

Chapter 706

Chuck, Black Rose, and Betty were all waiting outside.

After all, Chuck was still a little worried. He was not worried about Karen. Since she was here, she must have been well prepared. He was worried about Sabina.

Karen was there because she wanted to kill Sabina. Chuck could see that clearly. Would Sabina be able to handle it?

She wouldn't!

Therefore, Chuck was worried that Sabina would die in there.

"Don't worry." Betty tried to comfort him.

How could Chuck not be worried? Although they hadn't known each other for long, they already knew each other well. They were friends and in a sense, sworn brothers. How could Chuck not be sad when someone who understood him well suddenly died? 1

Black Rose had no expression on her face. She stared at the door, silent.

She had a say in whether Karen would attack Sabina. After all, Karen had spared her the last time. Otherwise, she would have been long dead.

The question now was, would Karen treat Sabina like Black Rose from back then?

Thinking of it, Black Rose was neither surprised nor happy, and treated the matter indifferently.

As Chuck was fidgeting, the door was opened and Karen stepped out. Chuck quickly ran in and found there was no one inside. There was only an iron arrow embedded above the window and a rope tied to it which led all the way to the outside.

Chuck rushed to the window and found that the rope was still moving, but there was already no one there.

Did Sabina escape in front of Karen?

What exactly did the two talk about in the room?

Chuck heaved a sigh of relief. At the very least, Karen was fine. Sabina was also safe and managed to run away.

Black Rose didn't see Sabina but she wasn't too surprised. She just looked at Karen differently now.

"Mom, is Sabina that powerful? How did she run away?"

Chuck asked deliberately. Most of the things in the room remained intact. The only sign of their combat was on the carpet, where there were a couple of footprints.

It showed that the battle between the two was pretty intense!

"Yes, she's quite strong. Don't you think so too?" Karen shot Chuck a faint smile.

"I think so. But if Sabina escapes, then Loomis will definitely fail to become the head of the Yeager family. If Sabina takes that position, won't that bring us trouble?" Chuck said in a low voice.

That was right!

"Well... Let's go back first!" Karen glanced at the window and left the room first.

Betty followed her. Chuck wanted to help Black Rose, but she rejected him and said, "Who needs your help?"

"I'm trying to be nice. Don't forget that I carried you back to the hotel, and you held onto me in a daze. But you..." Chuck was speechless. Why didn't she feel grateful at all?

"Stop saying this again, or else I'll shoot you!" Black Rose threatened Chuck angrily. If it wasn't because she was unconscious, why did she need him to carry her?

Wasn't there anything else he could say besides that?

"Fine, you're awesome. You happy now?"

Chuck ignored her and ran over to ask Karen about what had happened. Of course, Karen told him.

They went downstairs, checked out, and left for home.

Just then, a pair of beautiful eyes could be seen from a corner. It was Sabina!

She had a capsule in her hand and was staring at the capsule for a long time. Once again, she took a look at Karen, who was already leaving. She then left and disappeared into the alley.

.....

"Is Loomis going to be the head of his family? He's been doing a lot of flashy stuff recently," In a luxurious room, Adriana said casually.

"That's right. Other than him, no one else in the Yeager family dares to do so. However, according to my analysis, Karen is backing him. That's the only reason why Loomis is so bold," Nelson shared his thoughts with Adriana.

"I see. This is how Karen plans to attack the Yeager family. I'm surprised. But haven't you found out that the Yeager family abandoned several children 16 years ago? How many are still alive now?"

"There should probably be two left. But those who can survive are the cream of the crop."

"Of course I know that. The survivor will be the future master of the Yeager family," Adriana's blank expression faded away and she grew a little serious.

"I asked Loomis to deal with Chuck, but he didn't do anything at all. Instead, he decided to cooperate with him. It seems that he thinks nothing of my words," Adriana said coldly.

To her, it meant that Loomis had gone against her. Her possessiveness was so strong that she would never allow that to happen!

"Do you need me to call Loomis Yeager over?"

"I think that you should bring Sabina, who was abandoned by the Yeager family here. I want to see her... If she really has the capability to be the next family head, it may be a good thing for me."

