A Man Like None Other Chapter 1741—Meanwhile, Jared leaped into the air and instantly disappeared. Kazuo turned around and realized that Jared had already escaped. “Just you wait, brat! I’ll kill you!” Kazuo roared. It’s all right. Although he had escaped, he left that magic sword behind.

To Kazuo’s surprise, he saw that Dragonslayer Sword was also missing after he turned around. Since Jared’s body and Dragonslayer Sword had already merged and become one, there was no way Kazuo could ever get it.

After escaping, Jared didn’t dare to stop, and he was rushing toward the nearest city. The beast core in my body is constantly releasing the power of a demon beast! I must find somewhere to refine the beast core!

Indeed, the power of the beast core was releasing its energy within Jared’s body. At that moment, Flaxseed and Evangeline, who were in a city nearest to Jared, were waiting for him.

“Mr. Flaxseed, do you think Mr. Chance will be okay? Evangeline was overwhelmed by guilt.. After all, Jared was only in that situation because he was saving her.

“Don’t worry. That fellow is a lucky man. He’s not going to die...” Although Flaxseed was speaking in a casual tone, his face was filled with concern.

Soon, they both sensed Jared’s aura. Elated, they quickly rushed toward the aura they felt. They were stumped when they saw Jared with his face reddened and looking disheveled.

Besides, his skin was turning green. “What happened to you, Jared?” Flaxseed asked.

“Mr. Flaxseed, I swallowed a spider beast’s beast core, and it hasn’t been refined yet. I need a safe place to refine the beast core...” Jared explained. “Follow me...” Flaxseed hurriedly brought Jared to a hotel.

After checking in, Jared instructed Flaxseed to find a way to contact Jadeborough and tell them that Evangeline had been rescued so that they wouldn’t gather up.

Knowing that it would take some time to refine a beast core of that grade, Jared also told Flaxseed and Evangeline to stay at the hotel to be his guardians.

Upon giving out his instructions, Jared quickly went into his room to cultivate and refine the beast core in his body. Meanwhile, Flaxseed and Evangeline took turns guarding the door.

Time ticked by, and Jared suddenly opened his eyes after two weeks.

He let out a heavy sigh and muttered, "It seems like the spiritual energy here isn't replenished, and that's why it took me such a long time to cultivate in the mundane world."

After refining that beast core, Jared still couldn't achieve Third Level Greater Martial Arts Marquis at his cultivation level. Although Jared wasn't restricted by the laws of nature, he still considered his cultivation speed slow.

Little did he know, his speed was ridiculously fast. No one else could achieve Greater Martial Arts Marquis cultivation level within such a short period of time.

When Jared opened the door, he saw Evangeline guarding the door. Seeing that Jared was awake, Evangeline asked, "How did it go, Mr. Chance?"

"I've already refined the beast core, but it didn't go as well as I imagined it would. I still have the same cultivation level." Jared looked rather dejected.

"Spiritual energy cultivation is about progressing gradually. In order to speed up their cultivation, plenty of spiritual energy cultivators gave up and joined the demons instead.

Hence, more and more spiritual energy cultivators turned demonic. That's how the Celestial Battle happened. Everything then became chaotic, celestials fell, and the realm was never the same again," Evangeline comforted Jared.

"Where's Mr. Flaxseed?" Jared asked. Evangeline blushed and whispered, "I-I think he's in his room..."

A Man Like None Other Chapter 1742—"That fellow! Did he bully you and let you guard on your own?" Jared asked while walking toward Flaxseed's room. The moment he arrived at the door, he heard a woman's voice coming from inside the room.

Right away, Jared knew why Evangeline was blushing. "Is the old man possessed by a sex demon?" Jared stepped forward and kicked the door open. "Ah!" a woman screamed and ran out of the room with her clothes undone.

Flaxseed saw Jared and grumbled, "I acted as your guardian for so many days. Why can't you just let me relax? Why must you disturb me?"

"Mr. Flaxseed, I'm doing this for your own good. What if you exhaust your body and end up being unable to become immortal?" Jared replied.

"Immortal? I'm just living my life to the fullest..." Flaxseed put on his clothes and added, "Since you're awake now, I'm going back to Whitesea. I can't leave the ancient ruins of Skywrath Sect unguarded..."

