Medical Genius Unspeakable Marriage Chapter 3631

"I don't know what ever happened to you."

"But do you know what everyone out there is saying about Ronald?"

Lin Mo looked at Shi Lan Yue and calmly spoke his words.

He had probably heard what Shi Lan Yue meant from her words.

It was nothing more than that the secret passage was only known to his dad and Ronald.

But that group of people were squatting up there in advance.

So Shi Lan Yue guessed that it was Ronald who had betrayed his father.

But when faced with such words that did not have the slightest credibility, Lin Mo did not believe them.

Faced with Lin Mo's words, a bitter smile appeared on Shi Lan Yue's face.

"I know, the elegant gentleman, the alien on the island of death."

"Being kind, and doing things gracefully and courteously, well liked by others."

"But what if I were to say that I had seen it with my own eyes."

Shi Lan Yue's gaze was firmly fixed on Lin Mo, wanting to see some emotion in his eyes.

But in the end, she was disappointed.

Lin Mo's eyes were as deep as a spring that could not be seen to the end.

There was no way for her to see any emotion in them at all.

"At that time, my father was seriously injured, but tried his best to kill those guys who were crouching up there."

"He didn't believe it was Ronald either, and our family made a quick run for Ronald's land."

"Even foolishly thinking that once we got into Ronald's territory."

"Our family could continue to live in peace."

"But then we were caught up with the guys again and my mother tried to get us to escape."

"Alone, she drew off most of the pursuers, leaving just the three of us to continue our escape."

"But the speed of that group was just too fast ....."

A look of fear flashed across Shi Lan Yue's face.

“They soon caught up with us, just when we were desperate and thought we were going to die completely.”

“Ronald’s reinforcements arrived and managed to save us.”

A self-deprecating smile appeared on Shilan Yue’s face.

“Did you think that was a pretty perfect story?”

“That’s what mine thought at the time, and we followed the reinforcements to Ronald’s quarters.”

“I also met whichever man was known as the elegant gentleman.”

“He exuded an aura that I liked very much and inwardly thought of him as a good man.”

“Then in the middle of the night, my father died.”

In speaking of her father’s death.

Shi Lan Yue was very calm, but Lin Mo could still see the hatred in her eyes.

“At that time, my father was inside the medical room, and I happened to fall asleep under the bed on the side because I had been naughty.”

“When I opened my eyes in a daze, I saw a guy with an evil ghost mask.”

“Holding a sharp dagger in his hand, he stabbed my father directly in the chest.”

“After making sure my father was dead, he quickly headed outside.”

“And I quietly followed him then to a room.”

Tears gradually filled the eyes of Shi Lan Yue, and her voice gradually began to tremble a little.

“I ..... I saw ..... that guy.”

“Kneeling in front of Ronald, he offered the dagger stained with my father’s blood in his hands.”

“And that hypocrite Ronald ..... even had his body trembling from excitement.”

“Afraid, I wanted to flee the place with my sister ..... but I knew that if I went on my own.”

“Might still be alive out there, but if I took my sister with me, we would all die.”

“And Ronald doesn’t know I saw all that.”

“My sister is still safe for now.”

“At least if Ronald doesn’t get me, he won’t do anything to my sister.”

“I’m done. ....”

Medical Genius Unspeakable Marriage Chapter 3632

After Shi Lan Yue finished this secret that had been buried inside her for many years in one breath.

The whole person instantly breathed a sigh of relief.

Although the wet tears had long since covered her eyes.

For many years she had lurked in the middle of Block 13.

Incognito, just to avoid Ronald's people finding her.

And had been secretly searching for a chance to help her take revenge.

And right now, Lin Mo was the closest chance Shi Lan Yue felt she had.

So she was desperate to take a gamble.

She wanted to bet that Lin Mo, a mysterious person with a mysterious identity, could really help her take revenge.

Lin Mo looked at Shi Lan Yue who had grown silent and pondered for a moment.

"Your commission, I'll take it."

"I will go to Block 12 to pry, if the information is really as you say."

"That Ronald is a deceitful, uncompromising hypocrite if you will."

"I'll kill him."

If Ronald was really just as Shi Lan Yue had said.

Then even for the sake of Ryan, Lin Mo would still go forward and strike.

That foolish batch of Ryan shouldn't be sold by others and still be there happily counting money for them.

The originally somewhat helpless and silent Shi Lan Yue heard Lin Mo's words.

A look of hope immediately appeared on her face.

