A Man Like None Other Chapter 3491-3495

A Man Like None Other Chapter 3491-“Mr. Chance, should we leave as well? I estimate that the Celestial Battlefield will close in a few more days.” Igor planned to return to the Blood Spirit Valley with Jared first.

Jared nodded, ready to follow Igor and leave.

“Wait a moment.” At that moment, Helmut walked over and, after glancing at Jared, he asked, “Did you happen to see my disciple in that battlefield of gods and demons?” Helmut knew that Dimas was with Pablo, so logically, there shouldn’t have been any problems.

However, since Jared had appeared, Helmut felt uncertain. In theory, Pablo, an Eighth Level Tribulator cultivator, should have found it quite easy to kill Jared.

“What are you trying to do, Helmut?” Igor’s brows furrowed slightly as he coldly stared at Helmut.

“Igor, I’m merely inquiring about the condition of my disciple. Is that not allowed?” Helmut sneered. Just as Igor was about to say something, Jared interjected, “There’s no need to wait any longer.

Your apprentice is already dead.” “What?” Helmut was taken aback.

He had never imagined that his disciple would die.

After all, Dimas was with Pablo. How could he possibly have died?

“You lied. My apprentice wouldn’t have died.” Helmut simply couldn’t believe it.

“If you don’t believe me, that’s fine. You’ll understand when you ask Pablo later.” Jared let out a cold snort.

Seeing Jared in that state, Helmut was instantly filled with rage.

“Brat, you are too arrogant!” Helmut’s palm erupted with power, striking down toward Jared with a thunderous force.

The power of Eighth Level Tribulator cultivation erupted, with the palm strike almost covering hundreds of meters, leaving Jared with no place to hide.

At that moment, even the void around Jared was sealed off by the terrifying aura of Helmut, leaving Jared with absolutely no place to escape.

Everyone was taken aback as they turned their gaze toward Helmut. No one knew why Helmut had suddenly lost his temper.

“How audacious, daring to raise a hand against Mr. Chance in my presence!” Enraged, Igor erupted in a flash, radiating a thousand beams of golden light akin to a blazing sun in the sky.

Following a thunderous roar, a palm strike was unleashed, sending a surge of energy rushing forth like a torrential river, unstoppable in its momentum. That overwhelming strike was aimed at Helmut, and soon after, it collided with Helmut’s own palm strike.

Following a thunderous boom, both palm strikes were instantly shattered. Igor’s gaze was icy cold as he reached out to grab Helmut.

The space began to tremble as a palm print large enough to eclipse the sun materialized, reaching out toward Helmut.

Helmut’s pupils contracted in surprise. He hadn’t expected Igor to deal him a heavy blow, all for the sake of Jared. Although the two were at odds, they had never openly fallen out, let alone treated each other harshly.

However, this time, it was clear that Igor intended to crush Helmut. Upon seeing the situation, Helmut also swiftly launched a series of palm strikes, effectively neutralizing the impending claw attack.

“Igor, are you truly intending to kill me?” Helmut incredulously asked.

“Hmph, you deserve to die for daring to attack Mr. Chance!” As he spoke, Igor was surprisingly about to take action.

“Mr. Lothian, in front of so many people, you and your fellow disciple acted out, clearly violating the rules. That’s not quite right, is it?” Artan of Creston Sect appeared, looking at Igor with great dissatisfaction.

Behind Artan, there were several people following. Those individuals exuded a powerful aura. Clearly, they were also from the sects around Demonica Mountain, and that rule was something they had all established together.

Back then, Igor and Helmut, as members of the demonic sects in Demonica Mountain, were also involved.

However, the two of them were openly defying the rules.

“It was Helmut who struck first. If I hadn’t intervened, he would’ve killed someone.” Igor spoke with great dissatisfaction.

Artan naturally knew that it was Helmut who struck first, so he turned to Helmut and said, “Mr. Koritnik, as an elder, how could you break the rules and openly take action?”

