

The Almighty Lord Caspian Chapter 21

Posted by

By

Chapter 21 Class Gathering

Willow took Caspian with her. Of course, the driver was Caspian.

He drove Willow's BMW. They were preparing to pick Zoey up first.

Zoey and Willow had been best friends for a long time. Zoey was a novelist on an online platform. She worked from home.

Her income was not bad. She earned several thousand dollars a month. With recommendations from the website, she could even earn up to tens of thousands a month.

Zoey got in the car. She found it somewhat unbelievable when she saw Caspian in the driver's seat.

"Zoey, why do I sense that you're a bit surprised?" Willow asked.

"Say, Willow. You're really bringing Caspian to the gathering?" Zoey asked in puzzlement.

"That's right. Does the gathering not allow us to bring family members?" Willow replied.

"There's no rules on that. But doesn't he not have a job? Wouldn't people gossip about you if you brought him along?" Zoey inquired.

"It doesn't matter. I don't care about this kind of thing anymore," Willow said.

"That's true. Although Caspian hasn't achieved much, he treats you very well! He has some good qualities as well!" Zoey commented.

"Oh? What good qualities does he have? Why do I not know about it?" Willow was curious about what her best friend thought of her husband.

“Look, he’s a handsome man with a strong and robust physique. His dark eyes also radiate an air of dominance!” Zoey chose her words carefully as she described Caspian.

As a novelist, she was quite careful about her choice of words.

She also had a penchant for imagining scenes of dominant CEOs and their delicate wives.

Caspian felt somewhat speechless after hearing this. He had hidden himself well, but Zoey seemed to have seen right through him.

Of course, he also had a good impression of Zoey. At least she didn’t look down on him like the others. Now that Zoey had pointed it out, Willow suddenly found Caspian to be quite handsome.

“Really? You don’t have a good eye for people; you’re just making things up.” Willow felt pleased with However, she didn’t express it out loud.

“You can’t feel it because you’re with him every day. If he were my husband, I’d want the whole world to know about him,” Zoey continued.

“Since you like him so much, why don’t I give him to you when we get a divorce?” Willow said indifferently.

“What? You just got married not long ago and you’re already thinking about divorce?” Zoey asked in surprise.

“It’s not that I want a divorce. He was the one who bragged that he would hold an exceptionally grand wedding. We have no choice but to divorce if he can’t keep his word,” Willow said.

“I remember it now. The whole city has heard of this matter,” Zoey said.

She turned around and asked Caspian, "Caspian, you weren't spouting nonsense, were you? Do you have what it takes to hold the grandest wedding?"

"I'm serious," he replied.

"It has to be even grander than Alicia's wedding. Say, were you the billionaire who booked the Jade Dragon Grand Hotel?" Zoey asked in surprise.

Caspian was surprised. Zoey had hit the bullseye again!

Willow was equally taken aback. She didn't even dare to think of such a ridiculous idea. Zoey's thoughts were really out of this world!

"You really have quite the imagination. Do you think I have the financial means for something like that?"

Caspian evaded the question. He avoided giving a direct answer.

"I can't imagine it. But there are so many coincidences on the matter. You're holding your wedding on the 30th, and the Jade Dragon Grand Hotel has also been booked for the same day.

"In order to surpass Alicia in the scale of the wedding, you can't find a second venue in the entire city that is grander than the Jade Dragon Grand Hotel.

"So, I don't think it's impossible," Zoey analyzed it thoroughly.

"You have quite the imagination, Zoey. It's simply impossible. Only the richest billionaires could afford to book a hotel of that level," Willow said.

There was no way Caspian would be a delivery man at the company if he could afford it.

Heat dequarate com

The gathering were hebt at the Regal Hated in Bomunidade Catty

Wae cessnitally for the casemates who were working in the city. Only eight to n had gall

Willow, Caspian, and Zosy anived, the others were already there

Willow was famous for her beauty during her schoed daye Hatmally, her sudden maninge hard piqued the

However, the news that Willow had manded a loses of is inelend had spread around like wildfine recently Nevertheless, her university classmates were still relatively easy to get along with Unlike some arogant

As for Willow's admirers, they could only glare at Caspian with jealousy

Upon hearing that the campus belle had married a good for nothing. the joke for themselves

e of the women Wanted to see

But there were still people who wanted to brag at the gathering

After a simple introduction Xenia tuned to Caspian and said, "No, you're the husband of our campus helter Oh my As the saying does, seeing to believing a

Although Nenia was soft spoken, there was still a hint of sarcasm in her wonde She was insimating that Xenia wasn't unattractive. However, due to Willow's presence, she could only play second fiddle.

Naturally, Xenia had some resentment in her heart. She saw this as an opportunity to mock Willow.

Clinging to her boyfriend's arm, Xenia said, "This is my boyfriend, Jonathan Green. He owns the Night Fragrance Club."

Xenia gave everyone a short introduction. Unfortunately, it didn't garner much attention.

Everyone just offered polite smiles.

These classmates appeared unassuming, but in reality, they all had their own companies. They couldn't care much about a business owner.

Besides, everyone knew the relationship between Willow and Xenia.

Although Willow's husband wasn't as wealthy as Xenia's boyfriend, Willow still came from a prominent family. Her background as a member of the Stewart family was enough to make many people envious.

No one could surpass Willow in terms of family background. For Xenia to compare herself to Willow was simply humiliating herself.

Seeing that everyone did not pay much attention to her boyfriend, Xenia suddenly felt irritated. The taste of a failed show-off was not pleasant.

She continued, "My boyfriend manages over a thousand people. Just let us know if any of you need help."

Everyone else felt uneasy as her words fell.

Managing over a thousand people and owning a nightclub-could he be part of the mafia?

Several classmates sneaked a peak at Jonathan.

He was burly, wearing a thick gold chain and a large wristwatch. He even had a dragon tattoo on his arm!

No one expected Xenia's boyfriend to be someone like this!

Nob*dy wanted to offend such a person. But why did Xenia bring someone like him to the gathering?

Some of them even wanted to stand up and leave. They regretted attending the gathering. Too afraid to leave, they could only remain seated.

“Hello, Mr. Green. I’ve heard a lot about you from Xenia! You’re so accomplished at such an age!”

4/5

“That’s right, Xenia. Who knew your boyfriend had such an impressive background? We’ll be counting on you both if we need any help in the future!”

Jonathan’s appearance changed the atmosphere of the ordinary gathering.

On the contrary, Xenia was enjoying the feeling of being in the spotlight. However, Jonathan’s gaze kept wandering toward Willow.

Willow felt uncomfortable under his gaze that was filled with ill intentions.

Last updated on January 9, 2024

The Almighty Lord Caspian Chapter 22

Posted by

By

Chapter 22 How Bold

In Jonathan’s eyes, Willow outshone Xenia in every aspect. There was a huge difference between the two of them.

Even Zoey outshone Xenia.

The difference was vast when one compared the three of them. To Jonathan, Xenia seemed like an uncultured and unattractive woman.

Meanwhile, Willow possessed a unique charm that attracted him.

Jonathan's hidden intentions didn't escape Caspian's gaze.

"Let's not be too formal, everyone. There's no need to be reserved. I'm an easy-going person.

"All of us are considered friends from now on. Feel free to reach out to me if you ever need anything.

"Or you guys can come to the club. It's on me," Jonathan said, squeezing out a smile.

Jonathan planned to win Willow over slowly. Thus, he wanted to try his best to leave a good impression on her. After all, he knew he couldn't rush when it came to women like her.

"How generous of you, Mr. Green!"

"We'll definitely come to support if we have the chance."

"That's right. We'll have to thank Mr. Green in advance."

All of them were fidgeting. They had no choice but to say some nice words out of politeness. After all, none of them wanted to visit places as chaotic as clubs.

After that, they started to greet Willow.

"Willow, I didn't expect you to be as attractive as you were back in school!"

"Willow, you didn't even bat an eyelash at me when I pursued you back then."

"I didn't expect you to get married suddenly. I was upset for a long time!"