"Good, if you are able to kill Ronald and avenge my father."

"After that, whatever you want, I can give it to you."

Saying that, Shi Lan Yue got up and came up.

Her half-revealed fragrant shoulders were even gradually still sliding downwards under her deliberate.

Lin Mo's gaze swept calmly over the body of Shi Lan Yue in front of himself.

He then directly extended his hand.

When Shi Lan Yue looked at Lin Mo's outstretched palm, she was instantly a million times more nervous inside.

Could it be that he wanted to .....

But she was not ready for any amount yet.

Forget it, it's better to let him have a taste of something sweet.

Shi Lan Yue's eyes closed as she silently waited for Lin Mo to make his move.

But to her surprise, Lin Mo didn't have the slightest interest in her body at all.

"You're still considered a lady of the house no matter how you say it."

"Don't move to treat people like that."

Lin Mo's fingers gently picked up a corner of Shi Lan Yue's green coloured dress.

It was placed back on top of her shoulders.

He himself had already said that he had no interest in her body at all.

How could this woman still be so persistent in trying to seduce herself?

Shi Lan Yue's expression flinched as she looked at the clothes on her shoulders with some disbelief.

This guy was actually trying to get clothes for himself.

Then she thought about the yyy in her own head earlier.

How far did he have to go before he took the plunge and organized things like that.

Above Shi Lan Yue's cheeks was a blush of shame.

Lin Mo opened the door that had been closed tightly again.

It was only closed before for fear of being seen taking out the piece of cloth with the Guangde Hall logo.

That way his identity wouldn't be revealed, but his purpose would be clearly known.

"I'll take my leave, I'll come back for you after I've finished with the matter."

Lin Mo said to Shi Lan Yue before walking straight out.

Shi Lan Yue looked at Lin Mo's departing figure and hurriedly shook her head.

What was she thinking about herself, her soul was lost.

She hurriedly pulled her green dress up and held it up.

Although Shi Lan Yue had always wanted to seduce Lin Mo, it was just as Lin Mo had said.

She was also considered to be a lady of the house.

She still had the right sense of propriety and shame.

Lin Mo, who had walked out of the shop, caught a glimpse of Morton, who was crouching outside.

"You're still waiting here."

Lin Mo's voice caused Morton's body to subconsciously tremble.

When he twisted his head and saw when Lin Mo, Morton then let out a sigh of relief.

“Brother Mo Lin, don’t you know that you can’t stand behind others?”

Medical Genius Unspeakable Marriage Chapter 3633

Morton’s face was one of gratitude.

“Hmm? Did it scare you?”

Lin Mo looked at Morton’s appearance and inquired curiously.

In a place like Death Island, would someone actually be frightened because they were talking behind his back?

Morton’s face instantly showed a look of urgency.

“Frightened?”

“How is that possible, Grand Master Morton I grew up not being afraid of the sky or the earth.”

“But Brother Molin, you really can’t talk behind other people’s backs again in Death Island.”

“Why?”

Morton recalled a scene he had experienced before.

A shiver ran down his chubby body.

“Because most of the times Death Island talks behind my back it’s give me hell.”

“And then there was a flurry of gunfire after gunfire.”

“If I hadn’t come out today without my firearm, Brother Molin would have just turned around and shot me.”

An apologetic smile appeared on Lin Mo’s face.

“Sorry, I don’t know this rule.”

Morton waved his hand, “This doesn’t matter, after all, Brother Molin you are new to this country.”

“Let me tell you, our Block 13 is still much safer than the other blocks.”

“You don’t know that Block 9, there’s no sound on the street at all.”

“Everyone has to go out with a gun in their hands at all times and be on guard.”

When he finished, Morton also proudly pointed to the walkways of Block Thirteen.

“Look at our Block 13, everyone is more cautious too though.”

“But at best, they carry a small submachine gun like a defensive pistol alive uzi on them.”

“And we’re also very heavily policed, maintaining a one-life for one-life penalty.”

“All you have to do is kill someone, then you have to die too.”

“So in our 13th neighbourhood, as long as you don’t have any life-and-death enemies, you can still walk with confidence.”

Looking at Morton’s proud look, Lin Mo was speechless for a moment.

He certainly couldn’t tell Morton about his time in China.

The people on the street were all laughing and even chasing and fighting.

“Well ..... just ..... great?”

Lin Mo pondered for half a day before pondering this phrase that could be a compliment.

The smile on Morton’s face intensified, and he directly took Lin Mo’s shoulder with one hand.

