

Arabella 115

Chapter 115

Serena tailed Romeo all the way until his car pulled up near a company.

It's a clothing company owned by the Collins family, and Arabella is the boss.

Serena guessed right—Romeo really came to see Arabella!!

He left Serena in the conference room for a full two hours without a word but was super attentive to Arabella.

Serena didn't get it, what was so special about Arabella?

Maybe in his world, after seeing so many refined ladies, he just wanted to hang out with regular people?

Romeo got out of the car in a white shirt. Handsome as he was, he dimmed the surroundings just by existing.

That's him, alright, always stealing the spotlight the minute he shew up, easily catching everyone's eye.

up to him, he gently but assertively wrapped her

the corners of Romeo's mouth. "Not long: I just got here."

could you tone

by the road; what if someone

hold you

at her with a hint of fondness and tenderness on his handsome face that most people wouldn't see.

"Are you

"Not busy."

you miss me?"

"No."

busy, and you didn't miss me?"

Arabella didn't respond.

tighter. "I'm going to punish you by hugging you

suddenly thought Romeo was a bit

don't look for you,

felt a bit helpless. "I have a lot of things to deal with."

think about me