

Read A Man Like None Other Chapter 1981

A Man Like None Other Chapter 1981- Cannot Say

“Her soul was incomplete. She’s fine now,” Baal uttered calmly.

Evangeline stood up, looking somewhat bewildered at Jared and the others. At that moment, she had some vague impressions of Jared but, at the same time, also felt as if she knew nothing about him.

Seeing that, Fernando and Astrid hurriedly took Evangeline away. Evangeline still remembered Fernando, as they were both from the Gunderson family, after all.

“Young man, have you decided? Do you want me to pass on my cultivation method to you, teach you martial arts, or provide you with an exceptional weapon?” Baal asked Jared.

Unexpectedly, Jared shook his head.

When it came to cultivation methods, his Focus Technique was a superior divine martial art. As for weapons, his Dragonslayer Sword was a top-grade spiritual sword.

Seeing Jared shake his head, Baal frowned slightly, “What exactly do you want?”

“We don’t want any of those things. I just want to know who my father is. Can you help me with that?” Jared asked while looking at Baal.

“That’s easy. Just squeeze out a drop of your blood essence!” Baal replied casually.

Jared furrowed his brows, and a drop of essence blood slowly seeped from his forehead and eventually floated in midair.

Baal extended a finger and gently touched the drop of blood essence.

Then, the droplet of blood essence was instantly absorbed into Baal’s body.

Immediately afterward, Jared witnessed Baal’s facial expression changing dramatically from surprise to shock and finally to fear.

Even Baal's breathing became much more rapid at that point.

That observation left Jared somewhat at a loss, as he didn't understand why Baal would react in that manner.

After a long while, Baal finally let out a long sigh, his forehead already covered in a cold sweat.

"Mr. Baal, do you know who my father is now?" Jared asked anxiously.

The blood demon nodded. Jared was overjoyed. He had always wanted to know who his father was and the truth behind his identity. Why did so many people refer to me as the son of a dragon? Could my father really be a member of the Draconians?

However, just as Jared waited for Baal to answer him, the latter slowly said, "Now I understand why that old devil taught you Sacred Light Fist. That old guy must've noticed something too. I know who your father is, but I cannot say. Still, I can tell you this. Your father is someone even I admire deeply and cannot hope to match."

Jared was dumbfounded after hearing that because Baal was already akin to an immortal, in his opinion. With Baal's capabilities, he could perhaps wipe out the existence of the mundane world with a wave of his hand. Yet, my father is someone even Baal reveres and cannot even match. Who exactly is my father?

Amidst Jared's consideration, Baal suddenly knitted his brows, appearing very unwell as a menacing expression flashed across his face.

"Mr. Baal, what's wrong?" Jared hurriedly asked.

"The power of the laws of nature is too overbearing, making breathing difficult for me," Baal answered with a frown.

Now that the altar was destroyed and the recovery of spiritual energy had vanished, the laws of nature would suppress beings like Baal with more formidable abilities to a greater extent. If Baal stayed in the mundane world for an extended period, his cultivation might be ruined.

"I am also a cultivator of the divine martial art, so why can't I sense the power of the laws of nature?"

Jared found it very strange. Why didn't he, a spiritual energy cultivator, feel the suppression from the laws of nature?

"Are you kidding? With your bloodline, the laws of nature are nothing. It wouldn't dare—" Realizing he was about to slip up, Baal immediately caught himself. Then, he uttered, "I'm leaving this place now. If fate allows, I hope to see you in Ethereal Realm."

With that, Baal reached out and slashed at the air, tearing up the space and revealing a black hole.

"You should come with me. You won't be able to survive here, and if there's a chance, I'll help you restore your physical body." Baal said, taking the soul of Lunarius Palace's holy maiden with him and jumping directly into the black hole.

"Mr. Baal, what is Ethereal Realm?" Jared wanted to inquire further regarding the details and location of Ethereal Realm.

However, Baal was gone, and the black hole had already disappeared without a trace.

Read A Man Like None Other Chapter 1982

A Man Like None Other Chapter 1982-Dead silence ensued following Baal's departure.

Everyone had just witnessed powers they'd never seen before.

Greater Martial Arts Marquis or Martial Arts Saints were as insignificant as ants in the face of such absolute power.

"Mr. Chance..."

At that moment, Verner stepped forward, wanting to ask Jared what they should do next.

The altar was destroyed, and the spiritual energy recovery had ceased. They didn't have the slightest idea when the subsequent spiritual energy recovery area would appear either.

"Let's go."

Now that the restoration of spiritual energy had stopped, Jared saw no reason to stay on Encanta Island any longer.

Jared and the others turned to leave. Jose and the rest stared at Jared in a daze. No one spoke or tried to stop them, especially Marcelo, who now looked at Jared with nothing but fear, his previous arrogance gone.

Claus gazed at Jared, the former's eyes brimming with hints of eagerness and fighting spirit.

He yearned to face Jared in a match. However, as he couldn't unleash his full strength in the mundane world, he could only hope Jared would have a chance to enter the secret realm.

Jared, who had already left, came to an abrupt halt. Seemingly having sensed Claus' stare, Jared turned to look at him. "You're from the Gate of Thunder's secret realm?"

Claus nodded. He wasn't surprised that Jared knew about the secret realm. After all, all those who went to that place were representatives of prestigious families from various secret realms.

"If I have the chance, I will definitely visit your secret realm." With that, Jared spun on his heel and left without saying anything more.

Violet Cloud Palace was located in the Gate of Thunder's secret realm. If Jared wanted to rescue his mother, he would have to find a way to enter that place.

However, his current priority was to track down the secret realm where Josephine was imprisoned.

Fortunately, with Jessica accompanying them, she could handle the responsibilities of searching for Evil Heart Sect's secret realm and opening it.

