A Man Like None Other Chapter 2681-Over at Ghaylen's base at Emerald Cauldron Sect, there had been no news about Jared even after two days had passed since the medicinal pool closed, thus making it appear that Jared had most likely met his end.

Ghaylen had thought of having Viola and Jared marry and then used Jared's powers to help her take over Emerald Cauldron Sect. Now that it was unclear whether Jared was dead or alive, he would need to reevaluate the situation again carefully.

"How many former disciples of my father's are left in Emerald Cauldron Sect?" Viola asked Ghaylen.

"Quite a number of them are left, but many years have passed. I'm just afraid they have succumbed to the temptation of the four cardinal vices and are in league with Hosen," Ghaylen replied with a frown.

Viola also furrowed her brows, looking troubled. After all, many would have no qualms about disregarding comradeship where personal gains were concerned.

"If we approach Helius for help, will he support me?" she asked. If we can get his support, taking control of the sect will be much easier. One word from him will leave Hosen so frightened that he probably won't dare to utter any protest. As for the rest of the sect, they'll surely listen to Helius. After all, everyone reveres him as though he's a divine being.

Ghaylen shook his head. "Helius has not concerned himself with the sect's power struggle in a long time. As long as no one invades the sect and poses a threat to its disciples' lives, he won't intervene."

Viola fell into a contemplative silence after hearing his reply. Without Helius' support, she did not know how much chance she had of killing Hosen and reclaiming Emerald Cauldron Sect.

Before she realized it, her thoughts drifted to Jared. Although she had not known him for long, she had always felt a sense of security around him. If he were here, perhaps he'd have a plan.

Just as the pair were deep in thought, a silhouette suddenly flashed past the window.

“Who’s there?” Ghaylen demanded loudly, startled. We can’t let Viola’s identity be exposed, and now, we’ve just discovered someone outside the window. If word of her identity gets out, it’ll be impossible for her to escape from here, let alone seize power from Hosen. If Hosen finds out she’s alive, he’ll stop at nothing to kill her!

Ghaylen shook his head. “Helius has not concerned himself with the sect’s power struggle in a long time. As long as no one invades the sect and poses a threat to its disciples’ lives, he won’t intervene.”

Before she realized it, her thoughts drifted to Jored. Although she had not known him for long, she had always felt a sense of security around him. If he were here, perhaps he’d have a plan.

“Ebenezer?” Ghaylen looked flabbergasted.

Ebenezer turned to Viola and gave a slight bow. “Greetings, Ms. Viola.”

“W-Why are you here?” She also looked shocked. After all, they were at Ghaylen’s base, and Ebenezer never went there.

Ghaylen's aura was already starting to surge. He was ready to attack Ebenezer at any moment. Viola's identity could not be revealed.

Ebenezer was powerful, but Ghaylen had Viola, an elite in the Body Fusion Realm, on his side. With her powers and Ghaylen's combined, they could very well be a match for Ebenezer.

Sensing Ghaylen's mounting murderous intent, Ebenezer hurriedly smiled and said, "That's unnecessary, Ghaylen. If I wanted to expose her identity, Hosen would've already known on the day the medicinal pool opened."

As it turned out, Ebenezer had already started being suspicious of Viola's identity the day the medicinal pool opened.

Although she had altered her appearance and voice, there were some auras one possessed that one had no way of changing.

"Ebenezer, what are you doing here?" Ghaylen asked coldly.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 2682-"I'm here to look for Ms. Viola. I was overcome with emotion when I learned she was still alive. I know you're looking for an opportunity to take over Emerald Cauldron Sect from Hosen. That's why I came to see if there's anything I can do to help," Ebenezer said frankly.

That response left Ghaylen somewhat taken aback. He had not expected Ebenezer to be so open and honest.

"Why are you helping me, Ebenezer? I know my disciple killed one of yours, so I'd already be counting my lucky stars if you didn't hate me. Why would you still help me? On top of that, you were secretly in contact with Demonic Cultivators and used them to kill my disciples. Now, you turn around and say you want to help us. How am I supposed to trust you?" Since Ebenezer had been so forthright, Ghaylen did not beat around the bush and immediately brought up the fact that Ebenezer had been communicating with Demonic Cultivators.

