A Man Like None Other Chapter 2790-Noticing the look of confusion on Jared's face, Gregory explained, "You may not know this, but Jipsdale is only able to achieve such levels of greatness because it hosts the annual Alchemist Fair. The count of Jipsdale is also a remarkable alchemist. That is why Jipsdale placed this statue of Lord Alchemy here to attract and bring in more alchemists."

Jared understood that Jipsdale did it to boost its popularity and economy after listening to that.

"Looks like the count of Jipsdale is great at doing business!" he commented with a smile.

"Of course! The annual Alchemist Fair brings in countless rare and precious gems. Due to the huge amount of resources gathered here in Jipsdale, the guards watching the city gate are all Body Fusion Realm cultivators. Jipsdale would not have become this grand city without the huge amount of resources," Gregory said.

Jared got a little excited at that. "Let's hope this trip is worth it!"

I might just be able to collect a ton of rare herbs and treat Yuven!

"Thanks for your help, young man. Here, this is my token. If you have some time, feel free to drop by the Alchemist Fair and pay me a visit," Gregory said while handing Jared an exquisite-looking token.

With that token, Jared would be able to enter and exit the venue for the Alchemist Fair freely. Otherwise, he would have to wait until the day of the event and queue up like everyone else.

In other words, that token was the equivalent of a VIP pass.

After giving Jared the token, Gregory went off to see his friends while Ghaylen led Jared deeper into Jipsdale.

Jipsdale was so huge that it had an inner city and an outer city.

Those who came to Jipsdale could roam the outer city freely, but they would have to undergo a strict background check and questioning procedure before being allowed into the inner city.

As the Alchemist Fair would be held within the inner city, Jared and the others started making their way there.

“The three of us will wait for you in the outer city, Mr. Chance. Given our capabilities, we’d probably be bored to death in the inner city,” said Crixus.

As those in the inner city were powerful, high-status individuals, the Three Bandits would feel incredibly stressful in there.

In the outer city, however, one would encounter people from all walks of life. There were also casinos and arenas all over the place, which was filled with people from the lower class.

It was a place where the Three Bandits would be able to enjoy themselves to the fullest without having to worry about anything.

“Sure, but you three mustn’t steal anything. I will punish you guys severely if I find out you’ve been stealing!” Jared ordered.

“We would never dare steal from Jipsdale! That’d be no different from signing our death warrants!” the Three Bandits replied.

“Don’t worry, Jared. No one would dare cause trouble here in Jipsdale,” Ghaylen said.

Jared stretched his hand out at Viola and said, “Give me some spirit coins.”

Viola immediately handed him a few spirit coins without even asking why.

Jared tossed the spirit coins at the Three Bandits and said, “You guys just have fun out there while waiting for us.”

The Three Bandits thanked him profusely when they received the spirit coins. Not only would they not have to steal and rob, but they also had spirit coins to spend.

Yuven waited until the Three Bandits had left before saying with a smile, “You sure know how to live off a woman, Mr. Chance!”

Ghaylen burst out laughing on the spot, whereas Viola's face burned bright red instantly.

"And I enjoy doing it!" Jared replied nonchalantly.

"Hahaha!"

Everyone laughed happily as they made their way toward the inner city.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 2791-A few guards with powerful auras and silver armor were carefully screening those who entered the inner city.

Just like Ghaylen, they were all cultivators at Third Level Body Fusion Realm.

Jared couldn't help but gasp in shock when he saw that.

These guards have all reached Third Level Body Fusion Realm! This is ridiculous! Usually, only elders and captains of sects would have such high cultivation levels. Jipsdale sure is different from all the other cities! Now I'm curious what kind of person the count is!

Jared and the others were stopped by the guards the moment they tried to enter the inner city.

"Hold it right there! What are you people here for?" asked one of the guards.

"We are from Emerald Cauldron Sect. We came here to participate in the Alchemist Fair," Ghaylen replied as he stepped forward and handed the guards something that resembled an emerald token.

The guard gently fiddled with the token before nodding and returning it to Ghaylen. "Welcome."

Ghaylen put the emerald token away and led Jared and the others into the inner city.

Right as Jared was about to enter the inner city, a white light flashed before his eyes, and a barrier formed in front of him to block his path.

Jared froze as he did not expect the city gate to have an arcane array around it.

But why is everyone else able to enter? Why was it triggered when I tried to enter?

Upon seeing the arcane array get activated to stop Jared from entering, the guards quickly grabbed their weapons and surrounded him as though he were an enemy.

“You sure are bold for entering Jipsdale, you Demonic Cultivator!”

The guards were about to attack Jared when Ghaylen stepped forward and said, “This is a misunderstanding! He’s from Emerald Cauldron Sect. There’s no way he’s a Demonic Cultivator!”

That was when Jared realized why the arcane array had only activated itself when he tried to enter the inner city.

It was because he had demonic aura in his body after consuming Ira’s demon bead. As if that wasn’t enough, he had also gained a lot of demonic aura after sucking it off Gregory earlier.

Jared didn’t bother to hide his demonic aura as he hadn’t expected to run into arcane arrays like this.

“Impossible! This arcane array was created by our count, so there’s no way this is a mistake! Surrender, Demonic Cultivator! Don’t make us use force!” shouted one of the guards anxiously.

“This really is a mistake! I’m not a Demonic Cultivator!” Jared said while concealing his demonic aura.

"This really is a mistake! I'm not a Demonic Cultivator!" Jared said while concealing his demonic aura.

His demonic aura wasn't all that intense, to begin with, and he had long since refined it into the Power of Three. That further reduced the demonic aura, which allowed him to conceal it perfectly.

In order to prove his point, Jared reached out to touch the arcane array.

The arcane array instantly disappeared upon coming into contact with his hand, and Jared was able to enter the inner city without any issues.

"See? I made it through just fine! I'm not a Demonic Cultivator!" Jared said to the guards after entering the inner city.

The guards were all stunned and confused when they saw that. What is going on here?

"Try that again!" the guard ordered.

Jared then crossed the arcane array multiple times without activating it.

"Huh, that's odd. Could it be that this arcane array really is faulty?" the guard asked while scratching his head in confusion.

“There’s probably something wrong with the arcane array. We are from Emerald Cauldron Sect, so most of the people here know about us. There’s no way he’s a Demonic Cultivator!” Ghaylen said to the guard.

Seeing as the arcane array no longer got activated, the guards waved at Jared and said, “Go on, then!”