After all, Demon Sect and Evil Heart Sect were of the same lineage, so even the methods to unlock their secret realms were similar.

Leaving Encanta Island, Jared, and his party headed straight for Jadeborough.

He figured those women at home must've missed him since he'd been away for so long.

...

Meanwhile, inside Evil Heart Sect's secret realm at Jadeborough, Tanner scowled at the sight of Malphas, who had been reduced to a pile of mud.

Skylar and the four Black Gold Robe warriors knelt on the floor. Feeling Tanner's imposing aura, none of them dared to raise their heads.

"You're saying that Baal beat him into this state?" Tanner asked coldly.

"Technically, Baal didn't hit Malphas. He became like this after Baal glanced at him," Skylar answered honestly.

Indeed, at that time, Baal merely glared at Malphas, and the latter immediately turned into a pile of mud.

Tanner fell silent afterward. Nonetheless, his heavy breathing was clearly filled with tension. Just one look from Baal was sufficient to turn my subordinate, Malphas, into this state. There's not even a need to mention how terrifying that power is. Even if I were to face Baal in person, I probably wouldn't be able to withstand a single slap from him.

"Why would Baal, a fellow demon spirit, help that Jared?" Tanner was baffled. What was that blood demon thinking?

"Lord Tanner, Baal said that we aren't worthy of being members of the demon spirit. He even exterminated the spirits within the four Black Gold Robe warriors," Skylar hastily added.

"What?" Tanner was taken aback. The next second, he gently waved his hand, enveloping the four Black Gold Robe warriors with his aura. "The spirits are indeed gone!"

He furrowed his brows, feeling a sense of crisis for the first time. If a powerful demon like Baal sides with Jared, we can forget about laying a finger on him.

Suddenly, Tanner waved both hands and five spirits materialized instantly. Then, the five spirits entered Skylar and the four Black Gold Robe warriors' bodies.

“I have summoned five new souls for you. Don’t worry about Jared for the time being. During this period, practice and cultivate more frequently with your respective spirits. Malphas can also take this opportunity to recuperate,” Tanner said coldly.

“Understood!” Skylar and the others nodded.

“By the way, how’s the girl?” Tanner asked.

“Josephine is being detained in a secret realm’s dungeon. That place is very secure,” Skylar replied.

“All right. All of you may leave now.” Tanner waved his hand.

Tanner’s body gradually disappeared after Skylar and the others left.

Read A Man Like None Other Chapter 1983

A Man Like None Other Chapter 1983-Meanwhile, at Jadeborough’s Crimson Palace, Cecilia, Lizbeth, Melanie, and Lyanna eagerly waited for Jared at the palace’s entrance after learning he was returning to the city.

They knew he would definitely visit them at Crimson Palace when he came back.

Ever since Jared found a place for Cecilia at Jadeborough and moved Crimson Palace over, Lizbeth and the other girls had been living there.

After all, Crimson Palace only consisted of girls, so it was more convenient for them to live there together. They could even chat with each other every day.

While the girls were waiting, Jared and his companions got off the plane. As soon as they stepped out of the airport, Jared was stopped by two uniformed officers from the Law Enforcement Department.

“Mr. Chance, Mr. Sanders would like to see you. Please come with us,” the two officers said to Jared politely.

Jared frowned slightly. I’ve just returned and was planning to visit Lizbeth and the girls, yet Mr. Sanders instructed his men to intercept me at the airport.

Nonetheless, since it was Arthur requesting his presence, Jared couldn't refuse. Hence, Jared asked Flaxseed and the others to head back first.

Jared followed the two officers into the car. Then, he asked curiously, "Where's Captain Jennings?"

Usually, Xavier personally attended to Arthur's requests whenever the latter wanted to meet with Jared.

This time, Arthur merely sent two officers over, which puzzled Jared a little.

Jared's question caused a sad expression to spread across the two officers' countenances. Still, neither of them said anything.

However, taking in their facial expressions, a sense of foreboding surged within Jared's chest.

When the car reached the Department of Justice, Jared got out of the vehicle and saw Theodore, General of the Department of Justice, standing at the door, awaiting his arrival.

Noticing Jared, Theodore hastily approached and greeted, "Mr. Chance."

"General Jackson, did something happen to Captain Jennings?" Jared asked Theodore.

Theodore glanced around before nodding. "Mr. Sanders is also furious about this. Captain Jennings has been beaten into a cripple. His life is still hanging by a thread now."

Hearing that, Jared immediately furrowed his brows. "Who's the culprit?"

Jared couldn't fathom who would dare to target a member of the Law Enforcement Department. Mr. Sanders personally leads the Law Enforcement Department, so who's the daredevil who has the audacity to provoke Mr. Sanders?

"You should hear about this from Mr. Sanders. He's waiting for you inside."

Theodore brought Jared to the corridor outside a room. Then, he left.

Some things weren't meant to be known by him, the General of the Department of Justice.

Jared entered the room and saw Arthur smoking, looking extremely unhappy.

“Sit,” Arthur said indifferently when he saw Jared.

Jared sat courteously in front of Arthur. Inexplicably, Jared found himself constantly feeling nervous when around Arthur.

“Mr. Sanders, Captain Jennings...” Jared didn’t know how to ask about that matter.

“He’ll survive.” Arthur took a deep drag on his cigarette before stomping the cigarette butt forcefully with his foot. “Do you know how Captain Jennings got hurt?”

Jared shook his head.

“He was injured by Kazuo. The Watanabe family is now openly opposing us to seek revenge,” Arthur explained.

When Jared heard that, a look of intense anger flashed across his face.

The Watanabe family had never given up on trying to hunt Jared down. Still, because of Arthur’s impediment, the Watanabe family couldn’t get past the border, even if they wanted to assassinate Jared.

