Chapter 466 No Effort Needed

Sylvia was confident that she would be able to make these people talk “I’ll give you one more chance. Where did these counterfeit products come from?” Sylvia asked as she walked up to them.

All of them exchanged glances without saying anything.

“Still as stubborn as ever, I see. Don’t blame me, then.” Sylvia’s expression turned cold. She gestured with her hand and said, “Boys, give them a taste of pain!”

As soon as she finished speaking, a group of armored soldiers appeared.

Every single one of them was accompanied by a trained police dog.

These dogs were huge, with big mouths and extremely sharp fangs.

When the people saw the dogs, they became afraid.

“What do you think you’re doing?”

“What you’re doing is illegal. I’m goin to call the Inspector General’s office!”

The franchisees were starting to panic.

“The Inspector General’s office?” she snickered.

None of them would dare to meddle even if the inspectors were to come.

“Do it now!” Sylvia said.

The dogs barked ferociously as they ran toward the franchisees.

“I’m getting bitten to death!”

“Save me!”

The screams filled the entire factory.

They tried to struggle against the dogs but to no avail.

They weren't able to free themselves from the jaws of the dogs.

One of the dogs sunk its teeth into the calf of one man.

"It's so painful I'm going to die!"

"Someb*dy help us!"

All the franchisees were struggling hard.

+15 BONUS

But the more they struggled, the harder the dogs bit them.

These dogs could even tear their flesh off.

A few minutes later, Sylvia walked over to Caspian and said, "Caspian, I've got the answer.

Sylvia took out a folder.

With his eyes closed, Caspian took the folder.

After reading it through, his face became frigid.

"The Kane family? I can't believe it's them. Haven't they learned their lesson?"

"I've decided to let you off the hook, but I guess no more playing Mr. Nice Guy," Caspian said coldly.

His initial assumption was the Morrison family.

Who would have thought that it was the Kane family all along?

The Kane family produced large quantities of counterfeit products and sold them to franchisees at low prices.

These money-obsessed franchisees thought that they could get away with this.

Getting the fake goods at low prices could increase their profitability as they sold the products to customers at normal prices.

But what they were doing was slowly destroying Southlake Corporation's reputation.

"Caspian, what should we do about them?" Sylvia asked as he looked at the franchisees on the ground.

Caspian shot them a quick glance.

All of them rushed to kneel on the ground.

"Mr. Lynch, please spare us.

"We were just momentarily blinded by money. We didn't really mean to sell these counterfeit products!"

"Please, I beg you. We swear not to do this again."

"Spare you? Dream on! Because of your greed, Southlake Corporation's name was dragged through the mud. You must pay for what you've done!" Caspian said coldly.

"Sylvia, have them sent to the Inspector General's office. They must be punished!"

"Yes, Caspian!" Sylvia nodded.

After hearing what Caspian said, they became numb.

Not only did they lose their franchisee's right, but they might also face jail time.

Their impulsiveness and greed had destroyed everything.

They were starting to regret it, but it was already too late.

+15 BONUS

Caspian and Sylvia were entering the Kane Tower when they were stopped by a few guards. "What are you doing? Stop there!"

The two had just entered the Kane Tower before they were stopped by a few b*dyguards.

"What a bunch of idiots. We were introduced by Mr. Connolley. He said we can come here to talk business. Can you afford to compensate us if our deal falls through?" Sylvia spat.

The b*dyguards exchanged glances.

They wouldn't want that either.

"You may enter." The b*dyguards instantly switched their tone.

Caspian, Sylvia, and a few other men entered the tower.

Inside the office, Hugh was sitting on the couch leisurely.

He was Matteo's distant relative and was working for him as well.

A few days ago, Matteo assigned him the task of selling counterfeit products to franchisees for cheap.

Since Southlake Corporation's brand was slapped onto the products, they were surprisingly easy to sell.

It only took them a few days to sell five to six billion worth of counterfeit goods.

It would even be possible to sell more than one billion products in a few days.

He could also profit from this.

It was at this moment when a b*dyguard walked in.

"Mr. Kane, someone is here for a business meeting. They mentioned that it was Mr. Connolley who had introduced them."

"Mr. Connolley?"

Hugh was trying to recall who it was.

375

+15 BONUS

Indeed, there was a franchisee who went by that name.