Those were all spoken by the male classmates.

Caspian didn't think much about it.

Willow was the prettiest girl in school, after all. It was normal for her to have admirers.

1/4

Caspian felt more than happy when his wife was praised.

Initially, Xenia wanted to be the center of attention. Thus, she felt unhappy when she saw everyone being friendly toward Willow.

After all, Xenia wanted to be in the spotlight at today's gathering. Yet, everyone seemed to be more focused on Willow.

"Willow, what does your husband do for a living?" Xenia deliberately asked.

"He's working at my company," Willow replied indifferently.

"Huh? So, the rumors were true? Is your husband a kept man who relies on you financially?" Xenia mocked.

Zoey couldn't take it anymore. "Well, at least Willow is capable enough to do so. She's unlike some sugar baby who relies on men to survive," she butted in.

As Willow's best friend, Zoey would definitely support her. Zoey didn't like Xenia's attitude.

"What do you mean? Who are you calling a sugar baby?"/

Xenia didn't expect Zoey to be so straightforward.

Instantly, Xenia was angered.

"Did I mention you? Why are you getting mad?" Zoey challenged.

Although Xenia's boyfriend looked fierce, he had to suppress his anger at that moment. This was especially the case when two beautiful women were right before him.

People like Xenia couldn't be spoiled. She would get arrogant once she got a few compliments.

Despite her irritation, Xenia could only swallow her pride. After all, it would look bad if Xenia confronted Zoey in front of so many people.

As for Jonathan, his attention was fixed on Willow when she appeared.

Jonathan started to reveal his intentions once the dishes were served after a few rounds of toasts.

"Everyone in Southlake City knows about Ms. Stewart's beauty and talent. Thus, it's an honor for me to meet you here.

"After meeting you here today, I think you certainly live up to your reputation. Let me make a toast to you, Ms. Stewart," Jonathan said while raising his glass.

At that moment, Xenia's expression darkened.

There was no way she could endure her lover toasting another woman.

+15 BONUS

Xenia was overshadowed by Willow ever since they were at school. Now, Xenia still could not beat her!

After seeing what happened, Willow didn't know what to do. She rarely drank white wine. However, it would be impolite if she refused to.

Willow paused for a moment.

"I'm sorry, but I don't drink wine." She chose to reject him in the end.

“Ms. Stewart, are you looking down on me?” Jonathan’s face turned serious.

“No...” Willow felt a bit scared.

Jonathan had a sly smile on his face. “Ms. Stewart, I’m well off and have a strong background. I don’t think it’s too much for you to honor me with a drink, right?”

His tone made it hard for one to reject him.

“Are you deaf? My wife said that she doesn’t drink wine!” Caspian reprimanded in a low voice.

Caspian thought that Jonathan was extremely daring to flirt with his wife. His firm attitude also silenced the entire room.

Nob*dy could have expected a loser like Caspian to be so disrespectful toward Jonathan.

Even Willow felt stunned. After all, Caspian had risked everything to protect her! It was an incredibly bold move!

This was the complete opposite of how Caspian usually acted. Thus, Willow didn’t expect his outburst at all.

At that, Jonathan’s smile disappeared from his face.

“Well? Are you going to drink this wine instead?” he asked indifferently.

Caspian was long known for being a loser.

Naturally, Jonathan didn’t bother to go easy with Caspian.

“You want to drink with me? I’m afraid you’re not qualified to do so,” Caspian added indifferently.

After all, Caspian was Lord Caspian. There was no way he would drink with such a hooligan. It would be hilarious if he did!

Instantly, everyone in the room was stunned!

Caspian was extremely bold!

His words had caused everyone in the room to fall silent.

Willow and Zoey looked at Caspian in shock. It was like Caspian became a different person!

Jonathan's expression was dark.

"You... You must have a death wish!" he said angrily.

Last updated on January 9, 2024

The Almighty Lord Caspian Chapter 23

Posted by

By

Chapter 23 Caspian Was Never a Coward

Jonathan's words caused the atmosphere in the room to go stale.

Naturally, Willow didn't want the gathering to become so awkward. She picked up the glass and said to Jonathan, "Mr. Green, my husband is quite the straightforward man. Let me toast this drink to you." (1)

Jonathan smiled when he saw Willow backing down. "Okay. Feel free to have as many as you like. Cheers!

After saying that, Jonathan picked up his glass and downed it.

Just when Willow planned to down the glass, Caspian grabbed her glass.

“Nob*dy can force you to do things you don’t want to!” he said:

Jonathan had been eyeing Willow up and down since just now. Caspian could no longer endure it.

The sudden turn of events caused Jonathan’s expression to freeze.

“Caspian, you shouldn’t butt in,” Willow quickly reprimanded. Jonathan’s murderous gaze caused her to feel afraid.

“Ms. Stewart, I didn’t expect your husband to be so ignorant! Being so bold doesn’t do him any good, though,” Jonathan said.

“I will definitely lecture him about this when we get back. Mr. Green, please don’t mind him.”

Fearing that Jonathan would resort to violence, Willow could only try to smooth things over with him.

“My boyfriend is quite influential in the east of Southlake City. Someb*dy tried to create trouble in the club some time ago. Now, he’s currently in the hospital!” Xenia flaunted.

“That’s not considered much. When I first got into this, everyone was fighting for territory ...”

Jonathan started to boast about his experience happily. He even mentioned some illegal things that he had done, such as killing people.

“Sweetheart, you’re amazing! You’re so capable,” Xenia praised in a dainty voice.

Everyone was a bit disgusted by Xenia and Jonathan’s back and forth. What was originally meant to be a casual gathering of ex-classmates had now turned into them showing off.

All of them were people with decent social standings. Thus, they weren't interested in knowing what hooligans were doing.

1/4

Only someone like Xenia would like Jonathan.

After all, she always loved being in the spotlight back in school. It seemed that she had never changed.

Jonathan and Xenia were too immersed in their world. When they realized nob*dy was paying attention, they felt a blow to their pride.

Their ego was hurt when everyone seemed disinterested in what they were saying.

As Jonathan felt a bit ashamed, he placed his attention back on Willow.

"Ms. Stewart, I'm only going easy on you today because it's you. Otherwise, there'd be severe consequences if someone else disrespected me. Right. You still haven't drunk the wine."

"Caspian, bring the wine over quickly." Willow didn't want to complicate things.

"Sweetheart, why are you so afraid of him? If this happened back then, I would have killed someone as unreasonable as him ages ago!" Caspian said sternly.

Willow was rendered speechless. She thought Caspian was bluffing again.

Willow suspected that Caspian was doing this on purpose. After all, there was no way he would throw a proper wedding for her.

Jonathan gritted his teeth in anger. This was the first time he was looked down like this since he became a thug!

The atmosphere at the gathering became incredibly tense.

With Caspian's words, it became even more strained.

"Mr. Green, don't get mad. Let us give you a toast!"

"That's right. Willow never liked drinking. She gets drunk every time she drinks!"

"Her husband isn't very smart either. That's why he's so rude. Please don't take offense!"

The few classmates quickly helped out after seeing that Jonathan was about to make a move.

Seeing that Caspian was quite robust, Jonathan knew it wasn't wise to fight one-on-one with him.

Plus, it wouldn't reflect well if word got out that Jonathan made a move just like that.

Thus, he could only suppress his anger.

However, Jonathan couldn't let things slide just like that. He had to let Willow know about his background.

+15 BONUS

No woman would refuse a man with power, influence, and money. It was just like how Xenia was drawn to Jonathan. Willow was likely no exception.

After drinking a few glasses, Jonathan came up with an excuse and left the room.

Naturally, Xenia followed him.

"Sweetheart, I didn't expect Willow to be so ignorant. How dare that loser Jonathan talk to us so disrespectfully! You'd better put them into place. Otherwise, they'll think that we're an easy target!" Xenia added fuel to the fire.

It seemed like she wanted to stir as much trouble as possible.