"I think you've misunderstood, Ghaylen. I'm not helping you, but Ms. Viola. If she wasn't alive, I'd still view you as a thorn in my side and still hunt Jared down. But now, it turns out that she's alive and well. Our previous lord took us both under his wing, so we must help her. I can't stand Hosen anymore. After becoming the sect's leader, he has been arrogant and never treated us as humans. He hits and scolds us whenever he wants. I've had enough!" Ebenezer ranted angrily.

After listening to that, Ghaylen started to trust Ebenezer a little. After all, he had witnessed Hosen slapping him in public. No one would believe that Ebenezer doesn't feel the slightest resentment toward Hosen after getting slapped. After all, he's Emerald Cauldron Sect's second elder, yet Hosen didn't show him any respect and hit him. I have to say that was a bit too much.

After seeing how enraged Ebenezer was and how he cursed at Hosen, Ghaylen started to believe him.

Meanwhile, Viola looked at Ghaylen, not quite knowing what to do. She was unaware of what had happened as she had been unconscious for the past few years. She had no idea whether what Ebenezer said was true or false and could only observe Ghaylen's reaction.

"Since you know about her identity and still came here secretly, you must have a plan, right? Hosen used poison to kill the previous lord. Fortunately, Ms. Viola escaped death and woke up after being in a coma for a few years. Now that she has regained consciousness, she's determined to make Hosen pay for his actions and wants to take Emerald Cauldron Sect from his hands. What do you have in mind?" Ghaylen asked.

"You've been staying here alone all these years, so you don't know much about the sect's affairs. Many have been complaining about Hosen's dictatorship, so if Ms. Viola steps forth at this time and lays bare his evil deeds, I believe many will stand by her. There's a sect meeting in a few days. We can have her attend the meeting in disguise. She can reveal herself and expose his crimes there. Then, the two of us can voice our support for her, shutting out Hosen once and for all. After that happens, everyone will condemn Hosen as a low life, and she can easily take back Emerald Cauldron Sect. She can even bring him to justice and avenge the previous lord," Ebenezer said, breaking down the situation carefully.

Ghaylen pondered over his words, then said, "Are you being serious?"

"Of course. Do you think I'd harm Ms. Viola? If that was my intention, I would've exposed her identity on the day the medicinal pool opened," Ebenezer replied, his expression solemn and his tone serious.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 2683-Ghaylen turned to look at Ebenezer. For a moment, he could not tell if Ebenezer was speaking the truth. However, at that point, he had no choice but to believe his words.

Ghaylen could not think of any other possible methods to resolve the situation besides working with Ebenezer.

"I trust you, Ebenezer. We'll wait for Ms. Viola to reveal Hosen's true colors during the sect meeting and regain control over Emerald Cauldron Sect," Ghaylen said.

"Okay. I'll make the arrangements now. If we work together to help Ms. Viola get back Emerald Cauldron Sect, everything will turn out fine." Ebenezer then turned to Viola. "Ms. Viola, I'll be taking my leave now."

"Thank you, Mr. Erdell," Viola replied politely.

Once Ebenezer was gone, Viola turned to Ghaylen and asked, "Mr. Samoll, do you think Mr. Erdell is someone we can trust?"

Ghaylen was silent for a moment. "I don't know either, but we have no choice but to trust him now. I hope that he truly wants to help us for the sake of the previous lord."

Viola fell silent. Now, their success was dependent on Ebenezer.

Once Ebenezer was out of Ghaylen's place, a smug smile grew on his face.

Instead of returning to his own house, he headed straight to Hosen.

"Ebenezer, it's rather late. Why are you here?" Hosen asked when he saw Ebenezer.

"Hosen, there's something I want to tell you," Ebenezer replied.

"What is it?" Hosen closed his eyes and leaned back on his chair lazily.

Ebenezer glanced at the two disciples at the side before dismissing them with a wave. "Leave the room. I have something to report to Mr. Holt."

The few disciples froze, then looked at Hosen in unison.

After all, Hosen was the one they answered to, not Ebenezer.