Nevertheless, because the guest was here for a business discussion, he didn't refuse.

"Let them in." Hugh smiled.

Caspian and Sylvia walked in.

However, Caspian didn't look like someone who was there for a business discussion. As soon as he walked into the office, he just sat down on the couch.

Hugh was a little taken aback by his smug attitude.

"Are you a friend of Mr. Connolley?" Hugh asked.

"That's right," Caspian said as he took a cigar out and took a puff of it.

"Do you know what our products are?" Hugh wasn't a fool either. He had to ask

This wasn't a small matter. He had to approach this with caution.

After all, he was selling counterfeit goods. It would be troublesome if people were to find out about it.

"Aren't they counterfeit goods? Those who don't know better would think that they are selling contraband!" Caspian said with a look of disdain on his face.

Hugh was speechless.

Even though they were really selling counterfeit goods, Caspian was a little too blunt about it.

“As long as you know what you’re getting yourself into. How much do you want? I’ll let you know first that it starts at ten million goods. Any lesser than that, and the deal’s off,” Hugh said smugly.

“Just ten million? I’ll buy everything!” Caspian said as he waved his hand.

Hugh looked visibly happy hearing this.

He looked at Caspian. Could it be that Caspian was a big client?

Hugh stretched out five fingers.

“Five billion?” Caspian asked.

Hugh was dumbfounded. Caspian was being a little ambitious.

If he really had five billion counterfeit goods, the entire market would be filled with his goods.

“500 million,” Hugh said awkwardly.

“It’s only 500 million? I thought there would be more! I can’t believe you have the audacity to

+15 BONUS

Southlake Corporation’s monthly sales were at least in the billions.

But these people only have 500 million goods.

“The factory had just started their production. The quantity would definitely increase over time,” Hugh explained.

“Is that so? So you’re saying you have an independent factory? I guess the scale of your production is pretty big?” Caspian asked tentatively as he narrowed his eyes.

“That goes without saying! The Kane family’s factory is the largest in the entire Dhord City! Even the Morrison family is working together with us. I guess you know the scale of our production now,” Hugh said, looking pleased with himself.

“Beautiful! That’s what I’d like to hear!” Caspian guffawed. “I was worried that I wouldn’t be able to find the source of the goods! I’m glad that there’s even a factory!”

“Why are you even here? Do you even want to buy it? Otherwise, stop wasting my time!” Hugh said irritably.

“I want everything you have! I also want the factory!” Caspian said with a smug smile.

“What? You’re here to mess with me, aren’t you?” Hugh asked angrily. He realized that Caspian wasn’t even here for a business discussion.

He was obviously here to mess with him!

Suddenly, Caspian rose from his seat and slapped Hugh across the face.

“Did you just fucking slap me?” Hugh was stunned by the sudden slap.

“What about it? You sold counterfeit copies of Southlake Corporation’s products. I’m going to have you arrested!”

“I’m giving you a chance to atone for your sins. Take me to the Kane family’s factory!” Caspian said coldly.

“Huh? Who the hell are you? Are you perhaps related to Southlake Corporation?” Hugh asked as he looked at Caspian and the others in shock.

He had only just realized that he had been tricked.

They had visited under the guise of purchasing goods when they were actually here to investigate!

“Wow, you’re really not the sharpest tool in the shed, are you? Took you some time to realize!

Caspian smirked.

11

“The fucking audacity to come onto my turf and play games with me, huh? F*** around and find out! Good luck leaving here alive!” Hugh yelled as his face darkened.

“Guards!”

Suddenly, more than 20 b*dyguards rushed into the office, surrounding both Caspian and Sylvia.

“The Kane family lost the market in Enies because of Southlake Corporation. I must have all of you captured today and brought to Matteo!” Hugh said passionately.

As long as he could have these two captured and handed over to Matteo, he would definitely be of importance to Matteo.

He could even become someone important to the Kane family.

+15 BONUS

The more he thought about it, the more excited he became.

“Sylvia, I’ll let you deal with this trash,” Caspian said as he gestured with his hand.

These minions weren’t worthy of his effort.

“Leave it to me, Caspian!” Sylvia said before rushing out.

With swift motions, Sylvia had them all on the ground within two or three minutes.

