

Chapter 227

In an instant, Uncle Fenrir's hands were completely sawed off. They fell to the ground and two streams of blood started to gush out.

As Uncle Fenrir came to the realization of what had just happened, he looked at his mutilated arms in shock. He was overcome with terror and horror, and howled, "My hands, my precious hands! You, you cut off my hands, you..."

This act of ruthlessness caused everyone to be stunned and shocked. Witnessing this, they were completely dumbfounded.

Sasha Li, who was arrogant and full of glee, was completely stupefied. She froze for almost ten seconds before recovering. With a darkened expression, she pointed to Fade Chen and shouted, "You, you dare to lay hands on the members of the Li family. You dare to cut off Uncle Fenrir's hands. I..."

"Cut off his hands?" Fade snorted. "I have only just started!"

As soon as he finished speaking, Fade raised his arm again. The shape of a blade formed in the air, lethal and deadly. It soared directly towards Uncle Fenrir and severed his neck.

Uncle Fenrir's howl ended abruptly. His decapitated head flew up. A stream of blood splattered from the wound, and Sasha was covered in blood.

"No, Uncle Fenrir!" Sasha was completely thunderstruck. She started screaming as she pointed at Fade. "How dare you, you actually killed Uncle Fenrir. Our Li family will not..."

Before she could finish her sentence, Fade glared at Sasha and said coldly, "Would you like that to happen to you too?"

In an instant, Sasha trembled in fear, and the prideful expression on her face turned into abject terror. The blitheness in her eyes was gone, they could only flicker in dread. She had no courage to look Fade in the eye. She lowered her head and shuddered involuntarily.

Seeing her in this state, Fade snorted loudly and shouted, "Leave now!"

Sasha turned around in a hurry, shuffling away and staggering down the mountain like a convict who released from her sentence.

At this moment, everyone on the mountain could not help staring at Fade. They were flabbergasted and completely shocked. Jonathan Dai and Karson Mao felt especially unnerved and apprehensive, and a great sense of dread befell them.

It was fortunate on their part that they did not take any action against Fade. Otherwise, they would have suffered a fate like Uncle Fenrir, turning into inanimate corpses.

After their fear had slightly subsided, they couldn't help but feel curious again. Who on earth was this 'Fade Chen'? He was so powerful that he could easily slay a mid-black level expert like Uncle Fenrir.

There was not much time left to ponder over such matters. Guardian Zhuo concluded the ceremony of heavenly worship and had the disciples accompany the people who were asking for medicine down the mountains.

Then, the guardian and elders of the Cloud Clan thanked Fade profusely. They were still slightly anxious as they said, "Mr. Chen, the Li family is one of the leading families of China in terms of wealth. If the news gets back to them about this matter, I'm afraid you will..."

Fade made a nonchalant gesture with his hand and said, "If they desire revenge, just let them come for me. I will take on all of them."

Hearing Fade's valiant words, Donovan Zhuo came to the realization that Fade was indeed a disciple of the Tianwu Mountain. With such a powerful force backing him, Fade would not fear the Li family at all.

At this thought, Guardian Zhuo felt finally at ease.

It was time for the departure of Fade. He descended from the mountain with Winnie Huo, Old Mr. Liu, and the others. At the foot of the mountain, Fade bade them farewell. Then, in a flash, he disappeared into the dense forest.

Fade, upon entering the forest, sprinted forward. Moving diagonally, he journeyed to the back of the Cloud Clan mountain.

He closed his eyes and concentrated. He carefully sniffed the air around him.

Around ten seconds later, he opened his eyes suddenly and dashed towards a boulder.

Behind the boulder, there was a small natural spring. Water was bubbling out and there was steam rising from it.

He stared at the hot spring for a short while, and then his eyes started to notice a tiny black fissure under the hot spring.

Following this fissure, he continued to move forward. After around half an hour, he had arrived at another mountain.

At this moment, he noticed that the tiny black fissure had vanished behind a rock wall.

He took a deep breath. Upon encountering a unique gust of energy that was seeping into his nose and mouth, his eyes lit up. He shook off his backpack, and started to generate inner Qi energy through the movement of both hands. This energy transformed into the form of two sharp shovels which dug frantically through the rock wall.

In a split second, dirt and pebbles flew everywhere. Through his inner energy, the impenetrable stone wall was reduced to pieces.

After an hour, Fade had excavated the mountain wall. The cave was around two meters in distance from the original position of the wall. Fade shut his eyes again and started concentrating. He changed the direction of his excavation, digging diagonally.

After another two hours of labor, Fade had managed to excavate to the distance of more than ten meters from the original position of the mountain wall. Fade could finally feel that the soil here was loose and porous. Streams of hot air started to seep out as well.

Fade generated some energy to protect himself physically and proceeded to exit the cave he had dug. In an instant, he found himself in a large underground cavern. In the center of the cavern, a subterranean river was flowing.

However, this underground river did not contain water, but layers of scorching lava.

This lava had erupted out of the deep recesses of the earth. It flowed down in a stream through the cavern, and finally meandered to the back of the Cloud Clan mountain. The heat from the lava was the source of the hot spring at the back of the Cloud Clan. This energy from the lava was also used to generate the furnaces in the caves that were used for manufacturing special pills.

Fade was evidently not interested in the lava itself, but the frosty energy that was somehow intermingling with the lava.

This was a unique and peculiar energy indeed. It was ice cold, but intermingled with the hot lava. This energy flowed all the way to the back of the Cloud Clan mountain. During his time with the Cloud Clan, Fade had helped out in the cave with the manufacturing of pills. He had sensed this unique energy in the furnaces, so he had asked Guardian Zhuo about the origin of the fires there. He then tracked down this energy all the way to this cavern.

Sniffing the air slightly, Fade then explored the cavern cautiously.

He finally found the opening where the lava erupted from the earth. Next to this opening, he discovered a tiny white plant on a dark-colored rock.

Two fresh tender leaves had just emerged, only the size of fingernails. However, if one took a closer look, there were ice trail patterns on its leaves. Astoundingly, this little plant was emitting a dark and frosty energy.

As Fade's palm came close to it, he felt a piercing sensation of frostbite.

He was unfazed by this. Instead, he almost leaped up in excitement. He fixed his gaze on this white plant that was growing next to the hot lava.

This plant was called the Nine Leaf Ice Flower. It was a plant that contained one of the coldest energies on earth. It was similar to the Ice Lotus, and it also contained the frosty energy that Fade needed in his training to acquire the skill called "Kungfu of Jiuyang". This skill could elevate Fade's strength and abilities. It was truly a rare treasure indeed.