"You guys can leave," Hosen muttered, waving his hand.

Once the disciples were gone, Ebenezer hurried over to Hosen and started whispering to him.

Upon listening to Ebenezer's story, Hosen widened his eyes and leaped off his chair.

"Is that really true, Ebenezer?" Hosen asked in shock.

"Of course it is. Why would I lie to you? I just came back from Ghaylen's place," Ebenezer said seriously.

Instead of returning to his own house, he headed straight to Hosen.

“Ebenez, it’s rother lote. Why ore you here?” Hosen osked when he sow Ebenez.

“Hosen, there’s something I wont to tell you,” Ebenez replied.

“Whot is it?” Hosen closed his eyes ond leoned bock on his choir lozily.

After oll, Hosen was the one they onswered to, not Ebenez.

“You guys con leave,” Hosen muttered, woving his hond.

Once the disciples were gone, Ebenez hurried over to Hosen ond started whispering to him.

Upon listening to Ebenez’s story, Hosen widened his eyes ond leoped off his choir.

“Is thot reolly true, Ebenez?” Hosen osked in shock.

“Of course it is. Why would I lie to you? I just come bock from Ghoylen’s ploce,” Ebenez soid seriously.

Hosen furrowed his brows and narrowed his eyes, a murderous look creeping into them.

“I can’t believe Ms. Viola is still alive. No wonder the new disciple Ghaylen took in looked familiar. It’s been years since then. Ghaylen’s quite good at keeping secrets, isn’t he?” Then, Hosen whipped his head toward Ebenez and questioned, “Ebenez, why did you tell me about this? The previous lord treated you well.”

Hosen could not wrap his head around why Ebenez would tell him about this.

If Ebenez and Ghaylen worked together, and since Viola had woken up, it would be a piece of cake for them to take Emerald Cauldron Sect back into their hands.

Yet, Ebenez had chosen to betray Ghaylen and Viola. It confused Hosen.

“Hosen, you’ve treated me well too. You let me manage various affairs in the sect, and you even assigned something as important as the warehouse to me. I know that my good days will only last if I work for you. If Viola takes over the sect, Ghaylen will become the important figure of the sect. I’m afraid I won’t have a place here anymore,” Ebenezer said.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 2684-Hosen laughed boisterously. “You’re a wise one. Since you’ve chosen to side with me, I’ll reward you handsomely once they’ve been dealt with.”

Seeing how happy Hosen was, Ebenezer smiled as well, only his smile looked a little sinister.

After leaving Hosen’s place, Ebenezer went to the warehouse again. He activated the arcane array in the corner and came to a dark space.

There, Faiyar was resting. A few days ago, he had brought his people to kill Jared, and yet, not only did he not succeed, but he had even lost a few of his subordinates. It made Faiyar depressed.

Even when he saw Ebenezer, Faiyar merely opened his eyes for a second before closing them again.

“Our chance has come,” Ebenezer said to Faiyar, his voice laced with excitement.

“Are you planning to take over Emerald Cauldron Sect?” Faiyar asked.

“Indeed. This is a rare opportunity for us,” Ebenezer replied with an affirming nod.

“I’ve just lost a few of my elites. How sure are you that we’ll succeed in taking over Emerald Cauldron Sect? Also, I’m afraid Jared is the most important variable in Emerald Cauldron Sect. He’s a big thorn in the side,” Faiyar said. The very thought of Jared made his head ache.

“Hahaha! Don’t worry. Jared won’t show up again. He’s been trapped in the medicinal pool. He might even be dead! All you need to do is contact everyone you know. Contact them all. Tell them that as long as I take over Emerald Cauldron Sect, they won’t need to stay in the shadows anymore.

They'll get to live openly in Emerald Cauldron Sect. Did Hosen really think that he could maintain his position as the lord just because he was working with the beast race? He's too naive!" Ebenezer said gleefully.

Faiyar nodded. "All right, I'll gather the people and await your good news."

When Ebenezer left the warehouse, his delight was written all over his face, for his dream was about to come true.

At the bottom of the medicinal pool, Jared finally finished studying the entire arcane array.

