

Married at First Sight Chapter 4349

“Have you seen them?”

Liberty asked her sister, and before she could answer, she said, “You should have a good rest, and you don’t have to see them. Zhou Honglin has changed, but his mother and sister are just like dogs that can’t change their eating habits.”

“It’s still the same. It’s easy to get pissed off when you come into contact with them.”

Liberty could never change her impression of her ex-mother-in-law.

It’s also because my ex-mother-in-law could never change her temper.

It is easy to change the country, but difficult to change one’s nature.

Zhou’s mother and daughter have just that kind of personalities, how could they possibly change?

“I didn’t meet them. I told them to take back the nutritional supplements they sent. Their family’s life is not very good now. The nutritional supplements are expensive, but they can eat them, so I told them to take them back.”

“Diapers and baby clothes, just collect them.”

“I won’t accept anything from them, and I’m afraid they’ll talk nonsense in front of Yangyang.”

Liberty nodded: “Yang Yang doesn’t want to go to his dad’s place recently. If his dad comes over and says he wants to take him out to play, he will be willing to go out with him.”

The love between father and son cannot be severed. Yangyang still has a good relationship with his father, but the little guy is becoming less and less willing to get close to his grandmother.

Grandpa is doing better.

Grandma and aunt refused to change their bad habits. Although Yangyang was young, he was sensible enough and he began to avoid getting along with his grandma.

“Will Yangyang transfer to Jiangcheng to attend kindergarten next semester or continue to stay in Wancheng?”

Haitong changed the subject, not wanting to keep talking about her sister's ex-husband's family.

"I want to transfer him to Jiangcheng to attend kindergarten. I'm staying there for a long time, and Dongming will also go there. If I leave Yangyang in Wancheng, it will cause trouble for your department, and I'm afraid Yangyang will think I don't want him anymore."

Hai Tong said, "What's the problem? There are so many people in my family, can't we take care of him? Even Aunt Lu and the others are willing to take care of him."

The Lu family treats Yangyang like their own grandson and treats him with kindness from the bottom of their hearts.

"I won't be back to work so soon. I think it will take three months. I can still help you take care of Yangyang."

"Of course, if you are stable, it would be better for Yangyang to stay with you."

"Of course, if you are stable, it would be better for Yangyang to stay with you."

Liberty was silent for a moment, then said, "I asked Yang Yang's opinion, but he was reluctant to go to Jiangcheng with me. He said that no one would play with him in Jiangcheng."

"After the summer vacation, take him to Jiangcheng to live for a while and see if he changes his mind. If he still doesn't want to go, I'll trouble you."

"Yangyang is getting older. He has his own ideas and thoughts. He no longer listens to my arrangements for everything."

Liberty smiled and said, "He is a man with good ideas."

The two sisters chatted for a while, and Liberty asked her sister to take the child to rest while she and Duncan went back to the Lu family.

After returning from Jiangcheng, she did not move into the Lu family, but lived in the villa under her name, and Duncan naturally lived with her.

Liberty felt that she was more comfortable living in her own home. Duncan also had a villa there, which was very close.

Haitong quickly fell asleep with her son.

She will be discharged from the hospital tomorrow.

Zhan Yin sat aside and looked at his wife and children, his face full of tenderness.

At this time, his cell phone rang.

It was Zhan Yuan who called him.

Zhan Yin answered the call immediately and stood up and walked out, fearing that his call would disturb his wife and children's rest.

"Brother, has my sister-in-law been discharged and returned home, or is she still in the hospital?"

"I haven't been discharged yet. I plan to be discharged and go home tomorrow."

Zhan Yuan said, "Brother, my eldest daughter and I are going back by plane now. We should be able to arrive at the airport in the evening. We will then take a car directly to the hospital to see my eldest sister-in-law and the child first."

Hearing that his brother was coming back, Zhan Yin said, "You work so far away, and the master can't do without you. You don't have to make this trip. Your sister-in-law is very good, and your children are also very good."

"You can come back to drink the full moon wine after the full moon."