A Man Like None Other Chapter 3492-Helmut was well aware of his own wrongdoing. His face darkened as he said, “This man killed my disciple. How could I possibly let him go- “Mr. Koritnik, the matters of the Celestial Battlefield should not be brought to Demonica Mountain. Since we have established rules together, you cannot take action within my Creston Sect. Once you leave my Creston Sect, you can fight however you want. I won’t interfere. However, you can’t fight here. If you insist on taking action, then don’t blame us for not being polite,” Artan of Creston Sect spoke with great displeasure!

“Helmut, your actions against the younger generation here, indeed, lack decorum.” “You were present when the rules were established. How could you break them yourself?” “Indeed, what you did was a bit excessive. If you resort to violence again, we won’t be so polite.” Several people behind Artan also began to point fingers and accuse Helmut!

Helmut’s face darkened. He snorted coldly and said, “Hmph. You all are playing saints now, but when your disciples are killed, I wonder if you can still maintain such sanctity.” After Helmut finished speaking, he turned to Jared and said, “Young man, just you wait...” After speaking, Helmut turned around and left!

Jared glanced at the few people behind Artan, then turned to Igor and asked, “Mr. Lothian, who are those people who just spoke?” With a hint of envy, Igor said, “Oh, they are all from the Five Great Sects near Demonica Mountain. The five sects also have disciples who have entered the Celestial Battlefield, so they are waiting. It’s likely that the Five Great Sects reaped significant benefits this time. They dispatched the Five Elites, who are indeed the most talented individuals within these five sects.” Upon hearing that, Jared couldn’t help but laugh. The Five Elites had already been killed by Pablo. What benefits could there possibly be left to reap?

“Dad, let’s go. Mr. Chance must have been tired from the battles in the Celestial Battlefield these past few days. Let’s let him rest for a while!” said Rosetta.

“Alright, let’s go...” Igor nodded, leading Jared and the others toward the Blood Spirit Valley!

Not long after Jared and his companions had left Creston Sect, a figure suddenly darted toward them with great speed!

Igor was taken aback. He had thought that Helmut would not give up, waiting outside Creston Sect!

Meanwhile, Catina, who was by Jared’s side, leaped up, striking that figure with a palm!

“Mr. Chance, it’s me!” A figure shouted out, and Jared hurriedly told Catina to stop!

It turned out that Xanthus had hurriedly rushed over!

Xanthus pleaded, “Mr. Chance, you’ve finally emerged. I... I believe the poison is about to take effect. I beg you, Mr. Chance, grant me the antidote!” It turned out Xanthus had been waiting for Jared all along. Jared had poisoned him, and without an antidote, he was doomed to succumb to the poison!

“You didn’t help me at all. Why should I give you the antidote?” Jared said with a faint smile.

“Mr. Chance, Xavion and Mr. Cabeza have not left Demonia Mountain. They are still waiting to kill you!” Xanthus spoke to Jared!

“Kill me?” Jared let out a sneer. “Let them come then. I’m not afraid of them now.” With Catina by Jared’s side, how could Jared possibly fear Demon Seal Alliance?

“Mr. Chance, the power of Demon Seal Alliance is far more terrifying than you could ever imagine. Otherwise, how could there possibly be branches of Demon Seal Alliance throughout the entire Ethereal Realm? Mr. Chance, I implore you to provide me with the antidote. I am willing to continue working undercover for you. As long as you have control over the movements of Demon Seal Alliance, there’s nothing to fear.” Xanthus made every effort to demonstrate his worth, making Jared think he was useful!

After hearing that, Jared felt that Xanthus was right. He then took out a pill from his pocket and said, “Take this. It will prevent the poison for half a month. If you dare to play tricks, I will make your death very painful.” “No, I absolutely wouldn’t resort to tricks.” Xanthus took the pill from Jared, swallowed it in one gulp, and then turned around to leave!

He couldn’t stay away for too long for fear that suspicions would arise from his absence!