Of course, the Nine Leaf Ice Flower that he discovered was just a tender shoot. It would only be considered fully developed when nine leaves had grown and it finally blossomed. Only then, the Nine Leaf Ice Flower would be used as a herb in a potion, and be effective at its full potential.

Chapter 228

The environment and conditions for the growth of the Nine Leaf Ice Flower was also unique in its harshness.

This plant, which contained a frosty energy, had a peculiar characteristic. It required an environment that was scorching hot, so that it could grow gradually. This was the reason why Fade Chen could find the Nine Leaf Ice Flower in the cavern with the subterranean lava river .

He took several deep breaths to calm himself down.

Fade cautiously moved in the direction of the Nine Leaf Ice Flower. He generated some inner Qi and carefully extricated it along with the burning soil and pebbles at its bottom.

Holding the tender shoot of this plant, Fade walked out the cave in great satisfaction. He found some loose branches and twigs in the woods and created a simple wooden structure. He then placed the Nine Leaf Ice Flower gently in it.

After that, Fade generated more inner Qi energy and directly struck the mountain with force. The rocks came tumbling down in a huge avalanche, directly burying the passage into the cave. Traces of his entry and exit were erased as well.

After he had dealt with the situation, he felt contented. He placed the small wooden structure into his backpack and then continued with his journey home.

It took around half a day before he arrived at the suburbs of Bay City. Although he was still a few hours' away from the center of town, he felt a sense of homecoming. After all, being in this area already felt close to home.

He took a picture of himself, posted it on social media, and sent a text message, informing of his return.

Not long after he sent the message, he received a shower of compliments. He was asked on his whereabouts, relief and joy was expressed at his return, and jokes were cracked feigning forgetfulness in regards to Fade's identity.

As he read the message, his cell phone suddenly rang. He looked at the number and saw that it was Xenia Xu. He took the call, saying, "Hello, Xenia."

"Dr. Chen, are you are in Mountlong District?" Xenia's clear voice rang out.

"How did you know that?" Fade asked.

"Dr. Chen, you just posted a selfie, which showed the location you are at!" Xenia said, "By the way, Dr. Chen, my home is at Mountlong district. Are you free now? I would like to invite you over for a meal."

"Oh you live so close by!" Fade was surprised. "Well, alright then, where do you stay? I'll be right there immediately."

Xenia chuckled and said, "No worries, I can come over to pick you up."

"Alright, I am currently at... beep..." Fade was going to give her his location in detail, but she had hung up the phone. Fade couldn't help but shake his head. "When did Xenia become so impatient?"

Just as Fade shook his head and sighed, a clear voice was heard from behind him, "Dr. Chen, here I am!"

Fade turned around and realized that Xenia was standing behind him with a smile on her face.

"Well, Xenia, I guessed you noticed me for some time now. Why didn't you come up to greet me?" Fade said with a smile.

Xenia pouted and said, "Dr. Chen, I'm just worried that it's not convenient for you, so I called to ask you first."

"How can it be inconvenient for me?" Fade patted Xenia on the head and said with a smile, "Well, let's go then, I'm quite hungry actually. Where will you be treating me?"

Xenia said, "Join me for a meal at my place. Previously, when I returned home, I told my parents everything about you. They have been chatting all this while about you and they would like to have the opportunity to express their gratitude to you. What a coincidence that we bump into each other just now." Xenia said with a smile.

Fade nodded and said, "Alright, let's go to your place then!"

As he said the phrase "Let's go to your place", Xenia blushed and her cheeks turned red.

With a red face, she brought Fade to a motorbike and handed the key to him. Then she smiled and said, "Dr. Chen, you can be the driver and I will be the passenger!"

"Sure!" Fade took the key, started the motorbike, patted the back seat and said, "Xenia, take a seat then."

Xenia sat on the back seat and stretched out her hands, as per usual habit, to clasp Fade's waist. But somehow a thought crossed her mind and she withdrew her hand.

Seeing this, Fade grabbed Xenia's delicate hands and put them around his waist. He smiled and said, "Xenia, make sure you hold on tight. Otherwise, like the last time, you kept bumping against my back and it became swollen!"

When he brought up the topic of their last ride together, Xenia couldn't help but blush. She hit Fade's back gently twice and snorted. "Dr. Chen, you had said that you were a bad person then, and that you deliberately took advantage of me."

"When was that the case! Xenia, clearly it was you who bumped into me." Fade protested his innocence. As he spoke, he started the engine of the motorbike and slightly pressed the brakes. Xenia could not help but bump into him.

Fade felt the familiar gentle touch grazing his back. "Look, you bumped into me again."

"Dr. Chen, you are so wrong!" Xenia's pretty face turned red as she said this coyly. Anyhow, she held Fade's waist with her hands tightly and did not let it go.

As for Fade, he stopped teasing her. He started driving and said, "Xenia, do show me the way."

This time, Fade soon found out, he didn't need to tease her on purpose. The uneven road in the village seem to present this opportunity to him.

The motorbike rose and fell, rumbling forward without stability. Xenia, who was sitting at the back, found herself bouncing up and down, and her soft body bumped against Fade's, gently grazing against his back.

"Xenia, I didn't do it intentionally this time! Look, you're the one who bumped into me!" Fade laughed.

Hearing this, Xenia blushed and said in a delicate voice, "Dr. Chen, why do you still bring it up! Let's not talk about it anymore!"

"Alright, alright, I'll stop. I will just focus on the road and enjoy the ride. " Fade smiled and said, "Hey, it seems like you have grown much more compared to last time! Am i imagining things, or is it because you put on more layers of clothing?"

"Grown?" Xenia was stunned at first. She didn't understand what Fade was hinting at, but when she saw Fade's furtive expression, she immediately understood. She blushed so hard that it seemed like her cheeks were burning. "Dr. Chen, you are teasing me again!"

"Oh no, Xenia. I'm just telling the truth," Fade replied.

"That's not the truth." Xenia pouted and said, "I'm not wearing that many clothes!"

"Oh,I see. So it's not because of the clothes! You really did grow much more then." Fade laughed.

"Dr. Chen, you're being so rude. Hmm!" Xenia's face was still red and she spoke in a delicate voice.

Both of them traveled through the bumpy road and arrived with a jolt at the village.

As they approached the village, there were more people around.Fade immediately restrained himself. Xenia also patted her cheeks slightly, lowering her head and brushing her hair slightly.

"Xenia, which one is your house then?" Fade asked . He had spotted a large three-storey building on the side of the road.

Xenia pointed to a slightly dilapidated two-storey building, which was to the front of the large building, and said, "That's my house."

"Alright then, let's go." Fade walked towards the small building.

Chapter 229

At this moment, a young man in his mid twenties walked out from the three-storey building on the side of the road. He had bleached hair and a tattoo of a dragon's head on his neck.

