

A WARRIOR UNDEFEATABLE/

A Man Like None Other Chapter 3396-Pablo was covered in blood from head to toe as he stood there with countless demon beast corpses beneath his feet. Having arrived late, Dimas swallowed nervously and didn't dare say a word when he saw that.

Pablo's battle against the demon beasts had attracted quite a lot of cultivators to the scene, most of whom were Demonic Cultivators.

However, the human cultivators ran off in fear when they felt Pablo's demonic aura and saw the demon beast corpses all around him.

While the human cultivators feared that Pablo would go berserk and kill them all, the Demonic Cultivators had excitement written all over their faces.

One could only imagine the amount of beast cores they could get from all those demon beast corpses.

As those demon beasts grew up on the Celestial Battlefield, their beast cores were much better than those outside.

While those Demonic Cultivators were busy looting the beast cores, Pablo ignored them completely. Although he was the one who killed the demon beasts, he wasn't interested in the beast cores at all.

Dimas, too, started looting the beast cores.

As Pablo stared off into the distance, an eye appeared in between his brows.

The world turned dark as he activated Nethersky Eye once again, and he could clearly see the direction in which Jared fled.

The eye on Pablo's forehead then vanished shortly after, and he exuded a murderous aura as he said, "Don't even think about running from me within the Celestial Battlefield!" He then headed off in Jared's direction, prompting most of the Demonic Cultivators to do the same.

They hoped that they would be able to collect some magical items by following behind Pablo.

Since there was no order in the Celestial Battlefield, the Demonic Cultivators had to remain united. Otherwise, they could be easily killed by cultivators from other races.

Human cultivators and beast race cultivators, too, sought out companions as traveling alone would make them easy targets.

Meanwhile, Jared was resting atop a huge rock. He didn't think Pablo would be able to track him down and catch up to him so easily.

He was about to close his eyes when he felt people approaching. Jared quickly put his guard up in response, only to relax when he saw that it was Cameron and the members of the Nesser family.

"Mr. Chance! It truly is a pleasant surprise seeing you here! I heard you came in here in advance using a VIP token. Did you manage to get anything so far?" Cameron exclaimed excitedly when he saw Jared.

"I didn't get much. This Celestial Battlefield is huge, so finding magical items here isn't as easy as I had imagined. Did you manage to find anything?" Jared responded.

"We only managed to find some mystical herbs and obtained some beast cores from demon beasts that we killed. Not much luck with magical items here either.

Do you have companions, Mr. Chance? If not, we could team up and travel together. There are no rules here in this Celestial Battlefield, so it'd be dangerous to fight alone," Cameron said passionately, inviting Jared to join his group.

"It's fine. I'm used to doing things by myself. If we travel together, you guys might not be able to get anything at all!" Jared replied, rejecting Cameron's invitation politely.

As Jared had entered the Celestial Battlefield three days before they did, Cameron figured he would know more about it than they did. As such, he tried to persuade Jared once again. "Mr. Chance, if we travel together, we could-" "Stop forcing him if he doesn't want to, Cameron." Skylar cut him off all of a sudden.

Cameron immediately lowered his head and said, "Got it, Elder Nesser..." Jared shot Skylar a glance and explained, "To tell you guys the truth, I offended quite a lot of people here in this Celestial Battlefield. You guys are bound to get caught in the crossfire if I join your group." While speaking, he casually cast his spiritual sense in Skylar's direction.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 3397-Skylar frowned slightly when he felt it, but he showed no response and allowed Jared's spiritual sense to scan his body.

With the exception of my divine soul, everything about me is different now, so Jared can't possibly detect anything or recognize me now! If I endure this, I'll be able to keep a close eye on him at all times.

Although Skylar had the best chance at killing Jared here in the Celestial Battlefield, he didn't dare make his move.

Putting aside the fact that Cameron might try to stop him from doing so, Skylar knew about Jared's feat at Creston Sect. To ensure that everything would go perfectly, Skylar wanted to see Jared's true strength before making his move.

On top of that, Skylar's body had yet to make a full recovery. After all, he was possessing someone who had been dead for thousands of years, so it would take a very long time to make a full recovery.