“Wha-?” Hugh was utterly shocked.

These b*dyguards had all been carefully selected and trained rigorously. How could they be so weak?

They were so weak that even a woman could defeat them?

“Enough with your nonsense! Take me to the factory right away!” Caspian didn’t want to waste any more time on Hugh.

He wanted to find the factory as soon as possible. In his eyes, this factory of the Kane family had already belonged to him.

“That’s not possible! I’ll never let you know where the factory is!”

Hugh finally realized that Caspian’s objective was to find the factory.

He would never dare to reveal the location of the factory.

Caspian smirked when he saw Hugh’s stubborn face.

“Playing hard to get, huh? Sylvia, let him taste our wrath,” Caspian said.

Sylvia took two steps forward.

Hugh was trembling all over. He had already witnessed Sylvia’s ruthlessness.

Screams echoed in the office.

“Stop hitting me! Please, stop! I’ll say it!” Hugh pleaded.

His face had become swollen from the beating.

Caspian and his people were too ruthless.

“Wouldn’t it have been great if you’d been obedient from the start? Could’ve even avoided getting beaten up!” Caspian said with a smug smile on his face.

In the suburbs of Dhord City, Matteo was in his office enjoying a bowl of fruits when someone knocked on the door.

-TE BONUS

Vincent Kane, who was the factory steward for the Kane family, came to report a few things to

Marten

“Mr. Kane, Hugh told us that there is an urgent shortage of goods and that the production needs to be accelerated”

“Okay. How’s the situation in the factory now?” Mameo asked.

“There’s nothing to worry about. Now that the factory is in full swing, there is no shortage of goods at all.” Vincent replied deferentially

Matteo was happy to bear this. He was also surprised that the sales for Southlake

Corporation’s products were so good.

He had made a fortune from just selling counterfeit goods.

“Tell Hugh to find more franchisees. There will definitely be sufficient stocks!

“Yes, sir!” Vincent nodded and left the office.

Matteo was in a joyous mood. If this situation persisted, the counterfeit goods would take over the entire market.

When that time came, Southlake Corporation wouldn’t have a foothold within Dbord City.

It was at this moment that Caspian arrived at the factory.

He was very surprised to find such a massive processing factory in the suburbs of Dhord City. It was so well hidden as well!

Based on Vincent’s account, this factory was the main source of income for the Kane family.

“Not bad! It’s just right?” Caspian said as he looked at the factory.

It just so happened that Southlake Corporation was also looking for a production workshop. Southlake Corporation would no longer have to worry about its production capacity if they were to obtain this factory.

When Vincent saw Caspian, his face darkened

If Caspian were to enter the Kane family's territory, he would teach him a lesson.

Vincent could only think about it. He didn't dare to say it out loud

"Let's go in and have a look. Let's also look for this Matteo guy!"

Vincent was stunned.

What was he planning to do? Did he come here to attack Matteo?

"What are you waiting for? Lead the way!" Sylvia said as she kicked Vincent

Meanwhile, Matteo was harassing a female employee in his office.

+15 BONUS

"Darling, why don't you just be my girl? I promise to give you anything you want!"

"Mr. Kane, this is inappropriate. It's broad daylight. Please stop doing this!"

Matteo was groping the female employee.

He had always been a perverted man.

"There's nothing to worry about. Nobody's coming in. I've already locked the door," Matteo leered.

He was about to tear the employee's shirt open when the door suddenly swung open with a loud bang.

A few people showed up in the office.

Both Matteo and the female employee were startled.

“Who the fuck? Do you want to die?” Matteo cursed.

He was about to have a good time but was suddenly interrupted.

“Wow, you really have nothing better to do, huh, Mr. Kane?”

Matteo was shocked to hear this familiar voice.

He lifted his head and realized that Caspian had walked into his office.

“Why are you here, Caspian?” Matteo asked, completely surprised.

Had their counterfeit project been exposed?

Matteo felt extremely uneasy. He was reminded of the incident at Enies, which frightened him once again.

Caspian was like a devil to him.

Matteo couldn't stop trembling.

“You don't look happy to see me,” Caspian teased.

“Bring him in,” he continued.

Sylvia brought Hugh into the office.

At that moment, Hugh's face had turned pale.

