A Man Like None Other Chapter 2815-“You’re just bragging. Let’s see how you fail when you’re crafting pills. I’ll be waiting to see you blow something up. Crafting a Fifth Level Top Tier pill is dangerous. If your mental energy isn’t enough to control the spiritual fire, it can explode. Then you’ll be blown up, and I’d love to see how you’ll brag then.”

Even though Jared had passed the first stage, Pearl still looked down on him.

Jared only smiled faintly and didn’t respond.

He exuded unwavering confidence. With a sufficient supply of herbs, he believed he could concoct pills of an even higher level than Fifth Level Top Tier.

For him, the process of alchemy itself wasn’t challenging; the real difficulty lay in obtaining the rare herbs needed for crafting these Top Tier pills.

The examiner led Jared to an alchemy room, and Pearl followed along.

Due to Pearl’s status, the examiner didn’t stop her. After all, Jared couldn’t cheat during the crafting. The outcome was entirely dependent on his skill.

Inside the room, there were several pill cauldrons of different shapes and sizes.

“For fairness’ sake, you can’t use your own pill cauldron during the assessment. We provide pill cauldrons here, and you can choose the one you’re familiar with. However, there’s also a time limit. You must craft the pill within the specified time. While failure is allowed within the time limit, if you can’t craft the correct pill in time, you’ll fail the assessment. As Fifth Level Top Tier pills are high-level pills and require a significant amount of time to craft, the assessment only requires you to produce a semi-finished product,” the examiner explained the assessment rules to Jared.

Crafting a Fifth Level Top Tier pill would usually take several days for a Fifth Level Top Tier alchemist.

Since the assessment couldn’t last for days, a semi-finished product would suffice for passing the assessment.

“Sir, can I not use the pill cauldrons here? I’m not used to them…” Jared asked the examiner.

“Didn’t I mention this? You can’t use your own pill cauldron. It wouldn’t be fair if someone used a specialized cauldron for crafting pills. The result wouldn’t accurately reflect their actual alchemical skills,” the examiner said.

“I won’t use my own pill cauldron.” Jared shook his head.

“What are you planning to use, then?” the examiner asked, puzzled.

“I’ll use that…”

Jared pointed at a crucible on a nearby table.

“Are you joking? That’s a crucible, not a cauldron. How can you use it to craft pills?” The examiner was baffled.

“Jared, are you out of your mind? Is there anyone who crafts pills using a crucible? This is a Fifth Level Top Tier pill we’re talking about. Do you think you’re crafting some common low-level pills?” Pearl said to Jared disdainfully.

“I was just asking. If it’s not allowed, then forget it.” Jared shrugged.

“There’s no rule against using a crucible to craft pills, but you should know that crafting pills with a pill cauldron has benefits. Don’t you want the enhancements that come with a pill cauldron?” the examiner asked.

“For a mere Fifth Level Top Tier pill? I don’t need enhancements from a pill cauldron. Even if you gave me a broken piece of tile, I could craft the pill on it,” Jared replied nonchalantly.

“Sir, just let him use the crucible. I’ve never seen someone as boastful as him. I want to see how he crafts a Fifth Level Top Tier pill with a crucible,” Pearl said, looking at Jared in frustration.

In truth, Jared was deliberately annoying Pearl. Ever since they met, she had been looking down on him. Jared wanted her to witness his true skills.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 2816-“Hmph! I’m leaving now. I don’t want to be embarrassed when you fail!” Pearl scoffed before exiting the room.

After all, she was the one who brought Jared there. She’d be embarrassed if he blew up the crucible by performing alchemy with it.

She left without sparing another glance at Jared. She was absolutely convinced that Jared couldn’t create a Fifth Level Top Tier pill with a crucible.

After she departed, Jared picked up the crucible and started producing the pill.

Just as Pearl left the room, she ran into Roderick, who put a smile on her face. “What are you doing here, Roderick? Do you have a friend who’s taking the assessment as well?”

“No. I’m here specifically for you,” said Roderick.

“Me? What do you want from me?” Pearl was excited.

“Can’t I meet with you for no reason?” Roderick smiled.

Upon seeing his smile, Pearl felt as though her heart was going to melt. “Of course you can meet me whenever you want, Roderick!”

“Oh yeah, didn’t you bring Jared here for an assessment? How is that going?”

“Ugh, don’t bring him up. The guy overestimates his abilities. He’s here for the Fifth Level Top Tier test. He was lucky enough to pass the first stage and is now being assessed for the second stage. He’s such a bragger. Instead of using a pill cauldron, he’s using a crucible to produce a Fifth Level Top Tier pill. Can you believe that? I didn’t want to be laughed at by others, so I left.”

