

Chapter 628

"No, I haven't," Samantha continued to approach Chuck with a smile.

She looked extremely charming, especially her beautiful eyes.

Chuck scanned her from top to bottom. She was wearing a pair of hot pants and a white tee that accentuated her figure.

Chuck thought that maybe he just wasn't familiar with how things worked around here. After all, he had never seen such a charming woman take the initiative like this.

What exactly was going on?

"Be my boyfriend, will you?" Samantha's smile deepened.

Her voice was particularly pleasing to the ear.

Chuck looked at her with a strange look and refused, "I already have a girlfriend."

The only reason he was here was because of Alexandrina. He had come here to put on an act for Alexandrina. He wasn't in the mood to flirt with girls, especially not in the washroom.

"It doesn't matter. It's all about fate, and I think that you and I are a good match. We can get together for just one day, what do you think?" Samantha asked as she put a hand on Chuck's shoulder.

The smile on her face was extremely beautiful.

"Alexandrina, hey, I just saw your boyfriend dragging Samantha into the bathroom. What does he want to do?" Miranda put on a worried look and came over in anger.

"Yeah, I saw it too. Alexandrina, why is your boyfriend like that?"

"That's right, it's too outrageous!"

Several relatives acted furiously as they gritted their teeth in anger.

Alexandrina was dumbfounded.

What?

Chuck had taken Samantha to the bathroom?

How could this be possible?

"Mom, you haven't gotten it wrong, have you?"

Alexandrina shook her head adamantly.

"No, how could I be wrong? If you don't believe me, then follow me. You can see for yourself. That b*stard must have done something to Samantha in the bathroom!"

"Yes, let's go have a look!"

They took Alexandrina to the washroom.

Alexandrina was stunned. She sighed exasperatedly in an attempt to defend Chuck, "No, Chuck wouldn't do something like that."

She knew that Chuck was timid. After all, she had asked Chuck for a massage the previous night, and he didn't do anything out of place to her.

With such a timid personality, how could he have dragged Samantha to the bathroom?

Alexandrina was in disbelief.

"Mom, don't push me. Chuck won't do that," Alexandrina said helplessly.

If they suddenly barged in, it would hurt Chuck's self-esteem.

"It's possible. I've seen it just now. You'll know when you see it for yourself!" Miranda was annoyed.

She was reluctant to allow Chuck to take too much advantage of Samantha.

Alexandrina looked at her mother and frowned, "Mom... He won't do something like that."

"Ah!!"

Suddenly, there was a scream from the bathroom.

Alexandrina was surprised. It was a woman's scream. Was it really Samantha?

Alexandrina suddenly felt both jealous and angry. Did Chuck really do it?

Why would he force Samantha into the washroom?

What did Chuck want so bad that he couldn't get from Alexandrina herself?

Alexandrina was so jealous that she suddenly felt possessive over him.

"See, it is as I have said. That jerk has forced Samantha into the bathroom. Now, Samantha must have been taken advantage of by him," Miranda ran over quickly.

Miranda was determined to let Alexandrina catch them in the act!

Alexandrina must realize how terrible of a person Chuck really was!

Only then would she discard such an awful man.

All the relatives rushed over and kicked down the door.

Alexandrina snorted, the feeling of jealousy surging in her heart.

How dare Chuck act so cowardly before her but do something like this to other girls! Alexandrina wouldn't let him go this easily!

Thud!

The door of the bathroom was kicked open.

"You jerk, how dare you..."

Miranda and several other relatives shouted angrily, but as soon as the door was opened, all of them paused in surprise.

Alexandrina was also taken aback.

Chuck and Samantha, who were in the bathroom, were also shocked.

Samantha suddenly blurted out, "Can you teach me martial arts? Mom, look, he's amazing!"

Samantha ran out looking extremely excited.

Everyone looked at each other sheepishly, feeling surprised. Why were Samantha's clothes not messy at all, and why was she happy?

What just happened?

Shouldn't Samantha be seducing Chuck?

"Samantha, stop joking around. Why did you just praise him? Tell me, did this a*shole drag you inside?" Samantha's mother, Juvana, shouted.

Juvana flashed her daughter a look.

"Mom," Samantha lowered her head.

She regretted it. Just now, when she was in the bathroom, she had tried her best to seduce Chuck, but it was useless. He did not even touch her and kept a distance from her.

She was so angry that she was about to throw something at him, but she had been careless and almost slipped and fell.