Jared knew Flaxseed wanted to go back to Whitesea because he was missing the girls from the Simmonses dearly instead of wanting to guard the ancient ruins of Skywrath Sect. "Accompany me to Encanta Island first before you go back to Whitesea..." Jared uttered.

"Encanta Island? What for? The arcane array there has already been broken, and there isn't much spiritual energy left. Why would you want to go there?" Flaxseed asked.

"Have you forgotten about the statue? That statue contains a huge amount of spiritual energy. Come with me and keep me company, will you?" Jared asked in a slightly begging tone.

"Forget about it. I don't want to travel anymore. Besides, don't you have a girl accompanying you already? You guys can do whatever you want without having an old man present." Flaxseed waved dismissively.

"I'm not like you. If you don't follow me, I'm not going to help you with matters concerning Skywrath Sect anymore. Moreover, I also won't risk my life to inherit those charm spells."

With that, Jared turned around to leave. In response, Flaxseed immediately went after Jared. “I was just joking! Why would you think I was being serious? Let’s pack up and leave. I’ll treat it as a break.”

Jared smiled when he saw how Flaxseed was acting. The three of them packed up and set out for Encanta Island. After two days, they finally arrived on Encanta Island.

The second they set foot on the island, Evangeline suddenly halted in her tracks. “What’s the matter?” Jared asked. “Why is a blood demon’s aura present in the area?” Evangeline looked pallid.

“The blood demon is on the island, but it’s just a statue!” Jared explained. “A statue?” Evangeline was confused.

“Come! You’ll understand it once you see it!” Jared brought Evangeline to the palace on Encanta Island. Norm found out that Jared had returned, and he quickly brought his men to welcome the guests.

“Now that you’re the boss, it seems like you’ve been living well!” Flaxseed saw Norm and went up to the latter to pat his shoulders.

“You’re here as well, Mr. Flaxseed! Come on in.” Norm flashed an awkward smile. “Hey, I have a question for you. Do you guys have...” Flaxseed finished his sentence by whispering it into Norm’s ear.

Upon hearing Flaxseed’s question, Norm nodded vigorously and said, “We do! I’ll arrange it for you, Mr. Flaxseed.”

“Haha! Nice!” Flaxseed laughed and entered the palace. Seeing how Flaxseed was acting, Jared knew exactly what Flaxseed requested from Norm.

“After I left, have there been any changes in the forbidden ground?” Jared asked Norm. “After you left, Mr. Chance, I ordered my men to seal the forbidden ground. No one has been there ever since,” Norm answered.

“Good. Let’s go to the forbidden ground.” Jared wanted to check out the statue.

Read A Man Like None Other Chapter 1743

A Man Like None Other Chapter 1743—Jared was utterly stunned when he arrived on the forbidden ground. There, he saw the statue had cracked and fallen apart, and there was a corpse lying inside.

Based on the pristine condition of the corpse, it seemed as though the person had just died not long ago. It was in so good of a condition that even the skin was still supple. Needless to say, Jared was perplexed. How did a corpse end up here?

When Jared eventually turned toward Norm, Norm was sweating bullets when he said, “Mr. Chance, I-I don’t know what’s going on. No one has been in here... I-I don’t know who that is!”

Upon hearing those words, Jared frowned. Why is there a fresh corpse here?

Right then, Evangeline, who was next to Jared, looked as pale as a sheet when she saw the corpse. “T-That’s a blood demon...” she stammered.

“A blood demon?” Shocked, Jared glanced at the corpse once more. The man looks young, and he was at most in his thirties when he died. He had nice facial features, and he didn’t even look like a demon! Besides, it’s obvious that the man had just died. It doesn’t look like a blood demon that died thousands of years ago.

Evangeline nodded. “I’ve seen blood demons. They were the ones who carried out the massacre in Lunarius Palace back then.”

“Who would’ve known that this blood demon could be that young? Besides, how is the body still in such good condition even though he had been dead for thousands of years?” Jared was flabbergasted.

“No. He isn’t dead. I can still feel his aura. A dead person wouldn’t have an aura,” Evangeline remarked.

Jared jumped in alarm when he heard that. If the blood demon is still alive, we’re all going to die! After all, he’s thousands of years old. He must be strong!

Upon noticing how nervous Jared was, Evangeline said, “Don’t worry. Although he isn’t dead, that doesn’t mean he’s going to wake up. I think he kept a breath of vitality in his body to prevent his body from decaying.”

