

Read I am a quadrillionaire

Read I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2653

I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2653-“Captain Himmel, I said to bring along this young man,” the voice spoke once more from the carriage.

He could tell that the Madam was determined about this.

Captain Himmel knew she would not listen no matter what he said.

In the end, he could only reply, “Yes, Madam!!!”

After that, he turned to stare sternly at David.

His eyes spoke volumes.

It seemed to be warning David not to do anything stupid or he would suffer the consequences.

‘Young man! Be on your best behavior now that the Madam has allowed you to stay out of the kindness of her heart. You can’t afford to suffer the consequences if I find out you did something wrong.’

“Don’t worry, Sir! I, David Lidell, have always been an upright person. I won’t admit to anything I haven’t done,” David replied with a smile.

“Hmph!!!”

Captain Himmel grunted loudly to express his unhappiness. He later said, “Follow behind the convoy! I’ll get someone to watch over you. If we find out anything wrong with you, you’ll get kicked out of the convoy if it’s a light penalty. If it’s a serious penalty, we’ll kill you on the spot.”

“Captain Himmel! We have plenty of space in here. Let the young man take the carriage with us!”

Captain Himmel heard Madam Leticia’s voice.

This immediately surprised him.

“Madam, this can’t be allowed! No one knows where this fellow is from. What if you allowed him into your carriage and it turns out he has bad intentions? We won’t be able to save you in time,” Captain Himmel tried his best to talk her out of it.

Allowing David to follow at the back of the convoy was the extent of his tolerance.

How could he agree to David sharing a carriage with the Madam and the Young Master?

David may look more like the son of a rich family rather than a bad person.

However, one cannot judge a book by its cover.

Who would guarantee that this rascal did not have any bad intentions?

“I have my reasoning, Captain Himmel. Just follow my instructions.”

‘You can’t allow this, Madam! I can give in to anything you want, but not this. This involves the safety of you and the young master. Please forgive me for not being able to follow your instructions.’ It was the first time Captain Himmel was going against her wishes.

It was not only for the sake of the Madam and the Young Master, it was also for him and the rest of his team.

Nothing must happen to them.

Otherwise, something worse than death would await him and the other guards.

“Captain Himmel, I know you’re objecting to this for the sake of me and Zion, and we’re grateful for you, but you’re only a guard at the end of the day and we’re your masters. I hope you understand where you stand. All you need to do is execute our orders. I’ll bear the responsibility for any consequences,” Madam Leticia said firmly.

Captain Himmel was stunned and had no idea what to do.

It was the first time the Madam was speaking to him in such a tone.

This meant that she was angry.

He was reminded that Madam and Young Master's statuses would go through a drastic change the moment they arrived at the Imperial Capital safely.

They might even become the rulers of the Great Quinn Empire.

Incurring the wrath of the Madam was not wise.

It would only harm him, not benefit him.

However, Captain Himmel could not understand this.

Why would the Madam speak to him in such a way because of a stranger?

Was it worth it?

He had risked his life trying to protect and escort her and the young master.

Just like what he did in battle earlier.

He had almost died.

What magic did that rascal possess?

Captain Himmel looked at David.

He was sort of good-looking and a little fairer than most. He could be considered a young man who could attract the mature and the young.

Could the Madam be attracted to him? That was not possible!