

Medical Genius's Unspeakable Marriage Chapter 36

Instead of getting mad, Daniel smiled. "Mr. Larson, the early bird catches the worm. Since I came early, I must make a small profit, right? Miss Cunningham, the deposit will arrive in ten minutes. Please check the accounts then!"

James and Helen were shocked. Did Daniel really get a good deal? Sasha started to be short of breath. The deposit alone was 300 million. There had never been such a large sum of money in the company's account before. However, the matter was not yet over.

Before Daniel's deposit had been transferred, a group of people rushed in from the entrance. The leader was a middle-aged man, who laughed as soon as he walked through the door and said, "Sure enough, Old Master Edwards managed to reach before me. I'm impressed!"

Daniel glanced at the group of people and smiled. "You arrived quite soon yourself, as you just departed from Linden a while ago. Did you charter a flight?"

"Hahaha, I just bought a plane some time ago, so I can take off anytime!"

Everyone was astounded. He could afford a private jet, so he was obviously not just any ordinary man. Moreover, he could strike a conversation with Daniel as equals. This man must have a powerful background.

"Which one of you here is Miss Cunningham?" the man asked.

"That's me!" replied Sasha.

He walked over immediately and introduced with a smile, "Hello, Miss Cunningham, I'm Charles Wesley!"

Everyone exclaimed in shock. Charles was just as famous as Daniel in the medical industry. While Daniel was reputable in Eastshire, Charles was second to none in Jersey. Although he was not from Eastshire, everyone there was familiar with the name. And now, Charles actually showed up in person here. What was he going to do?

Sasha exchanged a few words with Charles in astonishment. Thereafter, Charles went straight to the topic. "Miss Cunningham, I'm here to talk about a collaboration with you. This is about my being one of the agents for the new drug developed by your company. What do you think?"

Everyone was again astounded. Another person had come for the same purpose to be the agent as well? Plus, they were all big shots! Sasha looked confused. Still, she finally completed the negotiation with Matthew's help.

In the end, Charles bought the agency rights of two provinces with 800 million. He signed the contract on the spot, who then immediately paid a deposit of 250 million. As soon as the contract was signed, Daniel's three hundred million deposit was transferred to the company as well.

Everyone around was dumbfounded. The company earned 1.8 billion in less than an hour? Yet, this was not the end of it.

As soon as Charles had signed the contract, several other leaders in the medical industry rushed over to ask for a deal too. In the end, the company signed contracts worth three billion within two hours. They received nearly one billion just in deposit alone.

Sasha was in daze while all of this was happening. Her main task was to read and sign the papers. As for James and Helen, they were grinning ear-to-ear throughout the whole ordeal. On the other hand, Eric and the others looked upon the situation with sour expressions. Eric even almost had a heart attack.

After they were finally done signing the contracts, the big shots also left. Then, the employees of the company ran over to congratulate Sasha. Tears had welled up in Sasha's eyes; she was so excited that she was at a loss for words.

Matthew walked over and announced loudly, "Everyone knows that the company has undergone a tremendous change today. The employees who remain loyal to us are the greatest support. So, the company will spend 10 million to reward every employee who continues working with us!"

Everyone was stunned.

"What?"

"Ten million?"

"Gosh, just h-how much will each employee be rewarded?"

"Thank you, Miss Cunningham!"

Helen was annoyed. "Matthew, what are you doing? Do you think that you're the chairman of the board? What rights do you have to spend this amount of money as their reward?"

Everyone immediately fell silent. That was right; Matthew didn't have the right to do so. At this time, Sasha said in a loud voice, "Matthew's words are my words. I'll take out ten million to reward them tonight. Also, from now on, everyone's salary will increase by 30%. As for researchers, their salaries will be doubled!"

"Sasha!" Helen was anxious. Is Sasha refuting my words?

"Mom!" Sasha whispered, "The employees who choose to stay in the company are my greatest support. If we don't reward them after earning such a huge profit, wouldn't they feel unappreciated? Also, we have to let those who left the company see how big a mistake it was for them to leave us in the first place!"

Helen felt furious as she thought of those people who had forced Sasha to resign. "Yes, we'll make them regret it!” Helen agreed. “However, you shouldn’t listen to Matthew. He is just a live-in son-in-law. What right does he have to speak on such an occasion?”

Fuming, James butted in, “If others find out about this, they’ll think that the Cunningham Family’s rules are not strict enough!”