The smile on his face gradually became b*tchy.

“Brother Molin, you don’t know that the best thing about our Block 13, apart from being safe, is that.”

“Relax.”

“Our Block 13 has the largest ..... red light district in the entire Death Island!”

“It covers hundreds of square kilometres, and everyone who goes in simply doesn’t want to come out.”

Morton squeezed his eyebrows twice towards Lin Mo.

“How about it, do you want to go over there and try it out together.”

Lin Mo, faced with Morton’s invitation, had wanted to reject him cleanly.

After all, although the Red Light District sounded good.

But it was just a ma*sive gathering place for prostitutes.

When he was in China, Lin Mo had not seen much information about the large number of prostitutes arrested in the Red Light District.

And he was a Grand Master, going to a red light district?

If word got out, the Prince would laugh himself to death.

“And the red light district is the best place to spy on information.”

Lin Mo gave it some deep thought.

Since ancient times, it seemed that the only places to find out more information were green houses and restaurants.

“And there are also pubs inside the red light district, how about we go for a little drink?”

“As the saying goes, brothers are meant to have taken a beating together, carried a gun together, and whored ..... together.”

“We just simply have a little drink and ask around for information by the way.”

Morton’s words were like the last straw that broke the camel’s back.

“Come on, I also think it’s good to poke around in the red light district.”

Medical Genius Unspeakable Marriage Chapter 3634

Death Island lives up to its reputation as one of the largest of the Western Vientiane Islands.

Morton went from his original face of excitement to his current face of exhaustion.

According to his words, he was now a full half way to the red light district.

“Brother Maureen, take a break, I can’t.”

Morton sat down on his buttocks without any image.

His chubby face was now covered in sweat.

“Molin ..... you have a really good physique.”

Morton looked at Lin Mo without the slightest bit of sweat on top of his forehead.

He immediately gave a thumbs up and revealed a smile of admiration.

Lin Mo smiled gently, “It’s just something I exercised out when I used to plough the land at home.”

Ploughing the land?

A puzzled look appeared in Morton’s eyes.

It wasn’t as if he had never seen people who ploughed the land before.

People on average were dark as hell.

Then he looked at Lin Mo, who was covered in body white Zhe and handsome.

This didn’t look like ploughing at all, either.

“If it’s so far from the red light district, why do you still have to run somewhere?”

“Let’s just find a place close by and poke around.”

Lin Mo’s body stood straight in front of Morton’s.

It made him tilt his head if he wanted to look at Lin Mo when he spoke.

“Harm, I’d like to.”

“But we have clear rules in Block Thirteen about any yellow gambling and drug use.”

“It can only be done in the red light district planned out for Block 13.”

“Otherwise if they get caught, they’ll be treated to peanuts.”

Morton sighed.

He too wanted to be closer every time he went whoring ..... pooh-pooing.

But it just wasn’t allowed.

“Isn’t there a car?”

Lin Mo had just seen someone speeding away in a car on the road.

It was reasonable that with Morton’s price, a car wouldn’t be hard to come by.

Hearing Lin Mo say cars, Morton’s face instantly turned bitter.

“Brother Lin Mo, ah, you don’t know.”

“Our Death Island is originally surrounded by cliffs on three sides and is also particularly difficult to reach.”

“When a car arrives at our Death Island, that price directly increases tens of times or hundreds of times.”

“A car that we might be able to buy outside for a hundred thousand or so, here it costs millions.”

The car thing is for Morton.

He had wanted to buy one for a long time.

But when he saw the long string of zeros after that price.

Morton gave up his desire.

In fact, it was good to exercise, it was good for the body.

“Isn’t there anyone making cars on top of Death Island?”

After this sentence, Lin Mo knew that he had said it for nothing.

If a car was built on top of Death Island, the cost would be a huge amount of money.

And even if it was produced later, it would definitely not dare to be put at a low price.

Otherwise, the equilibrium price of cars on Death Island would be broken.

And those guys who rely on delivering cars to make money won’t let him off the hook.

“Alright, I’m rested.”

“Let’s just keep going, I reckon we should be there in an hour at the most.”

Morton stood up from the ground, his whole body looking like it had regained some strength.

The two of them just walked above the street.

Lin Mo looked at the buildings lined up on either side, a trance-like look flashing in his eyes.

If it wasn't for the gloomy atmosphere and the people on guard here.

Lin Mo would really subconsciously think of this place as a normal street.