“I wouldn’t let go of them so easily, of course. I’m going to call for backup right now,” Jonathan replied impatiently.

“Especially Willow. She just loves to act all proper! Order someone to ruin her face! She won’t be confident to show up again if that happens.” Xenia had noticed how Jonathan looked at Willow.

Thus, Xenia wanted nothing more than Willow’s face to be disfigured.

“I know that.” While replying, Jonathan went on his phone.

In the room, a classmate gazed outside.

“Willow’s husband was so rude to Jonathan just now. Do you think he will take revenge?” he commented.

“There’s a chance. He’s such a vicious person, after all. He even killed people to steal their goods. There’s no way he’ll let this slide.”

“Willow, you guys should leave quickly. Jonathan might have gone to call for backup.”

“That’s right. You should grab the opportunity to leave now!”

“Is Xenia blind? How could she date someone like him?”

All of the classmates were asking Willow to leave quickly.

“Caspian, we should leave now. I/shouldn’t have asked you to come if I knew this would happen.” Willow also felt uneasy.

It was better for them to leave in a situation like this.

Unexpectedly, Caspian refused to leave.

“What are you scared about?” he questioned.

+15 BONUS

“Let’s not act tough in such a situation. People like him can do anything!” Willow retorted.

“Is that right? Then let him come at us!” Caspian replied.

Based on Jonathan’s sly gaze, Caspian could tell he had his eyes on Willow.

Thus, Caspian had to teach him a lesson. After all, he was going to leave Southlake City later on.

If something like this happened to Willow during that period, he couldn’t address it immediately.

Thus, Caspian had to get rid of all of Willow’s problems now.

This way, he could leave Southlake City at ease.

“Can you stop bluffing? What if they hurt you?” Willow felt a bit helpless.

After all, Jonathan could do illegal things without batting an eye.

Willow felt that he wasn’t any different from a serial killer.

“Caspian, you should leave now. Jonathan is not someone you can deal with. Even if you leave, we won’t think you’re a coward. It’s normal for you to run such a situation.”

“That’s right. Jonathan is really something. There’s no way he’ll lose out. You should leave right now. Your life is more important than anything else!”

“When did you become so courageous?”

“That’s right. Everyone said that you were quite a loser.”

The crowd took turns to advise Caspian.

Caspian knew that they had good intentions. It was just that they were blunt with their words.

“Thanks everyone for your concern. However, I know what I’m doing. It’s a waste for us to go now. After all, it took much effort for us to gather here,” Caspian said with a smile.

After saying that, he sent a message to Sylvia.

Last updated on January 9, 2024

The Almighty Lord Caspian Chapter 24

Posted by

By

Chapter 24 How Dare You Touch My Woman

Caspian’s words caused everyone in the room to hesitate, especially the guys. After all, they could finally see their former school crush. It would be quite disappointing if Willow were to leave so quickly.

Moreover, they were just speculating what Jonathan was going to do. He might not make a move at all.

Even Caspian, the subject involved, didn’t freak out. Thus, they decided not to stop him anymore.

Just when Xenia was about to return to the room, she bumped into a voluptuous woman.

Xenia was already irritated because of the gathering. Plus, she had become more fearless as Jonathan supported her.

As a result, she vented all her frustration onto this woman.

Xenia slapped the woman. "Are you blind? How dare you bump into me!" she said viciously.

The woman didn't hesitate to slap her back. "Do you have a death wish? How dare you touch me?"

Xenia was furious as she didn't expect her to fight back. The two of them started to fight.

The duo went absolutely mad as they fought with each other.

Still on the phone, Jonathan quickly went over to help.

"How dare you touch my woman! Let's see how I'll teach you a lesson!" Immediately, Jonathan started to fight the woman.

The woman was on the losing side when fighting such a burly man.

The woman's make-up was flawless when she came in. However, she was now disheveled and messy.

"How dare you go against me? Are you blind?" Xenia screamed, slapping the woman again.

Xenia slapped the woman multiple times until her anger subsided. By then, the woman's face was extremely swollen.

Xenia and Jonathan left just like that.

The woman had a darkened expression.

Immediately, she took out her phone to make a phone call.

When Xenia and Jonathan returned to the room, everyone was shocked to see Xenia so disheveled.

Xenia had just gone to the bathroom. Yet, it seemed like she had fought with someone.

I'm so furious. The bitch just now actually dared to lay a hand on me. She doesn't know her place!" Xenia complained after sitting down.

Instantly, everyone understood what was going on. Xenia had actually fought with someone.

Everyone felt helpless to have such an unreasonable and uncouth ex-classmate.

Xenia had only been out for a few minutes. Yet, she had already got into a fight with someone.

Everyone could not help but sigh about her lack of decorum.

"If you're still unhappy, my men are almost here. We can deal with her again!" Jonathan replied.

Everyone felt uneasy after hearing that. It seemed that Jonathan really did call for backup.

However, they were unsure if Jonathan wanted his backup to deal with Caspian or that woman.

"Okay. Let's teach her a lesson later!" Xenia deliberately said, wanting to flaunt in front of everyone.

Everyone in the room felt scared by Xenia's viciousness. Xenia seemed even scarier than when she was back in school. All of them felt that it was better not to come into contact with her.

A female ex-classmate felt a bit speechless.

"Willow, I heard you're going to throw an extremely grand wedding on the 30th! You'd better invite all of us by then." She changed the subject because she didn't want to hear Xenia blabbing anymore.

"None of us knew about your marriage. It was way too sudden. You'd better invite all of us" another ex-classmate added.

“Don’t worry. I’ll definitely send a message to everyone once we confirm the address.” Willow had already made up her mind.

She would do it herself if Jonathan didn’t have the funds for a wedding. After all, a wedding was a significant event, 2

Willow had a good relationship with the rest of her classmates. Thus, it was only right to maintain it this way.

However, Xenia was not included in that list.

“Willow, I think you should be more concerned if your husband can leave this hotel,” Xenia said viciously

Xenia’s words caused everyone to feel nervous. It looked like Jonathan wanted to deal with Caspian

+15 BONUS

“Xenia, what do you mean by that?” Zoey asked anxiously.

“Nothing much. I’m just saying.” Xenia came up with an excuse.

After all, Jonathan’s subordinates weren’t there yet. It would be boring if she scared Caspian and Willow away.

Despite Xenia intentionally trying to conceal what was happening, everyone in the room knew something was off. Something major was going to happen at this gathering.

“Why don’t we end this here? We can gather in the future. I’ll go and pay right now!” The former class representative, Yannick Garcia, immediately spoke.

However, a group of people rushed into the room just when Yannick was going to stand up.

The person leading the group was a bald man with a craggy face.

A woman dressed provocatively was standing behind the bald man. Interestingly, she was covered in bruises.

Everyone felt stunned to see them.

Jonathan and Xenia didn't expect this to happen either. Obviously, they weren't Jonathan's subordinates!

The woman pointed at Xenia and Jonathan.

"Tim, it's this bitch and jerk that tried to kill me!" she said while hugging the bald man.

The woman was called Mandy Evans. She was the bald man's sugar baby.

As for the bald man, his name was Timothy Xanders. He was quite influential in the area, having considerable influence in different districts.

Jonathan was nothing compared to him!

Timothy and his subordinates were initially eating in the hotel. They quickly rushed over when they heard that something had happened.

Jonathan recognized the bald man at a glance. He was the bigwig around the area, Timothy Xanders.

Immediately, Jonathan was so scared that he shuddered.

Even if Jonathan called his subordinates over, they'd probably be beaten to near death!

“Beat them as hard as possible! I want them swollen all over! How dare they touch my woman! They must want to die!” Timothy screamed.

34

15 BONUS

Just as Timothy’s subordinates were about to make a move, Jonathan suddenly kneeled in front of Timothy.

“Tim, it’s me. I’m Jonathan, Jonathan Green. There has been a bit of misunderstanding. I really didn’t know she was your woman. Please forgive me! There’s no need to stoop to my level!”

Everyone in the room was stunned at such a sudden turn of events.