Helen nodded repeatedly. “Exactly, what qualifications does he have to voice out his opinion? I’ll drive him away!”

James waved his hand. “Forget it, there are so many people watching now. They might think that we’re being unreasonable if we do so. We’ll just let him off the hook for now. We’ll teach him a lesson when we get back home tonight!”

Looking at this from a distance, those ingredient suppliers felt envious. Others had just signed deals that totalled up to 3 billion, which meant that the company would be buying a lot of supplies! If they managed to strike a deal with the company, they would gain more profit for sure! As a result, they went ahead to congratulate Sasha.

“Miss Cunningham, congratulations on getting such a large order. Don’t worry, we will definitely supply you the necessary ingredients so that your company’s production will not be affected!” One of them assured her with a pat on his chest.

Sasha frowned. They were just asking for payment a moment ago, clamoring to send her to prison.

“Thank you, but I’m afraid you’re no longer our suppliers!” Matthew declined.

“Why not?” The ingredient supplier’s expression changed as he said anxiously, “Miss Cunningham, we have been working with your company for so long. We’ve known each other for some time now. Isn’t it inappropriate for you to suddenly change your suppliers?”

Matthew said, “You’ve been cooperating with Eric, not Sasha. While Eric is allowed to pay you the ingredient fee once every half a year, Sasha isn’t permitted to postpone it for even a day. Since this is the case, I don’t see why we should cooperate any further!”

The ingredient suppliers had a dark expression on their faces. Thinking about how they forced Sasha to pay just now, they all wanted to slap themselves out of frustration. Who would’ve imagined that Sasha would actually be able to strike so many deals within one day? If they had known about this, they would’ve even worshipped Sasha as a god. Who would dare to persecute Sasha?

“Miss Cunningham, w-we know that we were wrong. Seeing that we’ve worked together for so many years, please give us a second chance...” persuaded an ingredient supplier.

“I’m sorry, but no!” Matthew stepped in and replied on Sasha’s behalf, “We will look for other ingredient suppliers to collaborate with. We’re not qualified enough to work together with you anyway!”

“Miss Cunningham, please give us another chance!”

“Miss Cunningham, we can negotiate the price of ingredients.”

“Miss Cunningham, this was all Eric’s idea. We were forced to do this...”

The ingredient suppliers pleaded, but Sasha turned a deaf ear as she thought to herself, For God’s sake, you guys were aggressively asking me to pay you the debt just now. How dare you ask for another chance?

With no other choice, those ingredient suppliers could only turn to James and Helen for help, who drove them out instead out of frustration.

Back then, the security guards wouldn’t obey Sasha’s words. Now that Sasha had taken down such a large order and was willing to spend 10 million in rewarding them, these guards immediately responded to her commands.

Next, Sasha did not sit back in an idle manner. She gathered the company’s employees for a meeting. At the conference, Sasha fired other members of the Cunningham Family, including Charlie and Lily. Cunningham Pharmaceuticals was now completely controlled by Sasha. After what happened, she was much revered, and all her subordinates supported her.

Although the members of the Cunningham Family were unwilling to accept it, they were left with no choice but to pack up their belongings and leave. That night, Sasha held a celebration banquet. The venue was chosen at Times Hotel, which was suggested by Matthew.

Feeling a little nervous, Sasha knew how high the threshold of booking a hall in the Times Hotel was. A small company like theirs might not even be able to enter the hotel’s first floor. However, as soon as she rang them up, Times Hotel immediately booked the banquet hall on the ninth floor, which was beyond her expectations. According to their manager, Cunningham Pharmaceuticals was now a leading company in the medical industry in Eastcliff, so they were fully qualified to enter the ninth floor.

When the company employees heard the news, they were all excited. It was the famous Times Hotel, after all. Most of the people in the company had never been there. Even if someone was lucky enough to go in, they could only access the first and second floors. Yet, they were holding the banquet on the ninth level, which was a place where only the best of the best of Eastcliff residents could go. This matter was enough for them to show off for a lifetime!

Sasha was also very pleasantly surprised, who thereafter arranged for her employees with preparations for the banquet. While Matthew was busy working, Helen came up to Matthew and said, “Matthew, you should go home. The clothes at home have not been washed yet!”

Matthew was stunned. “Go home?”

“Yes. What’s the problem with that?” Helen glared at him. “This is Sasha’s company’s celebration banquet. What does it have to do with you?”