"A good thing? That kind of person is definitely better than trash like Loomis. If she really becomes the head of the Yeager family, it will be a threat to you!" Nelson reminded her vigilantly.

"It seems that you've been following me for so long that you can't even read my mind!" Adriana said, glancing lazily at Nelson.

"Please, enlighten me," Nelson muttered. Who could figure out what Adriana was thinking?

"She's a woman and so am I. If she becomes the next head, we women will control the world. Women are the strongest. Men are just accessories to us," Adriana was very serious, her eyes glistening upon that thought.

Nelson broke out in a cold sweat when he heard that.

It was a problem. Adriana's possessiveness was beyond his imagination. Which man could bear to stand it?

Except for Chuck, no one else could!

"It would be interesting to have a powerful opponent to play with me. Otherwise, if a person like Loomis became the next family head, I can easily kill him anytime. It's so boring. That's no fun at all," Adriana sighed.

Nelson could not answer her.

He was silent.

"Leave. Tell Chuck to come to find me. I miss him, now go..." Adriana ordered lazily.

Nelson nodded and went to make the necessary arrangements. What was so good about Chuck anyways? He actually managed to bewitch Adriana and made her miss him so much.

It was something that every man would envy!

When Nelson was at the door, there was a phone call. He answered it. A short while, he was startled and asked, "Hold on, let me ask the Miss..."

"Don't ask me. Let Chuck come over, I miss him. Hurry!" Adriana urged. She really missed Chuck. She had been angry for long, but Chuck didn't even contact her. What was he doing?

Did he forget her?

Hah, she wouldn't allow him to forget her!

"Well, there is a woman outside who wants to see you. Oh, she said her surname is Yeager..." Nelson said.

Chapter 707

"Yeager?" Adriana sat up straight on the couch.

"Yes, the person said her surname is Yeager," Nelson nodded.

"Check the surveillance cameras. I want to see for myself," Adriana waved her hand.

Nelson took out his phone and handed it to Adriana. The screen was a picture of the entrance.

"Is this a beggar?" Adriana glanced at it and said.

"Uh..."

"Her clothes are a mess and her hair is disheveled and oily. Look, there's even mud on her shoes! Who is this?" Adriana said in disgust. She hated dirty people.

Nelson was speechless. In fact, the woman looked fine to him.

However, he didn't dare to express his thoughts. Instead, he said, "Miss, she said her surname is Yeager. Could it be that she's one of those children who were still alive? It looks like she's about the same age."

"Maybe," Adriana wasn't interested in looking anymore and handed the phone back to Nelson.

"Do you want to see her?"

"Yes. Just take her to the shower, wash her hair and give her a new set of clothes. Then, bring her over to see me, but have her stand at the door because she looks so dirty," Adriana ordered.

She had a severe case of mysophobia. Even Karen stayed far away from her previously...

Not to mention the girl at the entrance now.

"Understood." With that, Nelson left. When he reached the door, he saw a girl with a backpack. It was indeed Sabina Yeager.

She wanted to ask for one favour from Adriana.

Hence, she came.

"Will Adriana meet me?" Sabina asked.

"Come in!"

Nelson nodded and Sabina followed him in. But very soon, she was dumbfounded. Why did the guy bring her to the bathroom?

Could it be that Adriana was taking a shower?

"Excuse me, why are we here?" Sabina couldn't help but ask.

"Here are body wash and shampoo. These are the best in the world. Clothes and hats... Everything is there," Nelson pointed at a cabinet next to him that had everything.

"I... I'm here to see Adriana Whitlock. Why do I have to take a bath?" Sabina did not quite understand.

"She said that you are too dirty," Nelson then stepped out.

Sabina was shocked.

She looked at herself. Where was the dirt? Where?

"Hey, I'm not dirty!" She immediately grew furious.

"If you don't take a bath, she won't see you. Don't you know that she is a clean freak?"

"I've heard a little about her, but I'm really not dirty. Hey... f*ck. Is she out of her mind? "

Sabina was enraged. She had never seen anyone like that before. After all, she was not a man. Was it really that necessary?

However, she had no choice but to follow the instructions given to her. She was forced to take a shower, wash her hair, and change into some clothes before going out.

"The hat. You haven't put it on," Nelson reminded her.