A Man Like None Other Chapter 3493-“Mr. Chance, dealing with the Demon Seal Alliance is going to be troublesome.

It seems you’ll have to be more cautious in the future,” Dalton advised Jared.

Ever since Dalton encountered members of the Demon Seal Alliance at Night Sea, he knew that Jared’s association with them would inevitably lead to hostility.

“Don’t worry. If the Demon Seal Alliance dares to provoke me, I won’t show them any mercy,” Jared replied nonchalantly.

Jared and his companions continued their journey towards Blood Spirit Valley.

However, shortly after they set off, the sky suddenly darkened. Massive black clouds began to gather over a specific area.

Looking up at the continuously accumulating dark clouds, Rosetta exclaimed, “Isn’t that the place where Montane Daemon resides? Could that be a lightning tribulation cloud?” Dalton also glanced up and remarked, “Since when does a lightning tribulation cloud look like this? Even though we are Demonic Cultivators and face heavenly thunder tribulations during our breakthroughs, it has never been this kind of black cloud!” Igor grimaced as he watched the dark clouds gathering.

“Oh no. That’s the demonic tribulation cloud. Mr. Daemon is in danger!” Igor said with furrowed brows.

“Demonic tribulation cloud? What is that?” Jared asked, looking confused.

“Mr. Chance, you may not be aware, but when we Demonic Cultivators undergo tribulation, there’s a slim chance we might encounter the demonic tribulation cloud. This cloud possesses immense power, making it incredibly difficult to overcome. However, there is an advantage. After surviving it, one’s strength would significantly surpass those at the same level. But over the years, I’ve never heard of anyone who has successfully weathered the demonic tribulation cloud,” Igor explained to Jared.

“I’ve heard of this demonic tribulation cloud before, but I’ve never witnessed its power. Today, I’ve finally seen it,” Catina added, lifting her head to gaze at the continuously accumulating dark clouds.

“Let me go and take a look,” Jared said, his brows furrowing as he swiftly headed towards Montane Daemon’s dwelling.

He couldn’t just stand by and watch someone die. He had to go and see what was really happening.

“Mr. Chance, it’s dangerous. You can’t go there.

This demonic tribulation cloud is extremely powerful!” Igor shouted. Seeing that Jared had already run far away, Igor could only instruct Coby and Dalton, “You two wait here. Don’t get any closer. I’ll go and take a look.” Igor also headed towards Montane Daemon’s dwelling. Catina also leaped up and followed them, leaving Feenix and Cloud behind.

After all, their cultivation level was too low, and she wanted to prevent them from being harmed by the demonic tribulation cloud.

As Jared and his companions made their way towards Montane Daemon’s dwelling, the latter slowly opened his eyes. Looking up at the gathering dark clouds, he let out a bitter laugh.

“Unexpectedly, I encountered the once-in-a- century demonic tribulation cloud.

However, it’s a pity. I fear I might not be able to withstand it. This is my fate,” Montane Daemon’s eyes were filled with despair.

“Mr. Daemon!” At that moment, Jared burst in.

“Mr. Chance!” Montane Daemon was instantly overjoyed upon seeing Jared.

However, his face quickly filled with anxiety as he said, “Mr. Chance, you must leave immediately. This place is far too dangerous. The lightning tribulation is about to strike, and when it does, you won’t be able to escape!” “Mr. Daemon, I understand. I’m here to help you weather this lightning tribulation,” Jared said.

“Mr. Chance, this is a demonic tribulation cloud. I’m certain I won’t be able to endure it. You don’t have to stay here and risk your life. Please, leave quickly!” Montane Daemon anxiously urged Jared to leave.

However, at that moment, Igor also arrived. Seeing Igor, Montane Daemon became even more anxious. “Igor, why have you come too? Hurry up and take Mr. Chance away. The lightning tribulation is about to strike!” After a quick glance, Igor said to Jared, “Mr. Chance, we should leave as soon as possible. This is Mr. Daemon’s fate, and no one can change it.” “Jared, hurry up and leave. Stop trying to be brave!” Catina had also arrived.