As soon as those words fell, Jared breathed at sigh of relief. “That’s good. Now, we shall burn the body so that the others wouldn’t get scared.”

With that, Jared lit up a light blue flame on his palm and infused his spiritual energy into the flame. In the next second, a huge fire appeared.

Jared then threw the fire onto the blood demon’s corpse, and the corpse started burning. After burning for half a day, however, the blood demon’s corpse was still unharmed.

Jared was astounded when he saw that. That’s my true fire! It’s supposed to burn everything! How is it not even harming a corpse?

“What on earth is happening?” Jared asked in puzzlement. “The blood demon is extremely strong. Its corpse can’t be destroyed that easily,” Evangeline answered.

Jared frowned and scrutinized the blood demon’s body. Right then, Flaxseed uttered, “Since this fellow has such a strong body, you’re going to be undefeatable if you could make it into a zombie puppet.”

Jared’s eyes lit up when he heard that. Flaxseed is right. If I can transform this blood demon’s corpse into a zombie puppet and make it listen to my command, I’m going to be undefeatable!! can topple Warriors Alliance and rescue Josephine! However, I don’t know how to train a corpse. Heck, I don’t even know how to create a zombie puppet!

“Mr. Flaxseed, do you know how to turn the blood demon’s corpse into a zombie puppet?” Jared asked.

“How would I know how to do that? That’s a form of black magic! I’m a proper spiritual energy cultivator instead of a demonic cultivator.” Flaxseed waved dismissively.

Read A Man Like None Other Chapter 1744

A Man Like None Other Chapter 1744—“What do you guys think blood demons are? Transforming his corpse into a zombie puppet, you said? You must be joking!” Evangeline rolled her eyes at Jared and Flaxseed. Thousands of years ago, these blood demons were superior beings.

Although the corpse only has a breath of vitality left, that doesn’t mean someone can just transform it into a zombie puppet. Jared sighed upon hearing that. “It’s just a shame to waste a strong body like that. We can neither destroy it nor use it...”

Just then, Evangeline suddenly uttered, “Although you can’t transform it into a zombie puppet, you can still use a spirit to possess it and control it. However, it needs to be a strong spirit. Besides, you can’t control it for long because the body is going to devour the spirit.”

“Possessing the body with a spirit?” Jared was stunned. He then shook his head and said, “If I use my spirit to possess the body, my body would be a walking corpse.”

“Are you stupid? Why must you use your spirit? You can always find a spirit and bind it with a spiritual sense. After that, let the spirit possess the blood demon’s corpse. That way, you can control the corpse!” Evangeline laughed at Jared.

Comprehension dawned when Jared heard that. Upon smacking his forehead, he said, “Right! Why didn’t I think of that?”

“That’s a good idea, but where are you going to find a spirit? Besides, it has to be a strong spirit. Otherwise, you won’t be able to control the blood demon’s corpse,” Flaxseed asked.

Jared was stunned momentarily, but he quickly remembered that he had kept Gilbert’s spirit in his Storage Ring. That guy is a Top Level Martial Arts Marquis! I should be able to use his spirit to control the blood demon’s corpse!

With that in mind, Jared quickly opened his Storage Ring and released Gilbert’s spirit. The moment Gilbert’s spirit appeared, Jared controlled it by using his spiritual sense..

At that moment, Gilbert’s spirit was extremely weak. Hence, Gilbert had no choice but to submit to Jared. “Gilbert, I kept your spirit and spared your life. Now, I’ve found you a body. You can live again,” Jared said.

Upon hearing that, Gilbert was stumped. Who would've known that Jared would actually find me a body? Is he not worried about me taking revenge on him?

Jared knew what was on Gilbert's mind, so he added, "I'm leaving a spiritual sense on your body. If you dare to betray me, I'll reduce you to ashes."

Gilbert immediately dropped to his knees when he heard that. "I won't betray you, Mr. Chance!"

Jared nodded. After that, he shot a ray of golden light toward Gilbert. "This is the body. I'm giving you. You may possess it now!" Jared pointed at the blood demon's corpse.

Gilbert was delighted when he saw the blood demon's corpse, and he instantly lunged toward it. However, as soon as he did that, the blood demon's body released an intense ray of light and expelled Gilbert's spirit.