The green stone floor under his feet was clearly arranged piece by piece.

The buildings on either side were also very well built.

Just one building alone was as high as seven storeys.

A thought suddenly took root within Lin Mo's heart.

Death Island, in front of which there were two heavenly dangers, Shark Bay and the deep sea area.

In the back, there were three steep rock walls that made it impossible to land.

If such an easy-to-guard and hard-to-attack place was built as a military base, it would be very safe.

It would be very safe.

If you could take Death Island into your own hands, would you be able to change the status quo?

Medical Genius Unspeakable Marriage Chapter 3635

This thought only flashed through Lin Mo's mind.

After all, he hadn't even checked out the missing goods of the Hongmen yet.

It was too far to go to consider these words.

The two of them had been walking for about forty minutes when a burst of singing could already be heard on the otherwise quiet street.

It was close to the red light district.

The thirteenth block Lin Mo had been here for so long, it was basically very quiet.

Even if you dropped a wine bottle on the ground you could be heard by people a hundred metres around.

Not to mention the somewhat ear-splitting singing like this now.

"They play their voices so loudly, aren't they afraid that the people who live here will find something to do with them?"

Lin Mo pointed to the surrounding buildings.

After all, the guys he had seen since coming to Death Island were all bad-tempered.

"It's rare for people to live in these places."

Morton smiled when he saw Lin Mo's finger pointing at the surrounding buildings.

"Because these places are not under the jurisdiction of the escort."

"Which means that if you get killed inside these buildings, then the escort doesn't care."

"So most people live in the safe residential areas that the escort has planned out."

"The only people who can live in here are either wild dogs or rats."

Wild dogs means those who are hungry and full.

The guys who live above Block 13 every day and may or may not even die one day.

Rats, on the other hand, are those who hide in the shadows.

They don't dare to show their faces at all.

They don't dare to show themselves because they have a lot of enemies behind them.

Don't say this side is just a bit noisy.

Even if it's a rubbish heap, those guys can still be willing as long as it's safe.

The two figures walked on top of the long green stone steps.

"So will it be dangerous for us to just walk openly and honestly?"

Morton shook his head, "Don't worry."

"Although the escort doesn't have the energy to care what happens inside those houses."

"But if someone kills someone in the street and tries to disrupt Block 13."

"The power of the escort is not something they can hide from."

Lin Mo said, "So the entire Block 13 is under the control of the escort?"

"Naturally, that's impossible."

"The last street in Block Thirteen is called Number Forty-Nine."

"Where it's not under the Guard's jurisdiction, which means everything you do in there that violates the Guard's rules."

"They wouldn't do anything to you even if they did know."

"Where it's also called a safe zone by a group of guys who often provoke the escort."

"All in all, it's just dangerous."

Morton carefully spoke to Lin Mo about the forty-nine ungoverned areas.

Lin Mo was new to the area, and Block Thirteen was a big place.

Therefore, only when Lin Mo took the initiative to say something about this matter would Morton mention a word about it.

After all, if he were to say it all himself, he would have to talk about it for three days and three nights at the very least.

Lin Mo nodded his head slightly.

The size of Death Island was indeed not comparable to the islands of Lin Island and Ling Island that he had visited before.

Just one red light district alone could cover hundreds of kilometres.

And the neighbourhood was also divided into dozens of different long streets.

When I think about the area of Ling Island, it is only hundreds of kilometres in total.

It's not even as big as one red light district.

As the two of them gradually moved forward, the deafening sounds became clearer.

The various rock music caused a slight look of discomfort to flash in Lin Mo's eyes.

Lin Mo didn't really like this kind of music that was somewhat upbeat.

Compared to rock, Lin Mo preferred music such as the flute and pipa.

Morton, on the other hand, was just the opposite.

Listening to the uptempo and exciting rock music, Morton's face was gradually flushed.

"Every time I get close to this place, I feel like I can't use up all the power in my body."

Medical Genius Unspeakable Marriage Chapter 3636

Lin Mo's eyes were filled with suspicion as he looked at Morton.

Was he really just here for a drink to spy on information?

Now Morton's performance made Lin Mo feel that this guy was a bit that way on stage.

"Go go go, brother Molin, you and I have a destiny."

"Today your consumption old brother I all ....."

Morton just want to say your consumption today I all for you when, violently remembered the red light district of the horrible consumption.

Stiffly swallowed the words that came to his lips.

"Ah ha ha, old brother I'll give you all ..... reimbursement half!"

