hardly cared about it too as Axton had been managing it on his behalf single-handedly.