However, Kazuo had unbelievably caused harm to Xavier, which meant that the gloves were off.

The Watanabe family was no longer acting covertly and was brazenly seeking to kill Jared.

“D*mn those b*stards!” Jared gritted his teeth.

Rage burned within him as his aura continued to rise.

Arthur was slightly taken aback as he sensed Jared’s aura. “You’re an Eighth Level Greater Martial Arts Marquis now?”

Jared nodded. Then, he recounted the story of finding the ten-thousand-year-old tuber fleecflower at Norham to Arthur.

Read A Man Like None Other Chapter 1984

A Man Like None Other Chapter 1984-Arthur couldn't help but sigh after listening to Jared's story. "A ten-thousand-year-old tuber fleeceflower only allowed you to advance to an Eighth Level Greater Martial Arts Marquis. I really don't know how you'll cultivate in the future. I'm afraid that even if all the resources were given to you, it would still be difficult for you to break through to the Martial Arts Saint level. It seems like you should start exploring secret realms now. That's the only way you can further enhance your capabilities."

Jared was slightly taken aback. "Mr. Sanders, you know about secret realms too?"

Taking in Jared's expression, Arthur chuckled. "I know more than what I've let on."

"In that case, do you know where the secret realms located nearby Jadeborough are?" Jared asked urgently.

As Josephine was being held captive in a secret realm, Jared needed to find Evil Heart Sect's secret realm and rescue her.

"Countless secret realms exist in this world. There are over a hundred secret realms nearby Jadeborough alone. How would I know where they all are?" Arthur replied.

Hearing this, Jared was quite astonished. "Mr. Sanders, aren't there only the Eight Major Secret Realms and some minor ones? Are there really that many secret realms just around Jadeborough alone?"

Jared had never imagined that so many secret realms would suddenly appear.

"What you know are just some of the larger secret realms and those inhabited by people. Some secret realms have become without occupants, as the people within have died, turning them into ownerless secret realms. Nevertheless, even though the people have died, the resources in the secret realms remain. As a result, some large families have been fighting over many ownerless secret realms. The only problem is that these secret realms are difficult to find," Arthur clarified.

"Ownerless secret realms? Does that mean they belong to whoever finds them?" Jared asked with passion burning in his eyes. "If that's the case, I can locate an ownerless secret realm and move Deragon Sect and even Crimson

Palace there. Then, that place will become my domain, and I'll become the true master of that world.

"Ownerless secret realms? Does that mean they belong to whoever finds them?" Jared asked with passion burning in his eyes. If that's the case, I can locate an ownerless secret realm and move Deragon Sect and even Crimson Palace there. Then, that place will become my domain, and I'll become the true master of that world.

Unfortunately, while Jared was imagining the wonderful scenario, Arthur dampened his spirits with the subsequent speech.

"In theory, the secret realms belong to whoever finds them, but ownerless secret realms are extremely difficult to locate. After all, no one has entered or left them for many years, so there's no trace to follow. To the best of my knowledge, the chance of discovering an ownerless secret realm is only one in a thousand! Moreover, even if you do stumble upon an ownerless secret realm and become its master, can you defend your territory? If other large families find out, they will drive you away. When you lack sufficient capabilities, even if you were given a secret realm, you won't be able to keep hold of it," Arthur said.

After listening to Arthur, Jared fell into deep thought. No wonder Demon Sect rarely allowed people to enter and exit their secret realm, only sending people out of the realm when absolutely necessary. That is a measure taken to protect themselves and avoid revealing the entrance of their secret realm to others. If the Eight Major Secret Realms' families knew where Demon Sect's secret realm was, they probably would've attacked the latter. Secret realms are territories, and which prestigious families wouldn't want to expand their turf?

"Ownerless secret realms? Does that mean they belong to whoever finds them?" Jared asked with passion burning in his eyes. If that's the case, I can locate an ownerless secret realm and move Deragon Sect and even Crimson Palace there. Then, that place will become my domain, and I'll become the true master of that world.

Unfortunately, while Jared was imagining the wonderful scenario, Arthur dampened his spirits with the subsequent speech.

"In theory, the secret realms belong to whoever finds them, but ownerless secret realms are extremely difficult to locate. After all, no one has entered or left them for many years, so there's no trace to follow. To the best of my knowledge, the chance of discovering an ownerless secret realm is only one in a thousand! Moreover, even if you do stumble upon an ownerless secret realm and become its master, can you defend your territory? If other large families find out, they will drive you away. When you lack sufficient capabilities, even if you were given a secret realm, you won't be able to keep hold of it," Arthur said.

After listening to Arthur, Jared fell into deep thought. No wonder Demon Sect rarely allowed people to enter and exit their secret realm, only sending people out of the realm when absolutely necessary. That is a measure taken to protect themselves and avoid revealing the entrance of their secret realm to others. If the Eight Major Secret Realms' families knew where Demon Sect's secret realm was, they probably would've attacked the lotter. Secret realms are territories, and which prestigious families wouldn't want to expand their turf?

Still, Jared's desire for a secret realm had already become extremely strong. If he were inside a secret realm, he could cultivate normally.

Besides, he also wouldn't have to worry about those around him facing any danger. After all, the threats from the mundane world would be virtually nonexistent within a secret realm.

At that moment, Jared was still unaware that the Thousands of Miles Away in his possession could've allowed him to explore the Eight Major Secret Realms freely. He didn't need to search for an ownerless secret realm.

"Mr. Sanders, let's discuss this matter relating to the secret realms another day. What do you plan to do now that Captain Jennings was hurt by those people from Jetrouna?" Jared asked.

"What else can I do? Of course we'll kill them. Unfortunately, Kazuo got away. However, he will undoubtedly come looking for you, so I should warn you to be careful. Moreover, this guy is a Top Level Greater Martial Arts Marquis and is close to becoming a Martial Arts Saint," Arthur reminded Jared.