Luckily, Chuck held onto her and stopped her from falling. He had her in his arms, and she felt surprised at how fast he managed to do that.

However, Chuck had not done anything to her at all.

After he helped her up, he immediately let her go.

It was then that she realized that Chuck was indeed a gentleman.

Hence, Samantha regretted it. She shouldn't have done this in the first place.

"Samantha, answer me. Did he force you to come in?"

"I..." Samantha didn't know how to explain it to them.

"Samantha, tell me the truth. Yes or no," Alexandrina asked.

"No. I came in by myself," Samantha decided to tell everyone the truth.

"What?! You...!"

Miranda, as well as several other relatives, were irritated. What was happening?

"Mom, see? This was all a misunderstanding. I told you, Chuck wouldn't do something that," Alexandrina said.

Then, she turned to Chuck and asked, "Are you still not planning to come out?"

Chuck quickly came out of the bathroom, speechless. He was confused. How did he go from using the washroom, to having the door of the washroom being kicked open?

The expressions on the relative's faces fell. They were furious as they couldn't manage to trick Chuck.

"What's going on, Alexandrina?" He asked.

"Whatever the situation is, you did a good job today. I'll give you more money when we get back," Alexandrina smirked.

It was true that she felt a little angry just now. Upon realizing the situation in the bathroom, she suddenly calmed down.

She was indeed right. Chuck really was as timid as a mouse.

"Alright," Chuck wouldn't refuse someone handing out money to him.

Several relatives snorted and stormed off. After all, a lot of people were gathered here, so they couldn't be bothered dealing with Chuck.

Meanwhile, Samantha stuffed a note to Chuck and ran away shyly.

Chuck opened it in astonishment. It was her phone number.

Chuck was confused. What on earth was going on?

Did she just give him her phone number?

Chuck smiled to himself. Samantha was really pretty, and her figure was perfect too.

"What are you doing? Are you not going to throw that away?" Alexandrina glared at him.

Chuck shrugged and put it away.

Alexandrina was angry. She grabbed Chuck's hand and said, "I'm asking you to behave yourself now."

"Um... I am?"

"Let go of the paper. I'll throw it away for you and pay you back later."

"Um, okay," Chuck shrugged and handed the note over to Alexandrina.

Alexandrina snatched the note away and tore it up in front of him. How dare he accept other girls' numbers right in front of her face?

Chuck coughed and said, "Alexandrina, I..."

"Hmph, follow me. As my lover, you should be obedient and smart. Otherwise, I will teach you a lesson once we get back," Alexandrina threatened.

Chuck was speechless. Did this woman take him as a child?

Chuck still felt that there was something weird about what had happened. He followed behind Alexandrina and tossed his worries behind his mind.

The family gathering at the Middleton family was a little different from the ones he had attended. Chuck ate his food quietly as he tried to enjoy himself as much as possible.

"Here, eat this. It's delicious," Alexandrina gave Chuck some food.

Chuck thought that Alexandrina was only cold and distant on the surface. Once he got to know her, she would take good care of him.

Miranda couldn't help asking, "Chuck, what do you do for a living?"

Seeing her daughter constantly serving food for Chuck, she was furious. It was as if her daughter was taking care of him closely.

Miranda thought that her own daughter was much too good for someone like Chuck.

"Me?" Chuck was startled.

Many other relatives stared at him as well. After what had happened, they were even more displeased with him.

"Yes. Tell me, what do you do for a living?" Miranda repeated.

"I live off my parents..." Chuck muttered. Although he had a lot of assets, most of them had been given to him by his mother.

He really was living off his mother.

"I can't believe you dare to say that aloud. Don't you feel ashamed?" Miranda taunted.

Everyone else sneered at him. How could he say something like that so easily? Was this really the kind of person he was?

Chapter 629

Alexandrina grew angry at her relatives' jeers. She had brought Chuck here to shut her relatives up. However, she did not expect her mother to add in and join as they insulted Chuck together.

She was very displeased and felt sorry for Chuck.

"I'm living off my parents for the time being, but I have my own goals," Chuck explained calmly.

After he found Willa, Chuck would expand his business and make himself the richest man in the world.

"Goals? What goals do you have?" Miranda laughed at him. This was what she wanted to see all along. It was only when Alexandrina saw her boyfriend being ridiculed by her relatives that would she realize her mistake of choosing to be with him. How could she have found someone like him?