Sabina put it on and said angrily, "Is it okay now?"

"Women should be neat. You should learn more from her," Nelson shook his head then led the way.

"Since she loves cleanliness so much, does she not go to the bathroom?" Sabina grumbled.

Nelson frowned and advised her, "Listen, try not to say this in front of her."

Sabina was too lazy to say anything. She followed Nelson to a large room. When she wanted to go in, he stopped her.

"Now what?"

"Stand at the door. She's afraid that your hair might fall around," Nelson said.

Sabina was shocked. She stared at him angrily.

Hair loss? Who didn't have that?

Sabina saw Adriana on the couch. She took a deep breath and said, "I want to talk to you."

"Did you brush your teeth?" Adriana suddenly frowned and covered her nose from a distance.

Sabina felt insulted and was irritated, "Hey, that's enough!"

"Did she brush her teeth just now?" Adriana asked Nelson.

"Yes, she did. She doesn't smell," He replied.

However, Adriana still covered her nose and frowned, "Tell me, why are you here?"

"I'm looking for you..."

"Hold on, tell me who you are first!"

Sabina was enraged to the extreme and declared, "I'm Sabina Yeager!"

"The person who was abandoned by the Yeager family 16 years ago?" Adriana asked lazily.

"Yes, that's right."

"Well then, why did you come to me?" Adriana looked at Sabina casually and asked, "Why do you look like this? Your hair is messy. You don't look like a woman but a man..."

Sabina ignored her and continued, "I want to borrow something from you."

"Borrow something? I won't lend it to you. If you use it, then how can I bear to use it again?"

"That's enough from you. I want to borrow the special medicine from your company," Although Sabina had gotten the antidote, she still couldn't cure her grandfather. Brooke's complications had already started to crop up. She had to get the best medicine for him.

The Whitlock family's company had the best medicine in the whole world. However, the medicine was not sold to outsiders and was specially developed for the Whitlock family members only.

"Oh, can you make it clear to me? You want to save your grandfather?"

"That's right."

"Why should I give it to you?" Adriana shook her head.

"What do you want? I'll trade something with you in return!"

"What do you have that I don't?" Adriana raised an eyebrow at her.

Sabina was furious. Adriana wasn't lying. As the heiress of the Whitlock family, Adriana had everything.

"Then you can make a request, as long as you give me the medicine."

"No, get out!"

Sabina was already at her limits and she tried to reason with Adriana, "I'm here. You have to give it to me."

Nelson frowned.

Adriana looked at Sabina again and said, "If you force me to give it to you, I'll be more reluctant to give it to you..."

"Don't you have anything you want me to do?"

"Yes, but you... Wait, can you be the head of the Yeager family?"

Adriana suddenly thought of something.

"Yes, I can."

"Oh, then there is something that I will so graciously allow you to help me with. At first, I asked Loomis to do it, but it seems that he can't. So only you can do it. It will be better if you help me," Adriana said lazily.

"Just say it. As long as it is within my power, I won't reject your request!" Sabina heaved a sigh of relief. When she came over, she still had no idea how to convince Adriana.

After all, Adriana was the future heiress of the Whitlock family. Of course, Sabina had heard a little about her.

She knew Adriana's character was domineering and eccentric.

It was not easy to get along with such a person. Hence, how could she convince her?

"Well, after I allow you to become the head of the Yeager family, you need to use the Yeager family's strength to suppress someone!"

"Suppress someone? Why?" Sabina was confused. She couldn't figure out what Adriana was thinking.

The Whitlock family was the top hidden family. They could destroy someone, let alone an entire family, with just a few words. Why wouldn't they do it themselves?

"You don't have to know. All you need to do is to suppress him. But don't go too far."

"What the hell do you want to do?" Sabina became more confused as she listened on. What did Adriana mean? If she didn't like someone, why couldn't she just kill that person? Why did she still want to suppress him? What was she thinking? Was she just playing around?

"If you suppress him, he will come and beg me," Adriana's eyes were burning with passion.

Sabina was dumbfounded, "You... You like this guy? That's why you need to do this?"

It turned Sabina's world upside down. What the hell was this?

"Yes, I like him!"

Adriana nodded with a serious look on her face as she smirked, "So I want him to beg me."

