I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2649-Leticia consoled her nephew, the prince of the Great Quinn Empire, gently in her arms.

She knew things were not that simple when she saw Captain Himmel come to protect her and Zion with so many people.

There were bound to be internal conflicts when one was born into royalty.

However, she did not expect the enemy to want their deaths so badly.

Even though Leticia was also born into a well-known family, it was vastly incomparable to the Quinn Family,

There were limitations to what she could do.

If a powerhouse like Captain Himmel could not hold back the enemy, how could a woman like her defend them?

Captain Himmel was asking her to run?

Where could she escape to?

She would rather stay where she was than live a life of fear, hiding from murderous enemies.

The only thing she could do was use her body as the last shield of defense for Zion.

As for Zion's fate, could he live long enough to get to the Imperial Capital, inherit the throne, and eventually do great things? That would depend on his royal fate.

She had done everything she could.

Leticia hugged Zion tight with her body.

She tried her best to shield every part of him and not expose him to the attack.

However, she was unaware of one thing.

It would only take one Soul Fracturing Arrow to pierce through her and it will go through both their bodies. There was no chance of survival.

Outside the carriage.

Captain Himmel was using the last of his breath to swing numerous blade forces in an attempt to stop the hundreds of Soul Fracturing Arrows coming at them.

However, he could not do much.

They might still stand a chance if he had five powerhouses as strong as he was.

Captain Himmel would be overestimating himself if he thought he could stop hundreds of those arrows on his own.

The others began to take action.

They gave everything they had but only managed to stop one -third of the Soul Fracturing Arrows.

In fact, they did not really manage to stop them. All they managed to do was deflect the arrows from Leticia and Zion's carriage.

Captain Himmel could only watch as the remaining hundreds of Soul Fracturing Arrows struck the carriage where the Madam and the Young Master were occupying.

The maids in the other two carriages would not be spared.

They would look just like porcupines with the carriages full of arrows.

The enemy had no idea which carriage contained their target, so they attacked all the carriages.

Captain Himmel had now depleted all his energy.

The enemy had prepared too thoroughly for the attack.

This attack was much bigger than the combined attack of the dozens they had experienced.

Just the thousands of Soul Fracturing Arrows alone would have cost a huge amount of money.

Just as the Soul Fracturing Arrows hit the carriage and were about to pierce through the beautiful Leticia's body, they suddenly stopped.

They paused in mid-air.

The arrows were not the only things that ceased moving. Everything at the scene, including man and beast, even insects, turned silent. Even the wind stopped blowing.

Time seemed to have stopped.

The entire scene now looked like a painting.

A figure entered the scene and walked slowly to the middle of the battle.

It was David, who had just returned from The Spirit Cage.

He was the only one moving.

David went straight to the carriage and saw a beautiful woman hugging a little boy tightly in her arms.

Dozens of arrows were frozen in the air only a few centimeters away from her body.

A second later, the arrows would have pierced her body and the little boy in her arms.

David sighed with relief when he saw this.

To think, if both of them had died.

David would have harbored much regret.

A mortal body enduring so many arrows would have integrated immediately.

Even if David was close to becoming an Overland Rank powerhouse and knew Ancient Traditional Medicine, he would not have been able to save them if that happened.

I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2650-Those who did not have their mind power yet would be considered completely dead if their bodies were destroyed.

If someone had mind power, there would be a chance for them to be revived.

David reached out and picked up a Soul Fracturing Arrow. He gave it a light pinch and the powerful Soul Fracturing Arrow disintegrated into dust and vanished.

The Soul Fracturing Arrows, considered indestructible to Captain Himmel and the others, were nothing to David.

Those arrows were softer than tofu to him.

David left after checking everything.

Not long after that, everything returned to normal.

The Soul Fracturing Arrows that were in the air lost their momentum, and all of them fell to the ground.

Everyone was astonished when they witnessed this eerie scene. They were shocked into silence.

How did this happen?

Why did the Soul Fracturing Arrows suddenly fall to the ground?

This was clearly illogical!

What sort of power stopped the Soul Fracturing Arrows from flying forward?

They had no idea that time had stopped just a moment ago.

It was because even their minds had stopped too.

“Madam, Young Master, are you alright?” The first to react was Captain Himmel as he asked loudly.

The first thing he had to do was make sure that both were safe.

That was because it was tied to everyone’s fate.

In the carriage, Leticia heard Captain Himmel's voice and slowly lifted her head. When she saw herself surrounded by dozens of Soul Fracturing Arrows, she felt a little confused.

What happened?

Why could she not remember a thing?

Why did these arrows suddenly stop in the middle of flying toward her?

Leticia's eyes suddenly widened.

Could the Heavens be protecting Zion?

Did the Heavens protect him because he was meant to be the Emperor? Was it because no one was allowed to hurt him?

Leticia was agitated by this thought.

She had always been educating Zion, and by his side, for the past ten years.

Zion's intelligence had impressed her more than once.

No child knew as much as Zion did at the age of ten.

He was the true leader of the world and was meant to do great things in this world.

"We're fine. Captain Himmel. We're safe!!!" Leticia replied.

He heard the Madam's reply.

Captain Himmel and the others smiled and everyone was elated.

It did not matter what just happened.

As long as the Madam and Young Master were alive, everything was good.

"Hahaha... Brothers, the Heavens are on our side. Victory was meant to be ours this time. Attack, everyone, and tear the enemy to pieces!" Captain Himmel laughed and shouted.

The guards were immediately energized.

Everyone seemed to have been injected with new life.

They began a frenzied search for the enemies hidden in the forest.

Everyone seemed to sense that something had happened but no one could remember it.

It was just as Captain Himmel had said.

The Heavens were on their side.

They had to make good use of this opportunity.

The enemies hidden in the forest had recovered, but they had no idea what just happened.

Why did the Soul Fracturing Arrows they shot lose their effects?

Hundreds of them were shot at the same time. It was not difficult to imagine how powerful the attack would be.

The attack was conducted to end this battle with their kill, but a mysterious power had stopped them.

Those arrows were the last batch of Soul Fracturing Arrows.

They had no more.

Ordinary arrows could not even penetrate the carriages.

How could they use them to kill their target?

The result of the battle seemed to have quietly changed its course.

Victory would now belong to the other party.