Chuck shook his head, "Let's not talk about that now."

Alexandrina turned to look at him. What goals did he have?

Of course, she knew about Karen's abilities. With Karen's current wealth, it was enough for Chuck to spend for a dozen lifetimes.

If his mother was rich, then he could live off of her for a long time.

"Are you embarrassed to tell me your goals? You must be looking to become a disappointment to your family. Tell me, who else is in your family? Let's see just how long you can live off of them for," One of the relatives mocked.

The Middleton family was extremely wealthy, and even the poorest amongst them had at least several million dollars worth of assets. To them, Chuck was probably from a poor family.

His family might have tens of millions of dollars. How long would that last him?

"From his appearance, he's not from a rich and powerful family. He doesn't have the elegance from a wealthy family at all. What a joke," Another man sneered.

"You're asking too many questions. What does Chuck's family have to do with all of you?" Alexandrina spoke out, unwilling to let them continue.

This was not acceptable. Only she could judge him, no one else could!

"Alexandrina, we're just asking him out of curiosity. Since he said he lives off his parents, he should be rich, right?" Someone laughed.

"That's right. If he is rich, why not allow us to witness it? We'd like to see just how rich he is."

Several other of her relatives burst out laughing. Of course, the smiles on their faces were filled with jest and mockery.

Just how could someone like Chuck be considered rich? There were probably tons of other guys like him in other families.

"You guys..." Alexandrina's gaze turned cold. Usually, she would restrain herself whenever she returned home. She had never revealed that she was the leader of an assassins' organization.

Today, these people were forcing her to show her hand.

"Don't worry, Alexandrina. They are your family," Chuck patted Alexandrina's hand and shrugged.

Alexandrina was startled. Wasn't Chuck angry at all?

Sure enough, Chuck thought that there was nothing to be angry about. All of them were Alexandrina's family members, and Chuck was reluctant to do anything to them.

It was not necessary.

"Chuck, are you upset? I'll give you some money and a hug when we get back, all right?" Alexandrina said.

She was sincere. After all, she could see that Chuck was being thoughtful for her sake.

If Karen's name was said out loud, her whole family would be shocked.

At the very least, Karen had an entire business empire here. As the boss of the assassins' organization, she certainly knew that some people in her family had worked together with Karen before, and they had all earned a sizable profit from that.

For this reason, everyone would be especially shocked when they figured out Karen was Chuck's mother.

Chuck smiled and agreed to her proposal, "Okay."

"Why don't you continue? Are you embarrassed?" Miranda was very aggressive.

The rest of the relatives urged him on.

They wanted to see how "rich" Chuck was.

"It's not that I'm embarrassed, I just don't have to say it. To put it bluntly, I can live off my family's wealth for another few generations," Chuck shook his head and replied with a calm expression.

"What? A few generations? Haha, are you kidding me?" Someone immediately burst out laughing.

Miranda sneered, "Yeah, that's only possible if you only spend a dollar a day. If that was the case, you would never use up your money. According to your logic, I could rely on my fortune for a million years, right?"

"Yeah, how dishonest. How can you say something like that? How insolent! It's no wonder he doesn't dare to tell us. He's afraid of embarrassing himself!"

Jeers and mocks filled the table continuously. All of them were aimed solely at Chuck.

However, they had gone too far. How dare they joke about Chuck's family?

Chuck's expression fell. It was fine if someone laughed at him, but if it involved his family or his mother, it was definitely not acceptable!

Seeing that Chuck was furious, Alexandrina didn't plan to stop him. After all, Chuck had his limits, and she wouldn't want to allow him to be continuously bullied and looked down upon.

"Sorry, what did you say just now?" Chuck stared at the man.

"Oh? Do you want to hit me for that? How rude of you to get angry over a few words or the truth," The man continued sneering snarkily.

The man, George, was tall and bulky. How would he ever be afraid of Chuck?

"Alexandrina, look at your boyfriend. What's going on? Is he trying to pick a fight?" Miranda shouted out.

"Exactly! What does he have to be angry about? It's obviously all his fault."

Others echoed Miranda's words and felt provoked.

Alexandrina remained silent as she sat beside Chuck, acting like a proper lady for the first time in her life.

She thought to herself that everything was fine.

"What, do you all think that you're very rich? Are you looking down on me because you think you're wealthier than I am?" Chuck questioned.