Morton's forehead was covered in cold sweat.

Fortunately, he did not say the words that he would pay all by himself.

Otherwise, several days of his turnover would have been lost.

“Thanks a lot then.”

Lin Mo nodded, and the two of them continued walking towards the red light district.

Even though they hadn’t entered this red light district yet.

The colourful neon lights shone on the two of them.

One by one, signs flashing with coloured light flashed frantically in mid-air.

“Kannai Izakaya.”

“Spring Breeze Pavilion.”

“Welcome Inn.”

The various names looked very ..... proper.

The decent bodies all made Lin Mo a little surprised.

“Is this the ..... red light district you were talking about?”

Lin Mo endured the colorful neon lights and the deafening music.

Coming to Morton’s side, he said loudly to him.

There was no way around it, the noise in such places was just too loud.

Lin Mo was worried that if he didn’t get closer to Morton, he wouldn’t be able to hear him at all.

“Brother Maureen, believe me, this is the red light district.”

“Don’t look at their cheesy name, but this is just the outer edge.”

“It’s a red light district, but it’s still something to be ashamed of, you can’t just get some erotic stuff outside, can you?”

Morton opened his mouth as hard as he could and said loudly to Lin Mo.

“So what do we do now?”

“Head inside.”

After saying these words, Morton directly took the lead and walked towards the front.

Lin Mo looked at Morton’s back and hesitated in a rare moment.

He always felt that something was wrong with Morton.

This guy .....

Must not be here for a drink.

Decent people who drink come to the red light district.

But thinking of the huge resources that the Hongmen had lost, Lin Mo could only shed silent tears inwardly.

Why so many supplies, just do not get some guards.

Ruthlessly, Lin Mo also followed the figure of Morton towards the inside of the red light district.

Lin Mo had already made up his mind.

If Morton really wanted to go to that kind of place, he would find a restaurant to sit in.

He could also poke around and find out what was going on.

The two of them walked deeper into the red light district as if they were strong men who would never return.

Compared to the noise outside and all the crazy rock music.

The inside of the red light district is relatively quieter.

But the decorations around the area are gradually becoming different .....

It gradually moved towards pink.

The names, which had been very decent, have gradually changed.

“Matsuhana Ippon Meiban.”

“Yufeng House.”

“Full ma*sage.”

And one by one, the women with very thin clothes stood at the entrance smiling and soliciting.

Lin Mo’s eyes looked straight ahead.

And Morton, who was walking in front of him, also had his eyes firmly on the ground.

There was not the slightest thought of looking to either side.

“Could it be that this fellow Morton is really here to spy on information?”

Lin Mo’s gaze looked at Morton who was walking in front with his head slightly lowered.

Could it be that he had been wrong about Morton all along?

Was he not at all what he appeared to be?

Just as Lin Mo was still thinking, Morton’s pace suddenly lightened up.

He walked lightly to the left and arrived at the entrance of a shop.

“Haruko’s No Material Case Nesho.”

Medical Genius Unspeakable Marriage Chapter 3637

“Haruko-sama, here I am again!”

Looking at Morton’s appearance as he walked in with gusto.

Countless black lines sprouted above Lin Mo’s forehead.

One shouldn’t have had any sense of expectation for this guy.

The man who had walked in, Morton, had not forgotten Lin Mo, who was standing at the door.

“Brother Molin, what are you still standing at the door?”

“Come in, come in.”

Saying that, Morton also winked wildly at Lin Mo.

It was as if he was saying that we were just coming in to spy on information.

Lin Mo stood in the doorway, but eventually took a step towards the shop.

The ancient raw and ancient colour of the room was very clean.

“Brother Molin, change your shoes.”

Morton, who had already changed into a pair of slippers, took out a new pair of slippers from the shoe rack and threw them in front of Lin Mo’s body.

Lin Mo also took off his own shoes and replaced them with this brand new pair of slippers.

This Haruko’s No Material Case Inner House was much smaller compared to the other shops.

It looked like the type that was very characterless.

Lin Mo was a little confused as to why Morton would come to a place like this.

“I looked at the Hanamichi Ichiban across the street and it was obviously much better than here.”

“And there are very many customers too, so why don’t we go somewhere?”

Lin Mo was talking when Morton hurriedly turned back.

“Brother Molin, keep your voice down.”

“If we go to that kind of place across the street once, my turnover for several days will be gone.”

Lin Mo’s heart was slightly taken aback.

