

Chapter 9 - Wild Love With My Triplet Mates

I wake up the next morning at dawn like always. I found arms all wrapped around me. I smiled but now I had to get up and get ready for the tournament.

I tried gently removing one arm at a time, but they boys kept putting their arms back after I let go.

“Mmmmm. It is far too early to be wake my dear.” I heard a husky voice from under me. I lift and turn my head a bit to see Zero slightly awake and such cute bed hair.

“I need to get up to get ready for the tournament. Besides I always wake up this early.” I say with a little smirk at him.

“But the tournament doesn’t start for another few hours. You can stay with us a little longer.”

I giggled, “I have duties to see to, as the top warrior.”

“But you are our Luna now. You don’t have to do that stuff anymore my love.” I heard Leo say as Hero groaned himself awake.

“I am still the top warrior of the Thunder Mountain pack and I will not dump all my responsibilities on someone else at the very last minute. Please let me get ready?” Leo and Hero chuckle and Zero groans but they all let me go.

I get up and give each of them a peck on the cheek. “Thank you. Now you can rest a bit more or get ready, but I will be in the bathroom.”

I smile and then grab my training clothes from the drawer and head to the bathroom. I change into some navy blue leggings and a navy blue sports bra. I brushed and put my hair in a high tight ponytail, then I braided the ponytail. I brushed my teeth and washed my face. Now all that is left is to grab some socks, shoes and a sweatshirt for when I am not fighting. I walk back out into the room.

“What in the world are you wearing?!” Zero said, shocked.

“I am wearing the same training clothes I have always worn since coming to Thunder Mountain.” I said while quickly putting my socks and shoes on.

“Please wear a tank top or a shirt princess? We don’t want other males seeing you like this. Especially since you are still unmarked. Your body is ours to gawk at and worship.” Leo said, looking a bit grumpy.

Normally I would say I belong to no man, but hearing my mates call me their set me heart racing.

“I will be wearing a sweatshirt until it is my turn to fight in the tournament, but this is the best thing to fight in while in human form. Besides you three are the only males that I belong to, just like the three of you belong to me.” I said with a smile.

Hero grabbed the duffle bag and rummaged through it looking for something. He pulled out a huge black sweatshirt with a raven in the center of a full moon outlined in white.

“If you wear our sweatshirt we will not say anything else about your clothes. Well until we get you home to Raven Moon.” Leo and Zero nodded their heads in agreement.

“Alright my big bad wolves. I will wear your sweatshirt, even though you just want your scent on me to keep other males away.”

They smiled and clearly didn't deny that I was right. I put on the sweatshirt and gave each of them a hug and a kiss on the cheek before heading to the door.

“I will see you three at breakfast or the tournament.” I waved goodbye and walked out of my room and started getting everything set up.

Ryan, Jorge, and I were running around finishing up the last few things. “Ok, after we finish setting up the tournament ring that will lite the start of the fight we have to make sure the Alpha and Luna seats are clean and stocked with refreshments.” Ryan said.

“Already done. I had them done while you two were cleaning the field for the fights.” I yelled from the top of the pole, “Hey Jorge, everything is all cleaned up here. Toss me the oil please.”

He ran to the tool kit and grabbed two small pouches. He tossed the first one and I squeezed it and its contents around the ring. That way if the oil I poured on the ring was too dry it would still catch fire from this bag. Jorge tossed the second bag and I poured all the contents all over the ring and the second bag.

“There. All done up here boys.” I yell as I drop the empty bag.

“Clear the way so I don't land on any of you again.” I saw Jorge stiffen and laugh.

“I am not going through that headache again.” he muttered while walking clear of the pole.

“You were the one that said you could catch her. It is not her fault you stood to close that she landed right on your back. HAHAHA.” Ryan boomed as he laughed.

Once they were both clear. I pushed myself off the pole and flipped through the air a few times before I landed both of my feet on solid ground.

“Tada.” I said while having a goofy grin on my face while those two just started laughing.

“All right let’s go get some breakfast. Everything is all set.” Ryan said.

Roy POV

I make it to Thunder Mountain. I would have to apologize for not making the ceremony last night, but I had another meeting with the elders. They want me to take a chosen mate, but I am still set on finding Jess to win her back.

I didn’t hear anything from Alex or Selena from last night. As I walked towards the dining hall, I looked out the window and saw a beautiful woman push off from the top of like a 50 foot pole and land perfectly on her own two feet.

If I did have to have a chosen mate I would want a girl like her. A strong warrior, would be a better Luna than a spoiled alpha’s or beta’s daughter of another pack.

I open the door and see Raphael and his mate at their table. “Alpha Raphael, good morning. I am terribly sorry I was not able to make it to the ceremony last night. My elders wouldn’t stop chatting about trivial things in the meeting and it ran late.” I bowed as I apologized.

“It is all right Alpha Roy. By the way this is my mate and Luna, Odette.” She nodded her head and I bowed to her as well.

Then I saw the three alpha triplets from Raven Moon walk in. “Good morning boys, I thought you would still be asleep. You guys are never up this early.” Luna Odette said with a smirk towards them.

“Well our lovely mate had woken us up to finish up her last few duties as your top warrior, but sorry cuz she will be returning with us to Raven Moon.” one of them said but another quickly added.

“As long as she is comfortable with it. Though she didn’t say no when I said that to her this morning.” Luna Odette was smiling bigger and bigger. “I’m sure she will be more than happy to leave with you guys, but still be a bit sad I didn’t get to spend a lot of time with her before you take her home with you.”

I could tell she was a little sad, but more happy that her friend found their mate.

I don’t know anything about the triplet alphas of Raven Moon, but it was rare for siblings such as twin or triplets to rule together as all alphas. Usually the oldest becomes alpha and the others become beta and gamma upon age order.

Then I smelled roses and baby’s breath. There was only one thing that smelled like that in my mind.

‘Jess?’ I thought.

Then I saw the warrior girl that jumped from the pole walk in with two other men.

She stopped and looked around, and then started walking over in my direction.

‘Was it really Jess? Would she give me another chance?’

were only a couple of the questions that ran through my mind.
