

Married At First Sight Chapter 3042

Married At First Sight Chapter 3042-That was something that offended people.

Something to offend the York family.

They spread the word randomly because their heads were caught in the door.

Mr. Levine nodded. "I will pay attention."

He held his wife's hand again and comforted her: "Don't blame yourself; the child made a mistake; we just helped the child correct the mistake and let her learn the lesson. No matter how good a child is, he will get confused sometimes. Who can make no mistakes without being a sage? Don't blame yourself."

Mrs. Levine sighed. "I hope Samira really knows she was wrong."

Mr. Levine said, "I think she knew she was wrong. She is not bad-hearted. She was just blinded by jealousy for a moment and drank some wine before she said anything hurtful."

After this lesson, Mr. Levine believed that his daughter knew she was wrong. His wife also asked Samira to go to those remote mountainous areas to visit and help people who needed her help after reflection.

Having lived in those places could give Samira a great shock.

When Samira came back, she believed she would be reborn, became open-minded, and cherished life and everything she had.

Letting Samira help those in the mountainous areas was a good deed, and it also allowed her to accumulate virtue herself.

Labbe family villa.

Before Carrie came back, Mr. Labbe already knew what happened at the banquet.

When Carrie entered the room, he looked at her.

Carrie thought Mr. Labbe had left. Every time he came over, he would leave soon after venting his anger.

Then it would take a while for it to come over.

Before going out, Mr. Labbe seemed to be leaving. She thought that when she came back, Mr. Labbe would have been gone long ago.

She didn't expect Mr. Labbe to still be there.

Being looked at by Mr. Labbe like this, Carrie was very nervous, and her heart was pounding.

Thinking of her performance tonight, she felt that she had not made any mistakes, and her fear was slightly reduced.

"Mr. Labbe."

Carrie walked to Mr. Labbe and sat down. After sitting down, she hugged one of his arms affectionately and leaned against him.

"Mr. Labbe, don't look at me with such sharp eyes. I will be very scared and have nightmares. I performed very well tonight and didn't show any flaws. When Camryn was bullied, I also spoke up for her."

Mr. Labbe smoked a cigarette and said nothing. From time to time, he would spray smoke at Carrie, causing her to cough.

Sometimes, Carrie wanted to stab Mr. Labbe to death.

It's a pity that she didn't have that ability.

If she has such an idea, she doesn't have the guts to act on it.

Mr. Labbe said calmly, "I know everything that happened at the banquet. Your overall performance is barely qualified, but it still can't dispel Camryn's doubts about you."

Carrie curled her lips and said, "She and I have been sisters for more than 20 years, and she knows me very well."