Chapter 708

Since Adriana actually came clean, Sabina was devastated to hear the big reveal.

Wasn't this a little perverse?

Was she forcing the person she liked to beg her?

What kind of tactic was this?

When a person liked someone, they would quietly help their crushes as this would already make them happy. However, Adriana was different from others. She forced the person that she liked to beg her.

Sabina suddenly felt that being liked by a woman like Adriana didn't seem like a particularly good thing!

Adriana forgot that although a woman can be forceful with a man, she couldn't exert the kind of force that would match a queen's!

Moreover, the old days and ways were a thing of the past. Why on earth did this kind of oppression still exist presently?

Was she looking for someone she liked or a male slave?

Sabina didn't expect her to be like this at all.

"Well, does the guy like you?" Sabina asked.

From a woman's viewpoint, she also found that Adriana was a great catch, in terms of figure and appearance.

However, Adriana's character did not sit well with Sabina.

Since Adriana tried to force the guy to beg her, didn't this mean that the guy didn't like her back?

A cold ray flashed through Adriana's beautiful eyes, "You're asking too much! " 2

Sabina immediately understood what she meant by that. Her suspicions were correct, but now she was curious. Who was the guy who could make Adriana like him but not like her back? 3

Was he breathtakingly handsome?

Or was he the best man in the world?

Maybe he was a professional smooth-talker?

"He will fall in love with me sooner or later!" Adriana's beautiful eyes sparkled/

"Well, who is it? Can you tell me about him?" Sabina thought it was interesting. Adriana's character was quite a handful, so she started to feel sorry for the man she liked.

"I'll tell you when you become the head of the family." Adriana said.

"Alright, where's the medicine?" Sabina shrugged. Of course, she was happy.

Nelson had gone to get the medicine for her.

He returned soon later, a box of medicine that hadn't hit the store shelves yet in hand. Sabina looked at it and breathed a sigh of relief.

"I'll make a move now." Sabina said, wanting to get changed into her own clothes. The clothes were too soft on her skin and she felt uncomfortable.

She liked and was used to wearing cheap clothes, as long they were clean.

"I don't want anyone else to know what happened today. Do you understand what I mean?" Adriana reminded her.

"I understand, I'm not the mouthy type."

"And you have to remember that I'm looking forward to you becoming the head of the family!" Adriana said lazily.

"Why?"

Sabina narrowed her dazzling eyes and felt that there was something wrong with the way Adriana was looking at her. She could strongly feel Adriana's desire for control.

"Isn't it good for women to control the family? I can prove that women are better than men, and you can do that too!"

Sabina was startled with her comments. What was on Adriana's mind?

In fact, she did not have such thoughts. She just wanted to take the Yeager family to greater heights for their future generations.

It would mean that she had made adequate contributions to the family during her lifetime.

Sabina was speechless. They didn't share the same thoughts or plans. She took off her clothes, her hat and then got changed into her clothes before taking her leave.

The medicine should be able to help her grandfather to hold on a little longer.

Sabina was definitely trying to keep her grandfather alive. There was a huge difference between her and Loomis!

"Miss, do you really trust her that much? Should I give her a reminder?" Nelson asked.

Adriana's current way of handling matters was different from the past.

Nelson had served Adriana for so long and he could feel it that day.

"That's not necessary. There's more to this woman than what meets the eye. If she can become the head of the family, things will be interesting for me in the future..." Adriana shook her head.

Adriana had a feeling that Sabina would become her rival.

So, of course Adriana would treat her differently.

"Miss, please wait for a moment. I will call Chuck over now." Men had their own way of doing things. Regardless of what Chuck was doing, Nelson would get him to come over as soon as possible.

"Hurry up!" Adriana urged.

Nelson quickly went out, but Adriana stopped him, "Wait!"

"Miss, you are..." Nelson couldn't figure out what Adriana was thinking. Adriana, who was always decisive, seemed to be hesitant that day.

"Didn't you say that Chuck has plans for a casino recently? Has he found someone for the renovation? How's it going?"

"Renovations are almost done. Is something the matter?" Nelson asked curiously. Adriana got up from the couch which meant that she had plans to go out.

What was she trying to do?

Was she going to see Chuck in person?

