A Man Like None Other Chapter 2845-With that, the Three Bandits led Jared and Viola off to find Vasker. Before long, they arrived at a rather discreet courtyard, which wasn't very large but was guarded by two individuals at the entrance.

As Jared's group approached, they were stopped and questioned. "What brings you here?" "Sir, we're here to purchase the treasure map," Crixus replied after stepping forward.

"Here for a map, huh?" The guard scrutinized Jared and his companions, then stated, "Entrance fee for the map is ten million spirit coins. Familiar with the rules?"

"Yes, yes." Crixus nodded repeatedly and then turned to Jared. Jared had no spirit coins on him, so he looked at Viola. All the spirit coins he won in the arena had been given to Vasily.

Viola handed over the required ten million spirit coins to the guard, who then waved them through, saying, "You can go in."

As such, Jared and the others stepped forward and entered the courtyard. After walking a few steps, they soon arrived in the living hall. As they entered, they found that there were already people present.

Two men and a woman were strolling about the room, seemingly unfamiliar with each other. When they noticed Jared's party, the three of them gave them a once-over.

Since Jared and his group had relatively low cultivation levels, they were quickly dismissed as unimportant after being appraised.

Likewise, Jared looked at the three individuals, all of whom were Fifth Level Body Fusion Realm cultivators. That was a level that would be significantly valued in an ordinary sect.

Not sensing any aura related to Archaic Body Cultivation from these three, Jared surmised they weren't Vasker; they must have come to purchase the treasure map as well. Jared's group found a spot and patiently waited for Vasker's arrival.

After a short while, two people entered. Both were self-assured, armed with large blades, and wearing identical attire. These two seemed to be fellow disciples.

They were both at the Sixth Level Body Fusion Realm, making them the individuals with the highest cultivation level in the room. Upon the duo's entrance, the two men and one woman sitting in the living hall grew tense.

As all were here to buy the treasure map, conflicts were likely to arise once the treasure was found. In such a situation, those with higher cultivation levels would undoubtedly have the upper hand. The two newcomers found seats after briefly surveying the room.

Several more minutes passed, but Vasker had yet to show up. However, three more individuals entered the room.

This time, it was also two men and a woman, but when they entered, Jared was momentarily stunned. Among them were two people Jared recognized—Tyrone and the old woman from Stellaris Sect!

Additionally, there was a young man in white attire whose status and position seemed to surpass even that of Tyrone, for Tyrone and the old woman followed behind him, appearing almost like his attendants.

The young man was Cloud Seizon, the scion of Stellaris Sect and also a prodigy. Jared took a look at Cloud and was surprised. Despite the latter's young age, he had reached the Seventh Level Body Fusion Realm. Achieving such a level at this age was truly remarkable.

“Jared, you're here too?”

Tyrone's brow furrowed when he saw Jared and his party.

“Mr. Stone, do you know this person?” Cloud asked Tyrone. “Mr. Seizon, this guy was the one who secretly released our three wyverns. Besides that, he...”

Tyrone whispered a few words into Cloud's ear. Jared could easily guess the topic of their conversation. “Oh, he's a mere Second Level Body Fusion Realm cultivator, and yet he's capable of that?”

Cloud skeptically scrutinized Jared. He found it hard to believe that someone at the Second Level Body Fusion Realm could acquire the heavenly thunder fruits.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 2846-“Hmph, so what if he can fight beyond his level? I’m not afraid of him at all!”

Cloud let out a snort before scrutinizing Viola with a look. “Babe, you don’t look familiar. Where are you from? Do you want me to show you a good time?”

“You shameless jerk!” Viola snapped while rolling her eyes.

“Hahaha, that’s quite a temper you have there, babe, but I like that attitude. I am the scion of Stellaris Sect. You’ll enjoy a life of luxury if you come with me. I’m sure it will be much better than staying with that Second Level Body Fusion Realm cultivator, no?” Cloud suggested with a sleazy look..

Pfft! Viola spat in response. “Do you have a death wish?” Jared asked with an icy look.

Cloud was briefly stunned before breaking out in hearty laughter. “What did you say, kid? Me? Have a death wish? Hahaha, are you kidding. me? You’re just a Second Level Body Fusion Realm cultivator. How dare you speak to me that way? Believe it when I say I can crush you with just one hand!”

“Well, I don’t believe you!” Jared shook his head. “Looks like I really need to demonstrate it to you!”

While speaking, Cloud was about to lunge at Jared when Tyrone stopped him. “Calm down, Mr. Seizon. Fighting is not allowed in Jipsdale. This guy is just provoking you into attacking him. Therefore, we cannot take his bait. If we were to be caught fighting here, we would be heavily punished and kicked out of the city.”