Everyone at the scene was stupefied. Gilbert gasped and uttered, "That's such a strong body! I-I can't even possess it."

Jared then shot Evangeline a confused look. "The spirit is too weak. It can't even penetrate the shield on the blood demon's corpse," Evangeline explained.

"Is a Top Level Martial Arts Marquis considered weak?" Jared felt helpless. Gilbert is a Top Level Martial Arts Marquis, and he's still not able to possess the blood demon's corpse. What can? A Greater Martial Arts Marquis? Where am I supposed to find a Greater Martial Arts Marquis' spirit?

At that moment, Jared looked dejected. Since Gilbert's spirit can't possess it, I should return his spirit to the Storage Ring. Just when Jared was about to do that, Gilbert suddenly asked, "Mr. Chance, do you want to revive that corpse?"

Read A Man Like None Other Chapter 1745

A Man Like None Other Chapter 1745—"That's right!" Jared nodded. "Although I can't possess it, we can make this body into a zombie puppet, so that way, it'll listen to Mr. Chance still," Gilbert quickly said, not wanting to be shoved into the Storage Ring by Jared.

“Do you know how powerful this zombie puppet is? Are you really thinking of making it a zombie puppet?” Flaxseed questioned with a huff.

“Any body will do; any body can be made into a zombie puppet. I can even use the bodies of those who are of Manifestor level,” Gilbert uttered confidently.

“Can you really do that?” Jared dubiously asked. “Mr. Chance, I wouldn’t dare to lie to you,” replied Gilbert in a polite tone. “All right. Create it, then. If you succeed, I’ll get a body for you,” Jared promised.

However, Gilbert said with a stumped look, “Mr. Chance, I’m only a spirit right now. I won’t be able to create it. I’ll only be able to do it with a body.”

Jared stared at Gilbert for a long time in silence. A moment later, he inclined his head and said, “Okay, I’ll get a body for you, but if you dare lie to me, I’ll definitely make you regret everything.”

“Of course. Mr. Chance, you’re a Greater Martial Arts Marquis. Even if I get a body, I still won’t be a match for you, so why would I have the courage to lie to you?” Gilbert blurted out.

“Norm, get him a body,” Jared ordered. Norm nodded. He soon found a body whose face was bearded and ugly.

Even though Gilbert did not find its appearance good, it was his only chance to have a body, so he steeled himself and took it. Soon, Gilbert possessed the body. Shortly after, the eyes of the dead, bearded man open.

Gilbert had woken up. He was thrilled upon seeing his body. “Now, you can start creating zombie puppets,” Jared reminded Gilbert. “Mr. Chance, I’ll have to build a stage to create a powerful zombie puppet like this,” Gilbert told him.

Jared furrowed his brows. “How long will you need?” “Just a few hours.”

“All right. I’ll have Norm get some men to help you out, but time is of the essence.” Jared nodded at him before leaving the forbidden ground.

He and the others had a tiring journey, and they needed to rest. “Jared, do you really believe that guy?” Flaxseed queried.

“I don’t think he’ll dare to lie to me. As a Demonic Cultivator, maybe he really has a way to make that blood demon into a zombie puppet.”

The only option Jared had was to believe Gilbert. Hours went by in the blink of an eye.

Soon, Norm sent someone to call for Jared and the others to come to them. The moment Jared stepped into the forbidden ground, he was greeted by the sight of a six-meter-tall stage built in the middle.

Around the stage were some magical items that Jared assumed were meant to stabilize the stage.

“Mr. Chance, the stage has been built, but there aren’t any magical items good enough to properly stabilize the stage. I’m scared that the stage will collapse midway. May I know if you have any higher-quality magical items, Mr. Chance?” Gilbert asked.

Jared pursed his lips and shook his head. “I don’t have any magical items either, but I have a spiritual sword. Will that be good enough?”

Gilbert shook his head as well. “To play it safe, I’ll have to get some proper magical items.” But where was Jared going to get magical items at a time like this?

Right then, Flaxseed stepped forward and uttered, “Why would you need magical items? I can just draw a few talismans to ensure that this stage is as sturdy as a mountain.”

As he spoke, he took out a few pieces of paper and started mumbling under his breath as he drew something on the paper. In no time, Flaxseed was done with his talismans and stuck them at all four corners of the stage.