After all, Jonathan was extremely arrogant just now. Now, he had become a coward!

Xenia was in big trouble. After all, even Jonathan had to kneel to beg for forgiveness!

“Who the heck are you? I’ve never heard of your name! Instead, why don’t you ask around who I am? I need to teach you a lesson today. You’re quite bold to touch my woman!” Timothy had never heard of Jonathan’s name.

Upon hearing Timothy’s words, everyone understood that Xenia had beaten up someone just now.

Timothy’s subordinates rushed up to them after hearing his orders. They started to beat Xenia and Jonathan up viciously.

The Almighty Lord Caspian Chapter 25

Posted by

By

Chapter 25 Let Me Handle This

+15 BONUS

Although Jonathan and Xenia pleaded desperately, Timothy remained indifferent.

Meanwhile, the hotel's staff didn't dare to call the police. All of them knew what Timothy was capable of.

The former classmates could only watch as they got beaten up. After all, Timothy didn't look like someone easy to deal with.

Plus, Xenia wasn't worthy of their sympathy. She was arrogant and loved to boast as much as she could.

Xenia wouldn't be getting beaten up right now if she hadn't made the first move.

Caspian wouldn't get involved in this, either. He would be teaching Xenia and Jonathan a lesson even if Timothy hadn't made a move.

Only after Xenia and Jonathan were battered and bruised did Timothy signal his subordinates to stop.

When seeing Xenia in such a sorry state, her former classmates couldn't help but feel sympathetic.

Mandy walked up and slapped Xenia and Jonathan again.

"Weren't you being so dauntless just now? Why did you stop?" Mandy growled as she continued to slap them.

“I know I was wrong. Please don’t stoop to our level. Let us go,” Xenia begged.

Initially, Xenia planned to show off in front of her classmates during the gathering. She had never expected to be beaten up before everyone.

“I really didn’t know your relationship with Timothy. Otherwise, I’d never have dared to make a move on you.

“It’s all just a misunderstanding. I beg you. Please show us some mercy, okay?” Jonathan pleaded while kneeling on the ground.

Jonathan absolutely despised Xenia right now. He wouldn’t have gotten involved if Xenia didn’t stir up trouble.

However, Mandy wasn’t going to let them go easily.

Xenia and Jonathan could only endure one slap after another in silence. They didn’t dare to resist.

Mandy only stopped after the duo’s faces were completely swollen.

Everyone thought that Timothy and Mandy would leave after their anger dispersed. However, Timothy’s

+15 BONUS

He pointed at Willow and Zoey.

“Bring the two away!” Timothy ordered.

Upon hearing that, Willow and Zoey were stunned. They didn’t expect this to happen

They would definitely be harassed if Timothy brought them away.

The former classmates were stunned that Timothy wanted to take Willow and Zoey away.

Caspian's expression darkened. He felt a sudden urge to kill.

Caspian thought that Timothy was going too far. It was one thing for the latter to teach Xenia and Jonathan a lesson, but quite another to lay his hands on Willow.

It was simply outrageous!

"This has nothing to do with us. Why are you taking us away?" Willow asked.

"Who said there's no connection? You guys were together with them. Thus, you must take responsibility for what they do, too!" Timothy answered viciously.

Zoey and Willow were the only good-looking ones in the room. Timothy had already planned to take them away and have his way with them until tomorrow morning.

Mandy was not dumb; she understood Timothy's intentions. However, she didn't feel angered by his actions.

After all, countless women were willing to sleep with a man as influential as Timothy. Even Mandy had chosen to maintain her relationship with him because of that.

Timothy's subordinates were already itching to have their way with Willow and Zoey.

However, the former male classmates weren't backing down either. They stood up and surrounded Willow and Zoey.

"What are you guys doing? Do you have no decency?" Yannick rebuked sternly.

“Don’t think of making a move on them if we’re here,” another person added.

All of them were working in the business field. Thus, they had never fought before. However, they refused to be cowards now that their, ex-classmates were in danger.

Xenia was an exception, though. They would ignore her even if she were beaten to a pulp.

15 BONUS

Plus, they thought that Xenia was annoying. After all, Willow and Zoey wouldn’t be targeted if it wasn’t for her.

Willow couldn’t help but feel touched when Yannick and the others stepped forward.

When Willow saw Caspian sitting there, she couldn’t help but think he was a loser. How could he call himself a man?

“You guys must not know who I am! Get out now! Otherwise, I’ll deal with you all too!” Timothy’s subordinate warned.

“Are you guys going to disregard the law just like that? This is a hotel. You can’t do whatever you like!”

“Law? Tim calls the shots here!” the subordinate yelled.

Timothy was getting impatient. “Enough talk! Just grab them! I want to sleep with the two of them tonight!”

Zoey and Willow felt even more furious hearing his words. They thought it was better for them to die than being humiliated by him.

“We won’t back down no matter what today!” Yannick said sternly.

Just as Timothy’s men were about to take action against Yannick and the others, Caspian stood up.

He calmly questioned, “Do you guys have a death wish? How dare you touch my wife?”

Willow looked at Caspian in surprise. She wondered why he suddenly became so bold.

“Back down, everyone. Let me handle this!” While saying that, Caspian took a few steps forward.

Caspian had refrained from standing up to see how Willow’s friends and classmates would handle the situation.

Despite all of them being intellectuals, they were not pushovers.

Those former classmates were quite afraid. Thus, they immediately made their way when they saw Caspian standing up.

All in all, Caspian was Willow’s husband. It was just normal for him to protect her.

When Willow saw Caspian preparing to make a move, she was a bit worried.

Those people looked intimidating and fierce. Even Jonathan, who was extremely arrogant, was on his knees to beg for forgiveness. There was no way Caspian could win against them alone.

However, Willow knew she would be taken away if Caspian didn’t step up.

There was no way Caspian could leave unscathed. Even if he ended up beaten and bruised today, it would prove that he was a man who could protect his wife.

“You’d better know what’s good for yourself and leave. Count your blessings that Timothy likes your wife. Just let her and Timothy have some fun. Otherwise, we’ll beat-” Timothy’s subordinate said sinisterly.

Before he finished speaking, Caspian delivered a fierce punch!

Caspian rarely spoke before striking. This was the first time he had fought in a long while!

Instantly, his fists were like a hammer. It sent those who wanted to make a move on Willow flying.

All of them felt like a heavy object had struck them! The impact was so strong that they felt their internal organs exploding!

“Ah!”

The crowd cried out as they were sent flying. A few of them even spat out blood

Last updated on January 9, 2024

The Almighty Lord Caspian Chapter 26

Posted by

By

Chapter 26 You Talk Too Much Nonsense

Everyone was stunned when they saw what was happening. They couldn't believe their eyes.

None of them managed to see how Caspian did it. They only saw that the few subordinates were sent flying with a single punch.

It was the first time Willow saw Caspian fighting. Thus, she felt extremely stunned.

She could never dream that her loser of a husband was so capable!

Zoey was quite surprised when she saw Caspian scaring everyone off with just a punch. It seemed her speculations were right. Caspian was indeed a master in disguise!

The other classmates also felt stunned. Nob*dy expected that Willow's deadbeat husband was so skillful in fighting!

When Caspian struck just now, he suppressed himself and only exerted minimum force.

Otherwise, Timothy's subordinates wouldn't be able to withstand the force of his punch.

Caspian didn't want to turn the gathering into a bloodbath. He didn't want to scare his wife, after all.

Although Caspian didn't give his all, everyone was stunned.

Timothy was not one to admit defeat.

"What are you guys doing? Beat him up now!" he immediately ordered his subordinates.

Two muscular men standing behind them immediately charged toward Caspian.

Zoey and Willow started to worry for Caspian. After all, they could only count on him now.

If Caspian won, both of them would be safe. However, they would be violated if he lost.

Caspian looked at the two subordinates calmly. It was as if he was looking at two buffoons.

When the duo inched close, Caspian kicked the two muscular men.

“Ah!”

“Oof!”