Jared's suspicion intensified after scanning Skylar with his spiritual sense.

He could confirm that the aura of the elderly man before him was extremely similar to that of Skylar's. In fact, it wouldn't be an overstatement to say that they were the same person.

Since Skylar had been constantly pestering Jared in the mundane world, Jared was all too familiar with his aura.

However, the elderly man's age and appearance did not match Skylar's at all.

On top of that, Cameron had mentioned that the elderly man was an elder of the Nesser family.

Besides, everyone had witnessed Skylar's death in the mundane world. It was impossible for him to come back to life, let alone show up in Ethereal Realm.

Right as Jared was lost in thought, he trembled all of a sudden, and his expression grew solemn shortly after.

He could feel that Pablo was rapidly closing in on his position.

“F*ck! Why won’t he leave me alone? How did he even manage to find me here?” Jared muttered under his breath.

He then turned toward Cameron and continued, “Sorry, Mr. Nesser, but I have to get going now. There are still some things I need to take care of.” Jared quickly ran off after saying that, leaving Cameron rooted to the spot in confusion. Before Cameron could say anything further, a figure ran past him.

Behind that figure were over a dozen Demonic Cultivators.

They didn’t even glance at those from the Nesser family as they passed them by, so it was obvious that those people were all after Jared.

At that moment, Cameron knew that Jared was telling the truth about putting them in danger if he teamed up with them.

“Come on! Let’s go take a look!” Skylar became all excited when he saw Jared being pursued. He wanted to see how powerful Jared had become as the latter’s cultivation level alone was no longer an accurate representation of his true strength.

Thinking that Skylar wanted to help Jared out, Cameron asked, “Are we going to lend Mr. Chance a hand, Elder Nesser?” Skylar shot Cameron a glare and said, “No. We’re just there to see what happens. Is that understood?” He then ran off in Jared’s direction immediately after, prompting Cameron to follow suit. Meanwhile, Jared felt the dangerous aura getting closer and closer.

“What the f*ck? How did that guy locate me?” Jared had no idea how Pablo was able to pinpoint his exact location each time.

This guy sure is a real pain in the neck!

“It’s possible that Pablo possesses Nethersky Eye, Mr. Chance. It is said that the Demonic Cultivator Tanner managed to obtain Nethersky Eye through cultivation. Not only does Nethersky Eye allow its user to see through everything, but it also lets them see what happened a while back in time. The higher a person's cultivation level, the more powerful his Nethersky Eye will be.

Because Tanner peeked at divine secrets using Nethersky Eye, however, it was suppressed and disappeared later on. Pablo's power increased suddenly after he fell into Demon Devouring Cave, so something must've happened to him inside. It's possible that he learned Nethersky Eye. That would explain how he was able to pinpoint your exact location, Mr. Chance," Faiyar explained within Jared's mind.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 3398-Jared felt distressed when he heard that. "Nethersky Eye?" That guy was a really tough opponent even before this! Now that he has Nethersky Eye, dealing with him will be even more difficult!

Although his mind was busy thinking of a strategy, Jared's feet did not rest even for a second. He was using Wind Walk so much that he was practically smoking, but the dangerous aura behind him only continued to close in on him with each passing second.

Swoosh!

Suddenly, Jared felt a gust of wind surging toward him from behind. He didn't even dare look back as he lunged forward and did a roll to dodge the attack.

By the time Jared got up, Pablo was already standing in front of him with a look of disdain on his face.

"I told you, punk. You can't escape me, so stop running and accept your fate!" Pablo said coldly.

"F*ck you!" The look in Jared's eyes grew intense as he manifested Dragonslayer Sword in his hand. He refused to give up without a fight even though he knew he was outmatched. It simply wasn't his style.

Golem Body enveloped Jared's entire body as the draconic essence glowed brightly within his chest.

"Nine Shadows!" Jared yelled as shadow clones appeared next to him. Within seconds, six shadow clones surrounded Pablo.

All six of the shadow clones possessed the exact same aura as Jared. However, Pablo did not panic in the slightest even when Jared cloned himself.

Thinking that Jared was using an illusion spell, Pablo said, “Hmph! You think a mere illusion spell will save you?” Jared ignored him and shouted out loud, “Attack!” If he thinks Nine Shadows is an illusion spell, then I’ll use this opportunity to catch him off guard!