When Matteo saw Hugh, he knew deep down that their scheme had been exposed.

+15 BONUS

“Mr. Kane, I'm sure you know why I'm here by now. You must have a bad memory. Did you not suffer enough back in Enies?”

“I can't believe you have the audacity to produce imitations of Southlake Corporation's products. You must have a death wish, huh?” Caspian teased as he looked at Matteo.

“Matteo! Matteo!” Hugh cried out as he crawled toward Matteo.

“Useless bastard! Look at what you’ve done!” Matteo said as he kicked and threw a punch at

Then, Matteo stared at Caspian closely and said, “I was the one who made all the counterfeit products.”

Afterward, Matteo took a deep breath and asked, “What do you want to do about it, Caspian?”

Chapter 468 The Last Straw

Now that the matter had already been exposed, there was no point in denying it anymore.

Suddenly, several loud smacking sounds were heard.

Caspian had slapped Matteo across the face several times.

“You’re gutsy, huh? You must be held accountable for the counterfeit goods! You’ll be the one to bear the losses of Southlake Corporation!” Caspian said.

He then looked toward Sylvia and asked, “How badly were we impacted by the mass imitation scheme?”

“Due to the counterfeit goods, our losses came up to a whopping five billion dollars!” Sylvia said.

Matteo was dumbstruck.

Even though their processing factory had been producing counterfeit goods all day and all night, their stocks had only amounted to about 500 to 600 million worth of goods.

Now, Caspian just blatantly claimed that it was five billion instead. This was daylight robbery!

“Mr. Kane, you must pay the price for your actions!” Caspian said coldly.

“Caspian, stop coming after me. I’m not a pushover. I won’t let you have your way either.

“This is my home turf. If you continue pushing my buttons, I’m going to fucking hurt you, and you’d better not cry!” Matteo cursed.

Even though he was afraid of Caspian, it didn’t mean he would just give in without fighting back.

“Guards, attack him!” Matteo yelled as he signaled them to charge at Caspian.

Hugh led a group of men as they rushed toward Caspian.

They were all clad in work uniforms and were holding various kinds of equipment in their hands.

“Are you scared now, Caspian? They’re the thugs of our factory! I’m going to make sure you die today!” Matteo said with a smug expression on his face.

Caspian snickered.

These minions weren’t worth his time.

Matteo must have lost his mind. How could he think of challenging Caspian?

+15 BONUS

“Sylvia!” Caspian shouted.

“Yes, Caspian!”

Sylvia took big strides toward the men while staring them dead in the eyes. She rushed out without hesitation.

“Catch that bitch! Teach her a fucking lesson!” Matteo shouted.

“Yes, Mr. Kane!”

“Let’s go! Attack!”

Hugh and the other men had Sylvia surrounded.

What happened next made Matteo dumbfounded.

Sylvia was quick and precise with her attacks.

After a few swings and kicks, Hugh and the others were already on the ground.

“How’s this possible?” Matteo questioned as he stared at Sylvia. He couldn’t comprehend it.

“What a bunch of losers. I can’t believe you have the audacity to even taunt us,” Sylvia said as she returned to Caspian’s side.

“Are you ready to have a civil conversation now, Mr. Kane?” Caspian asked the stunned Matteo.

“What do you want, Caspian?” Matteo asked through gritted teeth.

He knew Caspian had something sinister in mind.

“I’m glad you asked. All you have to do is give me the factory,” Caspian said before Sylvia tossed a folder to Matteo.

He picked the folder up and saw that it was an agreement of transfer for the factory.

“You want our factory?” Matteo asked, baffled at his request.

“That’s right. All you have to do is give me the factory, and I’ll just pretend that none of this ever happened,” Caspian said with a grin.

“In your dreams, Caspian! I’ll never give it to you! Not in a million years!” Matteo yelled.

After losing Enies, the factory became the means of livelihood for the Kane family.

The equipment inside the factory was worth more than two billion dollars.

If they were to give the factory away, the Kane family would lose its income.

“You don’t want to?” Caspian asked coldly.

+15 BONUS

“Fine Then I’ll dig out every single sin you’ve committed from the very start, and I’ll punish you for earth and every one of them!

“Sylvia, teach him a lesson,” he continued

“Yes, Cosplen!” Sylvia nodded her head.