"Xenia, you are back!" The young man walked towards the motorbike with a smile and greeted her warmly. But then he spotted Fade Chen, who was the driver, and his face fell. "Who are you? Why are you driving Xenia's motorbike? What's your relationship to her?"

Just as Fade was about to explain, Xenia, who was sitting at the back, looked annoyed and said in a cold voice, "Brett, this is none of your business. Just leave!"

The young man called Brett, saw that Xenia Xu was clasping Fade on the waist with both hands. Her body seemed to be pressing against Fade's as well. Immediately his eyes turned red and he raised his voice. He bellowed, "This is my business! You are my wife, how can you bring another man home."

Xenia yelled at him when she heard this, "Brett, you are spouting nonsense. We have no such relationship. Please leave."

"I won't go! If you don't give me a clear explanation regarding this hooligan, both of you won't be allowed to leave." Brett retorted. He started stretching his hands towards Fade, attempting to drag him out from the motorbike.

Fade commanded with an icy tone, "Leave us now!"

Then he pushed Brett away. The huge impact caused Brett to falter and take a few steps back. He teetered, stumbled and fell down in the mud, with an embarrassed expression on his face.

"Just ignore him, Dr. Chen. Let's go home!" Xenia said.

After that, Fade continued to drive towards Xenia's home. In a short time, they arrived.

Xenia's mother, a woman in her forties, was at the door. She had heard the commotion outside and came out to take a look. Seeing Xenia clasping Fade on the motorbike, she felt surprised.

Xenia noticed her mother's expression and quickly came to her senses. She released Fade's waist and jumped down from the motorbike. She introduced him to her mother, "Mother, this is Fade Chen, Dr. Chen. He is my colleague."

"Dr. Chen?" her mother was shocked, and then she spoke in excitement, "Is it the Dr. Chen that you mention quite frequently and who helped you a lot?"

"Yes, he is the one." Xenia nodded.

Fade greeted her politely, "Nice to meet you, Auntie."

"Nice to meet you, Dr. Chen. Thank you for taking care of Xenia in the company. Thank you so much." Her mother held Fade's hand and she was clearly moved, gratitude etched on her face.

At this moment, Brett, who had gotten up, rushed over angrily and shouted at Fade, "You stupid idiot, how dare you hit me, I'll kill you."

As Brett rushed over, Xenia's mother had a darkened expression on her face. She immediately asked Xenia to bring Fade into the house.

But Fade looked coldly at him and strode forward to Brett. He grabbed Brett by the neck with one hand and lifted him up. He shouted coldly, "Did you say you want to kill me?"

Brett felt an unstoppable force surging towards him. His throat was being stifled and strangled little by little, and breathing was starting to become difficult. He swung his hands and feet in panic, struggling, and said, "Let me go, let me go!"

Fade did not let him go, but he continued to use force, which caused Brett's cheeks to gradually turn red and even purple .

Brett started to feel a sense of terror and dread. He could not breath, and it seemed like he was weakening. As the air was being squeezed out of his lungs bit by bit, he felt his life flash before him. The shadow of death seemed to envelope him, and fear overcame him. He had never experienced such a traumatic encounter in his life.

"I, let go of me. I won't dare, I..." Brett spoke with tremendous difficulty.

Fade snorted and threw Brett down, who was choking and out of breath. He bellowed, "Leave now!"

Brett fell to the ground, massaging his neck and gasping for breath. He quickly scampered away, sprinting and crawling. He didn't dare remain any longer in the presence of Fade.

After dealing with Brett, Fade turned around and said with a smile, "Auntie, Xenia, let's go in then!"

Xenia's mother could not help but look anxious after witnessing this chain of events. She said, "Brett, he..."

Xenia said, "Mother, let's discuss this further inside."

The three of them proceeded to enter the house. Xenia's mother quickly served tea to Fade, treating him like a special guest.

He chatted with the both of them and finally got a clearer idea about that Brett Han and who he was.

Brett's family had opened a quarry in town, and they made profits of more than a million each year. They were the richest family in the village. Therefore, since young, Brett had a silver spoon in his mouth and he lead a charmed life. He had become friends with many of the gangsters in town, and he had a dubious reputation around the area.

It was often difficult to avoid such people, and this was the case for Xenia and her family as well.

Around half a year ago, Xenia had graduated from university and returned home. Brett noticed unexpectedly, that this average-looking girl had transformed into a stunning beauty after her studies there.

He became interested in her and he started to pursue Xenia. Of course, Xenia did not agree to it. After refusing him, she immediately went to work in the city and never saw him again.

She had assumed that this would no longer be an issue since it was almost half a year ago. But Xenia did not expect that Brett would persist in his pursuit. In the period of time while she was away, he continued to harass her mother, bringing up the idea of an engagement between them.

Xenia's mother was aware of her daughter's feelings, so she didn't consent. However, Brett started spreading rumors that Xenia was his girlfriend and that they were engaged. He even bragged in front of his hooligan friends that he had slept with Xenia.

Due to all these gossip and lies that he was spewing, Xenia realized upon her return that all the villagers seemed to have a very different view of her.

Xenia was furious when she became aware of this situation. Her immediate impulse was to discuss this matter with the Han family and resolve this issue. But her mother was worried on behalf of Xenia, as she knew that offending the Han family was a bad idea. Therefore she did not allow Xenia to go to them.

Brett then became even more conceited and audacious. He kept boasting to many people regarding the confirmation of their marriage and that the ceremony would take place during the new year. He even alluded to their consummation and their intimate relationship.

Amidst such rumors, Xenia had brought Fade back to the village. He was another young man in the picture, and they seemed close. This caused Brett to feel angry and humiliated, therefore he wanted to cause some trouble for Fade.

Realizing that Xenia and her mother were anxious and upset over this matter, Fade thumped his chest. He said, "Auntie, don't be upset, I will assist you in this matter. In regards to Brett, I will find a solution to deal with him, so that he does not continue with his slanderous remarks."

Xenia's eyes lit up instantly, and she looked gratefully at Fade.

However, her mother was a little worried that Fade might resort to violence or try some underhanded tactics. After all, he had just forcefully grabbed Brett on the neck and tried to choke him, causing her to feel frightened. "Doctor Chen, that Brett is not a good person. I know you mean well, but please don't be impulsive!"

Fade noticed that Xenia's mother was anxious, so he said with a smile, "Auntie, no worries. I won't take any action without prior consideration. We can resolve this issue in other ways."

"Yes, it's better not to resort to violence. That would be ideal." Xenia's mother nodded a few times in agreement.