All six of Jared’s shadow clones unleashed a beam of light from their respective swords. The six beams of light then split into thousands that surrounded Pablo as they closed in on him.

Pablo frowned slightly when he felt the dangerous aura coming from all directions.

“It’s not an illusion spell?” That was when Pablo noticed each of Jared’s shadow clones felt just like the real deal. The beams of light, too, were not illusions.

Pablo’s pupils contracted as the beams of light enveloped him whole.

“So what if you can produce shadow clones? You still can’t kill me!” Pablo roared. A black fog then came out of his body and wrapped itself tightly around him.

“Dark Demon Armor!” Pablo yelled, prompting the black fog to solidify and turn into a suit of armor.

As the black armor reflected no light at all, it looked like a dark abyss. Jared’s golden Golem Body and Pablo’s Dark Demon Armor formed a clear contrast. It was as though they were opposites clashing against each other.

Upon arriving at the scene, Dimas and the Demonic Cultivators were frozen in shock when they saw six clones of Jared, each clad in golden armor, surrounding Pablo in his black armor.

Countless beams of light could be seen closing in fast on Pablo.

“W-What’s going on here? Why are there six of him? Are they sextuplets?” “Nonsense! Can’t you see that they’re all the same person? They must be illusions! This can’t be real!” “No, it doesn’t look fake to me. They’re all exuding the exact same aura.” The Demonic Cultivators murmured among themselves as they watched on from the side. Dimas’ face went pale as he didn’t expect Jared to have so many tricks up his sleeve.

He had assumed that he got tricked by Jared last time because he was careless. As it turned out, he was simply no match for Jared at all.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 3399-Jared didn't even need to use Nine Shadows when going against him back then.

Those from the Nesser family, too, had arrived at the scene. Cameron was frozen in shock and confusion when he saw six clones of Jared.

Skylar's expression grew incredibly solemn as he could tell Jared had become ridiculously powerful after entering the Ethereal Realm.

With everyone watching, the beams of light pierced Pablo's body, but he simply stood there and took the attack. His expression didn't even change in the slightest.

Pablo's body was also completely unharmed despite being stabbed by all those beams of light. It was as if the Dark Demon Armor had consumed the beams of light upon contact. The attacks did no damage to Pablo and the armor whatsoever.

"What the f*ck? Pablo is way too powerful!" "What's going on here? How did Pablo become so powerful in such a short period of time?" "What's that armor he's wearing? I've never even heard of it!" The Demonic Cultivators were utterly shocked. Pablo was just an average wandering cultivator back then, so no one took him seriously. As such, it was only natural that the Demonic Cultivators would be surprised to see him in such a powerful state after he went missing for some time.

Dimas was so shocked that his jaw dropped on the spot.

Jared, too, frowned with a look of surprise in his eyes.

"Oh no! Mr. Chance is in danger!" Cameron instinctively clenched his fists out of concern for Jared's safety.

"Your Clone Technique is impressive, punk. I thought it was an illusion spell at first. It seems I have underestimated you. You're a First Level Tribulator, and yet, you possess a Clone Technique and teleportation magecraft. You must have some nice magical items on you, huh? If you hand them over and give me your magecraft, I might just grant you a merciful death!" Pablo said scornfully.

“F*ck you!” Jared yelled before turning around and running off.

All six of his shadow clones proceeded to run in different directions. Jared was hoping to buy himself some time by sacrificing some of his shadow clones.

Instead of chasing after the shadow clones, Pablo simply stood there with a disdainful expression.

He then gently rubbed his forehead with his palm, prompting an eye to appear between his brows.

As the eye opened, everything in his surrounding area turned gray.

Jared, who was running for his life, felt as though he was being targeted when he noticed the changes around him.

“It’s Nethersky Eye, Mr. Chance! He has activated Nethersky Eye again, so your shadow clones are useless now!” Faiyar reminded him anxiously.

Jared turned around and saw that Pablo was charging straight at him. His shadow clones had all disappeared as a result of Nethersky Eye.