“What do you think you’re doing? Don’t come near me Mentos shouted with a look of horror on his face

Sylvia ignored him.

Blood–curdling screams echoed throughout the entire office

More than ten minutes later, Matteo was lying on the ground in a miserable state.

“Do you finally understand now, Matteo? Caspian asked as he looked at Matteo,

He was lying on the floor in agony Sylvie was ruthless,

His arm was broken several times

“This factory isn’t mine. Unless my father agrees, I won’t be able to give it to you even if I want to,” Matteo said with a dejected look on his face as he lay on the ground.

“Call your father and have him do the transfer,” Caspian said calmly.

Matteo didn't dare to retaliate anymore.

There might be crueler punishments waiting for him if he didn't comply with Caspian's demands

Without any other choice, Matteo could only call his father.

Meanwhile, inside Kane Residence, Chandler was lying on the bed with an ashen face.

He had been bedridden ever since the Kane family lost their territory in Enies.

Even though he had recovered a little, his health was no longer the same.

“Boris!” Chandler shouted.

Boris ran over in a panic and asked, “What's the matter, Mr. Kane Senior?”

“Where's Matteo? He's been away from home all day. Where has he gone to?” Chandler asked, irritated.

“He's...” Boris said hesitantly, avoiding Chandler's gaze.

“Say it!” Chandler shouted. Judging from Boris's expression, he knew that Chandler was up to “Matteo's been outside the entire time,” Boris replied.

+15 BONUS

“That useless bastard! Have him come home immediately! We're already hanging by a thread, and he's still out there fooling around!”

The Kane family was currently in a precarious situation. They kept losing their territories. Their estates in Dhord City were no longer like it was before.

It would really be the end for Matteo if he kept going out and getting involved in messy situations.

“Why? Are you also going to start disobeying me now?” Chandler shouted.

“I’ll

go look for him now!” Boris said urgently.

Suddenly, Chandler’s phone started ringing.

It was a call from Matteo.

“Where are you, you useless bastard? Dhord City is in a state of unrest. You’d better come home immediately and not go anywhere!” Chandler berated him.

“Dad, I’m at the processing factory,” Matteo said cautiously.

“What are you doing there? They don’t need you there. Come home now!” Chandler said in a displeased tone.

He knew what kind of person his son was. Matteo was a prodigal son. What could he possibly be doing in the factory?

“I...” Matteo uttered hesitantly as if he wanted to say something else.

Then, another voice was heard on the other end of the phone.

“Mr. Kane Senior, your son is never going back!”

“Caspian!”

When Chandler heard this voice, his expression went frigid.

He knew this was Caspian’s voice.

“Ah, I’m honored that you still haven’t forgotten about me!” Caspian said smugly.

“What more do you want, Caspian? Why are you going after my son?” Chandler asked irritably.

Caspian's call was like a bad omen. Something must have happened.

"I have no other choice, Mr. Kane Senior! Our previous dispute has all been resolved. However,

I caught your son manufacturing counterfeit copies of Southlake Corporation's products.

+15 BONUS

"Because of this, our company had suffered enormous losses. I'm here today to sort it out with him. Why don't you make a trip over here, Mr. Kane Senior? I'm worried that something might happen to your son!" Caspian taunted with a feigned tone of concern.

When Chandler heard this, he became anxious and angry.

This useless son of his always loved stirring up trouble.

Did he not learn from the previous lesson?

Why did he have to go and offend Caspian again?

"Don't do anything to my son, Caspian. I'll head over now," Chandler said urgently.

Last updated on February 4, 2024

Chapter 469 You Can't Sign It

"I'll be waiting for you, then." Caspian hung up the phone after finishing his sentence.

Boris lowered his head and muttered in a soft voice, "Mr. Kane Senior, what should I ..."

"Gather all our men now and head to the processing factory!" Chandler interrupted.

"Yes, sir!" Boris said before leaving immediately.

"Mr. Kane, do you think your father is coming for you?" Caspian teased.

"I'm his only son. Of course he will come and save me," Matteo smirked.

"That's good. Otherwise, I'd have no choice but to hurt you." Caspian smiled.

Then, he sat on the executive chair in the office.

Matteo felt uneasy. He could only hope that his father would rush over quickly.