Chapter 230

"Alright mother, let's not talk so much. Dr. Chen made a tiring journey here and is starving. Let's prepare the meal quickly!" Xenia Xu was aware of Fade Chen's strength and skill, so she wasn't too concerned about the matter.

Xenia's mother nodded a few times and went with Xenia to the kitchen to prepare the meal.

In no time, they came up with a few courses of delicious food.

The vegetables were freshly plucked from the garden. The chicken meat came from chickens that were reared by the family. There was also pickled fish and dried meat. This was a spread indeed. Together with the fragrant rice which was steamed with stoves on firewood , it was truly a scrumptious meal.

Fade had a large bowl and he helped himself. In just a short time he had finished all the food in his bowl.

Xenia then took Fade's bowl and added more portions of food .

Beside them, her mother's eyes twinkled as she looked on, as though catching on to something. A smile appeared at the corner of her mouth, and as she glanced at Fade's expression, she was even more satisfied.

"Fade, do help yourself. This meat is quite delicious, do eat as much as you can." Her mother picked up the chicken meat enthusiastically with her chopsticks and handed it to him.

Fade thanked her and took a bite. He immediately was aware of the succulent taste of the meat. He was surprised and said, "This is delicious indeed. The meat is so savory, and in comparison to the usual chicken meat, it is even more tasty."

Xenia immediately laughed and said, "Of course, my mother prepared this dish herself. The meat comes from a special type of chicken, which is called the pheasant. My family specializes in rearing these pheasants. The taste of this meat is appetizing indeed."

"Pheasants!" Fade was a little taken aback. It was no wonder that the meat tasted so good.

Xenia nodded and said, "My mother caught them from the mountain many years ago. After rearing them for several years, their numbers have gradually increased. Now there are more than a hundred of them. Many restaurants in the town are fighting over these pheasants that my mother reared."

"I see! No wonder it's so delicious. I should purchase some to bring home." Fade said with a smile.

Xenia's mother said, "No need to purchase them,

Dr.Chen, I'll prepare some of the meat for you to bring home."

"Thank you so much, auntie," Fade said with a smile. Then he took another big portion of the food and savored the taste of each bite.

At this moment, there was a sudden commotion, and one could hear the sound of pheasants clucking and dogs barking. There were also the sound of fluttering wings.

Xenia's mother immediately set down her bowl and chopsticks and said, "The pheasants in the coop must be causing trouble again. I'll go and have a look. Go ahead with your meal!"

Fade and Xenia nodded and continued to eat. But not long after, Xenia's mother suddenly cried out, "My pheasants, how can this be?"

"No!"

Fade and Xenia's faces fell instantly. They quickly set down their bowls and chopsticks, and walked out.

The coop was behind the house, and it was surrounded by a fence made from tree branches and bamboo.

But at this time, there was a gaping hole in the fence. Three large and fierce wolf dogs had rushed into the coop and were frantically biting and killing the pheasants.

Outside, Xenia's mother was in absolute panic, but there was nothing she could do. She could only look on as the wolf dogs attacked and kill the pheasants one by one.

Xenia looked at the wolf dogs and her expression suddenly turned cold. "These dogs belong to Brett's family."

She then turned her head, and sure enough, Brett Han was standing at a distance with a smirk on his face. He had his arms crossed, and he had a gloating expression on his face as he watched from afar.

Xenia was filled with rage. She glared and walked towards Brett, yelling, "Brett, how could you intentionally let your dogs into my pheasant coop?"

Brett feigned his innocence, saying, "Xenia, although we are intimate, you can't spout nonsense like that. I do not let my dogs out to roam! Clearly, these are a few wild dogs that broke into the coop accidentally. I have nothing to do with it."

"Everyone in the village knows that these three wolf dogs belong to your family. How dare you try to deny it and argue with me!" Xenia was beside herself.

"You said that these dogs belong to my family. Where is the proof? Are there tags on them with my name?" Brett had a defiant expression on his face, and he sneered as he looked on at the scene where the wolf dogs were having their way.

Seeing that the wolf dogs had bitten and killed more than a dozen pheasants, Xenia and her mother were so anxious that tears welled up in their eyes.

But Brett continued the charade, and acted like he was concerned. He said, "Xenia, would you like me to help you? Just ask me nicely and I will help you drive the wild dogs away."

"Brett, you are shameless!" Xenia yelled.

Brett's face fell and he said, "Xenia, if we delay any more time, all your pheasants will be completely wiped out."

"You..." Xenia was so angry that her face turned completely red.

At this moment, Fade gently held Xenia's hands and comforted her in a low voice, "Don't worry, I'll deal with this situation."

As he spoke, Fade walked straight towards the coop.

Seeing this, Xenia's mother couldn't help but panic. She shouted, "Mr.Chen, please don't go in there. The wolf dogs are ferocious, it's too dangerous for you to go in."

"Auntie, no worries. They are just a few wild dogs. I'm not afraid of them," Fade said with a faint smile.

Her mother still wanted to try to persuade him, but Xenia was aware of Fade's strength, so she stopped her from trying to convince him.

Brett looked on and sneered. "This stupid fellow, such a show off! These three wolf dogs are imported breeds. One of them costs more than 100,000. When they are triggered they can easily kill human beings."

At this moment, Fade entered the pheasant coop.

The three wolf dogs noticed Fade's presence. Their eyes became fierce in an instant, and they growled as they prepared to pounce on him.

Then, Fade glared at them fiercely, and a gust of Qi emanated from his body. The three wolf dogs suddenly whimpered and shrank to the ground with their tails between their legs. They started trembling.

Brett noticed this and frowned. "What is happening right now? Why didn't the wolf dogs attack that fellow?"

Then, he whistled and pointed at Fade. This was a signal from the dog's training indicating that they should attack him.

Xenia was furious when she saw this. "Brett, you just told me that these dogs are not yours, but now you are instructing them to attack others."

Brett denied this. "I just whistled for fun. Anyway, they are already on the attack, so I can't do anything about it. You'd better try not to slander me."

But at this moment, the wolf dogs that were supposed to attack Fade did not move. Instead, Fade took the lead. He struck one of the wolf dog's head with his palm, and with a snapping sound, the wolf dog whimpered, fell to the ground and died.

Brett was shocked when this happened. He quickly shouted, "What are you doing? How dare you kill my wolf dog? Do you know that one dog is worth more than a hundred thousand? Are you able to pay a compensation?"

Fade sneered and said, "Didn't you just say they were wild dogs? This is of no concern of yours."

As he spoke, Fade struck another dog with his palm. There was a cracking sound and it died on the spot.

Brett became anxious. He had spent a lot of money on these dogs, and a lot of time and effort had gone into their training. Now two of them had been killed by Fade. This caused him great distress indeed. He said, "Stop this right now. These are my dogs. You are not allowed to kill them!"