She was about to drag Jared away.

“Go on without me. I want to face this lightning tribulation for Mr. Daemon,” Jared’s eyes were filled with determination.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 3494-Dark clouds covered the sky, with lightning flashing and thunder rumbling. The lightning tribulation was about to strike at any moment.

“Mr. Chance, you should leave quickly. There’s nothing you can do to help. This lightning tribulation requires an aura identical to that of Mr. Daemon’s. No one can assist him,” Igor urged anxiously.

“You all should hurry up and leave. I’m sure I can help Mr. Daemon.” Jared lifted his gaze to the demonic tribulation cloud above, feeling a surge of aura within him.

Upon seeing the situation, Igor and Catina could only turn and leave. After all, their presence served no purpose!

Just as Montane Daemon was about to say something, Jared abruptly seized his wrist. Immediately afterward, a surge of energy flowed into Montane Daemon’s body.

Montane Daemon was taken aback, his face filled with disbelief as he looked at Jared. “Mr. Chance, this power...” “Don’t get distracted. Focus on comprehending the power I’ve passed onto you!” Jared warned Montane Daemon not to lose focus.

Montane Daemon nodded, his heart filled with immense excitement. That was because he found that the power Jared had transferred to him was exactly the same as the energy within his own body!

In that case, his ability to resist the lightning tribulation could be significantly increased.

With that, Montane Daemon gained some confidence!

The reason Jared could do that was because of the Impersonation Technique he had learned. Although Jared was not yet able to completely alter his appearance and aura, transforming his power into an aura similar to that of Montane Daemon's was still quite easily achievable for him.

"Mr. Chance, the lightning tribulation is striking." Montane Daemon cautioned Jared. At that moment, Igor and his companions watched as the lightning tribulation was about to crash down, each of them becoming incredibly tense!

Feenix clenched her fists tightly, wishing she could immediately rush into the demonic tribulation cloud to withstand the lightning tribulation on behalf of Jared.

"Feenix, don't worry too much. If Jared dared to stay behind, he must have been confident," Catina comforted Feenix.

Boom!

In the heart of the sky, dark clouds had gathered to their limit, and then, a lightning tribulation resoundingly struck down.

Suddenly, a mysterious red light began to flicker on Montane Daemon's body.

The lightning tribulation struck Montane Daemon's body, causing him to shudder instantly. Countless wounds appeared on his body in an instant!

Jared also furrowed his brows, a sense of suffocation washing over him. That was just the first lightning tribulation strike, yet it already carried such might. If that continued, even Jared didn't know if he could withstand it.

Given the circumstances, all Jared could do was grit his teeth and persevere.

Soon, the dark clouds transformed, and a bolt of lightning tribulation suddenly struck down once again!

A glint flashed in Jared's eyes, the aura in his palm growing even more powerful.

Montane Daemon's body emitted a dazzling red light once again, and within his eyes, there was an even more distinct clarity.

With Jared's presence, confidence surged within Montane Daemon. He also had the newfound conviction to fight till the end.

Montane Daemon unleashed all his power, once again withstanding the second lightning tribulation strike.

However, after enduring that lightning tribulation strike, Montane Daemon's aura turned extremely weak, and his body was covered in wounds and scars.

Jared was not faring any better. His forehead was drenched in cold sweat, and his aura also significantly diminished.

"Mr. Chance, you should leave quickly. We won't be able to hold out till the end.

This is only the second lightning tribulation," Montane Daemon urged Jared to leave again.

After all, the second lightning tribulation had nearly exhausted all their strength.

How were they to deal with the upcoming lightning tribulation?

"Mr. Daemon, don't be disheartened. As long as we hold firm to our beliefs, we can definitely make it. Pull yourself together!" Jared continued to encourage Montane Daemon despite starting to feel uncertain himself.

The power of that demonic tribulation cloud truly surpassed all his imagination.