Rumbling sounds were soon heard coming from the outside.

A row of cars stopped outside the factory.

Then, burly men began alighting from the cars.

These men were the Kane family's last line of defense.

Each of them was an eternal grandmaster.

Chandler got off the front seat of the Rolls–Royce.

Boris stayed beside him, supporting him.

“Let's go!” Chandler shot a glance at the factory and gestured for his men to head inside.

A few minutes later, Chandler led everyone into the office.

When Chandler saw Matteo and the other thugs lying on the ground, he became livid.

These people were all part of the Kane family.

Now, all of them were beaten up so badly.

“Mr. Kane Senior!”

“You have to avenge us, Mr. Kane Senior!”

When Hugh and the others saw Chandler walk in, they forced themselves to stand up despite the pain.

15 BONUS

They immediately showed respect to him.

They had all relied on the Kane family to achieve their current position

Because of this, they had to be respectful to Chandler

“What a bunch of losers! Why should the Kame family have to keep useless people like you? Get lost!” Chandler berated furiously

Both Caspian and Sylvia were clearly outnumbered, yet it was Hugh and the others who were overpowered. Chandler was furious.

Hugh and the others could only nod and accept the insult. Then, they left the office immediately

They were really afraid because Caspian was too ruthless.

“Dad! You’re finally here! I nearly died!”

Matteo was lying on the ground. He shouted immediately when he saw Chandler

Matteo might be a prodigal son, but he was Chandler’s only son

When he saw that Matteo had been mistreated so badly, it felt like someone had stabbed him in the heart.

Chandler didn’t respond to him. Then, he looked toward the young man sitting at the desk

Even though Chandler had never seen Caspian in person, he was sure that the person in front of him was Caspian himself

Chandler was astonished

Caspian looked like he was in his 20s. How could someone so young be so powerful?

Not only did he destroy Galecrest, but even Cole and the others had been obliterated by him

Even Alfred, the protector of the Kane family, had died in his hands.

Ever since the Kane family got on Caspian’s bad side, they kept having the worst of luck. Now, their family had lost all prominence within Dhord City

“Are you Caspian?” Chandler asked as he tried his best to suppress the anger in his heart.

“You have really good eyesight, Mr. Kane Senior. Yes, I’m Caspian” Caspian smiled.

Chandler stared at him and said, “Wonderful! I’d never expect someone so young to be so brilliant. You’re only this young, and you’re already able to go around and oppress our family

“You’re too generous, Mr. Kane Senior. I admire you very much as well,” Caspian said

271

+15 BONUS

“Alright. Let’s not beat around the bush anymore. What do you plan to do to my son?”

Chandler asked.

“It’s very simple. Just sign this agreement saying you’ll transfer the factory to me.”
Caspian

tossed him the folder.

After going through the agreement, Chandler’s face darkened.

“You want to take away our factory?” he asked.

“That’s right. A factory in exchange for your son’s life. This is a guaranteed profit. What a great deal!” Caspian taunted.

In his heart, Chandler had already cursed him over hundreds of times.

This factory was the Kane family’s largest source of income.

It could bring more than one billion worth of income to the Kane family every year.

If they were to give the factory away, then it would really be the end for the Kanes.

Caspian was obviously trying to destroy the Kane family.

“Never! Not in a billion years!” Chandler hollered.

“Boys!” Chandler shouted loudly.

More than 20 strong men rushed in. They were all eternal grandmasters.

“Caspian, I suggest you let my son go while I’m being nice. Otherwise, don’t blame me for being merciless!” Chandler threatened as he stared at Caspian.

Caspian scoffed.

These men were only eternal grandmasters. What could they do?

These people were really naive!

“Mr. Kane Senior, I think you’re really naive. Today, I’m going to show you what true strength is!” Caspian rushed out as soon as he finished speaking.

Chandler couldn’t catch anything as he traveled at the speed of light!

“Grab onto him!” Chandler shouted.

The eternal grandmasters rushed out. They were ready to catch him!

Caspian managed to punch all of them, sending them flying backward.

Chandler was shocked to see this scene.

+15 BONUS

His subordinates were all eternal grandmasters, but they couldn’t stop Caspian.

“Stop being so cocky, Caspian!” Chandler chastised. He started running toward Caspian as well.