According to Morton’s energy of this pit.

The turnover for a day would be at least ten thousand maple coins.

Although there were times when it wasn’t open, it wasn’t so frightening.

“Is that Hanamichi Ichiban spending a lot?”

Morton nodded frantically.

“That’s not very high, it’s outrageously f*cked up.”

“You’d have to shell out tens of thousands of Maple Leaf coins at the very least to get out for a night after you went in.”

“It’s not like any rich businessman or anything like that would even dare to look at Hanamichi Ichimoku.”

“And it is said that the owner of Hanamichi Ichiban has branches on all the busy islands in the West Vientiane Archipelago.”

“Spending is ridiculously expensive no matter where you are.”

“You won’t be safe down there if you try to whoring for nothing.”

Said Morton, and Morton’s body shivered involuntarily.

“So that’s how it is.”

Lin Mo said softly, according to the miserly nature of Morton.

Not wanting to go also seemed quite normal.

The sound of the two men’s voices also caused footsteps to quickly ring out inside the shop.

“Welcome, two distinguished guests.”

“Aiyaaah, so it’s Brother Morton, why are you so late today, the sisters are waiting for you.”

The gentle voice was so charming and soulful that it seemed to be able to make people drown in tenderness straight away.

From the sound of her voice alone, she imagined that this was a soft and boneless mature woman.

Sure enough, a woman with a curvaceous, curvaceous figure came from inside the shop towards this side.

Lin Mo’s gaze looked at the arriving woman.

The first impression this woman gave Lin Mo was that she was charming.

The charm that came from her body was very seductive.

Such a small shop actually hid a woman of this level.

A pair of pale blue eyes with a seductive charm in them, as if one could fall in just by looking at them.

The warm and delicate red lips made one want to kiss them and taste the taste.

This woman, the feeling she gave Lin Mo was not simple.

Lin Mo’s heart had some importance for this woman.

Such a person should not exist in such a place.

And when the pretty woman saw Lin Mo standing beside Morton, a bright light emerged from her seductive eyes.

As if she had seen some rare treasure, her lilac tongue swirled slightly above her red lips.

The wave-like fluctuations on his chest immediately attracted Morton's eyes firmly.

"Dare I ask if this guest is?"

Medical Genius Unspeakable Marriage Chapter 3638

"My name is Mo Lin."

Lin Mo coughed gently and introduced himself to the woman in front of him.

"Miss Haruko, this is my good brother, Molin."

"Brother Molin, this is the owner of this shop, Miss Haruko."

Lin Mo smiled and nodded to Haruko.

The two sides greeted each other even so.

"Alright, alright, they are already waiting for you in the old private room."

Hearing Haruko's words, Morton's eyes instantly lit up.

"I'll trouble Miss Haruko, I'll leave this brother of mine to you to arrange."

Morton threw Lin Mo a you-go-for-it gaze, before quickly running towards one of the private rooms inside.

The corners of Lin Mo's mouth twitched slightly.

So ..... you're not even f*cking here to spy on information, are you!

Lin Mo and Haruko just stood in the entranceway, an awkward atmosphere bred in the two only.

"That Mr. Molin, what services do you need?"

Lin Mo said, "I'll just have some tea myself."

Haruko's face instantly broke into a full smile.

"Good, then please follow me to the elegant room for tea."

Haruko turned around and led Lin Mo towards the inside.

Speaking of a wooden door pulling open, a room emitting the fragrance of tea appeared in front of Lin Mo.

"Mr. Molin, please."

Haruko stood at the door and made a gesture to Lin Mo that you should go in first.

Lin Mo nodded and walked straight to the table inside the room and sat down on top of a futon.

This Japanese style of decoration Lin Mo didn't really like.

Let's say this futon, sitting on his knees every day.

Sooner or later, he would turn his legs into an external eight.

The table is simply too low.

This made Lin Mo, who was used to sitting on tables, chairs and benches, not very fond of this kind of tatami.

Haruko's plump body also came across to Lin Mo's and slowly sat down.

"Mr. Molin, what kind of tea do you drink?"

"We have Shizuoka tea, Kagome tea, and Yagyu tea here ....."

Haruko's red lips opened slightly as she spoke to Lin Mo about the teas in the shop.

These teas were all some of the famous teas from the Japanese country.

"Is there any pu-erh tea?"

Lin Mo's tone was like that of a hermit who was as good as water and completely detached from the mundane world.

Compared to those island teas that Lin Mo had only heard of, but hadn't drunk.