“Sasha is now the Chairman of the company. She has just signed deals worth 3 billion, and she is now an established business woman in Eastcliff. With her own capabilities, she can even host a banquet on the ninth floor of the Times Hotel. What about you? You're just a live-in son-in-law who has done nothing worthwhile. You work as a cleaner in the hospital, and you live off Sasha's earnings. Are you going to attend the banquet to embarrass her?"

Matthew was slightly annoyed. How he wished to tell her the truth. However, at the thought of the tragedy that befell his family, Matthew finally chose to remain silent. He still had to take revenge, so now was not the time to expose his identity. Otherwise, he would be doomed if he was found by his enemy, as he was still not powerful enough. In the end, Matthew left the company alone, for he didn't want Sasha to get embarrassed. However, instead of going home, he went to the lakeside villa.

His sister, Natalie, was still in a coma. Joseph Harrison had collected nearly all the necessary medicinal ingredients. He was lacking one more element—the rare Thousand-Year Snow Lotus.

Stanley Carlson had already mobilized all his acquaintances to look for the Thousand-Year Snow Lotus. As long as they found it, Matthew could wake Natalie up. All Matthew could do now was administering Natalie with a mini Rejuvenating Pill to maintain her vigor.

After sitting in the small courtyard of the villa for a while, Matthew suddenly received a call from his mother-in-law, Helen. "Matthew... Where are you?" Helen sobbed.

"What's wrong?" asked a surprised Matthew.

"Sasha... Sasha is gone..."

"What?!" Matthew stood up instantly. "What's the matter? Where are you guys now?"

"We're at the Times Hotel. We just realized that she wasn't here."

"Wait for me. I'll be there soon!"

Medical Genius's Unspeakable Marriage Chapter 39

On the way to the hotel, Matthew gave Billy Newman a call. Matthew guessed in his heart that Timothy Wayne must have had something to do with this incident. As a result, Billy's people had already rescued Sasha even before Matthew arrived.

Just as Matthew guessed, it was indeed Timothy's doing. Jeffrey had spoken ill of Matthew in front of Timothy, who attempted to catch hold of Sasha to force Matthew to surrender.

The Times Hotel was also owned by Billy, so these people were stopped by Billy's men before they could even leave the scene. After Matthew rushed there, he finally heaved a sigh of relief when he saw that Sasha was fine.

When Helen saw Matthew, she immediately scolded, "Matthew, where were you? Do you know what danger Sasha was in just now? You're such an irresponsible husband. You can't even protect your own

Matthew explained, “Mom, but you... You asked me to go home...”

Helen couldn't help but be stunned. Feeling slightly embarrassed, she scolded again, “Then it shouldn't have taken so long for you to come here from home. Don't you care about Sasha at all? Even under such a major incident, you were still dilly-dallying around!” It took a little longer for Matthew to come from Lakeside Garden.

“Okay, Mom, stop it,” Sasha whispered; she was still a little shaken.

Exasperated at Matthew's incompetence, James yelled, “Matthew, oh, Matthew, if you are truly a man, you should protect your wife!”

Clenching his fists, Matthew blamed himself. He had clearly underestimated Timothy; he didn't expect him to do such a thing. It seemed that he had to thoroughly solve this matter! Walking out of the Times Hotel, Matthew called Billy and asked him to resolve the dispute with Timothy.

At the hospital, an evil plan was being concocted.

“Mr. Wayne, just capture Sasha and leave the rest to me! By the time she is in my hands, Mr. Larson will surely have to surrender,” Jeffrey said excitedly.

However, Timothy just kept mum. Meanwhile, Mrs. Wayne was getting impatient. “I don't care what methods you use. You must save my son!”

“No problem. Don't worry, Mrs. Wayne!” Jeffrey nodded repeatedly, already thinking about how he would deal with Sasha in a while. However, they waited for more than half an hour before finding out that Sasha had not been successfully captured. Instead, Timothy's men came back badly bruised with swollen noses.

“What happened?” Mrs. Wayne exclaimed. “Didn't you seize the woman? Where is she?”

Hearing this, the several bodyguards looked at each other. One of them whispered, “Mr. Wayne, let's talk in private!”

Timothy frowned. Why is he being so discreet about it? Leading the bodyguard into the ward, Timothy asked in a solemn voice, “What's the matter?”