"Take me to his casino. I want to see how the renovation is going." Adriana said lazily and walked out.

Nelson shook his head and was in disbelief. What kind of charm did Chuck have?

How could Adriana, the future heiress of the Whitlock family, be so willing to take the initiative when it came to him?

There were lines of men who would show up at her demand.

It was unexpected that Adriana would make the first move!

Chuck should be grateful!

"Please wait a moment. I'll immediately get someone to have the private jet ready!" Nelson said, running out of the room.

Two hours later, Adriana was at Chuck's casino.

The renovation was almost completed and was in its final stages.

"Not bad. The location and renovation are great. Business should be good once it's open. Get someone over here now to make the floor gold. Go!"

Adriana ordered.

Nelson was dumbfounded but it was not because of the gold. Even if the casino was made of gold, it would not be a problem. However, it was the first time that Adriana took the initiative to do that for a man!

"Yes, I'll call someone over right away." Nelson quickly made a call.

The Whitlock family owned the area. Many people could be summoned with just a phone call.

"Miss Dawson, please come over and take a look!" The contractor called out to Patricia and he reached her office.

Patricia had been prepping for the casino opening and was very busy.

"What is it?" Patricia frowned and put away her work.

"A group of people came and started smashing up the floor which we had completed. Miss Dawson, please go and take a look!" The contractor panicked when he saw what was happening to the floors. They were about to get off work when they suddenly saw many people rushing in.

They began smashing the floor and no one could stop them!

Did the boss offend someone? Were they here to destroy the casino when the renovation was almost done?

"What? I'll take a look!" Patricia's face immediately became cold and furious. She was in charge of the casino. Such vicious things definitely couldn't be allowed!

Patricia ran out and saw dozens of people smashing up the floor. There were a few cars parked outside and five people came in with heavy boxes. What were they doing?

"Hey, what are you doing? Stop!" Patricia ran over.

However, she suddenly stopped and was astonished. She had seen that the boxes were packed with gold.

Chapter 709

"Gold? What the heck are you doing?"

Patricia was dumbfounded. She was not shocked by the gold. After all, her family's assets were worth over ten billion dollars; gold was nothing to her. But who the heck sent so much gold over?

Were they going to smash the floor and pave it again?

It was too extravagant to pave it with gold!

More boxes of gold were brought in. She wondered how many boxes were there.

Were they trying to pave the entire floor of the lobby?

Did Chuck send them over? But how could Chuck not tell her about this?

Patricia was astonished, and so were the other workers.

Everyone could see what was going on, that these people were paving the floor with gold. In the past, the workers too had come across clients who paved their floors with gold. However, none of them used this much gold!

How scary was that?

Everyone was appalled. When Patricia came to her senses, she immediately stopped them, "Stop! Who called you over? All of you stop now!"

Yet no one stopped!

The people carried on in an orderly manner. Since they didn't listen to Patricia, she couldn't stop them. She could only call Chuck and tell him about it.

"What? I'll be right there." Chuck said in shock.

He hung up. As he and Willa were in the middle of a conversation, he said to her, "Auntie Logan, I'm going to the casino now. Would you like to come with me?"

Willa was curious, "To the casino? And meet Patricia?"

Thinking of this, Willa unconsciously thought of what happened that day after she got drunk with Chuck.

Well, well, well.

Chuck still didn't know about it yet.

Did Chuck want to be drunk again?

Willa felt a little embarrassed thinking of this.

"Okay. I'll go wherever you go." Willa nodded, not being able to refuse Chuck.

It was fine to let it happen again, as long as Chuck liked it.

"Well." Chuck's expression was unreadable.

"Chuck, is something the matter?" Willa suddenly saw Chuck's face changed, and she asked with concern.

"Auntie Logan, there's some trouble down at the casino."

"Trouble?" Willa's beautiful eyes turned cold. She would absolutely not allow anyone to cause trouble at Chuck's place.

No wonder Chuck said that he wanted to go to the casino with her. It turned out that someone was there to cause a ruckus.

To tell the truth, Willa was a little disappointed. She had given her most precious thing to Chuck, but Chuck was still in the dark about it.

Was Willa sad?

Actually, she was not. She willingly did it anyway. What was there to be sad about?