Realizing that it was impossible to escape, Jared stopped running and turned around. The eye on Pablo’s forehead had vanished as he casually made his way over.

“What’s the matter? Why did you stop running?” Pablo asked with a sneer.

“I’m done running. Your Nethersky Eye is so ridiculously powerful that I can’t escape from you anyway!” Jared replied with a sigh.

“You know about Nethersky Eye too? It seems you are quite knowledgeable.

Since you’re done running, then do as I say, and I promise to grant you a painless death. Otherwise, I will suck your bodily spirit out and torment you endlessly!” Pablo threatened.

The Demonic Cultivators had gathered around them as well.

“What’s the matter, brat? What happened to all that arrogance of yours? You’d better do as Mr. Quimar says, or you’re going to be in for a world of pain!” Dimas said gleefully when he saw that Jared had given up on escaping.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 3400-Jared gave Dimas a look of disdain, saying, "Why is a nobody like you interrupting our conversation? It's true that I'm no match for him, but I can still kill you with a snap of my fingers." "You..." The look in Jared's eyes struck fear into Dimas, causing him to back away and hide behind Pablo.

Dimas did not doubt what Jared said. If the latter endeavored to kill him, even Pablo couldn't save him.

As a result, Dimas no longer had the guts to provoke Jared any further.

Meanwhile, after watching the scene before him unfold, Cameron asked anxiously, "Elder Nesser, should we lend Mr. Chance a hand?" "There's no need to..." Skylar shook his head.

"But Elder Nesser, Mr. Chance has helped the Nesser family back in the far north. We can't just stand by and watch, can we?" Cameron remonstrated.

If he hadn't worked together with Jared back then, he would have been killed by the Five Slayers from Demon Seal Alliance.

"Don't worry, Jared won't die that easily," Skylar commented nonchalantly, his gaze fixed on Jared. The remark surprised Cameron, and he gave Skylar a suspicious look. He couldn't understand how Skylar knew that Jared would survive.

It sounds as if he knows Jared very well.

"Have you come to your senses, young man? Are you going to do as I say, or do I have to beat you into submission?" Pablo asked Jared.

"I have never submitted to anyone before. My stance remains the same even in the face of an immortal, let alone a lowly Eight Level Tribulator like you. Even if I can't beat you, I'll still make you suffer in whatever way I can!" Jared declared with a vicious look in his eyes.

"You've got guts, kid. In that case, show me what you've got," Pablo sneered.

"I'll be honest with you. I still have a lot up my sleeves that'll shock you." No sooner had Jared finished than he pulled out a long whip. Before Pablo could tell what weapon Jared was holding, the latter cracked the whip at him.

However, Pablo didn't bother to dodge, his eyes brimming with contempt, for he knew that someone of Jared's caliber couldn't hurt him at all. With his body protected by Dark Demon Armor, whatever weapon Jared used was futile.

However, when Demon Flogger was about to strike him, Pablo was abruptly gripped by fear, panic clearly visible in his eyes.

The reason for that was that Demon Flogger's aura could pierce through Dark Demon Armor and reach into his consciousness field.

Crack!

Upon impact, Pablo groaned as he retreated three steps back. He felt as though his very soul had been struck by the whip. The resulting pain was so excruciating that he could barely breathe.

As for the other Demonic Cultivators, the fact that they weren't struck by Demonic Flogger didn't stop them from feeling a sting in their hearts from its aura, as if someone had punched it.

"What weapon is that?" Pablo asked, brows furrowed.

"This is Demon Flogger, made specially to whip Demonic Cultivators like you," Jared replied with a snigger.

"Demon Flogger?" Pablo's eyes narrowed slightly. "No wonder my Dark Demon Armor couldn't stop it. It's a weapon that attacks a Demonic Cultivator's spiritual sense." "Now that you know its power, get lost before I kill you with it," Jared threatened as he raised Demon Flogger.

"Hahaha, I can't believe how naive you are. Do you think you can defeat me just because you have Demon Flogger?" Pablo burst into hearty laughter.

"Why don't you give it a try, and you'll have your answer..." With that, Jared crack the whip at Pablo again. As for the other Demonic Cultivators, all of them turned tail and ran, worried about being caught by Demon Flogger's scathing attacks.