"Of course! Your silence has spoken for itself, and you even said yourself that you're leeching off your parents. But what's there to leech off from? You're so poor! In addition, you even had the guts to say that you could probably live off their wealth for several centuries? Who gave you the confidence to say that?" Miranda snickered.

How ridiculous!

She felt humiliated. How could her daughter find such a partner?

Was he the last man standing on Earth?

Chuck looked over at Miranda calmly and replied, "I respect you, so stop whatever you're saying now, and I'll pretend they never happened."

"Why should I stop? I'm telling you, you don't deserve my daughter. You are not a match for her at all!" Miranda was extremely furious. She was frowning, her brows knitted together in anger.

"In that case, then what kind of man do you think is worthy of your daughter?" Chuck replied.

"Hmph, whoever it is, it won't be you! How dare you act all high and mighty here when you're actually poor!"

"I'm not pretending. I'm really living off my parents, and I can continue to do so for several centuries to come..." Chuck repeated himself.

"Shut up. What are you pretending for? Who allowed you to be so bold?" Miranda exclaimed in exasperation.

"I'll take that as a sign of distrust, then?" Chuck asked.

"Why should I trust you? You really make me sick! "

"If I prove it to you, then am I qualified to be with Alexandrina?" Chuck looked at her as he raised an eyebrow.

"Yes, but do you have the ability to prove it?" Miranda stared at Chuck, disbelief and mockery were written all over her face.

The expressions of all Alexandrina's relatives were full of scorn. How could Chuck possibly prove to them anything?

"Wait a minute then," Chuck took out his phone.

"Hmph, don't waste my time. Today is our family gathering. An outsider like you should get out of my house right now. Don't pester my daughter from now on!" Miranda stated coldly.

She was infuriated after seeing her daughter being defiled by such a useless piece of trash.

"Yeah! Why is he still here? Is he calling the police?"

"Haha, that's possible, but we didn't do anything. What's the point of calling the police? I think he just wants to stay here. He's really shameless!"

Their words that were filled with ridicule and disdain rang throughout the hall.

Chuck ignored them. After a few rings, Karen picked up the phone and asked, "Chucky, what's wrong?"

"Mom, I want you to do me a favor now," Chuck said.

"Oh my goodness, who are you calling? Are you pretending to be a rich brat? I've never seen such a person before. Hurry, Alexandrina, ask him to scram!"

Several people tried to convince Alexandrina but she ignored them. Therefore, the relatives started shouting at Chuck, "Stop wasting our time. Get out of here!"

"Did you hear that? My patience is limited! You've already made me very sick!" Miranda was so angry that she regretted not kicking him out in the first place. How could she have let him stay here for such a long time?

Chapter 630

After speaking with his mother, Chuck hung up the phone.

He had already told his mother about the situation at hand, so he just needed to wait.

"Hang on for a moment," He said.

"What are you waiting for? Get out of here!" Miranda screamed at him.

They were about to explode with anger.

"I'm going to show you guys that I'm not lying. Also, to the man who just said that I had no manners, I'll show you too. You definitely will regret what you just said," Chuck looked straight at George.

George sneered, "What? Hah! I'll make you regret what you said!"

George approached Chuck, looking at him as if he was nothing more than a fruit fly. He was tall and powerful, capable of knocking a man out with one punch.

Thud!

Miranda sneered. People like Chuck who refused to leave places where they weren't welcome should be forced out using sheer strength.

Other relatives present were ready to applaud and leap in joy.

Brute force was the only way to deal with people like Chuck.

Chuck looked very relaxed. Even though George was tall and possessed great brute strength, he would be unable to deal a blow to a combat master like Chuck.

Chuck stood up, clenched his fist, and smashed it into

George's stomach!

"Ugh!"

George screamed as he clutched his stomach in pain.

In an instant, everyone fell silent.

What just happened?

How could such a built man be finished off within a second?

It was impossible.

Miranda was especially shocked. Her eyes had widened in disbelief as she could only stare at Chuck.

Alexandrina chuckled. Of course she knew that as Karen's son, Chuck must've possessed the same strength as she did!

Looking at him now, her guesses were on point.

"You?!" George's expression was filled with shock and pain.

Bang!

Chuck landed a slap right on George's face.

As George grunted, he fell to the ground and fainted.

Everyone fell silent once again.

It might've been a fluke to take him out with a punch, but it definitely wasn't up to luck if Chuck could manage to finish him off with a mere slap.

Everyone's jaw fell to the ground. They were all astonished.