Gilbert was taken aback by the way Flaxseed drew his runic talismans. He could not believe someone would be that skilled in talismans.

Read A Man Like None Other Chapter 1746

A Man Like None Other Chapter 1746—Gilbert then ordered the people to put the blood demon’s body in the middle of the stage before turning to Jared. “Mr. Chance, I need you to drip a few drops of your blood essence on that body so that you’ll be able to control him.”

With a nod, Jared leaped onto the stage and forced a few drops of blood essence out from the spot between his brows to drip on the blood demon.

The very second the drops of blood essence touched the body, they were absorbed completely. As if electrocuted, the blood demon's body began twisting and turning.

Jared turned to look at Gilbert in shock. Jumping onto the stage, Gilbert then said, "Mr. Chance, please don't let anyone disturb me while I create the zombie puppet, or else everything will go to waste."

"Don't worry. I'll be guarding here myself. But how many days do you need to create the zombie puppet?" Jared asked.

He could not guard Gilbert forever. Moreover, if Gilbert was actually lying to him about being able to create the zombie puppet, they would be standing guard over him for eternity.

Glancing at the sky, Gilbert then said, "it'll be done before the sky turns dark." "Sure." Jared bobbed his head and jumped off the stage.

Soon, Gilbert lifted his hands and started chanting under his breath. Rays of energy seeped out of the ground and gathered around the blood demon's body.

Meanwhile, Jared, Flaxseed, and the others quietly guarded Gilbert at the side. Time ticked by. The sun was about to go down, but Gilbert and the blood demon's body remained unmoving.

Nevertheless, the energy continued to seep out of the ground. An anxious look crossed Jared's face, but he could only wait.

Right then, the sounds of fighting traveled into their ears. Then, two terrifying waves of aura rushed toward the forbidden ground. Jared scrunched up his brows. "Is someone coming?"

"They have very strong auras. They're Greater Martial Arts Marquises," Flaxseed said with a similar frown.

Jared spared Gilbert a glimpse before turning to Evangeline to say, “Evangeline, stay here, and don’t let anyone come close. I’m going to check it out with Mr. Flaxseed.”

Evangeline nodded, and in the next second, Jared and Flaxseed dashed out of the forbidden ground.

Right as they stepped out of the land, they bumped into the panicking Norm. Jared grabbed him and asked, “What’s going on?”

“Bad news, Mr. Chance. Two people have barged into the palace and are speeding toward the forbidden ground. My men can’t stop them!”

Norm cried out. Hearing that, Jared immediately took off.

However, the closer they came to the intruders, the darker Jared’s expression became. He could acutely sense that they were both Greater Martial Arts Marquises.

They were opponents Jared had no confidence in defeating because he might not be able to stop them at all. Still, regardless of that, he had to do his best to intercept them and prevent them from entering the forbidden ground.

Flaxseed had an equally grim expression on his face as he kept drawing runic talismans.

When Jared and Flaxseed darted into the palace, they were greeted by the sight of bodies strewn across the floor. Then, the next thing they noticed was a man and a woman walking toward the back of the palace.

“Stop right there! Who are you? Why did you come here and kill them?” Jared shouted. However, the man only glanced at Jared before hissing, “Scram, if you don’t want to die.”

With that, the duo ignored Jared and continued their way toward the forbidden ground. At that, Jared threw a punch to stop them, but the other man returned a punch as well.

Boom! came the loud sound. Jared flew backward, and when he landed, his arm shook.

Read A Man Like None Other Chapter 1747

A Man Like None Other Chapter 1747—After punching to test the opponent's strength, Jared knew that he was against opponents with strength far superior to his own. "Who the hell are you guys? What do you want from me? I'll give you anything."

At that moment, Jared knew that he and Flaxseed might be unable to stop them in a fight. Hence, he wanted to stall for more time.

"We are members of the Demon Sect, and we'll be taking the vessel of the blood demon with us," the man said to Jared.

"Demon Sect?" Jared was taken aback. He had never heard of such a sect. Not only that, he was stunned by the fact that they knew that the vessel of the blood demon was there.

"About that vessel you're talking about, we don't have anything like that here with us. Are you looking in the wrong place?" Jared pretended to be unaware.