If he wanted to deactivate the arcane array, he would have to find the core first. It would be impossible for him to deactivate it forcibly unless he was much more powerful than the arcane array, and with the power he currently possessed, it was clearly impossible for him to deactivate it.

This is such a strange arcane array. Where in the world is its core?

Jared was baffled. He had been searching for hours, but he had yet to see a trace of where its core lay.

Being unable to find it meant that he would not be able to deactivate the arcane array, which also meant that he would be unable to find out what the arcane array was trapping.

Right as Jared was feeling at a loss, ripples suddenly appeared at the side of the arcane array as if someone else had entered the bottom of the pool.

The ripples grew in size, and Jared soon found a glowing figure. It approached him slowly, and a beat later, Jared finally saw that the glowing silhouette was a man in a robe, but that man had horns on top of his head.

Jared grew wary when he realized that the man was walking toward him. He held his Dragonslayer Sword tightly in his hand.

"Calm down. I'm not going to hurt you, and I can't hurt you anyway. I'm just a powerless projection right now," the man said to Jared.

Jared used his spiritual sense to shroud the other man's spiritual sense. Sure enough, he could not sense any aura from the other man's spiritual sense, a sign that the man was truly just a projection.

Jared finally relaxed and asked, "Who are you? Why are you here?"

A Man Like None Other Chapter 2685-"You don't need to know who I am, but I can tell you that I've always been here. What this arcane array is trapping is me," the man revealed.

"You?" Jared gasped in shock, then looked at the horns above the man's head. "You're not human, are you? Are you part of the beast race? Are those dragon horns? Are you one of the Draconians?"

Jared had always been called the Golden Dragon's True Form and the son of a dragon, so he had always assumed that his father had to be a Draconian.

If the man before him was a Draconian, then he would be the first Draconian Jared had ever come across.

At the same time, he could also find out more about his father from the man before him.

However, the man neither confirmed nor deny Jared's question. He simply smiled and said, "I told you that my identity doesn't matter. It's fate that you're here. If you can deactivate this arcane array, you'll receive unexpected gains."

"But this arcane array is too big. I can't deactivate it," Jared said gloomily.

He had been studying it for hours, but he still could not figure out where the core was. He could not deactivate it.

Taking in Jared's look, the man laughed.

"If you can't deactivate it from here, why don't you try it from the inside?"

Jared froze. "From the inside?"

He did not quite understand what the man was saying. He would not be able to get inside without deactivating the arcane array in the first place, so how was he supposed to do as the man suggested?

Right as Jared was blinking rapidly in confoundment, the man flicked his wrist, and Jared began floating.

Jared started feeling his blood boiling in his veins as blood seeped out from beneath his skin.

In no time, his surroundings were covered in crimson, and that made Jared tense up and try to struggle.

However, at that moment, the man spoke again. "Don't struggle. Think of yourself as part of the arcane array..."

Jared dispersed his spiritual sense to let it fuse with the arcane array.

Thousands of light rose from the arcane array and enveloped him.

At that moment, Jared felt like a baby in a womb. He closed his eyes as he enjoyed the sensation.

Slowly, Jared's body went down. The arcane array wrapped around him, and he went through the arcane array into another dimension.

When he opened his eyes, he realized that the giant arcane array was now above his head. The arcane array was still glimmering, but he could finally see where the core was.

Jared turned to the man beside him, confused as to how the man had managed to do this.

The man gave him a smile. "Don't resort to force for every problem you encounter. Try to use your heart to be one with it. You might realize that things are far easier to solve."

"Be one with it?" Jared frowned, still unable to figure out what the man was trying to tell him.

"All of existence intertwines, complements, and coexists in this world. A vast realm of knowledge awaits your exploration. Do you know where we are now?"

"Aren't we at the bottom of the medicinal pool?" Jared responded before he turned to survey his surroundings.

He realized that despite the darkness, he could spot dim rays of light flickering a short distance away from them. He finally registered the countless skeleton-like structures around him.

Each structure was as tall as a hill and had a somewhat crystalline texture. Jared reached out to touch it and realized it was cold.

He ran toward the light a distance away from him. Upon approaching it, he realized the light was from a draconic essence.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 2686-The aura the draconic essence emanated was intense. Once Jared got close to it, the draconic essence began shaking.