Jared nodded. "I got it. I'll stay vigilant. Also, I'll contact Medicine God Sect's Mr. Knox to come in person and treat Captain Jennings. I won't let him lose his abilities and become a disabled person."

Arthur waved his hand and said, "Okay. This is the second thing I wanted to talk to you about for asking you over. Take care of it right away."

Read A Man Like None Other Chapter 1985

A Man Like None Other Chapter 1985- Kazuo Is Here-Jared got up and walked right out of the Department of Justice. He then contacted Axton from Medicine God Sect and had him bring the best pills over to treat Xavier.

When Jared returned to Crimson Palace, however, no one welcomed him at the door.

He also noticed a strange atmosphere in the air after entering Crimson Palace. The disciples from Crimson Palace were snickering when they saw him.

"Millie, where are your sister and the others?" Jared asked when he saw her.

"I don't know. They said they were going to pick you up at the airport. Did you not see them?" Millie replied.

"Huh? They were going to pick me up? I didn't see them there, though," Jared exclaimed in confusion.

Curious as to what was going on, Jared turned around and was about to leave when he saw that Crimson Palace's front door was closed.

Lizbeth, Cecilia, and the others then came rushing out and surrounded him on all sides.

"We've been waiting for you all day! Where have you been?"

They bombarded Jared with a series of questions regarding his whereabouts.

While most people would kill to be surrounded by such beautiful women, all Jared wanted was to run away.

It wasn't until he explained everything that they let him off.

While Jared was having fun messing around with Lizbeth and the others, a middle-aged man in gray clothes and a hat was rushing toward Jadeborough from the outskirts.

Because he was filthy from head to toe and shabbily dressed, everyone assumed he was some kind of refugee and avoided him upon sight.

Despite his disgusting appearance, the man had an icy-cold glint in his eyes.

Despite his disgusting appearance, the man had an icy-cold glint in his eyes.

That man was none other than Kazuo Kawaguchi himself.

As Jared had destroyed Jetroina's secret base in Chanaea, Kazuo received harsh criticism when he returned to Jetroina.

They had him return to Chanaea with members of the Watanabe family to kill Jared in retaliation.

However, Xavier and his men stopped them the moment they arrived at the border.

Usually, they would flee to avoid direct confrontation with the authorities and try their luck some other time.

However, the members of the Watanabe family attacked the guys from the Law Enforcement Department and even killed one of its men.

That led to an all-out fight breaking out between the two sides. Because those from the Law Enforcement Department were significantly weaker, they were all killed in the resulting battle, and Xavier was severely injured as well.

Naturally, that did not sit well with Arthur in the slightest. He was so furious that he ordered to have Kazuo and the others killed.

The members of the Watanabe family that Kazuo brought over ended up being slaughtered in retaliation. It was a miracle that Kazuo managed to escape with his life, but he didn't dare return to Jetroina without first killing Jared.

After all, there would be harsh punishments awaiting him back there.

"It's your fault I'm in this terrible state right now, Jared! I'll tear you into a million pieces!" Kazuo muttered angrily under his breath.

Despite his disgusting appearance, the man had an icy-cold glint in his eyes.

That man was none other than Kozuo Kowoguchi himself.

As Jored had destroyed Jetroino's secret base in Chonoedo, Kozuo received harsh criticism when he returned to Jetroino.

They had him return to Chonoedo with members of the Wotonobe family to kill Jored in retaliation.

However, Xavier and his men stopped them the moment they arrived at the border.

Usually, they would flee to avoid direct confrontation with the authorities and try their luck some other time.

However, the members of the Wotonobe family attacked the guys from the Low Enforcement Department and even killed one of its men.

That led to an all-out fight breaking out between the two sides. Because those from the Low Enforcement Department were significantly weaker, they were all killed in the resulting battle, and Xavier was severely injured as well.

Naturally, that did not sit well with Arthur in the slightest. He was so furious that he ordered to have Kozuo and the others killed.

The members of the Wotonobe family that Kozuo brought over ended up being slaughtered in retaliation. It was a miracle that Kozuo managed to escape with his life, but he didn't dare return to Jetroino without first killing Jored.

After all, there would be harsh punishments awaiting him back there.

"It's your fault I'm in this terrible state right now, Jored! I'll tear you into a million pieces!" Kozuo muttered angrily under his breath.

His eyes were filled with rage as he glared at Jadeborough, which was right in front of him.

As the sky slowly turned dark, the nightlife in Jadeborough was about to begin. Neon lights illuminated the city's streets as people came out dressed in fancy clothes.

Kazuo, on the other hand, was dressed shabbily as he sat in a corner near Deragon Sect and glared daggers at its entrance.

It wasn't long before one of its members came out through the door and made his way into a nearby alley.

Seizing the golden opportunity, Kazuo ran after that man as quickly as his legs could carry him.

A loud scream of pain echoed throughout the alley, and Kazuo emerged with a confused frown moments later. "Jared isn't inside Deragon Sect?" he muttered under his breath.

Little did Kazuo know, Jared was spending that night in Crimson Palace surrounded by a bunch of girls.

Jared's face had lots of notes stuck to it as he played cards with the girls.

"No cheating, Jared! Take your card back right now!" Lyanna exclaimed with a pout.

The other girls chimed in to help each other gang up on Jared.

Right as Jared was on the verge of having a mental breakdown, he received a phone call from Godrick.

"There's trouble at Deragon Sect, Jared! One of our members was just killed!" Godrick shouted anxiously the moment the call got through.

"What?" Jared leaped to his feet instantly.

The girls fell completely silent and didn't dare say a word when they saw the grim look on Jared's face.