Before the two buff men could make a move, they lost their balance and flew backward.

They felt a sharp sensation in their throat and spat out blood uncontrollably. In the end, the duo slammed

1.5

+15 BONUS

Caspian’s swift and powerful move caused everyone to be stunned!

Even Timothy felt increasingly nervous in his heart.

Xenia and Jonathan felt extremely grateful that they didn’t make a move against Caspian just now.

Nob*dy would have known that he was secretly such a skilled fighter!

Willow was also frozen on the spot. She couldn’t believe what she was witnessing.

She wondered if he was really her useless husband that everyone gossiped about.

Caspian seemed so amazing today.

At that moment, Caspian seemed to be a different person. The dominating aura he was giving off caused others to feel scared.

Even Willow thought that the man in front of her was like a different person.

The staff working in the hotel heard the commotion coming from the room. However, they didn’t dare to check.

All of them thought Timothy was beating someone up again. It was not the first time this happened, anyway.

Even after seeing that Caspian was so capable, Timothy didn't want to back down.

Timothy glanced at an even burlier man beside him.

"Jimmy, you're up!" he ordered.

The man called Jimmy Coles was Timothy's right-hand man. Jimmy was a talented boxer with massive fists. Thus, this had gotten him the nickname Iron Fist.

Jimmy had helped Timothy take down a lot of formidable opponents without fail.

Thus, Timothy was extremely confident in Jimmy.

Jimmy didn't waste any time and stood up immediately. He clenched his fists and waved them at Caspian.

Jimmy aimed his right fist at Caspian's face when he was near him. The punch carried quite a domineering air to it.

Zoey and Willow felt scared for Caspian. They were unsure if he could withstand Jimmy's punch.

However, Caspian didn't dodge at all. Instead, he threw a punch back at Jimmy.

Caspian was a true man. He took the punch head-on, not backing down!

Crack!

The crisp sound of bones cracking could be heard at the impact.

“Ah!” A heart-wrenching scream came from Jimmy’s mouth.

After that, he was sent flying backward. His right arm was completely mutilated.

On the other hand, Caspian was calm.

+15 BONUS

When Jimmy fell to the ground, everyone saw that his arm was bent unnaturally and grotesquely.

All five of his fingers were broken. His fist seemed so bloody that it was hard to look at.

Everyone could not help but shudder when witnessing such a scene.

Although Jimmy seemed like a difficult opponent, he couldn’t withstand a single punch from Caspian!

At this moment, Timothy was starting to feel afraid.

After all, even his most capable right-hand man couldn’t defeat Caspian. The former was simply not a match for Caspian!

“Who else has a death wish? Come on up!” Caspian challenged.

Although Caspian had been holding himself back, it still made the scene quite messy and gruesome. After all, Timothy’s subordinates were nothing compared to him.

As none of Timothy’s subordinates stepped forward, Caspian glared at Timothy fiercely.

“Why don’t you look at yourself in the mirror? How dare you lay a hand on my woman? It’s your turn now!”

Right after he said that, Caspian walked toward Timothy.

Timothy was so scared that he started trembling. He moved backward slowly.

At that moment, Willow was filled with mixed emotions. In her eyes, Caspian was like her hero.

Willow was also relieved that she had brought Caspian with her. Otherwise, she couldn't imagine how things would have turned out.

Zoey's gaze was filled with admiration when she looked at Caspian.

375

+15 BONUS

However, something unexpected happened at this moment.

Timothy was backed into a corner as Caspian inched closer to him. Suddenly, Timothy took a gun from his pocket and pointed it at Caspian!

At that moment, everyone was startled.

Willow, Zoey, and everyone else didn't expect Timothy to have a gun!

Of course, Caspian felt quite surprised, too. After all, guns were not something people often brought out.

The situation took a drastic turn.

"I admit that you're skilled. However, can you be faster than my gun?" Timothy sneered. He had already placed his finger on the trigger.

Caspian remained calm and stated indifferently, "Anyone that points a gun at me only has one ending:

death!"

"Hahaha! I can't believe you're still acting tough. I can kill you right now, you know?" Timothy jeered.

If Timothy really did open fire, Caspian had the confidence to dodge it.

However, Willow and Zoey were still behind him. If he were to dodge the bullets, they would be in danger.

Thus, Caspian didn't plan on dodging!

At this critical moment, Sylvia arrived with a couple of subordinates. She was shocked when she saw Caspian in such a dangerous situation.

"Lord... Caspian!" Sylvia was so anxious and almost called Caspian as Lord Caspian instead.

The mighty Lord Caspian, who had been to multiple battlefields, was now being held at gunpoint.

At this moment, Sylvia didn't dare to act rashly. She would be blamed if anything happened to Caspian.

When she received Caspian's message, Sylvia rushed over after gathering her subordinates. However, they were still one step behind.

As one of Caspian's subordinates, Sylvia was also a good fighter. All of the subordinates she brought were also the best of the best.

Sylvia was furious when she saw Caspian in such a situation.

If she had the chance, she would definitely ruin the person who disrespected Caspian!

+15 BONUS

"Don't worry. A loser like him can't hurt me," Caspian said to Sylvia.

Willow was a bit surprised to see Sylvia. Willow wondered when Caspian had gotten a younger sister.

"Still hanging on, huh? You must be afraid right now. Don't worry. I'll definitely treat your wife well!"

Now that he had a gun, Timothy was fearless.

“Tim, just kill him. There might be consequences if you waste time!” Jonathan said anxiously when he saw that Caspian’s backup was here.

Jonathan had seen for himself how skillful Caspian was. If Caspian was kept alive, Jonathan knew that he would be in trouble.

After all, Jonathan was the one who offended him first.

That was why Jonathan urged Timothy to get rid of Caspian quickly.

“Shut your trap! What I do is none of your business. I want to keep tormenting him slowly. This wish he was dead instead!” Timothy said.

way,

he’ll

“Timothy, I’ll agree to any conditions you have as long as you let Caspian go!” Willow could only choose to compromise. After all, she didn’t want Caspian to be beaten to death.

As for what happened later, she would cross the bridge when she came to it.

“That’s right. I’ll compromise if you let him go, too,” Zoey announced while standing up.

“Did you hear that? The two beauties are going to sleep with me to save you. Hahaha!” Timothy laughed triumphantly. “Not only will I be taking your life today, but the two beauties will also be mine!”

“You talk too much nonsense.” Halfway through Timothy’s sentence, Caspian snatched his gun at the speed of light.

The Almighty Lord Caspian Chapter 27

Posted by

By

Chapter 27 Caspian Is Amazing

Timothy was dumbfounded when Caspian snatched the pistol from his hands.

He couldn't even comprehend what had just happened. He had simply burst into laughter and his pistol was already in Caspian's hands.

Before anyone could realize what had happened, Caspian had disassembled the pistol into metal scraps.

"You're still too young to be playing with guns!" Caspian said as he tossed the disassembled parts away.

To a battle-worn soldier like Lord Caspian, a pistol was, at best, a toy.

Willow and Zoey were both amazed by Caspian's skills. In just a brief moment, he managed to turn the tables and averted a dangerous situation.

They didn't know how many tricks Caspian had up his sleeve.

Willow was the most shocked at this revelation.

The Caspian she knew was an unemployed loser.

Why was he so formidable now?

Zoey looked at Caspian with admiration. She had become his fan in that instant.

When Sylvia saw that Caspian was safe, she rushed up to Timothy and gave him a slap on the face!

Disrespecting Lord Caspian was an unforgivable crime!

Her men rushed forward as well. They pointed their pistols at Timothy and his underlings “Stop! You’ve frightened my wife.” Caspian intervened in a hurry.

If his men killed Timothy on the spot, it would traumatize Willow for life.

When they heard Caspian’s words, Sylvia stopped in her tracks. Her men also put away their weapons.

“Caspian, I’m late. Please punish me.” Sylvia had rushed over from a faraway place, that was why she was a little late.

Everyone present saw how polite Sylvia was when she spoke to Caspian.