The Power of Dragons within Jared seemed to be activated too, for it started rushing outward in waves.

The beams of light from the arcane array above him flickered and danced, casting a radiant glow upon the frenzied draconic essence. It appeared as though the light was attempting to tame the wild draconic essence.

“W-What is this place? Are we in the stomach of a giant dragon?” Jared asked in shock. The sight of the draconic essence and gigantic bone structures made Jared wonder if they had fallen into a giant dragon’s stomach.

The man smiled, but he shook his head.

At that moment, Jared recalled something and turned to face the man. “You said that you’re the one trapped here. Does that mean I’m in your stomach? What’s going on? Who trapped you here?”

Jared found himself at a loss, unable to comprehend what was going on with the man.

“I’m the one who set up the arcane array to trap myself,” the man finally said.

His clarification only puzzled Jared even more. He had never encountered anyone who would set up an arcane array to trap themselves.

“Why would you do that?”

The man smiled in silence before lifting a hand to point at the draconic essence. “Take a good look at the draconic essence.”

Jared turned to look at the draconic essence as told.

His eyes widened in sheer astonishment. Before him lay a discovery that left him utterly surprised. Nestled within the draconic essence, he spotted a faint black flame. Although it was weak, it continued to burn.

Draconic essence was known for its unparalleled purity, rendering it impossible for any other materials to coexist within its essence. Yet, standing before him was a draconic essence defying this very notion and housing a peculiar black flame within its pristine core. The anomaly left Jared utterly baffled.

“What’s inside this draconic essence?” he asked the man.

“That is the demon’s demonic fire. I was grievously injured, and the draconic essence within me was burned by demonic fire back then. That’s why I set up this arcane array to trap myself within it. Otherwise, the draconic essence within me would have turned evil, and the number of people who would die because of it would be overwhelming.”

Jared’s interest was piqued, and he hastily asked, “Sir, that means you must have been around when the Celestial Battle broke out. What happened back then? Do you know who my father is? Many people say that I’m the son of a dragon and that I am the Golden Dragon’s True Form. What’s up with that?”

Since Jared had the rare opportunity of encountering one of the ancient Draconians, he desperately wished to find out more about his father.

Yet, the man turned quiet when he heard Jared’s question. He then slowly said, “Who can say what happened back then? The Heavenly Law collapsed during the battle, and chaos reigned. I was just a simple person caught in the mess. What can I possibly know?”

A somber expression clouded the man’s features.

It took him a while before he continued, “Indeed, you have the blood of Draconians flowing in you. Otherwise, you wouldn’t have been able to come here. As for who your father is, perhaps you’ll find out when you’ve really grown up.”

A profound respect and reverence crossed the man’s countenance when he spoke about Jared’s father.

Noticing that, Jared stopped pursuing the topic. It dawned on him that he would have to embark on the journey of uncovering more about his father on his own. Every time he asked about his father, he encountered this peculiar expression on people's faces, signaling their unwillingness to divulge any information.

"Then why did you bring me here?"

At that moment, Jared realized that the man had to have other motives for bringing him into the arcane array.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 2687-"You saw it too. My draconic essence is stained with demonic fire. Although it's suppressed by an arcane array now, the arcane array is bound to crumble one day! I don't want my draconic essence to fall into the hands of an evil force, so I want to give it to you. If you want it, you must remove the demonic fire first. Dare you try it?" the man asked.

Jared's eyes shone brightly as he stared at the draconic essence. I won't give up on such a great deal. Although it's risky for me to remove the demonic fire, it's worth it. After all, it's a perfect draconic essence!

"Sir, I would like to give it a try, but if I take your draconic essence, doesn't that mean you'll perish?"

The man laughed. "I've long been dead, so it doesn't matter to me anymore. Perhaps it's my destiny to give my draconic essence to the right person."

Hearing that, Jared activated his spiritual soul and dove into the draconic essence.

Meanwhile, a sect meeting was being held at the base of Emerald Cauldron Sect, and all the disciples were dressed up accordingly.

In the main hall of the sect, Hosen was seated in the main seat, and beside him were Ebenezer and Ghaylen.