“We have caught the woman, but we were stopped by Mr. Newman's men.” The bodyguard trembled. “He also... asked me to tell you something. He said that Mr. Larson is his good friend...”

“What?” Timothy's eyes widened. Billy was basically saying that he would protect Matthew. Although Timothy was very strong, he did not dare to confront Billy.

The bodyguard continued, “I heard that it was Mr. Larson who rescued Mr. Newman's daughter!”

Timothy's eyes widened. “So is Mr. Larson that talented? No wonder he managed to save my son from dying. Sigh, but he is too arrogant. He even asked me to kneel down in front of him. Otherwise, I don't mind making friends with him. Forget it. I'll just wait for the genius doctor from Bainbridge!"

When Timothy walked out of the room, Mrs. Wayne was giving orders. "How bold of the man surnamed Larson. Get a few more men and knock him out!"

Jeffrey nodded repeatedly. "You can't play nice with that sort of person. Mrs. Wayne, you made the right decision!"

Timothy shouted angrily, "Stop right there!"

Everyone stopped in their tracks immediately, while Mrs. Wayne was shocked. "Dear, what's the matter?"

"Let's just wait for the doctor in Bainbridge to come over," Timothy whispered.

Hearing this, Mrs. Wayne said, "We must take revenge. Even if the doctor in Bainbridge arrives, I must make sure that the man surnamed Larson is crippled!"

"You zip it!" Timothy cursed furiously. Billy was involved in this matter, so he dared not tell her about the specifics of the matter.

Early the next morning, the doctor from Bainbridge finally arrived. This doctor was personally invited here by Divine Doctor York, and he was a well-known doctor in China.

After taking a look at Young Master Wayne's injury, the doctor shook his head. "I can't treat him. His injury is too serious, and you've delayed getting treatment for him for too long. Even if I start treating him now, there's only a 20% chance that he'll recover. This is too risky!"

"What?" Timothy and the others were dumbfounded. Even the doctors from Bainbridge couldn't save him. Didn't that mean that Young Master Wayne was doomed?

"This is bad!" Dr. York's expression was solemn. "Young Master Wayne's situation is getting worse and worse. He can hold on for two hours at most. Mr. Wayne, the only person who can save Young Master Wayne now is that cleaner!"

Mrs. Wayne's face turned pale, "H-How could this be? How can a toilet cleaner save my son?"

Timothy watched his son whose breathing was getting weaker with a solemn expression, and finally gritted his teeth and left the ward.

Meanwhile, Matthew remained at the Lakeside Garden, as he didn't go to the hospital. Instead, he came here to look after his sister. Suddenly, a Rolls-Royce stopped outside the yard. Thereafter, Timothy walked out of the car. He had inquired about Matthew's residence from Joseph and rushed over immediately. As soon as he entered through the door and saw Matthew, Timothy knelt on the ground with a thud. "Mr. Larson, please, save my son!"

Matthew was a little confused. “Who are you?”

“I’m Timothy Wayne!”

“Mr. Wayne, you’re here.” After realizing this, Matthew helped Timothy up. “Mr. Wayne, why are you kneeling on the ground? You already expressed your sincerity by coming here and asking me in person. Why do you have to kneel before me?”

“Huh?” Timothy was taken aback. “Mr. Larson, didn’t you ask me to kneel down and beg you?”

Matthew asked, “When did I say that?”

Hearing this, Timothy said, “You told Jeffrey yourself!”

“Mr. Wayne, you were deceived.” Matthew frowned and explained the situation back then, including how he was driven away by Mrs. Wayne.

After listening to his explanation, Timothy was so enraged that he almost coughed out blood. Infuriated, he said, “Jeffrey that b*stard. So he was the one stirring up trouble behind the scene! Mr. Larson, I’m really sorry. I didn’t know about this. As for what my wife did, I apologize to you on her behalf. Please forgive us if we’ve offended you!”

Matthew waved his hand. “Mr. Wayne, I can sense your sincerity. Since you have come in person, I’ll forget about what happened previously. Let’s go. We have to save your son!”

Timothy was overjoyed. “Thank you, Mr. Larson!”

When the two rushed to the hospital, Young Master Wayne was already in an extremely critical condition. Mrs. Wayne was feeling anxious. When she saw Timothy coming back with Matthew, she immediately scolded him in rage.

“You finally came. How dare you throw a tantrum like that! If my son dies because of you, I’ll have you killed!”