She had given her most precious thing to someone she liked, and not to others.

Therefore, Willa didn't feel sad at all.

So, what was Willa feeling? She felt lost and disappointed, like she had gained something, and lost it at the same time.

"Well, it's not exactly trouble. Just someone smashing up the casino lobby..."

"They're destroying the casino!" Willa was very angry.

"No, they're paving the lobby with gold after smashing it up." Chuck wondered who was behind this.

Paving the lobby? With gold?

How luxurious was that?

When Chuck planned to open a casino, he once had this idea in mind, but it was just an idea. He didn't actually do it.

Of course, when Chuck told his mother about it, she agreed and supported him. She had many gold mines in the United States, so there was absolutely no problem with paving the floor with gold.

Later on, Chuck thought that it was too extravagant, so he gave up on the idea.

So, who was behind this now?

"Paving the lobby with gold?" Willa was shocked. She didn't expect to hear this.

No wonder Chuck looked surprised. This was the reason.

"Yes, I have to go over and take a look." Chuck said.

"I'm going too." Willa immediately stood up.

"Okay, let's go."

.....

"Who is that woman?" Adriana noticed Patricia, who was trying to stop her men from working.

"She is from the Dawson family. Chuck asked her to be in charge of the casino." Nelson replied.

"Oh, Chuck doesn't like her, does he?" Looking at Patricia, Adriana narrowed her beautiful eyes.

"I don't think so. That woman is just his subordinate. Chuck has a plaza that is run by a woman named Yolanda. Chuck seems to prefer to have women running his business." Nelson had looked into Chuck's personal information.

"All right." Adriana said. After a moment, her beautiful eyes appeared to be affectionate and hopeful. "Tell me, Chuck will like that, won't he?"

"That's for sure. His casino interiors didn't look grand at all before. Miss, you just give him a touch of luxury in an instant. He will definitely like it." Nelson praised.

"I also think that he will like it. This is the first time I have taken the initiative to do this for a man. He must like it." Adriana said.

"Yes. Look, Chuck is here." Nelson pointed toward a direction where two cars were approaching.

A man and two women got out of the cars.

They were Chuck, Willa and Black Rose.

Adriana frowned, "Is Willa asking for death again?"

She had thought about killing Willa during the past couple of days.

"This woman is a b*tch. She knows she is Chuck's side piece but would still stick to him." Nelson agreed with her.

"Just ignore her. As long as she behaves, I won't kill her. By the way, did she do anything with Chuck?" Adriana asked.

Nelson broke out in a cold sweat. He had not gotten anyone to monitor them for the past few days. Hence, he did not even know what happened at Patricia's house.

If Adriana knew about what happened, Willa would definitely be killed.

"No."

"Well, If she did something, kill her immediately!"

"Yes, Miss. Don't worry." Nelson answered.

"Chuck..." Adriana was watching at a distance. It had been a few days since she last saw him. He seemed to have lost weight.

"It's them, Chuck." As Chuck was there, Patricia breathed a sigh of relief.

Chuck saw the crewmen working his floors. Their efficiency was remarkable; the floor of the lobby had been smashed completely. The broken floor tiles had been transported out, and they had already started paving the floor with gold.

"Who sent you here?" Chuck asked.

No one answered. Everyone was carrying out their work quietly and meticulously.

Chuck was speechless.

"Chuck wants to know who's doing this, but why didn't he think of me? As if there are a lot of people in the world who can do this with so much gold?" Adriana said with displeasure in her voice. She was hoping that Chuck would find her and notice her because besides her, who else would treat him so well? Who would pave so much gold for his sake?

Adriana was looking forward to Chuck's arrival. She imagined that Chuck would thank her, saying that he liked it very much.

"Come over quickly." Adriana thought to herself.

"Auntie Logan, who do you think it is?" Chuck couldn't figure it out. His casino was not open for business just yet, and there were only a few people who knew that he was the boss. Who on earth did this?

"Hmmm..." Willa was smart. After seeing the gold, she immediately knew that Adriana must be the one behind this

"It should be Adriana." Willa said.

"Her?" Chuck was dumbfounded.

"Great, now he knows that it was me..."

Adriana's expectations skyrocketed.