The ones standing in different lines before them were the disciples of each elder.

At that moment, the atmosphere in the main hall of the sect was incredibly tense because everyone there was looking out for themselves.

Viola stood among the disciples of Ghaylen and glared at Hosen.

“Ebenez, Ghaylen, I think everyone’s here. We should start the meeting.” Hosen swept a glance at the disciples.

“Before we begin, I would like to say a few words, Hosen. May I proceed?” Ghaylen asked.

“Well, of course! Go on.” Hosen flashed a faint smile.

Ghaylen nodded, rose to his feet, and glanced at the disciples of Emerald Cauldron Sect.

Hosen and Ebenez looked at each other and smiled when they saw what Ghaylen was doing.

“Disciples of Emerald Cauldron Sect, since it’s a sect meeting, I would like to introduce you to someone.”

With that, Ghaylen nodded at Viola.

Viola leaped into the air and landed beside Ghaylen.

Hosen played dumb and asked in confusion, “What are you doing, Ghaylen?”

“Hosen, I want to expose your evil doings at the sect meeting today! I want all the disciples to know your true colors!” Viola shot Hosen a glare and suddenly took off her mask.

The disciples were stunned when they saw Viola’s face.

“Ms. Viola? Isn’t that Ms. Viola?”

“I thought Ms. Viola was dead. How is she still alive?”

“What’s going on?”

The disciples murmured among themselves.

“Oh? It’s Ms. Viola! You’re alive!” Hosen gave a small smile when he saw Viola.

Ghaylen and Viola felt their hearts sink when they saw the calm look on Hosen’s face. Afterward, the pair quickly glanced at Ebenezer.

Like Hosen, Ebenezer looked as cool as a cucumber.

Right then, Ghaylen and Viola knew something was amiss, but it was too late for them to back out.

“Hosen, you poisoned my family so that you could become the lord of Emerald Cauldron Sect! You’re a wicked man! Aren’t you afraid that you’ll die a horrible death? Fortunately, I survived, and I’m going to expose your wrongdoings! I want to avenge my parents!” Viola shouted at Hosen through her gritted teeth.

Everyone in the hall was stupefied.

None of them had expected Hosen to use such a cruel method to become the sect leader. They were also stunned to learn that Hosen had murdered their previous leader.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 2688-Suddenly, one of the disciples stepped forward and asked in disbelief, “Mr. Holt, did you kill our previous lord?”

“I did. He was weak and useless. That was why Emerald Cauldron Sect was struggling all those years. Don’t you see how mighty Emerald Cauldron Sect has become after I took reign?” Hosen admitted to the allegation rather casually.

Many of the disciples were stunned by those words, but they kept silent.

Hosen’s quick admission of guilt caught Viola by surprise.

There and then, Ghaylen raised his sword and yelled, “Fellow disciples, since Hosen has already admitted his crime, let’s unite and kill this betrayer! We must avenge our previous lord!”

“Kill the betrayer! Avenge our previous lord!” Ghaylen’s disciples shouted.

However, the rest of the disciples kept mum.

Seeing that, Ghaylen looked at Ebenezer and asked, "Ebenezer, our previous lord treated you well. Are you not uniting with us to take down Hosen?"

Deep down, Ghaylen knew the answer to that question, but he wanted to hear it from Ebenezer himself.

"Ghaylen, I never like fighting. Therefore, I'm sitting out. To me, Hosen is a worthy lord." Ebenezer smiled and took a few steps backward to show his reluctance to interfere.

Although Ghaylen had seen that coming, he was still livid.

"You're a despicable man! I shouldn't have trusted you back then! You'll face consequences for your actions!"

"Ghaylen, perhaps you should worry about yourself. I wonder if you and your disciples will live to see another day," Ebenezer responded with a smug look on his face.

"Fellow disciples, join me and kill the betrayer! We must avenge our previous lord!" Ghaylen waved his arm and dashed toward Hosen. If we want to live, we have no choice but to fight with all we have!

"Fellow disciples, join me in the fight to kill Hosen! He betrayed us! We must rebuild Emerald Cauldron Sect's reputation!" Viola roared and joined Ghaylen.