“He’s using a crucible to create a Fifth Level Top Tier pill?” Roderick furrowed his eyebrows. “Which room is he in? Take me to him. I want to see if he can pull it off.”

“Of course he can’t, Roderick! Whether in terms of strength or alchemical skills, he’s no match for you.”

If Jared heard that, he probably would fly off the handle again.

“Maybe he can actually pull it off. Take me to him.” Roderick smiled.

Pearl nodded. "All right."

Roderick held her hand and followed her to the alchemy room.

Pearl blushed like a schoolgirl with excitement written all over her face.

She brought Roderick to the room, and they saw Jared calmly producing a pill.

The examiner glanced at the duo wordlessly.

Roderick fixed his gaze on Jared, whose eyes were slightly closed.

The crucible sitting before Jared was burning with spiritual fire inside and releasing green smoke.

Not too far from Jared was a half-burned candle.

Jared would fail the assessment if he couldn't successfully produce a Fifth Level Top Tier pill before the candle burned out.

"See that, Roderick? He still hasn't made substantial progress after wasting half his time. Not only that, green smoke is pouring out of the crucible. There's no way he's going to succeed." Pearl looked at Jared's crucible with disdain.

Instead of speaking, Roderick stared fixedly at Jared.

The room fell into silence as the seconds ticked by. The candle was about to burn completely when the crucible in front of Jared exploded.

Following that, white smoke rose from the crucible.

"Be careful, Roderick!" Pearl protected Roderick with her body.

The examiner also hurriedly stepped back, his face filled with anger.

They believed that Jared must have failed since the crucible had exploded.

After the white smoke dissipated, Pearl examined Roderick with worry. "Are you all right, Roderick?"

A Man Like None Other Chapter 2817-Pearl turned around, looking at Jared who had already stood up. "Why did you have to brag and use a crucible, huh? Luckily it didn't hurt Roderick. Otherwise, I'll make sure you pay for it."

Jared was displeased to hear that.

However, for Gregory's sake, he suppressed his displeasure in his heart.

"Well, your test is over since the crucible exploded and you didn't produce any pill. A young man like you should cultivate earnestly instead of bragging." The examiner frowned.

After all, he was the one who had agreed to let Jared produce a pill with the crucible. He couldn't afford to bear the responsibility for the exploded object.

"Who said I fail?" Jared smiled faintly.

"The crucible exploded. Does that not count as a failure?" the examiner asked.

"Of course not!" Jared opened his hand, revealing a green Fifth Level Top Tier pill on his palm.

The thick scent of the pill flooded the room.

Everyone was startled as they stared at the pill in his hand.

After a long while, the examiner snapped back to his senses. "Let me check if it's a Fifth Level Top Tier pill."

Jared tossed the pill to the examiner, allowing him to inspect it.

Soon, the examiner widened his eyes in shock. "This... This is a perfect Fifth Level Top Tier pill! How is the creation of a flawless Fifth Level Top Tier pill achievable in such a short time? I can't believe it!"

"What? It's not a semi-finished pill?" Pearl was taken aback, too.

Roderick's face turned grim as he knitted his eyebrows.

He couldn't believe that Jared had successfully created a perfect Fifth Level Top Tier pill in such a short amount of time. Even he couldn't accomplish that absurd feat in that timeframe.

Additionally, Jared had used a crucible, not a pill cauldron. If he had used a pill cauldron, he could've created the pill even faster.

At that moment, Roderick's pupils constricted. If Jared also participates in the Alchemist Fair, I'll most likely lose the chance to take the top spot!

"He... He actually made a flawless Fifth Level Top Tier pill, Roderick! It's unbelievable!" Pearl spoke as she held the pill Jared had created.

Roderick snapped back to his senses and inspected the pill, too. Indeed, the pill is impeccable.

"Does this mean that I've passed the test?" asked Jared.

"Yes, of course." The examiner nodded. "I'll contact the others to prepare your certificate right now!"

Jared gave Pearl a smirk before leaving the room.

Pearl had been looking down on Jared, but he had proven to her that her assumptions were wrong.

"Why's he acting all arrogant? He only passed the Fifth Level Top Tier exam. I bet you can also pass if you take the same test, Roderick!" she scoffed while staring at Jared.

Roderick remained silent. He could also pass the test because his alchemical ability had reached beyond Fifth Level Top Tier.

The only reason he wasn't considered a Fifth Level Top Tier alchemist was because he didn't take another exam.

He didn't take the exam in time because he wanted to act weaker than he really was.

At that moment, he was still shocked by Jared's performance.

Not only did Jared pass the test, but he did it with flying colors.

The fact that Jared could produce a Fifth Level Top Tier pill in the time it took for a candle to burn out was absurd.

Roderick knew that there was no way for him to pull that off, much less make one that was perfect.