When they saw that her men were armed with guns, they couldn’t help but be curious about her identity.”

If such an attractive and powerful woman like Sylvia was so submissive to Caspian, then who was he?

“It’s alright. I had you come to clean up the mess,” Caspian said.

+15 BONUS

Sylvia knew that. Something like this was only a minor matter to Caspian. Her job was to clean up the mess after the chaos.

Timothy was now filled with regret. He shouldn’t have wasted time talking. He should have pulled the trigger immediately.

When Jonathan, Xenia, and Mandy saw Timothy on the losing end, they all feared for their lives.

They were afraid that Caspian would retaliate against them.

Sylvia approached Willow, who looked bewildered. “I apologize for arriving so late, Willow. Please punish me.”

Although Caspian did not introduce Willow's identity, Sylvia knew that the most beautiful and elegant woman here must be Caspian's wife.

This woman was a hundred times more impressive than Melanie, that gold digger.

"Are you ... Are you all acting or something?"

Willow was at a loss for words. She didn't know what to make of the situation.

Sylvia sighed helplessly. How could they be putting on an act?

At this moment, another group of men rushed in.

They were armed to the teeth with knives and iron bars.

"Boss! Where is the bastard who offended you?" The man in the lead shouted loudly.

Jonathan's expression darkened and he trembled in fear. Seeing that Timothy was defeated, his group of misfits was useless.

They would only mess things up and make Caspian angrier.

"Caspian, are they here to cause trouble for you?" Sylvia asked Caspian.

He replied nonchalantly, "Yes."

Sylvia furrowed her brows and dashed toward the group of troublemakers.

She was already feeling guilty for arriving late to Caspian's aid.

Now that there was a group of troublemakers present, she naturally wanted to vent her frustrations on

+15 BONUS

In a few minutes, Jonathan's underlings were all groaning on the ground before they could even react.

All they saw were Sylvia's long legs flashing about, beating them up into a pulp.

Although Sylvia was furious, she restrained herself and didn't use her full strength on them.

Willow's classmates were all amazed by Sylvia's fighting skills.

So many surprising events had happened in the last ten minutes. They couldn't make sense of it all.

"Caspian, what shall I do with these people?" Sylvia asked.

Caspian pointed at Timothy and Jonathan. "These two idiots wanted to harm my wife. Make them.

disappear so that they learn their lesson. Some people can't be messed with."

Although he looked calm and spoke at an unhurried pace, the coldness in his voice sent shivers down everyone's spine.

It was the first time Willow had seen Caspian so stern. At this moment, he exuded a commanding aura that captivated her.

The others didn't quite understand what Caspian meant, but Sylvia grasped it immediately. "I understand."

Lord Caspian was known for being decisive on the battlefield. He never hesitated after reaching a decision.

The reason why he had Timothy and Jonathan eliminated was to protect Willow.

Moreover, Timothy owned illegal firearms. He was a hardened criminal who deserved death. Similarly,

Jonathan bragged about his involvement in illegal activities, so he wasn't a good egg either.

"How about the others?" Sylvia asked again.

"They don't matter. You can handle them," Caspian said.

"Alright," Sylvia replied.

"Xenia, out of consideration that you and Willow were classmates, I'll let you go. But remember, there won't be a next time!" Caspian turned around and said to Xenia.

"I understand, I won't do that again," Xenia stammered in fear.

Caspian wrapped his arm around Willow's tiny waist. "Honey, let's go!"

Willow snapped out of her daze. Glancing at Zoey, she said, "Alright. Zoey, we're leaving."

+15 BONUS

"Everyone, let's disperse and leave." Caspian gestured to Willow's classmates.

"Alright." Everyone gradually regained their senses.

"Sylvia, settle the bill," Caspian added. He wasn't going to take advantage of them by having a free meal.

"I got it," Sylvia replied.

When they left the hotel, everyone felt like what had just happened was so surreal.

"Willow, I never expected your husband to be so capable!"

"Mr. Lynch, do you have a secret identity?"

"Mr. Lynch, I apologize for the misunderstanding earlier."

"Willow, you're so lucky to have such a strong husband to protect you!"

Her classmates praised Caspian effusively. Willow didn't say much, but she felt proud of Caspian.

She knew that Caspian had indeed saved her reputation today.

"I don't have a secret identity. I just served a few years in the military," Caspian replied indifferently.

After a moment, he added, "On the 30th, I hope everyone can come and show your support at our wedding. We'd like all of you to witness our happiness."

Willow had good relationships with her classmates and most of them were good people.

Caspian decided to invite them as well.

"Of course, I'll be there!"

"I wouldn't miss the campus belle's wedding for the world!"

All her classmates promised to attend Caspian's and Willow's wedding on the 30th.

"By the way, Willow, Mr. Lynch. Where will your wedding be held?" Yannick asked.

Last updated on January 9, 2024

The Almighty Lord Caspian Chapter 28

Posted by

By

Chapter 28 Die Knowing Why

“We haven’t confirmed the hotel yet. On the day of our wedding, you can go to the Stewart Residence first. I’ll have the driver pick you all up in a limo and take you to the hotel.”

Caspian didn’t mention the Jade Dragon Grand Hotel. If he did so, he would spoil the surprise.

“Sounds good. We will go to the Stewart Residence on that day and wait for you to pick us up!”

“The wedding is just a few days away. I’m getting more and more excited.”

“Since Willow and I are so close, I’ll definitely attend her wedding.”

After exchanging pleasantries, Caspian drove away with Willow and Zoey.

“Caspian, are you sure about inviting my classmates to the wedding? Do you have the confidence to make the wedding a success?” Willow asked.

“Honey, why would you still doubt me?” Caspian chuckled.

“It’s not that I don’t trust you. I’m just curious.”

Willow had her eyes opened today. Caspian was definitely not a good-for-nothing.

There was more to him than met the eye.

At this moment, Caspian felt like a stranger to her. She realized that she didn’t really know who Caspian was.

Zoey chimed in, “Willow, I’m looking forward to your wedding now.”

Willow nodded absentmindedly and asked Caspian, “Why are you so good at fighting?”

“I’ve told you before. I served as a soldier in the military for a few years. That’s why I learned some skills in martial arts.

“This is normal. Seven or eight people can’t do much against me,” Caspian said calmly.

“How about Sylvia? What’s your relationship with her?” Willow continued.

“She is the daughter of one of my chiefs in the military,” Caspian answered.

“Why were the people accompanying her armed with guns?” Willow had more questions for Caspian.

She was determined to get to the truth.

+15 BONUS

“You wouldn’t know about that. Isn’t it normal for the entourage of a chief’s daughter to carry weapons?” Caspian said.

“I see that all of them treated you with utmost respect. Do you have some special identity?” Willow asked.

“I saved the chief’s life. Besides, I have quite a high position,” Caspian replied.

“Oh, what position do you have?” Willow pressed further.

Caspian was speechless. Willow seemed prepared to get to the bottom of this.

“It’s quite an important position. After all, I made significant contributions by saving the chief’s life,” Caspian said.

He felt that if he was pressed with more questions, he wouldn’t be able to come up with more stories.

“Could it be that you are the b*dyguard of the military chief?” Willow guessed.

“That doesn’t matter. You only need to know that I’m your husband,” Caspian said sternly.

“If you don’t want to tell me, fine. There’s no need to be so secretive. I think you’re a b*dyguard, anyway,” Willow sulked.

“Jonathan and Timothy won’t seek revenge on us in the future, right?” Zoey asked with a worried expression.

“No, don’t worry. They will disappear from Southlake City soon,” Caspian reassured her.

In a private room of the Regal Hotel, Sylvia had her men beat up Timothy and Jonathan severely after Caspian left with Willow and the others.

Both of them suffered greatly and could only beg for mercy on their knees.

Xenia and Mandy had slipped away in the confusion.

Sylvia ordered, “Take these two scoundrels away!”

Some of her men immediately escorted Timothy and Jonathan away.

“What are you going to do to us?” Timothy was filled with anxiety.