All of them knew that George possessed remarkable strength, but he had been finished off within a second. It was utterly unbelievable!

Black Rose observed the scene from a distance and felt a little surprised. She muttered to herself, "I didn't think that he would improve even more!"

She no longer wanted to observe Chuck anymore. How could he just go around kissing random people?

If it were up to her, she would never have done that.

Fortunately, Black Rose didn't plan on falling in love with anyone. She would never let another man lay one finger on her.

She heaved a sigh of relief.

"H-how dare you fight here?!" Miranda was the first to come back to her senses in shock. She glared at Chuck.

"I just did, so what?" Chuck replied.

He hadn't even gone all out. If he had, George would've been bedridden for at least half a month. After all, Chuck's skills were deadly!

Seeing that he was Alexandrina's relative, Chuck had already held back.

Chuck's attitude further infuriated Miranda.

Suddenly, she received a phone call. "Hello?" She answered with slight annoyance.

"From today onwards, I'm terminating our cooperation," A cold voice could be heard from the other end of the phone as the other party immediately hung up.

Upon hearing this, Miranda glanced at the caller ID on her phone. She was shocked. Wasn't this her most important client in the company?

Everything had been going well, so why the sudden end to their cooperation?

She could not understand.

"What's the matter?"

Seeing that her expression was grim, everyone else started asking in concern.

"My biggest client suddenly terminated their contract with me. Half of my annual profits come from them. How could this be?" Miranda was still in disbelief.

"Yeah, how could this have happened?"

Right then, someone else's phone rang. After picking it up, a brief moment of silence was heard before the person frantically spoke, "What? Why don't you want to work with me anymore? Is it because of our price? Don't worry, I'll lower it for you. Hello? Hello?"

The man said dejectedly, "They've also terminated the contract with us. What's going on? We have worked well for a long time."

Ring!

Ring!

Ring!

Several others' phones started ringing, and after all of them had taken the call, they were all startled.

All of them had just been informed that their biggest client had stopped working with them.

"The same thing happened to me as well. What's going on?"

"Who is your company working with?"

"Karen Lee."

"What? Karen Lee? My company is working with her as well."

"Mine too!"

"Why did Karen suddenly stop cooperating with us? We've been working with each other for so long, and we've always been satisfied with the service."

Miranda and others were all very confused and didn't know what was happening.

In less than a minute, many had been involved. Everyone was annoyed and confused.

However, someone suddenly spoke up, "Do you now realize who my family is?"

All the people quieted down and turned around, only to find out that it was Chuck who spoke.

"What's wrong with you? Our company is in trouble. Why did you interrupt us?"

"What are you doing? I'm pissed now, so just f*ck off!"

"That's right. Scram!"

Several people yelled at Chuck.

Miranda was furious. She glared at Chuck and said, "Don't make me kick you out of here!"

Chuck was calm.

"Wait, what did you just say... Do you know Karen Lee?"
Someone suddenly realized in utter surprise.

Instantaneously, the entire room fell completely silent.

Miranda couldn't believe what she was hearing. It was impossible!

However, after hearing Chuck's words, many of their companies had received the phone call. It was a great loss.

Was this a coincidence?

"Finally, you've noticed? Yeah, she's my mom. That's why I've been saying that I can leech off her for several centuries, am I right?" Chuck gazed at Miranda indifferently.

No one could expect such a turn of events.

Miranda was astounded. She could only mutter blankly, "What? Is Karen your mother?"

The others were dumbfounded!

This was unbelievable!

"Yes," Chuck nodded before giving the final blow, "I'm living off my family. Have I proven myself enough now?"

"Oh my God!"

Miranda was utterly dumbstruck. How could she have known that Chuck was related to the biggest client in her company?

"My God, is what he said true? Karen is the most likely person to become one of the Four Greatest Households in the world. She is so rich. Is she really Chuck's mother?"

"How surprising! He's probably telling the truth. Otherwise, how could all our contracts have been canceled?"

"Oh no, half of my company's income is dependent on the cooperation with Karen's company. If she suddenly breaks her contracts, then what am I going to do?"

"Me too. What did we do just now?"

The people involved sank deep into regret. If they had known this earlier, they would definitely not have treated Chuck like that!

"C-Chuck, please stop your mother. I sincerely apologize to you," Miranda lowered her head and said.