The advice caused Cloud to retract his hand before shooting Jared a piercing look. “Kid, you can only behave with impunity here. Once we’re outside Jipsdale, I’ll definitely kill you for freeing Stellaris Sect’s three wyverns!”

“Oh? You don’t dare to hit me?” Jared sneered.

“Do you? If you dare, come on then. Punch me right here!” Cloud thrust his face forward to goad Jared into hitting him, for he was certain the latter wouldn’t dare break the laws of Jipsdale either.

However, little did he know that the law didn’t scare Jared, as the countess of Jipsdale was beholden to the latter. Therefore, even if Jared broke the law, he would be absolved of any punishment. Consequently, Jared unleashed a slap upon Cloud just as the latter’s face leaned forward.

Smack! A crisp sound rang out upon impact. Immediately after, Jared slammed a kick right into Cloud’s chest. As Cloud was caught off guard, the powerful kick propelled his body back, sending it crashing into the courtyard behind.

Right then, the stunned crowd gave Jared a look of disbelief. No one had expected him to dare assault someone within Jipsdale.

“Mr. Seizon! Mr. Seizon...” Tyrone and the old woman hurried to Cloud’s side to help him up. In the meantime, Jared strode out of the room. As for everyone else in the living room, they, too, swarmed outside, hoping to follow the unfolding drama.

“Argh, you b*stard! How dare you hit me. I’m going to kill you if that’s the last thing I do!” Cloud thundered.

He felt utterly humiliated that a Second Level Body Fusion Realm cultivator like Jared slapped him, a Seventh Level Body Fusion Realm cultivator, in front of everyone before sending him flying with a kick.

“Mr. Seizon, you must calm down! Please, stay your hand. The guards from Jipsdale will be arriving any time,” Tyrone pleaded as he desperately held Cloud back.

No sooner had he spoken than a few armored guards of Jipsdale barged into the courtyard with weapons in their hands.

“Who was it that started a fight here?” one of the guards demanded. “It was him. He was the one who struck Mr. Seizon,” Tyrone said with his finger pointed at Jared.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 2847-The guards quickly surrounded Jared with their weapons. In response, the Three Bandits swiftly shielded Jared.

There was no way they would allow any harm to come to Jared, whom their fate was tied to.

“The three of you, stand down. The guards won’t do anything to me,” Jared instructed confidently. With that, the Three Bandits obeyed immediately.

At the same time, one of the guards questioned Jared, “How dare you start a fight in Jipsdale? Are you asking for trouble?”

The guard behaved in an arrogant manner as he could see that Jared was only a Second Level Body Fusion Realm cultivator. Besides that, the fact that they were in the outer city meant Jared couldn’t be anyone important.

“Did you see it with your own eyes? I didn’t start a fight, nor did I hit anyone,” Jared answered.

“How dare you deny it when someone has already accused you of the crime? Besides, we already detected the aura unleashed earlier. Don’t think that you can deny your wrongdoing just because we didn’t see it,” the guard asserted.

“In that case, let me tell you that it was they who hit me!” Jared declared, shifting the blame.

“Jared, it’s useless to try and twist the facts, as there are plenty of witnesses here. You were the one who hit Mr. Seizon, while he didn’t retaliate at all. On top of that, you unleashed your aura the moment you struck. Do you really think you can fool these gentlemen here?”

The next moment, Tyrone walked up to the guards with a gleeful smile.

“Gentlemen, this man is unbelievably wicked. Not only did he break the laws of Jipsdale, but he also tried to shift the blame. You definitely cannot let him off the hook!” While speaking, Tyrone handed some spirit coins to the guards.

Upon receiving the coins, the guards replied smilingly, “Don’t worry, Mr. Stone. Anyone who commits a crime in Jipsdale will not go unpunished. We will arrest him right away but will need to trouble you and Mr. Seizon to come with us. Once we have determined that Mr. Seizon was hurt by him, whatever he says in defense will be useless!”

As Stellaris Sect was a major sect in the area, the guards naturally knew its members. “No problem. We’ll provide our full cooperation.”

Tyrone nodded repeatedly. "Come with us, punk. You will need to be punished for breaking our laws." Just as the guard spoke, he put his hand on Jared's shoulder.

"Stop!" Right then, a frosty voice rang out, heralding Hester's arrival.

"Mr. Sparrow..." The guards bowed immediately at the sight of Hester. Even Cloud and Tyrone, along with everyone else in the courtyard, greeted Hester respectfully.

After all, other than the countess, no one else wielded more authority in Jipsdale than Hester. Unlike the countess, whom many had not seen before, Hester was a lot more accessible to the common man.

