

No 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 3692

The two of them nodded. In truth, they felt it as well. Those vines did not seem to have any intention of attacking them. The vines merely restricted their movements.

Right at that moment, all the vines on the ground no longer twisted around.

The wounds suddenly glowed green.

There was more and more green light coming from the wound. Slowly, all the vines dissipated into the air. Even the green liquid on Bolot's face turned into a green light and disappeared.

Looking at that, Rebecca could not help but lament the fact that the hero who created this array must have been one of the greatest figures from ancient times.

Those vines from earlier felt incredibly real. If he had not seen that, he would not have believed that the vines had merely been formed with energy.

All of them looked at the scene in shock.

Diana gulped and said, "If it was me facing the attacks from those vines, I probably wouldn't even last a second..."

Bolot could not help but scoff at those words. He really wanted to viciously mock Diana.

Diana could not even handle the black-iron difficulty, let alone the gold difficulty. It was just impossible.

Rebecca did not dwell on the issue at all as his time was very valuable. He did not want to delay anything.

He said to the other two, "Follow me..."

After that, he started to walk forward. The moment the killing array ended, taking seven steps forward would trigger another one. Rebecca knew of that, so he was already prepared after he took his seventh step.

Suddenly, he heard some splashing. It sounded like a river flowing past the shore.

Rebecca raised an eyebrow, "A water attribute killing array."

Even though every stage seemed hard, it stirred Rebecca's thirst for a challenge.

The sound of water got louder and louder. Initially, it was like a small creek. After that, it started to sound like a raging river. It slowly got louder and louder until it felt like they were at a waterfall that was hundreds of meters tall.

Diana said hoarsely, "Why do I feel like we're about to drown?"

It just sounded so realistic. It was quite scary.

Bolot frowned. With the sound of the water crashing, vapor started to fill up their surroundings.

Rebecca held his sword tightly, preparing to fight at any moment.

The water vapor started to obscure their sight. Suddenly, Rebecca felt like he had returned to the fog battlefield because the vapor was so thick he could not see ahead.

It then went completely silent. They could even hear each other breathing at that moment.

Bolot was so scared his lips were constantly trembling. Everything that was happening was just too strange. He was consoling himself by telling himself that he was just a spectator. As long as he did not provoke anything, he would not be targeted by the array.

However, the constantly changing environment caused him to be incredibly tense. He could clearly hear Diana's gulp at that moment. It seemed like Diana was not having a good time either.

Of the three of them, Rebecca was the calmest. He had not shown much emotion the whole time. He merely looked at everything with a cold expression, maintaining an incredibly alert state.