And with that, his energy surged. Chandler was a real innate grandmaster.

Both of them clashed with each other in an instant!

A powerful punch came down on him like a hurricane.

It immediately sent Chandler flying out.

Caspian was just standing there without moving a step.

Both of them weren’t of an equal level of strength after all. Their strengths varied greatly.

“Dad! Are you okay?” Matteo endured the pain as he ran over quickly.

Chandler fell to the ground and threw up some blood.

“Dad! Are you okay?” Matteo asked anxiously.

Chandler’s face was ashen. He was already seriously ill, but now, his condition had gotten worse.

He looked like he had just aged even more.

“Mr. Kane Senior, can you sign it now?” Caspian asked with a grin.

Chandler coughed a few times before he smiled bitterly and said, “I admit my defeat, Caspian!”

11

Then, he took the folder and wanted to sign the papers.

“Dad! You cannot sign it!”

Matteo became antsy and shouted, “Dad! Without this factory, our family will be doomed!”

“We have no other choice now, son. If we don’t sign it, you and I will both die. Losing this factory can save the foundation of our family. It could also save our lives,” Chandler gently said while looking at Matteo.

Chandler had been in Dhord City for a few decades. He could tell what was important and what needed to be let go.

If they didn’t sign the papers today, Caspian wouldn’t spare their lives.

The moment he signed the papers, he had become much weaker.

He knew deep down that after today’s incident, the Kane family would really be doomed.

+15 BONUS

“You’re really something, Caspian,” Chandler said as he tossed the folder to Caspian.

“Mr. Kane Senior, we reap what we sow.” Caspian smiled as he looked at the agreement.

Chandler said nothing.

Perhaps he should have known from the start that Caspian wasn't someone they could afford to offend.

This tragedy wouldn't have happened if he had gotten rid of Cole back then.

Only regrets filled his heart now.

Chapter 470 Kane Family's Departure from Dhord City

The Kane family had been in Dhord City for decades.

In the end, everything was destroyed in his own hands. Chandler didn't know how to live with himself anymore.

"Let's go, son!" Chandler shouted as he got up from the ground.

Even though Matteo was reluctant, he could only accept this ending. There was nothing he could do about it.

When Caspian saw Chandler and the others leave, a smile plastered across his face

"Willow would be very happy to hear about this," Caspian murmured.

Willow had been anxious about the factory issue.

Now that they had such a large processing factory, Southlake Corporation could totally meet the demands of the market

After they had left the factory, Chandler threw up more blood

"Dad!"

Matteo immediately knelt on the ground and repented. "It's all my fault, Dad. It's all my fault that we end up like this."

“Son, this is life. If I were to lose you, life would lose its meaning no matter how many estates I have. Where there’s life, there is a way. We can always turn things around,” Chandler lamented.

No amount of money was as important as life.

Chandler turned back to look at the factory one last time. Emotions were surging within his heart.

“I’m afraid we’ll have to leave Dhord City.”

“What? Why?” Matteo was in disbelief.

“Dad, why do we have to leave Dhord City?” he asked again.

“Do you still not get it? Without the factory, our family no longer has a main source of livelihood. As of now, our family is no longer a part of the prominent families in Dhord City. There’s no point in staying here anymore.” Chandler smiled bitterly.

Now that the Kane family was in dire straits, many eyes were on them.

They would be plunged into further jeopardy if they didn’t stop the rot. Leaving would be their best choice.

The Kane family had many enemies in the past. If they learned that the Kane family had fallen from grace, they would definitely attack them as soon as they could.

Bluntly speaking, Dhord City was a dangerous place.

After hearing his father’s explanation, Matteo finally understood.

It was all Caspian’s fault that the Kane family was caught in this predicament

There was an enmity between Caspian and the Kane family that stretched beyond the depths of hell.

Matteo wanted revenge!

The next day, sensational news broke out.

Chandler made an important announcement saying that the Kane family would be leaving Dhord City.

The news was too sudden. Most of the people didn't understand what was going on.

The Kane family had sold all their estates for cheap.

Nob*dy knew why they were suddenly leaving Dhord City. No one knew where they went either

Their sudden departure left many questions unanswered.

Initially, Willow was fretting over the fact that they didn't have a processing factory.