"Boy, stop pretending. You know what we're talking about. If you hand over the vessel to us now, we'll leave without causing any trouble," the woman uttered. "I really don't know." Jared shook his head.

"You're still pretending. It seems like you won't give up until the very last second."

As the woman finished speaking, she raised her leg and drove it toward Jared. In an instant, her long ivory legs were already in front of Jared's face!

Jared quickly stepped back, grabbed her ankles with both hands, and tugged!

However, the woman used it as a pivot to leap into the air and coiled her legs around Jared's body, constricting him like a snake. Jared felt awkward being in such close contact with a woman.

"Okay, you succubus. Bring it on!" When Flaxseed saw what happened, he was green with envy. In a flash, he flung a charm in her direction.

The charm exploded in front of her, causing her to let go of Jared and dodge with a backflip!

"Jared, you're strong. You take on the man, and I'll deal with this woman."

Flaxseed had his eyes fixated on the woman in front of him. However, his eyes kept sweeping across her long fair legs instead of focusing on her face.

The woman felt Flaxseed's gaze and frowned in disgust. Noticing Flaxseed's behavior, Jared was rendered speechless. Come on. Is this even the right time to be ogling her beauty?

"Mr. Flaxseed, she's a formidable opponent. Be careful, Jared advised.

"Don't worry. If I've learned anything, it's how to deal with women. Watch and learn!" As Flaxseed spoke, he threw several charms at the woman, then charged at her.

Boom! Boom! Boom! The charms exploded in the air, the resulting flames cutting off her escape route.

By then, Flaxseed was already in front of her. With a lecherous expression, he opened his arms wide in a bid to hug her. The woman became irritated and threw a fierce punch.

Just when her fist was about to connect with Flaxseed, the charm on his chest detonated. The woman was startled by the explosion and attempted to retreat backward, only to realize she had nowhere to go!

Flaxseed quickly reached out and caressed her face. Immediately after, Flaxseed retreated quickly. However, he was a little too late.

Having her face touched by Flaxseed, the woman was beyond furious. Without a second thought, she sent him flying with a kick..

Crashing into the ground, Flaxseed bared his teeth in pain and muttered, "So soft, so smooth..."

Looking at Flaxseed, Jared was utterly speechless. Why is this guy so desperate to flirt with women?

"You must be tired of living!" The man got angry and unleashed a terrifying pressure from his body. Jared immediately felt an immense pressure crushing his body, and his legs trembled slightly.

On the other hand, lying on the ground, Flaxseed was entirely immobilized by the pressure and couldn't get up at all.

Read A Man Like None Other Chapter 1748

A Man Like None Other Chapter 1748—Jared began to exude his aura from his body to resist the pressure. Golden lights shimmered on his body, illuminating the night sky and filling the hall with blinding light.

The man looked at Jared and narrowed his eyes. “What a surprise. Your body seems pretty strong too.” As he spoke, his figure vanished in a flash and reappeared before Jared! Then, he threw a punch toward Jared’s chest. Jared responded likewise, and their fists clashed.

Boom! The impact of their fists created a deafening noise, and Jared was sent back several meters. On the contrary, the man simply swayed a little as his hand went numb.

“If this body of yours continues to grow, I’m afraid it will become stronger than the blood demon.” There was a hint of passion in the man’s slightly narrowed eyes.

“Don’t hurt him. Catch him instead. That’s a body of the highest quality.” The woman’s eyes were also gleaming brightly. Even the way she looked at Jared had changed. The man immediately looked at her with a grim expression. “Don’t tell me you’ve fallen for this kid.”

The woman furrowed her eyebrows. “What are you talking about? I’m just admiring his body.” “Then capture him yourself. I don’t care.”

The man seemed to be jealous and mad at the same time as he stopped fighting and walked aside.

Jared glanced between the couple and was at a loss for words. The two of them had completely ignored his presence.

The woman rolled her eyes at the man before turning to Jared. “Young man, obey me, and we will never hurt you. We will even make you stronger. I don’t want to hurt you, so you better not resist.”

The woman spoke while walking toward Jared. Her eyes seemed to glow captivatingly. She was using Charm Magic on Jared! However, Charm Magic clearly wasn’t her forte.

Compared to Melanie and Lyanna, her technique was far behind. Even the sisters' Charm Magic couldn't affect Jared. Hence, there was no way he would be charmed by this woman.