Read A Man Like None Other Chapter 1986

A Man Like None Other Chapter 1986—"One of our members was attacked and killed in an alley shortly after leaving the building! The killer is still at large!" Godrick repeated himself.

The look on Jared's face was incredibly gloomy and tense.

"Wait for me..."

He then tossed aside the cards in his hand and ran out of the room.

None of the girls dared make a sound as they could clearly sense the murderous aura coming from Jared.

“Should we go have a look as well, Cecilia?” Lizbeth asked.

Cecilia was the most senior member of the group, so the girls all listened to her.

“No. We should refrain from causing Jared any more problems.”

Cecilia knew that they would only get in the way and worsen things if they went with Jared.

After rushing over to Deragon Sect as quickly as he could, Jared made his way into the room where the dead member’s body was placed.

The look on Jared’s face grew solemn as he knelt down and investigated the wound in detail.

“Do you know who did this, Jared?”

Godrick and the others had no idea who would attack Deragon Sect, which was the largest sect in Jadeborough now.

It was so huge that it had even taken over Warriors Alliance.

Besides, given Jared’s reputation, no one in their right mind would dare oppose him anyway.

Jared knew right away that it was Kazuo’s doing, but he chose not to tell them as he didn’t want to create mass panic.

Jared knew right away that it was Kazuo’s doing, but he chose not to tell them as he didn’t want to create mass panic.

Instead, he ordered Godrick, “Tell all members of Deragon Sect to not go out alone at night!”

“Got it!” Godrick nodded and went off to inform the rest of the sect.

Jared then headed out onto the streets and wandered around aimlessly to see if he could draw Kazuo out.

He even deliberately unleashed his aura so that Kazuo would pick it up and come after him.

However, an hour soon went by with no sign of Kazuo anywhere.

Kazuo is likely still being pursued here in Jadeborough, so he probably wouldn't dare remain in the city for too long. In that case, I shall head over to the countryside and expand the range of my aura by a few miles!

Moments after doing that, Jared noticed a powerful aura headed in his direction. Sure enough, that aura belonged to Kazuo. It was his way of letting Jared know he was coming for him.

Jared then stopped in his tracks and patiently waited for Kazuo's arrival.

It wasn't long before Kazuo showed up in front of him. "Were you waiting here for me, Jared?" he asked with a sneer when he saw Jared calmly standing there.

Jared knew right away that it was Kazuo's doing, but he chose not to tell them as he didn't want to create a panic.

Instead, he ordered Godrick, "Tell all members of Derogon Sect to not go out alone at night!"

"Got it!" Godrick nodded and went off to inform the rest of the sect.

Jared then headed out onto the streets and wandered around aimlessly to see if he could draw Kazuo out.

He even deliberately unleashed his aura so that Kazuo would pick it up and come after him.

However, an hour soon went by with no sign of Kazuo anywhere.

Kazuo is likely still being pursued here in Jadeborough, so he probably wouldn't dare remain in the city for too long. In that case, I shall head over to the countryside and expand the range of my aura by a few miles!

Moments after doing that, Jared noticed a powerful aura headed in his direction. Sure enough, that aura belonged to Kazuo. It was his way of letting Jared know he was coming for him.

Jared then stopped in his tracks and patiently waited for Kazuo's arrival.

It wasn't long before Kazuo showed up in front of him. "Were you waiting here for me, Jared?" he asked with a sneer when he saw Jared calmly standing there.

Jared nodded at Kazuo, who looked like a complete mess, as he replied, "Yeah, I was waiting to kill you."

Kazuo burst out laughing. "You? Kill me? You were lucky to get away last time, but that's not going to happen again! You must've brought help with you, huh? There's no way you'd be so confident facing me on your own!"

As Kazuo glanced about their surroundings, Jared said coldly, "I came here alone, so don't bother looking. I don't need help to kill someone like you."

"You will pay for your arrogance, you insolent b*stard!" Kazuo shouted angrily as he channeled his aura and enveloped Jared with it.

"We should go somewhere farther away. Wouldn't want to injure the innocent civilians."

As they were just outside of the city, Jared was worried that their fight would affect the civilians.

"Hmph! My goal is to kill you, so why would I care about anything else?" Kazuo snapped at Jared as he lunged forward and swung a fist at him.

He was holding nothing back as he punched at Jared with all of his might.

Jared quickly activated Golem Body and covered his body with a golden shield of light.

Read A Man Like None Other Chapter 1987

A Man Like None Other Chapter 1987-Clang!

A deafening clang rang out as Kazuo's fist clashed with Jared's body, but his punch did no damage whatsoever.

The ten-thousand-year-old tuber fleeceflower and the boost from Demon Sect had made Jared incredibly tough.

“Why do you Jetroinians love sneak attacks so much? Are you guys afraid that you can’t beat me in a fair fight?” Jared asked nonchalantly as he slowly turned around and shot Kazuo a disdainful look.

Kazuo’s eyes filled with anger and disbelief when he heard that.

As Jared was about to take a step forward, Kazuo drew his katana and swung it in Jared’s direction. The blade emanated a razor-sharp energy wave that went flying toward Jared.

Jared calmly stared the incoming attack down as he clenched his fist and punched at it.

Despite how ordinary his punch looked, it packed a terrifying destructive power behind it.

Boom!

A deafening boom tore through the land, stirring up a mini dust storm with its shockwave.

The impact shook the ground beneath them and scared the nearby residents out of their buildings.

That was the reason Jared had wanted to take their fight elsewhere.

Given the huge amount of residential areas nearby, their fight was bound to affect the people there.

Kazuo was shocked speechless when he saw Jared instantly shatter his energy wave attack with a seemingly normal punch.

Jared, on the other hand, looked perfectly calm as he already knew what would happen.

Jared, on the other hand, looked perfectly calm as he already knew what would happen.