“Shut up and move!” Sylvia said.

“I didn’t do anything! Why are you arresting me?” Jonathan feared for his life.

“You offended someone high up!” Sylvia answered.

+15 BONUS

As Sylvia ordered for her men to take Timothy and Jonathan away, a group of officers from the police bureau arrived.

Other customers in the hotel heard sounds of a fight going on, so they made a call to the police bureau.

When they received a report of a brawl, some officers were dispatched to the scene.

Upon entering the private room, the officers were greeted by a gruesome scene.

There were fresh bloodstains on the floor.

Sylvia's men were escorting Timothy and Jonathan out of the room.

As Sylvia's subordinates were dressed in plain clothes, the officers had no idea of their identities. They assumed that they were all involved in the brawl.

Without wasting any time, the officers drew their weapons on Sylvia and her subordinates.

Similarly, Sylvia's men pointed their guns at the officers. The atmosphere was fraught with tension.

The police officers were caught by surprise. Who were these men carrying weapons?

"There's no way to escape. Put down your guns and we will be lenient on you. If you resist, we will shoot to kill!" The leader of the police officers spoke up.

"Everyone, don't act rashly. It's just a misunderstanding. Look at this." Sylvia had anticipated a scenario like this and prepared accordingly.

"Look at what? Reveal it right now, don't dawdle!" the team leader ordered.

Sylvia reached into her clothes and pulled out an identification card. She handed it to the team leader.

With one glance at the card, his face turned pale and he started trembling inexplicably.

"Hold... Hold your fire. Put away your weapons," the team leader stammered.

The officers of the police bureau were stunned.

3 .

N

- 4

2

- 6

”

”

3

Why was their team leader so terrified just by looking at the identification card? Who was this seductive woman in front of them and what was her background?

They didn't dare to ask any questions and followed orders, putting away their weapons.

The glimmer of hope in Timothy's and Jonathan's eyes disappeared. They were in despair.

Sylvia's background was definitely extraordinary. Otherwise, why would the team leader of the police

+15 BONUS

“These two individuals are involved in murder and the illegal use of firearms. They should be handed over to the police bureau.

“But they are also suspects in an important case. I will take them away for further investigation,” Sylvia said.

“Of course. Please, go ahead.” After the team leader learned of Sylvia's status, he was at a loss for what to do. He didn't dare to go against Sylvia.

Sylvia waved her hand. Her subordinates escorted Timothy and Jonathan out of the room.

“Please save us! Why is the police bureau turning a blind eye to us?” Jonathan wailed incessantly.

At this moment, he realized that something was amiss.

These men were much more terrifying than the officers at the police bureau. He would rather go to jail than be taken away by them.

However, the team leader of the police bureau knew of Sylvia's identity. He didn't dare to say anything more.

"Take the others away!" The team leader gestured to his officers. They would deal with the other men lying on the ground.

Timothy and Jonathan were brought to a desolate area dozens of miles away from Southlake City.

Seeing that the area was deserted, Timothy asked nervously, "What are you planning to do with us?"

He sensed that things weren't going to turn out well for him.

"You will be sentenced to death for daring to point your gun at Lord Caspian!" Sylvia spo

"Lord Caspian? Who is he?" Timothy was dumbfounded.

Jonathan was even more startled.

calmly.

"Since both of you are going to die, it would be better to die knowing why. The man you offended just now is Lord Caspian, ruler of Diatoran!" Sylvia explained.

Timothy and Jonathan were in utter shock. The man whom they thought was a loser was actually the famous Lord Caspian himself!

"You were even planning to harm Lady Willow. You really don't know your place! Prepare to die!"

Sylvia didn't want to waste her breath. She gestured to her subordinates.

Last updated on January 9, 2024

The Almighty Lord Caspian Chapter 29

Posted by

By

Chapter 29 The Heirs From Dhord City

"Please, don't! I don't want to die!" Timothy begged pitifully.

*Please have mercy. All I did was tease Lady Willow. I didn't do anything else!" Jonathan was scared out of his wits.

In the face of death, both men wet themselves out of fright.

They had committed their fair share of killing and looting. They were savages themselves. But fear swamped them when they faced such a situation.

Timothy was full of regret. He shouldn't have had any ulterior motives toward Willow. Now, he was going to lose his life.

Jonathan felt the same way. He didn't do anything at all. He accompanied Xenia to the gathering because he wanted to show off. He merely had some impure intentions toward Willow. Yet his life was now in danger!

“Do it!” Sylvia ordered.

Bang! Bang! Bang!

Several gunshots pierced the air.

Timothy and Jonathan were both dead.

Caspian dropped Zoey off outside her apartment.

Zoey was worried Caspian couldn't hold the wedding as promised.

She offered, “Caspian, let me know if you have financial difficulties. I hope for Willow to have a proper wedding, too.”

“You? Do novelists have deep pockets? Caspian asked calmly.

“Hmph! Are you looking down on me? I'm a pretty well-known author. I can earn up to tens of thousands a month!” Zoey replied proudly.

Caspian was surprised. “Oh, you can earn that much?”

He was adept in military affairs but didn't understand much about matters like this.

“It's common. Authors who are more popular can even earn up to hundreds of thousands a month,” she “Oh, I see. I've learned something today. But I'm not short on money,” said Caspian.

“You are more nice than wise. You'd better organize a proper wedding. If you fail and end up embarrassing Willow, I won't forgive you!”

With that, she entered her apartment:

+15 BONUS

Willow joined Southlake Corporation the next day.

Miranda dared not slack off because of her identity and, of course, Caspian's instructions. She personally briefed Willow about the corporation.

The other employees noticed how attentive she was toward Willow. So, they followed suit.

Word spread like wildfire. Before long, everyone knew Willow was now the project director of Southlake Corporation.

Many tried to approach her.

The Stewart family was greatly shocked when they heard about it. They would never have expected one of their family members to work at Southlake City's largest company.

It was all the more surprising for Alicia and Henry.

They witnessed Willow leaving the interview venue with a crestfallen look. Yet, she got the job!

Alicia now believed Caspian had supernatural abilities. Everything he said seemed to come true.

Marilyn had complex feelings. She had driven Willow out of Stewart Group.

Who would've known she would become Southlake Corporation's project director? This position had better prospects than working for the Stewart family.

As the largest corporation in the city, countless people longed for the position Willow held.

Although the corporation had stopped collaborating with them, her granddaughter was now the project director.

At that thought, Marilyn immediately called for a family meeting. It was to discuss how they could approach Willow for collaboration.

“As you all know, Willow is now Southlake Corporation’s project director. Let’s brainstorm and think of an idea to gain her favor,” said Marilyn.

+15 BONUS

“Forget it, Grandma. She’ll never agree to it,” said Alicia.

“Perhaps she will if we pleaded with her?” asked Marilyn.

Alicia replied, “We’ve been giving her the cold shoulder. We’ve also looked down on her and Caspian.

“Now, she’s holding a high position. We should be thankful she’s not giving us a hard time. She’ll never help us.”

“If only I had known, I wouldn’t have talked to Willow like that.” Marilyn deeply regretted her actions. Then, she continued, “This is no trivial matter. No matter what, we must get her help.”

“Grandma, remember when you chased them out? Caspian has mentioned we should forget about getting help from Willow if anything happens. If we plead with her now, your prestige...” said Henry.

“I’m old now. I won’t plead with her personally, of course. You and your sister are the best candidates for this. If Willow helps us, you two will get the credit.”

“But Grandma, I declared I wouldn’t ask them for help. It’s too embarrassing to go back on my words now.

I’m not going,” Henry said anxiously.

“Yeah, me too. It hurts my pride when I think of how she’ll shower me with insults.” Alicia didn’t feel like begging Willow either.

“Pride? Pride is worth nothing. You shouldn’t have been so harsh in the first place. You are cousins.

“If you admit your mistakes, she will surely consider our pleas. It’ll be easier to ask her for a few projects then.

“Whether or not the Stewart family can rise to fame depends on the outcome.