Jared sneered inwardly. However, his face remained expressionless. Seeing Jared devoid of expression, the woman smirked slightly. She walked up to Jared and gently stroked his face with her hand.

Flaxseed witnessed the scene and slammed the ground with both his fists. "Unforgivable! Why is he the one getting all the action but not me?"

The woman exhaled softly and whispered, "Hey, be a good boy and come with me." She took Jared's hand, planning to lead him away.

Just as the woman was about to lift Jared's hand, a glint sparked in Jared's eyes, followed by a smirk appearing on his lips. Before the woman could react, Jared punched her with his Sacred Light Fist.

His fist buried into the woman's abdomen and launched her into the air. Unprepared, the woman received Jared's punch and fell heavily onto the ground with blood dripping from the corner of her mouth.

"D*mn! He's unforgiving even against a woman?"

Flaxseed was shocked when he saw what happened. The man became furious after witnessing Jared sending the woman flying with a single punch. Red flames began to rise from his body.

The flames wrapped around him, releasing heat waves all over the place. Staring at the rising flames on the man's body, Jared's expression immediately turned grim.

He knows Flame Control Magic and seems to have perfect control over it!

Jared unleashed the Power of Dragons within his body, causing golden beams of light to emit from him. Then, a golden dragon wrapped around him.

Whoosh! With a wave of his hand, the man shot balls of flames from his body toward Jared. The temperature was so high that immense heat waves followed the attack.

Jared didn't dare to take the blow head-on. He could only step back while dodging left and right. However, the balls of flames followed after him relentlessly as though they had eyes.

Read A Man Like None Other Chapter 1749

A Man Like None Other Chapter 1749—Seeing that, Jared had to stop moving. Instantly, a light blue flame ignited on his palm. It was strengthened by the Power of Dragons and intensified.

Jared decided to use fire against fire. He lightly pushed his palm downward, and the light blue flame immediately spread toward the ground, forming a wall of fire before him.

“I can't believe you know Flame Control Magic as well. Too bad for you, what you're doing is just an insignificant trick.” The man could not help but chuckle in derision when he saw the wall of fire in front of Jared.

Whoosh, whoosh! Balls of flame penetrated the wall of fire in a flash and struck Jared. In an instant, Jared's body erupted into flames, and he collapsed to the ground.

The next moment, he noticed the man leap into the air. The fire even began to burn in midair, and it was as though the entire hall was covered in flames.

The flames bore down on Jared with horrendous pressure, seemingly going to tear him apart.

Jared gnashed his teeth as his joints creaked from the overwhelming force. His eyes became bloodshot, and he even began to bleed from his nose and mouth.

But just as the fire was about to slam down on Jared from the air, he felt a sudden icy chilliness. Then, he saw a fine mist pouring upon the flames and extinguishing them.

Jared was flabbergasted because he had no idea who was helping him. When he turned around to see who it was, he was surprised to find it was the woman from earlier.

“What are you doing?” Anger was written all over the man's face as he turned to gaze at the woman. “You can't kill him, so let me do it.”

With an icy expression, the woman stalked toward Jared, seemingly still holding a grudge over that punch from just now. Taking in the woman's reaction, the man didn't say anything else. Instead, he took a few steps back.

As the woman stared at Jared, the frosty energy from her body enveloped him. Icy blue crystals swiftly formed on Jared's body, and icicles suddenly popped up from the ground, appearing like a cage that trapped him on the floor.

Jared wanted to break free, but he noticed he couldn't move a muscle as his body was too stiff. "At first, you were given a chance, yet you ruined it by your own hands. Thus, you can only die now."

After the woman said that, a sharp icicle suddenly appeared on her palm, pointing directly at Jared's head. Meanwhile, the Power of Dragons kept surging within Jared, and spiritual energy rapidly rushed out from his elixir field.

He had to break free of the layer of crystal on his body, or he was bound to die.

Right as the woman was about to attack Jared, Flaxseed, who was initially lying on the ground, abruptly leaped up and grabbed the woman's fair thigh.

"Jared, run!" Flaxseed roared at Jared. "Ahh!" As Jared bellowed, the crystals on his body shattered. The next second, he jumped up and turned around to run toward the forbidden ground.

He knew that he was no match for the duo, so he didn't continue to fight with them.