Zebediah led the rest of Ghaylen's disciples and charged forward as well.

At that point, a lot of disciples were still hesitating, and most of them were waiting to see if Ebenezer would change his mind. His decision would determine the winner of the battle.

Unfortunately, Ebenezer retreated to the side and sat down. It was obvious he wanted to sit out the battle and enjoy the show.

"Ms. Viola, are you guys really willing to risk your lives today? If you surrender now, I'll spare your disciples! Do you want to watch your disciples die to fulfill your selfish desires?" Hosen sneered.

"Hosen, we're all ready to die. None of my disciples is a coward!" Ghaylen shouted and launched his attacks on Hosen.

Right then, chaos ensued in the main hall of Emerald Cauldron Sect as Ghaylen's disciples also started fighting Hosen's disciples.

At that moment, Sigurd, Hosen's principal disciple, wasn't fighting. Instead, he fled and hid outside the main hall. If I'm alive, unlike what everyone thinks, Jared is definitely still alive! If Jared dies, my bodily spirit will vanish instantly. Without my bodily spirit, I'll be dead. Since Jared is alive, I shouldn't take part in the battle. If I join the battle, I'll be in hot water no matter which party emerges victorious!

A Man Like None Other Chapter 2689-After Sigurd ran outside, he suddenly felt that something was amiss because he sensed dozens of terrifying auras approaching the main hall of Emerald Cauldron Sect from all directions. All the disciples of Emerald Cauldron Sect are in the main hall. We don't even have guards guarding our entrance. If those intruders are here to invade Emerald Cauldron Sect, we're doomed!

Sigurd quickly hid somewhere. Soon, he saw dozens of weirdly dressed people appearing from all directions. These people have intense auras! The weakest one is at Eighth Level Manifestor!

Those intruders quickly surrounded the main hall of Emerald Cauldron Sect. Surprisingly, they were all just standing motionless outside the main hall. It seemed as though they were waiting for someone's order.

Seeing that, Sigurd hurried back into the main hall. When he arrived, the main hall had descended into total chaos, and the floor was filled with corpses.

"Stop! Everyone, stop! Something bad has happened! Something bad has happened!" Sigurd shouted at the top of his lungs.

Shortly after, the disciples stopped fighting. Hosen turned to look at Sigurd angrily. "Sigurd, as the eldest disciple, why aren't you fighting by my side? Where did you go?"

Hosen was livid when he saw that Sigurd wasn't fighting alongside him.

"Stop fighting, Master! Something bad has happened! An army of men intruded Emerald Cauldron Sect! I think they're here to attack us!" Sigurd reported to Hosen anxiously.

“What?” Hosen froze momentarily. “Who are the intruders? Did you get a good look?”

Sigurd shook his head. “I don’t know any of them, but they have already surrounded the entire main hall. We can’t afford to keep fighting against each other!”

Sigurd’s words shocked Ghaylen and Viola as well. Who would’ve thought someone would attack Emerald Cauldron Sect on the same day we fought against each other?

The rest of the disciples turned pale with fright, and Hosen was the first to rush out.

Everyone gasped in shock when they arrived outside the main hall to see the dozens of elite fighters.

“Demonic Cultivators?” Ghaylen’s expression changed drastically.

The others knew the intruders were Demonic Cultivators too and started to panic.

For so many years, Demonic Cultivators had been despised by everyone, so none of these cultivators would dare to show themselves in public. Since dozens of Demonic Cultivators had appeared all of a sudden, everyone knew something was up.

“Calm down, everyone. These people are with me. As long as you follow my orders, you’ll be safe,” Ebenezer yelled and leaped into the air.

He decided to come clean after seeing how things had progressed.

Both Ghaylen and Hosen had already suffered great losses after the chaotic battle. Knowing that the rest of the pair’s disciples were exhausted, Ebenezer thought it was his perfect chance to eliminate all of them at once.

“Why did you bring these Demonic Cultivators here, Ebenezer?” Hosen asked, his eyes cold.

“Every dog has its day, Hosen. Since you’ve been the sect leader for quite a few years now, don’t you think it’s my turn? Besides, you only got to where you are today by pulling off despicable tricks. I don't think you'll mind me doing this."