Lin Mo still wanted to drink pu-erh.

Although pu-erh tea tasted slightly bitter, the bitterness was followed by a slightly sweet taste.

It was also one of Lin Mo's more favourite teas.

When Haruko heard Lin Mo say that he wanted to drink Pu-erh tea, she looked stunned.

"Are you talking about the Pu-erh tea from China?"

"Yes, isn't it available here?"

"It doesn't matter if it's not available, I'll just drink clear water."

Lin Mo looked at Haruko and said softly.

Thinking about it, how could a Japanese style shop like this possibly have the pu-erh he wanted?

The request he had just made was indeed a bit difficult for him.

"No, no, no, yes there is."

Haruko waved her hands in a hurry, her chest even lifting in a gust of lines from the amplitude of her body.

“Would you like a raw or cooked tea?”

“The shop has some of both now, if you like, and has tightly pressed teas, cakes and such.”

“I’ve always been more of a fan of Chinese culture, so I’ve delved into it for a while.”

“The tea ceremony in China happens to be one of my favourites.”

“Whether it’s green tea, black tea, or pu-erh tea, I have it all here in my collection.”

After saying that, Haruko twisted around to rummage inside the box behind her.

Lin Mo’s eyes, on the other hand, glanced at Haruko’s back with a slight narrowing.

It was a very proud thing for others to say that they liked Chinese questioning.

But when it was switched to the Japanese.

Although it might feel a little prejudiced to say that.

But it really would be a bit strange.

Medical Genius Unspeakable Marriage Chapter 3639

People from other countries like the culture of China are here to learn.

And the Japanese .....

they are better at plundering this culture to integrate it within their own system.

So this was the reason why Lin Mo looked a little strange.

Haruko’s waist, on the other hand, was constantly twisting from rummaging for something.

“Found it.”

Finally, she turned around with a small bag of tea.

“It was sent to me by international mail from a friend of mine inside China earlier.”

“It said it was sold inside a local village in China that grows tea.”

“It was all good tea, but I couldn’t tell at all.”

“And then I kept it with me even when I arrived in the West Vientiane Islands.”

Haruko handed this tea wrapped in a transparent plastic bag to Lin Mo.

“Mr. Molin, take a look at the quality of this tea.”

Lin Mo took the plastic bag handed to him by Haruko.

Looking at the packaging, it did have the feel of the countryside.

The feeling of simplicity and simplicity of the avenue.

Lin Mo opened this sealed package, and a refreshing and clear fragrance immediately came out.

This tea was indeed a good tea.

“Mr. Molin, how about it how about it?”

Haruko looked at Lin Mo’s nose pressed against the side of the plastic bag, and immediately asked expectantly.

There was a starry glow emanating from her eyes.

It wasn’t just because of the pu-erh tea tea leaves.

Rather, it was the fact that people with a temperament as steady and rea*suring as Lin Mo’s on top of Death Island were simply scarce.

The last time Haruko had seen someone like that was Mr. Ronald, the elegant gentleman from Block 12.

Unfortunately, that gentleman was already old.

But the Lin Mo in front of her was very young and his handsome features were very attractive to Haruko’s eyes.

Lin Mo lifted his head slyly and his gaze turned to Haruko.

“This tea ..... is indeed a top quality good tea.”

Seeing that Lin Mo seemed to have something to say that had not been said, Haruko hurriedly said.

“Mr. Molin, if there is anything you want to say, just say it directly.”

Lin Mo put the plastic bag in his hand on the table.

“Good tea is good tea, but it is ..... green tea ah.”

At first Lin Mo did not react.

But after properly determining again and again the fresh aroma coming from the tea.

Lin Mo was certain.

This could definitely not be pu-erh tea.

This faint tea fragrance was definitely only found in green tea.

“Huh?”

Haruko’s absolutely beautiful face froze.

So this wasn’t pu-erh tea.

“Sorry sorry Mr. Mo Lin, I still have bags of black tea as well as green tea, so I might have taken the wrong one.”

Lin Mo waved his hand and gestured for Haruko to just sit down.

“There’s no need to go to such trouble.”

“Actually, green tea is quite good, the tea is light and elegant, I like it too.”

Lin Mo’s slender fingers gently pinched a bit of the tea leaves.

These tea leaves could be very delicate and would break if the hand hit them with force.

From the table, he picked up a small white jade teapot.

He put the tea leaves into the strainer inside the teapot.