The woman was stunned for a moment before wanting to chase after Jared. However, she realized Flaxseed was hugging her thigh and even kept rubbing his face against her leg disgustingly.

"Let go! Let go of me!" Even though the woman kicked Flaxseed hard, the latter still didn't let go of her.

In the meantime, the man leaped into the air when he caught sight of Jared escaping. Allowing flames to envelop his fists, he then threw a punch at Jared.

That punch of his carried lethal force and rolling heat waves. Jared dared not stop even as the Dragonslayer Sword emerged from his hand. He slashed it the moment he turned around.

Clang! A deafening sound thundered in the air. An intense power radiated down the Dragonslayer Sword, causing it to almost slip out of Jared's hand. However, Jared used that power to boost himself forward further.

"D*mn it! This power is too terrifying..."

Jared did not dare to stop moving for a second and continued to rush forward. Meanwhile, the man went after Jared again.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 1750—As the man was fast, he caught up to Jared in the blink of an eye. While gritting his teeth, Jared turned back to swing his sword again.

Clang! This time, the Dragonslayer Sword in Jared's hand was sent flying immediately. Jared's hand was injured, and blood spurted out from the wound.

Jared's face clouded over. Now that the Dragonslayer Sword is gone, I can only fight him head-on.

Bam! Bam! Bam! The man consecutively punched thrice, while Jared retaliated with three punches as well. After the three punches, Jared's entire being flew backward, and he crashed to the ground with a heavy thud.

"What a f*cking psycho!" Jared got to his feet, and a worried look crept onto his face. This man is too powerful! As Jared took a deep breath, the Dragonslayer Sword returned to his hand. He then infused the Power of Dragons into it.

The Dragonslayer Sword began to hum. In the next moment, a golden dragon circled above Jared. Despite that, the man paid no heed to Jared's changes and swung a punch at Jared once again.

That punch was so powerful that it brought a strong gust of wind that transformed into a fire dragon charging at Jared.

Witnessing that scene, Jared swung the weapon in his hand with all his might. The golden dragon roared before dashing over. Boom! The two dragons collided with each other, and the ground shook.

Jared's golden dragon immediately became speckles of light and dissipated, whereas the fire dragon roared and continued to charge toward Jared.

Jared furrowed his brows as he felt the powerful aura emanating from the fire dragon. He had no choice but to maximize Golem Body and try his best to endure that attack.

Bang! Jared's body was sent sailing through the air. His Golem Body disintegrated, and a number of wounds appeared on his physical body.

Jared crashed heavily onto the floor, causing a crater to form. The man leaped into the air and charged at Jared without hesitation before throwing a punch at the latter. Judging from that punch, Jared probably couldn't hold on any longer.

Right at that moment, a female shout sounded. Then, Evangeline appeared in front of Jared as she defended him. A light blue aura emitted from her entire body, which turned into a shield in an instant.

Boom! As the man slammed his fist on the shield, it shattered into pieces but, at the same time, counteracted the power of that punch. However, Evangeline's face turned pale.

Evidently, the power of Evangeline's physical body, including that of the holy maiden's spirit, had dropped significantly. She was no match for the man either.

Nevertheless, Evangeline's appearance gave Jared a chance to catch his breath. "I can't believe there's still another elite. Both of you can come at me together then."

The man remained calm when he saw Evangeline, even feeling slightly excited. His body erupted into flames again as he turned himself into a living torch, and a terrifying aura spread in all directions.

As the man swung out his fists, balls of fire and a powerful wave of energy rapidly charged toward Jared and Evangeline. The duo quickly took action while explosions rang in their ears.

Boom! Eventually, Evangeline and Jared couldn't stand it and were hit by the flames. The impact of the powerful force was so immense that it made the duo's insides churn.

Gritting their teeth, Evangeline and Jared still got up even though they were injured because they couldn't allow the man to enter the forbidden ground.

However, just as the duo was ready to fight against the man together, waves of icy cold air rolled across them as the woman dashed over from the hall.

When Jared caught sight of the woman, he felt sorrowful because he knew something bad might have happened to Flaxseed. Rage filled Jared's eyes, and a terrifying murderous intent swirled inside him at that moment.

"Let's not waste any more time. Kill them at once. I can sense the blood demon's aura has changed..." the woman told the man. The man nodded before both of them launched an attack on Jared and Evangeline in unison.