Fade ignored his words. He raised his palm again and struck the last wolf dog. There was a ringing sound as it fell to the ground, dead.

Chapter 231

At this instant, Brett Han was infuriated, trembling in anger. He pointed to Fade Chen, roaring, "You killed my dogs, and it will cost you your life."

"According to what you said earlier, these are wild dogs. How can you suddenly be their owner?" Fade spoke coldly.

"These dogs are mine." Brett insisted.

"Are they really yours? Do they have any tags with your name on it?" Fade replied, repeating his earlier words. He then walked past him dismissively.

Brett was boiling with rage, but he did not dare take action against Fade.

Fade paced a few steps, seemingly thoughtful. He suddenly stood still, grabbed the tails of the three dogs, and dragged them away. "By the way, I heard that dog meat is excellent, especially wild dogs. It's an acquired taste, and must be savored."

"How dare you..." The sight of his dead dogs, who had been struck down by Fade, was already of utmost distress to Brett. Hearing that they would end up as an exotic dish to be consumed, caused his fury to increase greatly. However, he could only suppress his anger and did not dare take any action to stop him from doing this.

He had no choice but to look on helplessly as Fade dragged away the three wolf dogs that he had raised from young.

Although Fade had killed the three wolf dogs, Xenia Xu's family had suffered heavy losses in regards to the pheasants they were rearing. Xenia's mother still had a gloomy expression on her face, and Xenia continued trying to console her.

Seeing this, Fade had a brainwave. He called Xenia over and said, "Xenia, I think auntie is very fond of rearing these pheasants. How about directly building a pheasant farm for her to breed them? Auntie seems to enjoy doing this, and she should be able to earn a good income from it as well!"

Xenia's eyes immediately lit up when she heard this. She said, "It's a good idea. However, I'm afraid it will require a large amount in terms of start-up fund for us to open a farm."

Fade thumped his chest and said, "I will cover the start-up fund. I will sponsor auntie as much as she needs."

Xenia shook her head quickly and said, "Doctor Chen, that's your money. How can we just ask you for such a favor? I think it would be better if I took a loan from you?"

Around the time, opening a farm would require a start-up fund of around a hundred thousand or more, and Fade did not consider this a huge amount.

Initially, he intended to turn her down. However, when he saw the earnest expression on Xenia's face, he nodded and said, "Alright, I will loan the money to you."

"I will still need to seek my mother's approval. After all, I am tied to my working hours, and don't have the time or energy to be responsible for these matters." Xenia said.

"Sure, you can discuss this matter with auntie." Fade said.

Xenia nodded. She then went into the house and began a discussion with her mother.

When her mother heard the idea of opening a pheasant farm and expanding her current business, she was naturally interested. When the topic of the start-up funds was broached, her mother insisted that she should take a loan from Fade with interest. She could not take advantage of Fade's generosity.

After auntie had agreed to these terms and conditions, Fade immediately rushed to take action. He made a few phone calls to Tom Wei, asking him if he knew anyone who had some knowledge of these matters. Fade also made a request to Tom Wei if he could send a few of them over to help out.

After about three hours, Xenia and her mother, who had just agreed to the plan, noticed a group of people coming into the village. They were farm owners, construction workers, architects and engineers.

As they arrived, they wasted no time, immediately beginning with a survey of the land. They also examined and studied all the relevant issues involved. An hour later, a general plan had been drafted.

Xenia and her mother were astonished by this efficient way of doing things, and were more than delighted. After all, they were going to be owners of a pheasant farm, a total upgrade from having just a small home business. In the future, the Xu family's profile would become higher in the village.

When the villagers heard the news that the Xu family was opening a farm, they rushed over to observe all that was going on. Some people wanted to ask in advance if they could have a job at the farm, while some people wanted to gain some knowledge for their own future plans. There were also those who wanted to network and build relationships.

Xenia's mother did not reject anyone who had the potential to help out, and agreed to their requests.

But just as the Xu family was occupied with these matters, Brett returned home in gloom.

In front of him, sat a middle-aged man around his fifties. The man was thinking carefully and his face was quivering. At this moment, he was listening intently to his son's words, with an expression of sternness.

"Father, Xenia crossed the line. Not only did she get involved with some barbarian, she got him to beat me up and kill my dogs. I must seek revenge."

This middle-aged man was Wyman Han, Brett's father. After listening to Brett's words, he frowned and said, "She's just some petty woman. Don't be so useless, complaining all the time. Don't let others look down on the Han family."

Brett pouted and said, "Father, I've been in love with Xenia for a long time, you are aware of this fact. But now..."

He wanted to continue, but when he saw the change in his father's expression, he immediately changed the topic and said, "Father, the Xu family is rising in prominence. I heard that they are starting a farm now. They are going to rent a piece of land behind the mountain and directly build their farm there. If the Xu family succeeds, our Han family will not be able to maintain our status as the richest in the village. Moreover, we were going to rent that land and mine for precious stones!"

Wyman did not speak after hearing his son's words, but his heart sank. His son was right, he had been eyeing the land behind the mountains for a long time. He had always wanted to acquire it and do something with it. However, his business profits were not enough then, so he had to delay his acquisition plan. Unexpectedly, someone had made the move to acquire it now, which caused him to feel rather resentful.

Seeing the change of expression on his father's face, Brett continued to stir the pot. "Dad, we have to act quickly. I heard that the Xu family has hired people to come and settle all these issues. They are about to meet with the village committee and sign the contract. Once that is done, they can immediately begin with construction."

Wyman slammed his hand down on the table, exclaiming in a cold tone, "Sign the contract? It won't be that simple. Please make a trip to the home of the village head and inform him of my views on this matter. I will go to town and ask a few people to come over to help us."

Hearing this, Brett couldn't contain his glee, and quickly said, "Alright, I will go right now. By the way father, don't forget to invite a few highly skilled martial-art fighters to come over. That fellow needs to be taught a lesson."

"I know. We can't allow anyone to pick on members of the Han family," Wyman said coldly.

As for Xenia's family, after being occupied with a lot of work, the general plan was finally drafted by evening. The next important step would be the signing of the acquisition contract for the land behind the mountains.

Thus, Xenia and her companions proceeded to the home of the village head, ready to sign the contract.

But as they entered the home of the village head, they spotted Brett sitting next to the village head. Xenia's face fell instantly, asking, "Why are you here?"

Brett replied with a dubious smile, "I am visiting the village head as guest. Am I not allowed to do so?"

Xenia snorted, ignoring Brett. She walked forward with her mother to the village chief and said with a smile, "Good evening sir, you had agreed to our acquisition of the land behind the mountains. Let's proceed with the signing of the contract."