Lin Mo took the hot water pot aside and poured boiling hot water into the white jade teapot.

After covering the lid, Lin Mo did not continue talking.

Instead, he quietly looked at the white jade teapot on the table, as if he was silently calculating inwardly how long it would take to brew.

“Mr. Molin, are we just going to watch?”

Haruko looked at Lin Mo quietly looking at the teapot on top of the table and asked with some surprise.

She had seen many of the magical Chinese tea brewing methods in the videos before.

Some of them used a slender bamboo stick to lift the teapot.

The bamboo stick was constantly swinging up and down because of its weight, and the teapot on top of it was also constantly swinging.

It was said that it could quickly and thoroughly incorporate the tea fragrance of the tea leaves into the tea water.

Lin Mo smiled faintly and shook his head at Haruko.

His slender finger then flicked slightly on the white jade teapot.

“I don’t really know those tea laws either, but I don’t think we need to bother that much.”

Lin Mo’s slender fingers left the wall of the white jade teapot’s cup.

Lifting the teapot’s lid, a light fragrance immediately filled the room.

“What a refreshing scent.”

Haruko’s eyes lit up and she instantly complimented.

“Green tea’s existence dates back to four or five thousand years ago when it became popular in China according to the words of the enquiry.”

“So it’s been passed down to this day and has long since developed very prosperously.”

“Have a taste.”

Lin Mo’s right hand picked up the white jade teapot on the table, while his left hand picked up a small cup.

Pouring an eighth full in it, he then placed it in front of Haruko.

“It might be a little hot, so you should blow on it a little.”

Haruko rose her red lips at once and blew continuously on the teacup of money in front of her.

The round face actually looked a little cute at the moment.

But it didn’t reduce Lin Mo’s image of Haruko’s neutrality in the slightest.

Those who could open a shop in the red light district of Death Island would definitely not be ordinary people.

And the harmlessness and just the right amount of cuteness that Haruko had been displaying didn’t sway Lin Mo’s opinion of her at all.

If Haruko’s nature was really like that.

She wouldn’t have survived at all.

At least for now alone, Lin Mo could detect the abnormalities of the weapon on Haruko’s chest as well as her thighs.

After blowing the tea in front of him to cool it a bit.

Haruko then carefully picked it up and mined a sip at her mouth.

The next moment, Haruko’s eyes lit up.

The taste was fresh and crisp in the mouth, the sensation was very refreshing and there was a slight sweetness in the aftertaste.

This feeling was different from any tea she had ever drunk before.

Obviously the tea she had brewed before was very bitter and astringent, so why was Molin’s so good?

“Mr. Molin, why does the tea you brewed seem to be nothing like the tea I brewed?”

Haruko looked at Lin Mo with some curiosity.

She hadn’t seen Mo Lin use any tea making techniques just now.

Lin Mo smiled faintly.

“The tea ceremony is something that depends on the person.”

“Just like I simply poured hot water in just now and that was it.”

“If it doesn’t work, even if you use all eighteen arts, you won’t be able to get the tea leaves to blend into the tea perfectly.”

Lin Mo's finger had just gently tapped on the wall of the white jade teapot's cup.

But in fact, he had already used the move of beating the bull across the mountain.

The inner body of his body was transmitted through the teapot's cup wall.

The tea leaves and the tea water are perfectly blended through all angles.

The green tea brewed in this way was the reason why they were so praised.

A look of loss passed over Haruko's face at once.

"Well, it seems that the tea in China doesn't like me much."

"By the way Maureen, you know so much, are you from China?"

Haruko asked Lin Mo in a seemingly heartless manner.

However, Lin Mo's heart was like a clear mirror.

It seemed that that guy Morton was still right on a certain point.

From time to time, these ladies in the fashion shops would ask you a question without any intention.

It's probably their information afterwards.

And it's not a good idea to be on the defensive.

"I am not from China, but from China's neighbour, the Wanxiang Kingdom of the Daqu United Provinces."

Said Lin Mo, and a sigh of relief appeared on his face at once.

Since you don't want to know, then I will directly take the initiative to tell you.

When the time comes, after you've heard my news, see if you'll tell me what I want to know.

"At that time, mine was still very young, because I was dissatisfied with the tyranny of the Black Vulture Organisation in the Wanxiang Kingdom."

"So I killed a Black Vulture Organisation squad leader who came to oppress us straight away."

"From then on, I wandered overseas and never dared to go back home for the rest of my life."

"It's so tragic ....."