"What's going on?" Hester asked the guard. "Mr. Sparrow, we are arresting this man for starting a fight here," the guard explained.

"Did you witness it yourself?" Hester questioned. "Um..." The guard was briefly stunned. "No, but we have witnesses. Many here saw him strike Mr. Seizon just now."

"Mr. Sparrow, this man did assault Mr. Seizon earlier. There's even a wound on Mr. Seizon's face and body to prove it!" Tyrone frantically added.

When Hester turned toward Jared, the latter maintained a relaxed expression as he spoke. "Mr. Sparrow, do the guards in Jipsdale accept bribes? These people from Stellaris Sect gave these men spirit coins, so they'll obviously side with them. Anyway, it's not like I started a fight or hit anyone. But since you're here, I would like to borrow some spirit coins from you for my expenses."

"How much do you need?" Hester asked.

"A hundred million," Jared replied with his hand outstretched, palm up.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 2848-Taken aback, Hester exclaimed, "A hundred million? How could I possibly have that many spirit coins with me? I need to go and withdraw it."

Right then, Tyrone was stunned that Jared was not only denying the fact that he had beaten someone up but was also asking Hester for a loan. Whoa! How shameless!

“It’s no use denying it when Mr. Seizon is still bearing injuries, Jared!” he roared following the man’s denial. “That’s because he’s clumsy and fell. What has it got to do with me?” Jared scoffed with a disdainful snicker.

“How dare you!” Tyrone was so livid that he had steam coming out of his ears. The few guards were also looking grim at present, for they had never expected Hester to come.

“All right, since I did not witness this incident, let’s just put a close to it. Henceforth, no one is allowed to do violence in Jipsdale!” Hester declared with a wave of his hand. It was evident that he was brushing the matter off without pursuing it further.

Hearing that, Cloud immediately protested, “Mr. Sparrow, I’m bearing injuries, and there are also eyewitnesses to the incident! Yet, you’re closing the case with a single sentence? In this case, does that mean that I can also do violence in Jipsdale?”

“You can try it.” Hester’s expression turned icy at how the younger man challenged him, and he stared at Cloud with a chilly look in his eyes.

At his expression, Cloud hastily amended, “I was just giving an example. I’ll never do violence and violate Jipsdale’s rules. But Jared indeed hit me. It was an act of violence!”

“As I said, I didn’t witness it. If I see him doing violence, I’ll definitely punish him,” Hester asserted. “Okay, then. I’ll show you how arrogant he is!”

After saying that, Cloud stalked up to Jared. He glanced at Viola beside the man and drawled, “This woman is your partner, huh, Jared? But isn’t it a waste for her to serve you alone when she’s so pretty? Once you’ve left Jipsdale, I’ll strip her bare and have everyone mount her.”

“What a monster and scoundrel!” Viola snapped furiously, her face flushed bright red. Nonetheless, Cloud merely looked at Jared with a smile on his face. He was deliberately provoking the man to strike him. Then, Hester would be able to witness it personally.

“Are you purposefully provoking me so I’d hit you?” Jared asked.

“Yes. Weren’t you all high and mighty just now? Why, have you lost your guts now that Mr. Sparrow is here? Hit me! Come on!”

Cloud placed his face right before the man and goaded him incessantly. "Since you want to be beaten so badly, I'll grant you your wish." While saying that, Jared lifted his hand and swung it forward.

Slap! A crisp sound rang out as a hard smack landed on Cloud's face. Unexpectedly, while Cloud was thrilled and ready to urge Hester to punish Jared, the latter did not stop but continued slapping him.

Slap! Slap! Slap!

A series of crisp slapping sounds split the air as the smacks landed on his face. Everyone was stumped at that sight. Cloud's head whipped back and forth as Jared slapped him, yet he dared not retaliate.

Tyrone quickly stepped forward upon seeing that and said to Hester, "Do you see this, Mr. Sparrow? Are you seeing this? Jared has gotten physical. He's hitting Mr. Seizon!"

"I see it. I don't need you to remind me about it," Hester uttered coldly. "In that case, hurry up and put a stop to it!" Tyrone prompted anxiously.

By then, Cloud had already been slapped a dozen times by Jared. He wanted to dodge, but it was already too late as his head spun from all the strikes he had suffered.

"Are you giving me an order?" Hester regarded Tyrone with a frosty expression on his face. Such fear struck Tyrone that he shuddered and waved his hands, denying, "No, no, I'd never dare!"

Everyone watched quietly as Cloud was beaten into a pulp. Not a single person stepped forward to put a stop to it.