Chapter 232

The village head was a man in his fifties. Hearing her words, he took out the cigarette he was smoking and gently tapped it. With a serene expression on his face, he said, "No need to rush these things! We need a slow and careful approach to deal with these matters."

Xenia Xu's mother became anxious when she heard his reply. "Sir, why the sudden slow approach? Weren't you present for the drafting of our plan? Also, the land to the back of the mountains is wild and deserted. Earlier you mentioned your high hopes of selling it. Now, my family is offering a good price. Why are you suddenly reluctant?"

The village head spoke slowly, bureaucratic and formal in tone, "The land to the back of the mountains is the communal property of the village. The acquisition of this land is a serious matter and we cannot make a hasty decision. A thorough investigation will be needed, examining all the relevant issues one at a time."

Xenia's mother face fell. She was not sure how to deal with this old scoundrel.

But Xenia was not so cordial. She said coldly, "Sir, did Brett mention something that made you change your mind so suddenly?"

The village head responded in anger, saying, "What are you trying to imply? Are you saying that I have selfish intentions and that I am using my official authority to make things difficult for you?"

Xenia replied without tact, "If that is the case, then you should know very well then."

"You are slandering me. In that case, we have nothing to discuss. You can return home now." The village head gestured his hand in indication that they should leave. Brett Han, who was beside him, was exhilarated. Noticing that Xenia was flushing red, he could not help taunting her, "By the way, I have good news for all of you. The Han family is going to acquire the land to the back of the mountains and open a mine there. When it is ready, you can be one of the employees or workers there!"

"You..." Xenia was alarmed and glanced at the village head. "What's going on, sir? Didn't you say that you needed a slow approach to decide on the acquisition of the land? How could you have given the contract to the Han family in a split second?"

The village head replied without emotion, "The Han family's enterprise is the pride and backbone of our village. Naturally, it will require the strong support of the village."

"You..." Xenia was incensed.

At this moment, a commotion outside could be heard. One could hear the sound of objects smashing and people quarreling.

Shocked, everyone went out from the village head's house to take a look at what was happening.

Close to the entrance of the village, there was an empty ground, and a group of youths who looked like gangsters were smashing up some of the cars belonging to the engineers and workers. Several of them came forward to stop them, but they were pushed aside by those gangsters and were beaten up.

When Fade Chen saw this, he immediately shouted, "Stop it!"

The leader of these men was a sturdy looking man in his thirties. He was muscular and had a savage expression on his face. He carried a steel pipe in his hand, which was stained with some blood.

"Who ordered you to smash the cars and to beat up these people?" Fade shouted.

The sturdy looking man came forward, sizing up Fade. He pointed to the smashed up cars and said, "These cars and their owners, they are related to you?"

"Yes! I just asked you, who ordered you to do this?" Fade spoke in a low voice.

The sturdy looking man spat on the ground and said, "Nobody ordered us to do this. Your cars are on top of our vegetable field. Therefore, I have to get rid of the cars to teach all of you a lesson, so how about that?"

While speaking, he pointed to the weeds under the cars. Clearly, he was blatantly lying about the situation.

"Is that a vegetable field?" Fade sneered.

"Yes it is, it's not just any ordinary plant, it is of a rare variety. Just the crop from this piece of land would be worth at least 50,000. You crushed the vegetables, so you have to compensate me. Are we clear on that?" The sturdy looking man said arrogantly.

"Really?" Fade sneered in anger. "It seems to me that you are trying to extort some money through this situation."

"What can you do about it then? Does that upset you then?" The sturdy looking man stretched out his fingers and pushed against Fade's chest.

Fade frowned and caught the man's fingers in one gesture. He snapped them backwards and there was a cracking sound. The man's fingers were broken and hung limp at a strange angle.

The man let out a painful roar, and his forehead was covered with sweat. He shouted, "Get him! Beat him up!"

Instantly, more than a dozen of the gangsters rushed toward Fade with ferocity.

Fade snorted and rushed into the crowd. Launching his fists and feet everywhere, he came down hard on the punks.

In a split second, the crowd witnessed something shocking. This group of gangsters, who were so savage, could not defend themselves against Fade. They were beaten to a pulp and fled the scene howling, scampering away.

In just a few minutes, the whole group of them had been defeated by Fade.

Their leader, the sturdy looking man, glanced at Fade, who looked thin and frail. A layer of sweat appeared on his forehead, and his body began to shudder. "Who, who are you?"

Fade snorted and said, "Tell me, who ordered you to do this?"

At that moment, the sturdy looking man didn't dare to hide anything from him. He quickly answered, "It's Wyman Han. He asked me to bring my men here to smash up the cars."

"Wyman is Brett's father." Xenia explained quickly.

"Where is he now?" Fade asked.

The sturdy looking man said, "I heard, I heard that he met someone in town and was about to sign a contract to acquire the land to the back of the mountains."

"What!" Xenia and her mother exclaimed at the same time. They just wanted to expand their business, and now they had to face the harassment and dirty tactics that were used by the Han family in order to stop them.

Fade fixed an icy stare at the gangsters for a moment, then turned to Xenia and her mother and said, "We won't let them sign the contract. Let's go now to town."

With one hand, Fade stowed the sturdy-looking man into the car. With the other, he grabbed Brett Han, who was about to flee and sound the alarm. He also stuffed him in the car. Then he glared at the village head and commanded, "You get in the car too!"

Looking at the wounded men on the ground, the village head was frightened. He stepped back and said, "I, I won't!"

"You don't want to get in? Do you want me to force you?" Fade spoke coldly.

The village head trembled in fright. He did not dare to speak up anymore, and got into the car obediently.

Then, Fade requested for another engineer to drive Xenia and her mother to town.

Meanwhile, in one of the rooms of the most luxurious hotel in town,

Wyman Han was entertaining and dealing with several pot-bellied men, and his face was red from drinking lots of wine.

"Gentlemen, I would like to propose a toast to you again. This time, many thanks for your assistance, in regards to the acquisition of the land to the back of the mountains. After the deal is consolidated, I will do what I promised, and give each of you one portion of the shares." Wyman stood up and prepared to raise his glass.

All the other men also raised their glasses, with a jovial expression on their faces.

After downing the glass of wine, one of the men, who was bespectacled, seemed a little concerned and said, "Wyman, I heard that the Xu family has hired a lot of engineers and workers. I also heard that they invited some experts from the city to assist them as well. Will there be any problems regarding this matter?"

Wyman thumped his chest and said, "Department Head Liu, rest assured, these engineers or workers, despite coming from a bigger city, are mere foreign employees. Besides, this is our territory. We can't allow outsiders to do as they please with it!"