“I can’t believe you’ve gotten so much stronger in such a short amount of time, Jared...” Kazuo muttered through clenched teeth.

“If you want to kill me, then you’ll have to give it everything you’ve got!” Jared replied coldly.

Kazuo's expression slid into a frown as he realized he had underestimated Jared's strength.

"Don't get too cocky just yet, Jared!" he yelled as he launched himself at Jared while swinging his katana.

As though it was charging up a terrifyingly devastating attack, the blade was glowing brightly as it cut through the air with a loud swoosh.

Swoosh!

"Hundred Slash Attack!" Kazuo roared as he unleashed a blindingly bright light from his katana.

Countless sword shadows went flying toward Jared in an instant.

The sword shadows packed so much power that they produced deafening sonic booms and distorted the space around them as they sailed through the air.

Kazuo was really determined to cut Jared into pieces.

Clang! Clang! Clang!

Jared simply stood there and took all the blows with his Golem Body.

Jared, on the other hand, looked perfectly calm as he already knew what would happen.

"I can't believe you've gotten so much stronger in such a short amount of time, Jared..." Kazuo muttered through clenched teeth.

"If you want to kill me, then you'll have to give it everything you've got!" Jared replied coldly.

Kazuo's expression slid into a frown as he realized he had underestimated Jared's strength.

"Don't get too cocky just yet, Jared!" he yelled as he launched himself at Jared while swinging his katana.

As though it was charging up a terrifyingly devastating attack, the blade was glowing brightly as it cut through the air with a loud swoosh.

Swoosh!

“Hundred Sosh Attock!” Kozuo roared as he unleashed a blindingly bright light from his kotono.

Countless sword shadows went flying toward Jared in an instant.

The sword shadows packed so much power that they produced deafening sonic booms and distorted the space around them as they sailed through the air.

Kozuo was really determined to cut Jared into pieces.

Clong! Clong! Clong!

Jared simply stood there and took all the blows with his Golem Body.

Eventually, Golem Body began to break as its scales slowly fell off and disappeared.

Even so, Jared continued to receive all of Kazuo’s blows with his toughened body.

“Ha!” Jared yelled all of a sudden, causing his body to exude a golden glow that lit up the area around him like the sun.

Kazuo’s katana emitted a loud rumbling noise as the sword shadows continued to hit Jared in rapid succession.

Although Jared was able to withstand the Hundred Slash Attack, the same could not be said about the ground beneath his feet. Cracks began forming and spreading with each hit that he took.

Boom!

A golden ball of light came out of Jared’s body and destroyed all the sword shadows around him, but it also created a crater beneath him that was several meters deep.

Kazuo quickly jumped backward when he felt the terrifying destructive force behind that attack.

A faint smile formed on his lips as the dust cleared up a little.

“Taking my Hundred Slash Attack head-on without fighting back, huh? You sure are an insolent one! I’m afraid such insolence comes with a price, though!” Kazuo said as he made his way through the dust cloud, only to realize that Jared was no longer standing in the crater.

Read A Man Like None Other Chapter 1988

A Man Like None Other Chapter 1988-“Huh? Where did he go?” Kazuo mumbled with a confused frown.

“Are you looking for me?”

Jared’s voice came from above him all of a sudden.

As Kazuo looked up, he saw that Jared’s body was completely unharmed even though his shirt had been torn to shreds.

He looked majestic with his body exuding a golden glow.

“What the... How could this be?”

Kazuo could not believe what he was seeing.

“Nothing is impossible. You’re nothing but an insignificant bug to me. I could squish you with a finger if I so much as wanted to. Did you really think you would be able to kill me?” Jared asked coldly with a sneer.

“Oh, just you wait, Jared! I’ll teach you a lesson for running that mouth of yours!” Kazuo screamed at the top of his lungs in frustration as he raised his katana high into the air and charged it with martial energy.

The katana buzzed loudly as a terrifying energy came surging out of its blade.

“Die!” Kazuo roared as he unleashed a blindingly bright attack with it.

It was as though someone had compressed the sun into an energy wave and fired it as a projectile.

Boom!

With one swing of his katana, Kazuo sent that energy wave flying toward Jared, who was still in the air.

“Huh? Where did he go?” Kazuo mumbled with a confused frown.

He looked tiny and weak in comparison when faced with such an overwhelming attack.

Even so, he simply continued levitating in that same spot without even trying to block or dodge it.

As the energy wave closed in on Jared, he held his arms out as though he was welcoming it.

The energy wave produced a ton of sparks as it collided against the golden light around Jared’s body, making it look like a fireworks display from afar.

As the seconds went by, the energy wave from Kazuo started getting shorter and shorter.

Eventually, it disappeared completely, while Jared remained perfectly fine.

Just like that, Jared had completely dispelled Kazuo’s attack with the sheer toughness of his body alone.

“W-What...”

Kazuo swallowed nervously in shock and disbelief.

I’m a freaking Greater Martial Arts Marquis who will soon become a Martial Arts Saint! How are my attacks so weak against Jared? C-Could it be that he has already become a Martial Arts Saint at such a young age?

“Is that all you’ve got? If so, then it’s about time I sent you back home!” Jared said coldly.

He looked tiny and weak in comparison when faced with such an overwhelming attack.

Even so, he simply continued levitating in that same spot without even trying to block or dodge it.

As the energy wave closed in on Jared, he held his arms out as though he was welcoming it.

The energy wave produced a ton of sparks as it collided against the golden light around Jared's body, making it look like a fireworks display from afar.

As the seconds went by, the energy wave from Kozuo started getting shorter and shorter.

Eventually, it disappeared completely, while Jared remained perfectly fine.

Just like that, Jared had completely dispelled Kozuo's attack with the sheer toughness of his body alone.

"W-What..."