“By hook or by crook, you must get her to agree to our collaboration. Figure out what you do to achieve that!” Marilyn replied.

Alicia and Henry had no other choice even though they were reluctant to comply.

Sylvia finished her tasks and returned to Dhord City, the capital of Diatoran.

Caspian’s wedding was a few days away. Although most arrangements were in place, she thought it could be more extravagant.

The next day, she made an appointment with the heirs of several elite families.

Those who attended were reputable in Diatoran. They were also as rich as Croesus.

+15 BONUS

Among them were Jordan Carr, Felix Stein, Zac Giles, Harris Lloyd, and Sean Lawson. They were all the eldest sons of their respective families.

These heirs were filthy rich.

Still, they never thought they could meet someone like Sylvia.

Sylvia went straight to the point. "Lord Caspian and Ms. Stewart's wedding will be held at Jade Dragon Grand Hotel in Southlake City. It's on the 30th of this month.

"You've been hoping to meet him, haven't you? Now's your chance. You're all invited to his wedding."

"I'll gladly attend Lord Caspian's wedding and offer my blessings. I'll also prepare a priceless gift!" said Jordan.

"It's my utmost pleasure to receive an invitation to Lord Caspian's wedding," said Felix.

"I'll certainly attend the wedding. I can finally meet Lord Caspian," Zac agreed.

"Lord Caspian is a great warrior. We're living in peace thanks to him. I'll definitely be present," said Harris.

"Others will envy me if they know I can attend Lord Caspian's wedding. Not everyone gets the chance to attend!" exclaimed Sean.

They had taken their stands.

Their families were greatly honored. However, they knew their families were nobodies to Caspian.

Lord Caspian was the guardian of the country. He won many battles and could hold back an entire army on his own. He could erase any elite family with a single word.

It was a great chance for them to get to know Caspian. It was more than what they could wish for.

If they could leave a good impression on Caspian, their families would benefit from it, too. One word from him was enough to resolve many problems.

“We haven’t decided on which limousine to use. It’s time for your luxury cars to see daylight. You may save on the gifts,” said Sylvia.

Last updated on January 9, 2024

The Almighty Lord Caspian Chapter 30

Posted by

By

Chapter 30 No Projects for the Stewart Family

“Sure! I’ll be there with my priciest cars!” promised Jordan.

“I can even fly there with a helicopter, let alone a luxury car,” said Felix.

“I know the best how to be showy,” said Zac.

“The cars in my garage are getting dusty. I’ll bring all of them,” said Harris.

Sylvia explained, “I wouldn’t have troubled you with such matters if it weren’t for Ms. Alicia. She is the second daughter of the Stewart family. She insists on competing with Lord Caspian to find out whose wedding is grander.

“Coincidentally, both weddings are on the same day. So, we need your help to keep up appearances. How could Lord Caspian’s wedding lose to someone else’s?”

Everyone in Southlake City knew about that now.

“Oh? How arrogant. How dare she compare herself to Lord Caspian? She’ll only bring disgrace to herself.”

“Is she stupid?”

“We’ll be sure to crush her when the day comes!”

The heirs expressed their views.

Sylvia reminded them, “Alright. That’s all. I have other matters to attend to. You’re all reputable figures in Dhord City. You should know what to do when the time comes.

“Remember, you and your cars must be in Southlake City on the morning of the 30th. Don’t act on your own whims!”

It was dark. Alicia and Henry approached Willow right after she reached home.

“What do you want?” Willow was frustrated at the sight of them.

“Oh, Willow. Are we not allowed to visit you just because? But, indeed, we do have something to talk to you about,” said Henry. He smiled awkwardly.

“What is it?” Willow asked.

“First of all, congratulations. Everyone knows you’re the project director of Southlake Corporation now!”

he said.

“Don’t beat around the bush,” Willow said calmly.

“Alright, I’ll go straight to the point,” said Alicia.

She explained their intentions. “We’re here on Grandma’s request. She hopes you can help our family. You can do that by handing us several projects from Southlake Corporation.”

“She was the one who kicked me out of Stewart Group. Why would she ask you two to approach me?”

Willow asked impassively.

She had seen through them. The Stewart family consisted of a bunch of self-righteous people.

Every single one of them was a snob. They would outright ignore her when she was of no use to them.

“We have been inconsiderate. Nevertheless, we’re still a family. Please help us.” It was Alicia’s first time pleading humbly with Willow.

“I can’t,” said Willow.

Alicia was irked. “How ruthless. You won’t even help your family?”

“It’s not that I refuse to help you. I just can’t. The CEO has declared that we won’t collaborate with the Stewart family.”

Willow had thought of helping Stewart Group. After all, her family worked there.

However, Miranda made it clear during the interview-it was the CEO’s decision. She dared not resist it..

Alicia demanded, “Do you think your excuse is believable? Do we look like fools to you? 1

“The Stewart family has never wronged Southlake Corporation in any way. There’s no reason for them to refuse our collaboration!”

“Think what you like.” Willow didn’t want to waste her time on them.

“So what if you’re now Southlake Corporation’s project director? Look at how arrogant you are about it.

Without your help, we’ll still flourish!” With that, Alicia stood and stomped off.

“How unreasonable!” Henry left too.

Caspian was preparing dinner. He overheard the entire conversation.

At first, he thought they would admit defeat and be kinder with their words. If so, he would agree to partner with them on a project. After all, he wasn't that narrow-minded.

However, they didn't seem to know better. That was not how they should act when they were begging for

21

Caspian had no time for such matters. Anyway, the Stewart family would be on the losing end.

Willow went to the kitchen.

She asked, “Caspian, you're close to Southlake Corporation's CEO, aren't you? I have a favor to ask of you. Can you put in a word or two so he agrees to help Stewart Group?”

Caspian didn't expect this from her after how Alicia and Henry treated her.

“We were classmates, indeed. But you're new to your job. If you do this, others will think you're using your position to help the Stewart family.

“Besides, look at their attitudes. Let's talk about it when they clear their minds and come with sincerity.”

Caspian wanted Willow to take over the corporation in the future. That was why he gave Willow the position of project director. Then, she would gain her family's respect.

However, they were still looking down on her till now. There wasn't an ounce of respect in the way they spoke to her.

There wasn't any point in helping people like them.

“Alright. We'll discuss it later.” Willow knew she was being greedy.

Caspian's classmate had already helped him once. It wasn't appropriate to keep hounding him.

Alicia and Henry had it all thought out after they left.

Upon reaching home, Alicia put on a pitiful look.

She cried, "Grandma, Willow is truly merciless! I even dropped to my knees, but she didn't even bat an eyelid."

Henry chimed in, "Yeah! I didn't think she would be so ruthless. It's okay if she refuses to help us, but she even mocked us!"

"Was she really so savage?" Marilyn doubted them.

She understood Willow's character. By right, she wouldn't have been so heartless.

"Oh, yeah. Willow's extremely confident now she's working at a famous corporation. She said in our faces, that we were nothing to her!" Alicia fanned the flames.

Henry looked indignant.

He said agitatedly, "She even said you were the one who kicked her out of Steward Group. Even if you were there, she would still refuse to help.

"She's so petty. Why do we have to beg her? Even without Southlake Corporation, we'll slowly expand, too!

"Caspian was even more arrogant. He swore he would pay us back for insulting him back then! What a jerk! Why do we have to beg him?" Alicia said furiously.

"Bastards!" Marilyn trembled with anger. "Willow Stewart! How dare she side with an outsider!"

"Yeah! Now we know her true colors!" Alicia seconded.

“Didn’t Caspian say he would hold his wedding on the 30th? He also said his wedding would be grander than Alicia’s, didn’t he?” Marilyn asked Alicia.

“He did. He said it before everyone. Have you come up with an idea, Grandma?” asked Alicia.

Marilyn’s eyes glinted. She clenched her fists. “I’ll disgrace Willow and her family on her wedding day!”

“Huh? Grandma, what are you planning?” Alicia asked immediately.

Last updated on January 9, 2024