"Yes, Mr. Liu, you think too much. This is Brother Han's position in our territory." A slightly balding man gave Wyman the thumbs up in gesture and then patted Department Head Liu on the shoulder. "Just accept the money without worry and wait for the profit!"

"Haha, let's make a huge profit together!" Wyman raised his glass once more.

Chapter 233

The group of people chattered and drank merrily. The atmosphere was lively and energetic.

At this moment, the sound of a loud crash could be heard, as someone kicked open the door of the private chamber.

The people within were shocked, and they slammed their glasses on the table, standing up one after the other, with angry expressions on their faces.

"Damn it, who kicked the door?"

"What's going on? Who is trying to make trouble?"

"Who is this stupid idiot, ask him to get out!"

Several people roared. At this moment, someone was pushed into the room.

Wyman went ahead and grabbed that person. He was ready to fight. But just as he was about to take action, he realized with a jolt that this person was his son, Brett Han.

Instantly, Wyman spoke in surprise, "Why are you here? Didn't I ask you to stall them at the village head's house?"

Brett was a little timid, stammering, "Father, I, they..."

Before he could finish, there was another crash at the door, and another person was promptly tossed into the room, landing on the floor with a thud.

Wyman was even more astonished when he saw the man. It was the village head. "Sir, why are you here?"

At this time, Brett finally strung his words together and said, "Father, our men have been beaten up. Xenia and her companions brought us here."

"What? I've sent so many men. How can they be defeated?" Wyman had an expression of incredulity on his face. "What happened then?"

At this instant, there was another loud crash. The leader of the gangsters, who had been beaten black and blue, was flung directly into the room onto the table.

This caused many plates, bowls, food and soup to fly everywhere, soaking and drenching the guests. They were left in a state of disheveled wretchedness.

This instantly caused Wyman and the others to become indignant and enraged. They rushed to the door in anger and shouted, "Who is trying to play tricks on us? Get in now!"

Wyman was just walking to the door when a foot came launching towards him, catching him off guard.

"Bam", this kick landed on Wyman's belly, sending him flying in the air. He collapsed on the ground which was full of scraps and leftovers, then started howling in pain.

At this moment, Fade Chen walked in with a cold expression on his face. Behind him, Xenia Xu and her mother also came in, also with a frosty expression.

When Department Head Liu and the other men saw these people, they were a little confused. They did not recognize who these people were. But as Wyman got up from the ground, his expression changed and he said in a low voice, "It's you."

As he gazed at Xenia and her mother, he said coldly, "Well, I didn't expect Lars to have such a capable wife and daughter. You dare to hire someone to publicly beat people up. I assume that you would like to pay a visit to the police station sometime soon."

Lars Xu was Xenia's father, who passed away five years ago.

After Wyman had finished speaking, he glanced at the balding man and gave him a knowing look.

The man, who had an angry expression on his face, immediately took out his cell phone, and dialed a number. "Inform the police officers who are in charge of patrolling public areas that they are needed here. There are hooligans and troublemakers here. Have them come to arrest them and bring these people back to the station."

After the call was made, the men looked at Xenia and her mother in glee. Wyman sneered and said, "Both of you, mother and daughter, how can you go against me. Your intention was to acquire the land behind the mountains. I will send you to the police station and you can try to accomplish that there. Ha!"

At this moment, the bald man also had a stern expression on his face. He said coldly, "You are all suspects, trying to assault others without reason. You violated the law, and should surrender immediately. Otherwise, you will be severely punished."

When Xenia heard these words, she couldn't help quivering in anger. She retorted, "If we are charged for assaulting others for no good reason, then why do you ignore the fact that Wyman ordered some men to beat up our workers and destroy their cars? You are being too biased!"

"Little girl, how dare you spout such nonsense?" The bald man yelled. "If you try to perpetuate such untruths, it will be considered as an act of malicious slander. The charges against you will be doubled."

Observing all this, Brett hid behind his father, with a gloating expression on his face. Then he pulled on the sleeves of his father as he pointed towards Fade, whispering, "Don't forget that fellow."

Wyman noticed this and said, "This fellow is the culprit. He is going around beating people up. Of course, he should be arrested and incarcerated."

The bald middle-aged man nodded and said with a grim expression, "Such a miscreant not only needs to be arrested and incarcerated, but also requires severe punishment."

Fade looked on with a sneer as they made their speeches. Finally, he spoke without emotion, "Are you done?"

Wyman glanced at Fade with a darkened expression and said, "Young man, if you are trying to go against the Han family, this is a huge miscalculation on your part. Once you are at the police station you will regret it."

"Really? I think it's you who will regret it." Fade said lightly.

"Arrogant and reckless young man." Wyman sneered and said, "Don't cry later when it's too late."

At this moment, the sound of approaching footsteps could be heard. Noticing this, Wyman and the other men were instantly thrilled. They looked gleefully at Fade and his companions and said, "Here they come. Let's just wait for their arrival."

Brett looked around, and as he caught a glimpse of Xenia's face, he said, "Father, about that, Xenia, she..."

Wyman glared at his son in annoyance, but he still gave the bald middle-aged man a knowing look. The man caught on to what was going on and said, "Later, I will lock this girl in a separate cell. Brett, you are from the same town as her. You can take care of her and visit her cell. Do enjoy each other's company!"

Brett was ecstatic and looked at Xenia with lust and desire.

When Xenia and her mother heard this, their faces fell. Xenia spoke icily, "If you dare touch me, I will make sure you die with me."

"Haha, Xenia, you have always belonged to me. What's touching if I can just sleep with you? Can you stop me?" Brett said in a gloating tone.

Hearing this, Fade's face fell and an expression of rage appeared. He struck Brett hard in the face and said coldly, "It seems like you don't have a good memory. You have to be taught another lesson."

At the sight of this man slapping his son in front of him, Wyman flew into a rage. "How dare you hit my son! You're asking for absolute trouble!"

The bald middle-aged man was also outraged. "You intentionally flout the law. Just wait till you are arrested and taken to the police station!"

At this instant, a group of uniformed officers arrived. Wyman immediately shouted, "Here you are. Hurry up! Arrest all these people, and watch out for this fellow."

The middle-aged man also shouted, "Arrest them all. They are a bunch of unruly hooligans. How dare they make trouble here? They are flirting with disaster!"

As the two of them yelled and shrieked, they found that the uniformed officers in front of them stood still without budging.

Both of them immediately flew into a rage. Wyman shouted, "Didn't you hear my command? Why are you not taking action!"

The bald middle-aged man also yelled, "This is an order. Arrest them quickly!"

At this time, the sound of a deep voice rang out. "Captain Wang, do you have the right to give us an order?"

"Also, Wyman, since when do you have the authority to command us what to do?"