A glow began to radiate from Jared's chest. The draconic essence emanated waves of draconic energy. Even his nascence space was sparkling.

At that moment, Jared had employed every method he could possibly use.

At that point, it was already impossible for him to leave.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 3495-Montane Daemon observed the situation and realized that Jared couldn't leave.

He could only concentrate silently, gathering the strongest radiance throughout his body.

The two of them waited quietly for the third heavenly tribulation.

Meanwhile, not far from Jared, Xavion and Zayan were waiting for Jared to emerge from the Celestial Battlefield.

Xavion looked at the accumulating dark clouds in the nearby sky and asked, "Mr. Cabaza, do you see the anomaly in the distant sky? Could there be a powerful demon lord appearing? Even from this distance, I can sense a terrifying aura." Zayan glanced at it and calmly explained, "Mr. Xavion, that's the demonic tribulation cloud. It means a demon cultivator is breaking through. However, summoning the demonic tribulation cloud indicates that their life is nearing its end. Not everyone can withstand the power of the demonic tribulation cloud." Xavion was immediately intrigued and suggested, "Let's go and check it out!" Zayan quickly advised, "Mr. Xavion, it would be best if we avoid these lands of the demon cultivators. They don't usually appreciate the presence of the Demon Seal Alliance." "Mr. Cabeza, what are you afraid of? This time, the Demon Seal Alliance has brought so many people. We don't need to fear those demon cultivators. If they show any disrespect, we can just capture them all. If those demon cultivators dare to be rude to us, we'll apprehend them directly." Xavion didn't take the threat to heart.

In these days, many members joined the Demon Seal Alliance, giving Xavion a lot of confidence.

If they had this many people from the beginning, he wouldn't have tolerated leaving the Creston Sect without entering the Celestial Battlefield.

Seeing Xavion insisting on going, Zayan could only say, "Mr. Xavion, we can only observe from a distance. The power of the demonic tribulation cloud is formidable." "I know!" Xavion nodded.

Just as Xavion and his group were about to set off toward the accumulating demonic tribulation cloud, Xanthus also arrived.

Upon seeing him, Xavion yelled, "What were you doing? I asked you to find people from the Soulless Hall, and you couldn't even find one. Now you're running around, nowhere to be found." Xavion had no respect for these demon cultivators in the Demon Seal Alliance.

After all, they were captured and forced to serve the Demon Seal Alliance.

"Mr. Xavion, I was merely looking around..." Xanthus hung his head low, but in his heart, he had already cursed Xavion repeatedly.

"Elder Fabrizio, is that the demonic tribulation cloud, a rare sight among you demon cultivators?" Zayan asked.

Xanthus didn't even look up. He simply nodded and said, "Yes, it seems a demon cultivator is attempting a breakthrough, but it's virtually impossible. The third lightning tribulation is imminent. Very few can withstand three rounds of lightning tribulations under the demon tribulation cloud. If they can't withstand three heavenly tribulations, let's hurry. If we're too late, we won't be able to see anything." Upon hearing this, Xanthus immediately quickened his pace.

The others could only closely follow behind.

Boom... Just as Xavion and the others were about to arrive, suddenly the third heavenly tribulation descended.

A terrifying aura surged skyward, then began to spread in all directions.

Even though they were hundreds of miles apart, Xavion and his companions could still feel the gust of a wild wind sweeping over them.

"It's over, we're a step too late. Well, the person who had the tribulation is definitely dead," Xavion said, sounding disappointed.

Glancing at the sky, Zayan said, "Mr. Xavion, the demonic tribulation cloud is still there. The person should still be alive." Xavion instantly became spirited and quickened his pace. At the same time, Igor and his group, affected by the aftermath of the third heavenly tribulation, were forced to retreat hundreds of meters.

They were at a considerable distance, yet were swept back by the residual shockwaves. One could only imagine the terrifying impact that Jared and Montane Daemon, who were at the center, must have endured!
