

Married at First Sight Chapter 4358

The bodyguard said: "The wine cabinet at home is full of good wine bought by the husband. If the wife wants to drink, she can drink at home. There is no need to go to the bar."

"Madam, remember that you are now our wife, a noble lady. If you go to the bar to drink like this and people find out, you will embarrass your husband. If the head of the family comes to settle the score, we will all be punished."

"Ma'am, you should go home and have a drink."

Ning Siqi pouted and said, "Drinking at home is so boring. No one is drinking with me. What's the point of drinking alone?"

"The bar is crowded and lively, so I just want to go to the bar and drink."

"I can go home first, take off my makeup, take off my face, and restore my identity as Miss Ning, and then go to the bar to drink. Even if someone recognizes me, it's Miss Ning who is embarrassed, not your wife."

The bodyguard stopped talking.

Ning Siqi stopped arguing.

When she returned to the big villa where she lived, she immediately went upstairs to change her clothes, remove her makeup, and restore her original appearance as Ning Siqi.

Afterwards, she carried the bag she used to carry. When she went back to Ning's house to exchange things, she snatched out all her valuables.

She sold a lot of it to make money, but she kept some for herself.

She also wants those luxury goods to accompany her to high-end places to support her appearance.

Although she, Miss Ning, has become a joke and a thing of the past in the wealthy circles of Dongguan City, she still wants to catch a rich husband.

When I ran out of money, I called my brother and got money from him.

She couldn't get much. Ning Tianlei was completely controlled by Ning Yunchu. He sided with Ning Yunchu and didn't listen to her. He was only willing to give her three to five thousand for living expenses every month.

If she cried, her brother would at most give her 10,000 or 20,000 yuan.

Fortunately, she now has nearly 10 million in savings. As long as she can secretly transfer the money away and escape from Wancheng, she can still live a rich and idle life.

Ning Siqi came out of the house. When the two bodyguards saw her, one stood still while the other stepped forward to block her way.

“Madam, Miss Ning is out there, you can’t go out as Miss Ning anymore.”

“That’s Xibei stuff.”

“I want to go out. I want to go out and drink. If you stop me from going out, then you can come into the house and drink with me until you are drunk.”

Ning Siqi said, and dared to reach out to pull the bodyguard, trying to pull him into the house.

The bodyguard was so frightened that he quickly avoided her clutches and stepped back several steps, warning Ning Siqi with a dark face: “Madam, please respect yourself!”

“Why should I respect myself? I’m not taking advantage of you. I just want to find someone to drink with me. I’m in a bad mood, so I like to drink.”

“What do you think I want to do to you? I don’t even think highly of you two. You’re just two lackeys. I’m the second daughter of the Ning family. When my parents were still alive, my family had assets of over 10 billion. We are truly a wealthy family!”

“When I was at my peak, I had a lot of bodyguards.”

The bodyguard’s face was dark.

He knew that Ning Siqi would not be attracted to them.

But they couldn’t accompany Ning Siqi to drink. What if he got drunk and something that shouldn’t have happened happened? If the head of the family found out, wouldn’t the head of the family skin him alive?

Yes, the master of the house once gave his disobedient mistress, whom he had grown tired of, to the bodyguards, but that was a rare occurrence.

Many times those women are very smart and tactful.

As long as the head of the family has a new love, they will take the money and leave without bothering the head of the family. Even if they have children, they will not think about becoming his regular wife. They will just take the living expenses and support their children.

In the eyes of their master, Ning Siqu is just a plaything and a chess piece.

However, the head of the family would still come over occasionally, so they couldn't touch Ning Siqu.