Chapter 234

At this moment, the bald-headed Captain Wang and Wyman Han looked at the uniformed officers in front of them. They were dumbfounded, as the officers who had arrived were not the members of his security task force, but a real police officer. This was Officer Zhang of the police bureau.

In an instant, both their foreheads oozed a thin layer of sweat. They were completely flabbergasted and could not move.

"Officer Zhang, why are you here?"

"Officer Zhang, I was just joking. Just speaking in jest."

Officer Zhang snorted loudly and said, "Are you kidding me? This doesn't seem like a joke!"

After that, Officer Zhang made a gesture with his hand and shouted, "Arrest them all!"

Immediately, the police officers rushed over and arrested Captain Wang, Wyman Han, Department Head Liu, Brett Han, the village head and their cohorts.

"Officer Zhang, what crime did I commit? Why am I under arrest?" Wyman Han protested his innocence.

Officer Zhang bellowed in a cold tone, "What crime?"

Didn't you order some gangsters to beat people up and smash their cars in the village?"

At this time, the village head also protested, "Officer Zhang, I was forced to make a trip here. I have nothing to do with this matter!"

"You misused your power in the matter of the land acquisition. Do I need to spell it out for you?" Officer Zhang replied in anger. The village head was completely frightened and did not dare to protest anymore.

Captain Wang and Department Head Liu also wanted to defend themselves, but Officer Zhang did not allow them to speak. He snorted and said, "You don't need to say anything else. It's a great offense to use public funds and your official power for corrupt purposes."

After he had finished speaking, Officer Zhang turned around to face Fade. He said in a respectful tone, "Mr. Chen, we await your instructions."

At this sight, Wyman Han and the others were completely stunned. They didn't expect Officer Zhang to be so polite towards Fade Chen. And observing his behavior, this was not just good manners, but even respect and deference. He gave the impression that he was speaking to someone of a much higher status than him.

For a moment, their hearts sank, and they kept asking themselves, "Who is this fellow really?"

On the other hand, Fade declined with a gesture of his hand and said without emotion, "My instructions aren't necessary in this situation, you can just abide by the law and deal with them impartially."

Officer Zhang nodded. He looked at Xenia Xu and her mother, and said, "The land acquisition by the Xu family, to construct a farm, has been authorized by the mayor of the town. I made a phone call just now. He will support the business and approve the corresponding tax deductions."

"That is great news indeed!" Xenia and her mother were surprised and overjoyed.

Wyman Han and his cohorts were even more shocked when they heard about this turn of events. Not only was Officer Zhang on Fade's side, but even the mayor was favoring him. What kind of background did that fellow come from, in order to wield such great influence over these leaders?

The situation at hand seemed under control, therefore, Fade proceeded to leave with the others.

As he walked to the door, Fade suddenly remembered something. He turned his head and stood still, saying, "I almost forgot, Officer Zhang. I heard that those gangsters are actually workers at Mr. Han's quarry. In that case, we have to investigate the quarry thoroughly as well."

Officer Zhang nodded quickly and said, "Mr. Chen, no worries at all. I will investigate the matter thoroughly." He then accompanied Fade and his companions out of the hotel. After he had respectfully sent them off, he turned around and walked back into the room.

Officer Zhang looked sternly at Wyman Han and his cohorts. He gestured with his hand and said, "Take them away!"

Wyman Han quickly said, "Officer Zhang, this matter is really just a misunderstanding!"

Captain Wang also spoke up quickly, "Officer Zhang, this is just a small matter, why be up in arms over it?"

Department Head Liu, who was beside them, nodded in a sycophantic manner and said, "Officer Zhang, can you do me a favor and contact my father. He may have something important to say to you." Department Head Liu was a person with connections. At this moment, he was trying to give a hint to Officer Zhang, that he should show his father some respect.

Officer Zhang looked at the three of them and snorted. He said, "A misunderstanding? A small matter? If death was staring you in the eye you wouldn't even see it."

"Death is staring us in the eye? Is this matter that serious?" Captain Wang could not believe it.

Wyman Han also smiled and said, "Officer Zhang, we are all from this area, and we all know how everything is done here. Do let us go this time, and we will definitely repay you in the future."

"Yes, yes!" Department Head Liu nodded.

Officer Zhang looked at the three of them coldly and said, "Let you go? If I let you go, not only would I be blamed, but the mayor will be in trouble!"

"How could this be? It's such a trivial matter. When did it become such a big deal?" They were puzzled and could not comprehend what was going on.

Officer Zhang snorted and said, "Do you know who ordered me to do this?"

"Someone called the police? Who is it?" The three of them were even more confused.

Officer Zhang lowered his voice and said in a deep voice, "I'll tell you. In this matter, someone personally called the mayor on his phone. Then he gave me the order to come over."

"What? He directly called the mayor? Who on earth is this person?" Several of them were shocked.

Officer Zhang continued, "The mayor told me that it involves the retired mayor, Mr. Wu, and Master Wei of Long Enterprise."

"What!" Hearing these two names, the three of them felt like they were going to explode.

Mr. Wu and Master Wei were famous personages who had absolute authority at Bay City. They had control and command over many people, and these local personages had little power when compared to them.

There were only a few people who could ensure that both Mr. Wu and Master Wei would become involved in the matter at the same time. After awhile, they thought of one person... Lunatic Chen.

Perhaps only this well-known personage, who had swiftly risen amongst the ranks at Bay City, could cause such a stir.

For a moment, they could not help but feel a sense of cold dread.

Captain Wang trembled and asked Wyman Han, "Do you know what his name is?"

Wyman Han shook his head and looked at his son, Brett Han. Brett was stunned, and then thought about it for a second. His face turned pale. "I thought that I heard Xenia calling him Dr. Chen."

"What, his surname is Chen!" When they heard this, they all started shuddering, and their faces turned pale in fear.

At this time, Brett seemed to remember something. He said, "Xenia was working at Fei Enterprises Holdings Inc. She said that this Dr. Chen is her colleague."

"Fei Enterprises Holdings Inc, with the surname

Chen. How can one be so powerful at such a young age?"

As they identified all these characteristics, they became quite certain that this Dr. Chen was Lunatic Chen who had completely conquered Bay City.

All of them were petrified and a sense of dread came over them.

At this moment, Wyman Han and his cohorts gave up the intention of trying to fight back. They would be happy if they could just survive.

After the matter was resolved, Fade and his companions returned to the village.

It was getting late, so Xenia's mother asked Fade to stay for the night. Fade looked at the time and realized that it was already past eight o'clock in the evening. Therefore, he did not refuse the offer and agreed to stay for the night.

After a night's rest in the village, Fade was completely refreshed. He got up quite early the next day.