Caspian suddenly told her that they now had one.

Moreover, it was well-equipped with all the necessary equipment and machinery.

Following this, Southlake Corporation hastened its production.

Very quickly, Southlake Corporation established its foothold within Dhord City.

Morrison Group's industries were impacted by Southlake Corporation's rapid expansion.

Morrison Group no longer dominated the business world.

Meanwhile, at Morrison Tower, Jyn was raging and thrashing her office.

"What a bunch of cowardly losers! They're really a useless bunch! That pair of father and son

Even the Kane family's largest factory had become Willow's property.

Southlake Corporation kept rolling out new products. In just a short period of time, they managed to dominate the entire market.

Whenever she was reminded of this, Jyn would become enraged.

"Ms. Morrison," Ginger cautiously said as she walked into her office.

Ginger had spent ten to 20 million dollars on plastic surgery. Nevertheless, the scars on her face remained clearly visible.

"What is it? Just get to the point." Jyn didn't turn to face Ginger as she didn't want to see the latter's appearance.

"Mr. Morrison Senior wants you to go back," Ginger replied.

Jyn took a deep breath upon hearing this.

She knew deep down what her father meant by asking her to return.

Morrison Group's business had plummeted.

More than half of their business in the market near Dhord City was gone.

She would definitely be punished if she were to return.

Nevertheless, Jyn wouldn't run away.

Back at the Morrison Residence's study, Jyn was getting berated by her father.

"Why are you so foolish, Jyn?" Tristan blurted.

"You used to be so wise. What happened to you? The stock price of Morrison Group has plummeted.

"Many of the senior executives are angry and demanding answers from me!"
Tristan shouted

as he stared at Jyn angrily.

He never would have imagined that his daughter, who had always been a resolute person, would act so foolishly.

Southlake Corporation occupying most of the market was something Morrison Group couldn't tolerate.

Jyn gritted her teeth. She had nothing to say.

It was a fact that she had failed. She wouldn't be making excuses for herself.

"Have you turned mute? Say something! Tell me, what's happened to you?"

"If it was the past you, dealing with Southlake Corporation should be a piece of cake. Is it because of Caspian?"

The more Tristan asked, the angrier he became.

"I've already tried my best, Dad. Caspian is way better than I thought. His business acumen is better than mine," Jyn said through gritted teeth.

She didn't go easy on them because of Caspian. She did try every means possible.

First, she had the Kane family go to Enies to stop Southlake Corporation.

Then, she had gotten Zayn's help as well.

She had also hired Damon and began to use various means to deal with Southlake Corporation.

However, she eventually lost everything.

She really tried her best, but she still couldn't contain the rapid expansion of Southlake

Corporation.

“You think I’ll believe what you said? Your lingering feelings for that matrilocal son-in-law must have clouded your judgment and led you to this situation!” Tristan berated. He didn’t believe a word Jyn said.

This was Dhord City.

Back in the day, Jyn was able to force the priest group out of Dhord City within a short period.

Now, Southlake Corporation had already dominated most of Dhord City’s market.

If no actions were taken, Morrison Group’s losses would increase.

“I can’t tell you otherwise, Dad. There’s no point in saying more…” Jyn said helplessly.

“What do you mean by that?”

Jyn’s attitude provoked him even more.

“Dad. Since Jyn isn’t able to do anything now, why don’t you have her hand over the CEO’s position? Let me fight Southlake Corporation,” a man in his late 20s said.

This man was Cory Morrison. He was Jyn’s brother and the eldest son of the Morrison family..

Logically speaking, he should be the future leader of the Morrison family.

Unfortunately, Jyn had been the one managing Morrison Group over the years.

He had wanted to prove himself but was never able to.

This was the perfect opportunity for him.

Cory had to seize this opportunity and become the CEO of Morrison Group.

“What does this have to do with you, Cory?” Jyn asked irritably.

Jyn never treated him as her older brother.

They had never been close ever since they were kids. Jyn knew he was trying to capitalize on her misfortune. She wouldn't let that happen.

“Of course it has something to do with me, my dearest sister. Isn't Morrison Group part of our family's assets? Why would it not have anything to do with me when I am the eldest son of the Morrison family?”

“You think that I will just sit idly by and watch you destroy Morrison Group?”
Cory spat.
