

Married At First Sight Chapter 2902 -

Married At First Sight Chapter 2902-Carrie visually estimated that the sum of all the money was less than $1000.

Carrie was so angry that she immediately called Camryn and scolded: “Camryn, what do you mean? I asked you to give me money. This is not how you insult people. Sending beggars, sending beggars, everyone... I hate the money you gave me.”

Camryn said coolly, “Didn’t you ask me to give you meal money? That’s meal money, and a dime is money. Count them up. If you add them all up, there should be a thousand or several hundred dollars. Eating out for a fast food meal only costs ten or twenty dollars, which is enough for you to eat for a while. If you buy and cook your own food, it might take longer.

My mother-in-law mobilized all the people in the villa and took out all the money in their wallets to get so much money for you. You have to thank my mother-in-law. If it’s me, I don’t care if you have money or not. It’s my mother-in-law’s kindness that says you will always be my sister.
“

Carrie: “Camryn, you are so cruel!”

She hung up the phone angrily and swept all the dimes into the trash can. She didn’t want Camryn’s charity!

She was so angry!

What a bully!

Carrie sat on the sofa and was angry for a while, then called Brenda, thinking that she should give these small coins to her and let her count them slowly. No matter how small the mosquito is, it is still meat, no matter how small the denomination. Money is money. She thought Brenda would be very happy.

She wanted to ask Brenda to take away the trash can, and she didn’t want to see the money.

“The phone you dialed is switched off.”

What Carrie didn’t expect was that Brenda’s cell phone was turned off.

How does it shut down?

Carrie thought she had dialed the wrong number, so she took the phone away from her ear and checked to make sure she had made the right call. She dialed again and still said it was turned off.

She called Amy again and also turned off her phone.

As for her cousins, none of them had their cell phones turned on. They all turned them off.

No matter how dull she was, Carrie knew that her two aunts and cousins had cut off contact with her and collectively ignored her.

It's best to ignore her!

They always wanted money from Carrie, which was not a good thing.

Carrie consoled herself, yet she could not help but curse: "You must have committed the act, blind Camryn, btch, btch! Wait, one day, you will kneel in front of me and beg me to let you go!"

Looking at the loose money in the trash can, Carrie picked it up and put it on the coffee table. She counted them dime by dime. She wanted to remember how Camryn humiliated her tonight!

Camryn over there had finished her dinner early and was walking in the villa with Callum.

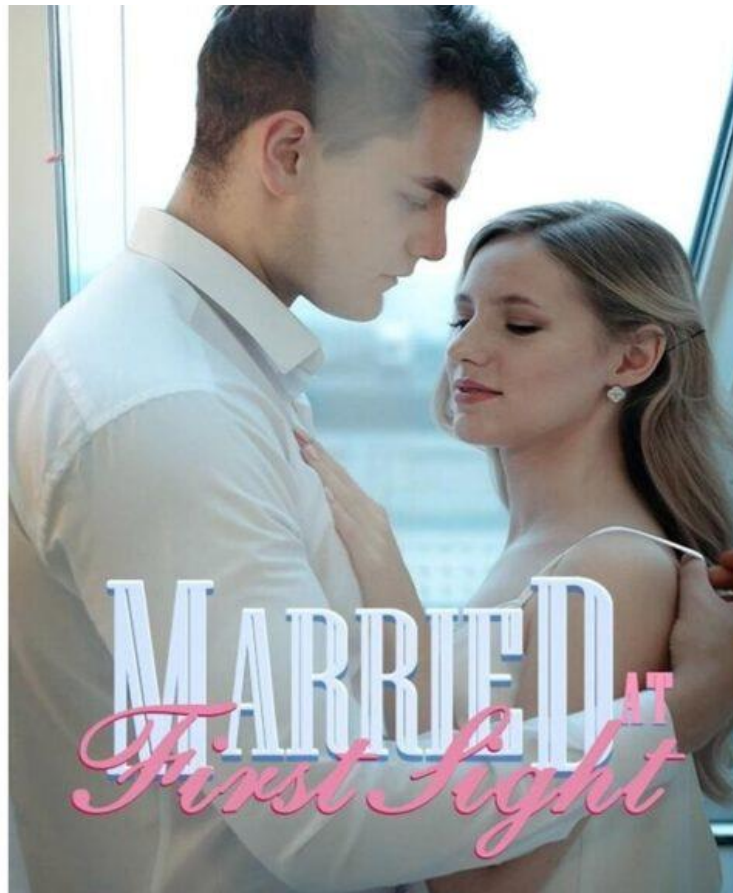

In this season, the scenery in the villa was a little less beautiful, but relatively speaking, it was still very beautiful.

The main reason was that it had not rained in Wiltspoon for a long time.

If it rains, the flowers, plants, and trees will take on a new look, and the air will become fresher.

Camryn said, "The idea Mom came up with is so wonderful."

Camryn thought that Carrie would be so angry when she opened the bag and actually saw the money in it that she thought her mother-in-law's method was wonderful.

Married At First Sight Chapter 2903-Callum said, “In my opinion, I won’t give her a penny.”

Camryn said, “She is not engaged in childbirth and spends money like water. Maybe she really has no money. Just give her a few hundred dollars to keep her from starving to death. You can’t let her starve to death all at once. You want her to live well. See how I get better and better and become happier and happier.

She envies and hates me because she once thought about marrying you. Before I met you, I heard my mother analyze with her which young master of the York family would be more suitable for her to marry. After analyzing, she finally locked on you. She is young, energetic, and spoiled. My mother has set her sights on you, so she thinks she can marry you and become the second young wife of the York family. Her heart is easily devoted to you. So, she hates me very much now.”

Camryn added, “The more she hates me, the more I want her to live well and watch me marry the man she wanted to marry before. With your love and affection, I live a happy life now.”

Revenge against a person is not to end her life with a knife, but to make her lose everything she values most little by little. This kind of revenge is the most painful thing.

Callum held her hand tightly and said, “Honey, I only love you; you are the only one in my eyes and in my heart!”

Camryn looked at him and smiled. “I’m not jealous, let alone doubt your feelings for me.”

Callum silently sacrificed a lot for Camryn and did many things for her.

Camryn was able to see the light again because of Callum’s affectionate treatment. In order to ask Dr. Carden to help her treat her eyes, he went to FC Manor countless times and suffered many looks from Tim.

Callum said, “I just want to express my love and tell you that I love you and I will only love you. The men in my York family are very dedicated in their relationships and are loyal to their family and marriage.”

Camryn said, “I know that your family has a very good family tradition, so my aunt Evelyn is very satisfied with you; even Trenton is very satisfied.”

Camryn said, leaning her head on Callum’s shoulder, and Callum put his arms around her, but soon she left his shoulder because walking like that was not very comfortable.

“Are you tired? How about we go there and sit for a while?” Callum pointed to a pavilion not far away and asked his wife.

Camryn said, “I just finished eating. I don’t want to sit down. I just want to walk around to digest my food. I’m so full. The food was delicious, and the soup was delicious. I wish I could turn into a pig so that I can eat more.”

Callum said, “Be careful not to burst your stomach. It’s not like you can only eat one meal. This is your home. You can come back and eat every day.”

Camryn said, “My parents looked at me eating with smiles. I just wanted to eat more. Eat more to make them happy.”

Callum lightly scratched her nose and said, “My parents are like that. From now on, even if they smile, if you can’t eat that much, don’t eat it. Hold on; you will be the one who feels uncomfortable. My parents care about you very much now. You are their eldest daughter-in-law, so your status is different.”

Although he was not the eldest grandson in this big family, he was the eldest son of his parents.