Kozuo swallowed nervously in shock and disbelief.

I'm a freaking Greater Mortal Arts Marquis who will soon become a Mortal Arts Saint! How are my attacks so weak against Jared? C-Could it be that he has already become a Mortal Arts Saint at such a young age?

"Is that all you've got? If so, then it's about time I sent you back home!" Jared said coldly.

"Aaaargh!" Kazuo screamed like a madman as he launched energy waves at Jared again and again.

Clang! Clang! Clang!

However, all of his attacks were blocked by the golden light around Jared's body, so they did no damage to him whatsoever.

It wasn't long before Kazuo was drenched in sweat and panting heavily.

"I'm surprised someone as weak as you had the audacity to come after my life!" Jared said nonchalantly as he descended from the sky.

Kazuo gripped his katana with both hands, clenched his teeth, and glared at Jared when he saw him coming.

Boom!

Jared swung his fist with so much force that it created a sonic boom in the air as it came crashing down upon Kazuo.

Kazuo instinctively tried to block it with his katana, only to have his weapon break in half upon contact with Jared's fist.

Kazuo's face clouded over as he stared at his broken katana.

"You... How dare you break my katana? This is a royal item!" he yelled furiously.

"Hmph! So much for it being a royal item! It's nothing compared to my sword!" Jared replied as he summoned Dragonslayer Sword.

Read A Man Like None Other Chapter 1989

A Man Like None Other Chapter 1989-The sword emitted a faint gray glow and continuously produced a dragon's roar.

Upon the appearance of Dragonslayer Sword, Kazuo felt immense pressure and involuntarily staggered a few steps back.

Disregarding the pressure Jared brought to Kazuo, just Dragonslayer Sword alone was already enough to make him tremble with fear.

If Jared had taken out Dragonslayer Sword from the beginning, Kazuo probably wouldn't have fought and would have run away immediately.

He hadn't expected that in such a short time, and Jared's strength had grown so much that even his weapon had become more powerful.

Panic flashed in Kazuo's eyes as he said to Jared, "Jared, I was forced to try to kill you by the Watanabe family. If I didn't do it, they wouldn't have let me off the hook."

Kazuo was trying to gain sympathy, fearing that Jared would kill him.

"Are you scared?" Jared smirked. "Don't you Jetroinians hate failure the most? Once you fail, you'll have to disembowel yourself out of shame."

"No, no, not every Jetroinian would do that. I hope you can spare me, and that will also guarantee your safety. If you kill me, the Watanabe family will continue to send people after you, and you'll never have peace. Think about it. If you let me go, I won't return to Jetroina, but I'll convey to the Watanabe family that I'm pursuing you. As long as I'm alive, they won't send anyone else," Kazuo pleaded.

The sword emitted a faint gray glow and continuously produced a dragon's roar.

In a desperate attempt to save his own life, Kazuo analyzed the situation for Jared.

"If I kill you, the Watanabe family will likely not send someone else," Jared slowly said.

"Why?"

Kazuo was taken aback.

"Because after killing you, I'll destroy the Watanabe family, so they'll never have a chance to send anyone else to kill me again."

Jared had long planned that after killing Kazuo, he would go to Jetroina and eradicate the Watanabe family completely.

He couldn't leave such a hidden danger, nor could he let those at the Law Enforcement Department die in vain for his sake.

"Jared, you dare to go to Jetroina to destroy the Watanabe family? Do you know how powerful they are? And even if you go to Jetroina, how are you so sure you can find them? Can you enter the Watanabe family's territory? If you plan to barge in, I bet you won't make it out of Jetroina alive. Even if you have the strength of a Martial Arts Saint, it's impossible to destroy the Watanabe family and leave unscathed!" Kazuo cried.

Kazuo thought Jared was crazy to have such an idea.

Jared's eyebrows furrowed slightly as he also knew what Kazuo said was true.

Jared was unfamiliar with everything in Jetroina. How would he find the Watanabe family? And even if he did, how could he get close to them?

In a desperate attempt to save his own life, Kazuo analyzed the situation for Jared.

"If I kill you, the Wotonobe family will likely not send someone else," Jared slowly said.

"Why?"

Kozuo was taken aback.

"Because after killing you, I'll destroy the Wotonobe family, so they'll never have a chance to send anyone else to kill me again."

Jared had long planned that after killing Kozuo, he would go to Jetroino and eradicate the Wotonobe family completely.

He couldn't leave such a hidden danger, nor could he let those of the Low Enforcement Department die in vain for his sake.

"Jared, you dare to go to Jetroino to destroy the Wotonobe family? Do you know how powerful they are? And even if you go to Jetroino, how are you so sure you can find them? Can you enter the Wotonobe family's territory? If you plan to barge in, I bet you won't make it out of Jetroino alive. Even if you have the strength of a Martial Arts Saint, it's impossible to destroy the Wotonobe family and leave unscathed!" Kozuo cried.

Kozuo thought Jared was crazy to have such an idea.

Jared's eyebrows furrowed slightly as he also knew what Kozuo said was true.

Jared was unfamiliar with everything in Jetroino. How would he find the Wotonobe family? And even if he did, how could he get close to them?

Even if he destroyed the Watanabe family, how could he escape unscathed?

These were all questions Jared had yet to address.

Seeing Jared's furrowed brows, Kazuo hurriedly continued, "Jared, as long as you don't kill me, I can help you. I'm willing to take you to Jetroino. In fact, I've long been fed up with the Watanabe family's arrogance. Now even the imperial power can hardly control them. They've become too full of themselves!"

Kazuo was desperately trying to persuade Jared to spare his life, showing just how terrified he was of death.

Jared looked at Kazuo's nervous expression and casually took out a pill from his pocket and handed it to him.