She had just made matters worse for her family. Several of their companies were heavily reliant on Karen. As long as Karen stopped working with them, they would definitely go bankrupt. They were much too dependent on her

"You're the one who made me do this," Chuck pushed the blame back to her.

Miranda fell silent. It was true. If she hadn't treated Chuck that way, why would he have done this?

"Chuck, I already know that I'm in the wrong. Don't be like this. If your mother really goes through with this, several of us will go bankrupt," Miranda walked over to him with an apologetic expression on her face.

However, Chuck ignored her.

"Alexandrina, say something. I'm sorry. I shouldn't have said that to him," Miranda was anxious.

Seeing this, Alexandrina was speechless.

"Alexandrina, say something. Help us, please."

Everyone started begging for Alexandrina to help them. They had lost all arrogance in front of Chuck. After all, their company could suffer immediate losses or even go bankrupt. It was logical for them to try to salvage their company's future.

Alexandrina remained silent. How could she even convince Chuck? Her family members had gone too far to even insult Chuck's mother. It was only appropriate for him to do this.

"Chuck, can you ask your mother to continue working together with us?" Miranda pleaded softly.

"Oh? Didn't you ask me to scram? Weren't you looking down on me? Weren't all of you accusing me of lying?" Chuck glanced at her as he raised an eyebrow in disdain.

Instantly, Miranda felt so ashamed that she lowered her head. All the other people present were silent as well.

Chapter 631

Miranda and the other relatives in the room were filled with regret. They didn't expect Chuck to be Karen's son. Karen was their important partner!

Everyone was remorseful.

Most of their companies would go out of business or suffer huge losses because of Chuck's words.

"Chuck, you... Alas," Miranda sighed. What did she just do?!

The room fell into dead silence. They were all anxious.

Everyone except for Chuck, who was sitting there nonchalantly.

Alexandrina did not say anything to help her family and relatives. In such a situation, what could she say?

In any case, she thought that Chuck had been wronged just now. Moreover, even if her own mother's company had suffered from losses, Alexandrina could help her instead!

After lunch, Alexandrina was ready to leave with Chuck, who was also itching to leave.

However, a group of people kept looking at Chuck. They had lost their appetite a while ago during lunch because they had plunged their own company into financial trouble.

"Chuck, I'm so sorry for what happened just now. We shouldn't have said that to you. Could you please ask your mother to continue the contract with us?" Juvana begged.

"Yes, we were talking nonsense just now. Please don't take it seriously. I'll apologize to you, okay?" A man came over and tried to plead with Chuck.

Chuck didn't respond to them. He had already called his mother and asked her to halt all cooperation and contracts with them. How was it possible for them to continue their partnership?

Miranda looked at her daughter and tried her luck, "Alexandrina, you..."

"Mom, I can do nothing about it. By the way, are you satisfied with my boyfriend now?" Alexandrina shook her head.

"Of course," Miranda felt bitter. How could she not be satisfied with such a turn of events?

She had worked with Karen's company for so long. Therefore, she understood Karen's capabilities very well.

To tell the truth, she previously sent someone to inquire if Karen had a son. If she had a son, she would then try to match her daughter up with Karen's son. When that happens, with Karen backing her up, wouldn't her company expand faster?

However, it was not possible for her to get the information she wanted during that time.

When her investigation bore no results, Miranda had felt disappointed.

However, she would've never imagined her dream to come true now.

Alexandrina really was together with Karen's son.

"That's good. Then we're leaving," Alexandrina dragged Chuck away.

Everyone else stared at each other in dismay.

"Alexandrina has a great boyfriend!" Someone sighed.

Karen was someone who was able to decide their company's fate. Why couldn't their daughters meet a man like Chuck!

Miranda smiled bitterly, "Yes, but he's probably still angry with me."

Chuck's expression told her that he was still mad at her.

What else could she do? She had apologized too.

"What's the big deal? He's with Alexandrina. Sooner or later, we'll be a family. He will ask his mother to cooperate with us eventually."

Miranda's eyes lit up. That was true.

She almost forgot.

Her daughter was the girlfriend of Karen's son. Thus, she would become Chuck's mother-in-law. He would definitely take back his words one day in the future.

When she thought about that, Miranda was relieved, "Alright, I'm his mother-in-law now. He will forgive me. He will... Alexandrina, I'm very satisfied with your boyfriend this time."

Her eyes were shining. Not bad.

The others were all envious. Alexandrina really had amazing luck to find herself such a great boyfriend...

