Married At First Sight Chapter 2907-Rosella looked at Callum, smiled, and said, "It's all the ladies and daughters gathered together. You, a grown man, go with me! Just go with me if you don't mind them making fun of you. I usually ask you to accompany me to attend banquets, but you always say you are busy. Now I want to take your wife out to meet friends, so you just say you are free. Why are you afraid that I will sell your wife?"

Rosella teased Callum, "Don't worry, I will keep your wife intact."

Callum's face turned red, and he smiled: "I'm not worried. Mom won't sell your daughter-in-law to me, even if she sells me. I'm just really free. I was really busy before, but now the younger brothers can all help, and those of us who are older brothers have been tired for so many years, and now and then we can take a vacation."

The sixth and seventh elders could all help.

Callum added, "Mom, you're a protector of shortcomings. You love Camryn the most. Who dares to touch Camryn's finger? If you know, it would be weird if you don't chop off that person's hand. I really don't worry at all."

Rosella laughed, as if she didn't know what Callum was thinking.

"Since you want to go along, then go ahead. It's just in time to show everyone how well-matched my son and daughter-in-law are." Rosella said, "That Mrs. Welsh often shows off in front of us how wonderful her son and daughter-in-law are. She says that her son is handsome and her daughter-in-law is pretty. I want her to see what the combination of handsome and pretty means. I will go out with my son and daughter-in-law, kill them instantly, and leave them behind for a few blocks."

When wives usually got together, the topics they often talked about were husbands and children. If they had a daughter-in-law, the daughter-in-law would also be mentioned.

Under normal circumstances, Rosella would not talk about her son and daughter-in-law as a topic. She felt that even the daily lives of some sons and daughters-in-law involved the privacy of young people.

She didn't like others inquiring into her family's privacy, and she didn't like to tell anyone about it.

No matter how others boasted about their sons or daughters-in-law, she just listened to them as if they were stories.

If someone brought up the topic of her son and daughter-in-law, she would change the topic in a few words. Everyone was a smart person, so they knew that she was not willing to use her daughter-in-law as a topic.

No sensible person would talk about her daughter-in-law again.

People in the York family had always guarded their shortcomings. In the past, Tania's defense of serenity spread throughout the circle of wives in Wiltspoon. Even when Camryn was still blind, no one dared say a word about Camryn in front of Rosella.

After all, they didn't want to offend the wives of the York family.

Camryn glanced at Callum and said with a smile, "Just don't go. You'll play two games of chess with my dad at home."

Callum's handsome face immediately fell, and he said aggrievedly, "Honey, you don't love me anymore. You went to the banquet with my mother and didn't take me with you. You don't want me to go with you. I don't want to play chess with my dad. My dad's chess skills are just like that. We respect our elders. We were afraid that dad would lose us and lose face."

Matthias said, "How about we, dad and son, try playing a few games now?"

Callum shuts up immediately.

Camryn said with a smile: "If you go along and see that the people at the party are all women and everyone is staring at you, you will be very embarrassed, and then you will keep clinging to me, and I will be embarrassed too. Instead of doing this, why don't you stay at home and play chess with dad and compete with each other while mom and I have a party with our friends?"

Rosella echoed, "That's right, if you follow me, you will become the candy on Camryn's body. It will stick tightly, and Camryn will feel at ease."

Callum: "Well, I won't follow you. I'll stay at home. When you have enough fun, I will pick you up and take you home."

Married At First Sight Chapter 2908-Matthias said, "Your mother has me to take care of her, not you."

Callum said, "Okay, okay, each of you will take your wife home."

After Camryn attended the banquet with Rosella, Callum would take Camryn back to Newman's house, staying away from Rosella to prevent her from taking over Camryn.

He and Camryn had just received their marriage license and were newlyweds. He couldn't bear to be apart for even a quarter of an hour and wished he could be with her twenty-four hours a day.

The secretary said that since he became a married man, his evening social activities have decreased a lot.

That is, of course, a man with a wife who is family-oriented and goes home to be with his wife after getting off work.

Zachary had also reduced his evening entertainment.

"Camryn, come here; Mom will help you put on this jewelry and let Mom see what Mom's taste is like."

Rosella was too lazy to pay attention to the two wife slaves. She picked up the necklace and tried to put it on for Camryn.

Camryn said, "Mom, you have given me several sets of jewelry. This set of jewelry is your dowry. It is too expensive. I can borrow it for one night, but I cannot accept it."

She fell in love with this set of jewelry at first sight and liked it very much. But it was her mother-in-law's dowry. The jewelry from decades ago was a bit more precious. It was too expensive, and Camryn was embarrassed to accept it.

The jewelry usually given to her by her mother-in-law was all new models bought by her mother-in-law, which had different meanings from this set.

Rosella didn't care; she just started and helped Camryn put on necklaces, earrings, diamond rings, bracelets, etc.

While helping Camryn put it on, she said, "I have no daughters, only three sons. The jewelry in my trousseau will belong to you and your sisters-in-law from now on. I still don't know who your two sisters-in-law are. This set of jewelry suits you, so I'll give it to you. Don't worry, I still have a lot of jewelry in her jewelry store. You can't empty out my jewelry store by yourself.

If I give it to you, you just accept it. The elders give it to you, and you can't refuse it. If you don't accept it, you just don't like the set of jewelry I gave you.

How beautiful it is! I would say this set of jewelry is suitable for you. You have a gentle and generous temperament and a ladylike style. Retro-style jewelry is most suitable for you."

Camryn looked at Callum as if asking for help.

Callum stared at Camryn for a long time and then said to Rosella, "Mom, you stole my limelight and compared it with all the jewelry I gave to my wife."

Then he said to Camryn, "Wife, mom said it was for you, so you accepted it. Is it really beautiful and suitable for you, or does my mom have a discerning eye?"

Camryn: "..."

"Evening dress..." Rosella started to speak but was interrupted by Callum.

Callum said, "Mom, Camryn has a lot of evening dresses. You really don't have to worry about this. Leave some room for your son to express himself."

Rosella smiled and said, "Okay, okay, I'll leave it to you to show off. You can't treat my daughter-in-law badly; otherwise, I won't spare you."

Callum said, "I wouldn't dare treat your daughter-in-law badly, even if I wronged myself."