"This is a Heartburn Pill. If you take it, I won't kill you, but you'll have to listen to me, as I'm the only one with the antidote. Otherwise, you'll die in extreme pain." Jared spoke slowly, then observed the changes in Kazuo's expression.

Kazuo didn't hesitate to take the pill and swallow it immediately. At this point, as long as he could survive, he'd be content.

Seeing Kazuo swallow the pill, Jared smiled faintly. "All right, you can go. But remember, you must take the antidote within three days. I'll go to Jetroina during these three days, and I believe you'll be able to find me."

"Okay, okay..." Kazuo nodded repeatedly, then turned and ran.

Read A Man Like None Other Chapter 1990

A Man Like None Other Chapter 1990-Jared returned to Deragon Sect, feeling a surging energy within his body. He was surprised to find that the recent battle with Kazuo had given him a sense of impending breakthrough.

Although a ten-thousand-year-old tuber fleecflower had only allowed Jared to advance to an Eighth Level Greater Martial Arts Marquis, he was only a step away from attaining Ninth Level Greater Martial Arts Marquis.

After battling Kazuo, Jared could feel a tingling sensation within his body.

"Jared, have you found the murderer?" Godrick asked when he saw Jared return.

Jared nodded and said, "Inform everyone that the restrictions have been lifted. I've driven away the person. He's a ronin from Jetroina. Also, take out some of the medicinal herbs stored in Deragon Sect. I need to refine some pills..."

Godrick nodded and hurriedly made the arrangements.

Later, Jared also informed Axton to bring extra medicinal herbs when he came to Jadeborough to treat Xavier.

Jared wanted to use these herbs to refine an energy condensing pill and see if he could break through to the Ninth Level Greater Martial Arts Marquis.

If he could, he'd have a better chance of success when he went to Jetroina.

After giving instructions, Jared walked out of the room and slowly looked toward the Warriors Alliance. By now, the Warriors Alliance building had already become an office space for Deragon Sect.

Jared returned to Deragon Sect, feeling a surging energy within his body. He was surprised to find that the recent battle with Kazuo had given him a sense of impending breakthrough.

"Josephine, where exactly are you?" Jared sighed.

Although he knew that Josephine was locked away in a secret realm, where should he look for that secret realm?

Jared had to go to Jetroina to deal with the Watanabe family, so the task of searching for the secret realm was left to Flaxseed and Jessica.

Even if Jared were there, he wouldn't be much help in finding the secret realm of Evil Heart Sect. It would be up to Jessica.

Jared walked toward the two's room, intending to tell them about his trip to Jetroina.

But as he approached the door, he heard Jessica's moans. Jared's face turned slightly red, and he had no choice but to wait outside until they finished.

Jared smoked a cigarette and waited for half an hour before the room finally quieted down. Flaxseed then said, "Jared, come in..."

Jared pushed the door open and walked in. Jessica's face was flushed, and she quickly poured a cup of water for Jared.

"Jared, why are you here this late to eavesdrop on me instead of sleeping? You have so many women, so just pick one to sleep with you," Flaxseed said teasingly with a playful expression.

"You knew I was outside, and yet you still took so long. I came to see you for a reason! I need to go to Jetroina for a few days to deal with some personal matters, so I'll need you and Ms. Zimmerman to search for the secret realm of Evil Heart Sect," Jared said seriously.

"Josephine, where exactly are you?" Jared sighed.

Although he knew that Josephine was locked away in a secret realm, where should he look for that secret realm?

Jared had to go to Jetroino to deal with the Wotonobe family, so the task of searching for the secret realm was left to Floxseed and Jessico.

Even if Jared were there, he wouldn't be much help in finding the secret realm of Evil Heart Sect. It would be up to Jessico.

Jared walked toward the two's room, intending to tell them about his trip to Jetroino.

But as he approached the door, he heard Jessico's moans. Jared's face turned slightly red, and he had no choice but to wait outside until they finished.

Jared smoked a cigarette and waited for half an hour before the room finally quieted down. Floxseed then said, "Jared, come in..."

Jared pushed the door open and walked in. Jessico's face was flushed, and she quickly poured a cup of water for Jared.

"Jared, why are you here this late to eavesdrop on me instead of sleeping? You have so many women, so just pick one to sleep with you," Floxseed said teasingly with a playful expression.

"You knew I was outside, and yet you still took so long. I come to see you for a reason! I need to go to Jetroino for a few days to deal with some personal matters, so I'll need you and Ms. Zimmermon to search for the secret realm of Evil Heart Sect," Jared said seriously.

"You're going to Jetroina? What for? To shoot a movie?" Flaxseed joked.

"I'm not kidding with you. I'm really going to Jetroina!" Jared then recounted the events involving the Law Enforcement Department and Kazuo that had occurred that day to Flaxseed.

Upon hearing this, Flaxseed immediately dropped his smile. Gritting his teeth, he said, "Damn, these Jetroinian ronins are relentless. But going to Jetroina alone is too dangerous for you, and the Watanabe family is not as weak as you imagine. You can't possibly destroy their entire family by yourself! I'll accompany you. I have friends in Jetroina who can help us once we're there."

Jared shook his head. “No need. You’ll be searching for the secret realm of Evil Heart Sect with Ms. Zimmerman. I hope that when I return, you’ll have succeeded in finding it.”

“I’m afraid you won’t make it back. I’ll go with you instead. Jessica can handle the search for the secret realm herself. The entrance must be near the Warriors Alliance, so it shouldn’t be too hard to find.”

Flaxseed insisted on going with Jared out of concern for his safety.

“Mr. Chance, please let Mr. Flaxseed accompany you. You’ll be alone and unfamiliar with the place, and there will indeed be many dangers. I can handle the search for the secret realm myself. As long as the entrance is nearby, I can sense it.” Jessica said to Jared.