"Chuck, you've made me happy today, do you want to hug me?" Alexandrina smiled at him.

Chuck's performance today was unexpectedly good. She even saw the satisfied expression on her mother's face when they left.

She didn't expect Miranda to be so pleased with Chuck!

"Uh, no," Chuck shook his head and refused her.

"What? Come here! I allowed you to hug me, but you don't want to? Are you being disobedient now?" Alexandrina was angry.

Of course, she wasn't actually mad.

Chuck felt helpless and could only hug her politely. Then, Alexandrina chuckled, "Why are you so serious?"

His actions had upset her slightly.

She knew that she had both the beauty and the brains. If so, why was Chuck immune to all of that?

She had never encountered such a situation. After all, how many men would fall for her with a single snap of her fingers?

Hence, how could Chuck not fall for her charms?

Meanwhile, Chuck desperately wanted to return home.

Alexandrina snorted, "Chuck, do you really want to go back that badly?"

Chuck didn't lie to her. Instead, he nodded and said, "Yes."

Upon hearing this, Alexandrina finally gave in, "Let's go then. Don't look for me anymore in the future. Let's go quickly."

Chuck was speechless and tried to bargain with her, "Don't be angry."

"What should I be angry about? Get out. I don't want to see you anymore. You are no longer my lover," Alexandrina turned her head and pouted.

Chuck cleared his throat, opened the door and actually left.

Alexandrina paused. She was immediately enraged. Did he really just leave like that?

What the f*ck!

How dare he!

Suddenly, something occurred to her. She grumbled, "There's no way I'm going to allow you to leave me. Don't even think about it! You're my lover."

She snorted and went out, calling Chuck, "Hey, stop right there!"

Chuck could only stop and turn back.

Alexandrina walked over and sulked, "Are you an idiot? I'm really pissed off at you. How dare you leave? Well, I'm happy today. So here. Take it."

She took out something that looked like a slingshot. Chuck was curious and asked, "What's this?"

"A bomb."

Chuck's hand trembled subconsciously. Was this a grenade?

"Yes, I asked someone to make it. It's very powerful. Chuck, you're my lover, so don't go dying without my permission," Alexandrina said.

This was a bomb that was particularly easy to carry. It was different from traditional bombs since it could not be detected by any machines or metal detectors.

Alexandrina had thought about the possibility of Chuck getting himself into danger once again.

What he needed was prevention. If something really did happen, everything would be too late by then.

"Thank you, Alexandrina," Chuck said as he put the gadget away. Indeed, no one would find out if he carried this with him, and he would be able to guarantee his own safety.

How could Chuck refuse such a good deal?

"Oh, so now you know to thank me? Go away. You're my lover so you must take care of yourself. I will feel distressed if you get hurt. Do you understand?"

Alexandrina glared at him and went back to her car.

Chuck smiled. Alexandrina was really nice to him!

With that, he drove away by himself.

On the way.

Chuck felt a little awkward because he had promised that he would bring Black Rose some food. However, when he came out from Alexandrina's house just now, he had forgotten all about it. He could only look for Black Rose and apologize to her, "I'm sorry I forgot to bring you some food..."

"It's fine," Black Rose was expressionless. She had been starving as she was waiting for him.

How dare he stand her up!

She wouldn't believe him ever again.

"Hey, are you hungry? Let's go grab something to eat," Chuck was embarrassed.

"Let's just go back," Black Rose replied coldly.

Chuck had no choice but to go back.

In the coming days, there were no clues from both his mother's side and Alexandrina's part. Chuck was getting more and more anxious by the day. Who on earth had saved Willa?!

Chuck really wanted to find her. However, he couldn't get any information or clues.

When Chuck was worried, he could only turn his worry into motivation to train and improve himself.

On this day, his cell phone suddenly rang. He glanced at it in confusion. It was from an unknown number.

Chuck answered the call. He could hear a stranger say, "If you want to know about Willa, come to me. I will send you an address, but you're not allowed to tell anyone. Otherwise, I'll ensure that you will never find Willa!"

"Who are you?" Chuck asked in shock. However, the stranger had already ended the call.

He was anxious. Just then, he received a message from an unknown number. It was an address.

Chuck thought about it. He knew this place, but what were the true intentions of the person who had sent him this? Chuck had no idea if he should really go ahead.

In truth, the call was from the Whitlock family. A few days ago, Adriana suddenly got the news that Loomis Yeager from the Yeager family was getting married to Willa!