"You..." Hosen was infuriated when he heard that. He had thought he had everything under control. Little did he expect Ebenezer to set him up.

"Ebenezer, I don't mind you going after the position. However, colluding with Demonic Cultivators is a grave sin! If the other sects find out, what will they do to you?" Viola shot Ebenezer a cold look.

Ebenezer burst into raucous laughter. "So what if I collude with Demonic Cultivators? Who here has never done something outrageous to get what you want? How dare you judge me? Today, everyone must obey me if they wish to live! No one's stopping me from becoming the sect leader!"

A Man Like None Other Chapter 2690-"Forget about it! I'm not giving up my position. Besides, the disciples of Emerald Cauldron Sect would never form an alliance with Demonic Cultivators! Heed my command, disciples of Emerald Cauldron Sect! Kill Ebenezer and eliminate the Demonic Cultivators!" Hosen shouted, waving his arm. There's no way I'm giving up my position as the lord of Emerald Cauldron Sect!

However, Hosen didn't get much of a response from the disciples. After all, he had resorted to despicable means to get to where he was today back then.

At that moment, the disciples of Emerald Cauldron Sect were divided into three groups. Ghaylen and Viola, Hosen, and Ebenezer had their own group of disciples, but some of the disciples weren't sure who to support.

"Let me repeat myself. Everyone must obey me if they wish to live! Make your decision wisely!" Ebenezer swept a cold glance at the disciples of Emerald Cauldron Sect.

When those disciples met Ebenezer's cold gaze, they couldn't help lowering their heads. We're surrounded by dozens of Demonic Cultivators, and they're all on Mr. Erdell's side. In terms of strength, Mr. Erdell is clearly ahead!

"I've never been a fool all my life! Yet, you've tricked me! I'm going to kill you!" Hosen saw red and dashed toward Ebenezer. I always thought Ebenezer lacked ambition! Who would've known that he was the most ambitious man?

“Let’s join forces, Mr. Samoll! If we unite, we might win!” Viola said to Ghaylen. Hosen is our enemy, but we can’t let Emerald Cauldron Sect fall into the hands of Demonic Cultivators!

“Haha! So what if you guys join forces?”

The air shook, and flames suddenly appeared all over the sky. Seconds later, a figure slowly emerged from the flames.

The man shot out his palm. Flames swept across like gigantic waves, and the burning void around him let out bursts of explosions.

Ghaylen and Viola were swept away by the flames.

Faiyar emerged from the flames shortly after. Ghaylen and Viola were stupefied when they saw Faiyar.

They did not expect him to appear once again after he fled the last time.

“You managed to escape last time. This time, I’m going to kill you!” Ghaylen roared and charged at Faiyar.

“Let me help you, Mr. Samoll!” Viola followed suit.

The rest of the Emerald Cauldron Sect disciples also joined the battle against the Demonic Cultivators.

Meanwhile, Jared had made his way into the draconic essence.

The moment he entered the draconic essence, the demonic fire suddenly went berserk and charged in all directions wildly. It was as though it was trying to break through the draconic essence and escape.

“Where do you think you’re going?” Jared reached forward to grab it. I need to remove the demonic fire from this draconic essence!

To Jared’s disappointment, the demonic fire seemed to have a mind of its own. It dodged Jared’s palm and charged at Jared afterward.

Seeing that, Jared roared and activated his Golem Body. Instantaneously, his body began to flicker with a golden light.

The demonic fire whizzed past Jared’s body, and his body was set ablaze.

Feeling the burning sensation all over his body, Jared released his spiritual energy and formed a transparent Light Shield to extinguish the flames.

He then pushed both his palms outward to unleash a wave of terrifying aura, which surged toward the demonic fire like a tornado.

Jared wanted to use his aura to extinguish the demonic fire.

Upon getting swept past by the aura, the demonic fire ended up swaying around. Despite that, the flame was still burning brightly. In fact, it didn't seem like it would go out.

Right then, the man looked into the draconic essence and advised Jared, "You can't extinguish the demonic fire. You need to refine it."
