

My Dreamy Old Husband

Chapter 254

Nicole worked together with her to put up a show since she was shut out from Glory Entertainment. Nonetheless, she had cleared the debt that she owed Glory Entertainment and had successfully left Glory Entertainment due to the expiry of her contract.

“I no longer stand a chance here. I can only head overseas. Fortunately, I’ve received invitations from a few management companies from overseas now. They’ve invited me over to shoot some sort of... literary films,” she said.

Sophia knew what she wanted to film—pornography.

Nicole forced out a smile. “What else can I do other than to take part in a film? Even though my sister’s medical bills have been assured, the orphanage still needs me to fund them. The previous director had passed away and most of the volunteers had left.

Now that I’m the new director, there are dozens of children waiting to be fed. Moreover, there were two newcomers last month. By only relying on the charity funds, it was barely enough to support them. If I’m unemployed or if I stop shooting films, all of them will have to starve... It’s good for me to film overseas where the people can accept it better over there. In fact, no one knows me there, and I can earn quick money.”

After a short conversation, Sophia left. Nicole stared at the empty coffee mug and spaced out. Until now, she still could not figure out Sophia’s background.

The air ticket was already in her bag, and she was ready to head overseas to film pornography. Even though it was not something to be proud of, it had a better pay thanks to the vigorous media hype.

No matter what kind of films she would film, it would be better than her dark days in Glory Entertainment, where she would need to sleep with men every day.

Nicole heaved a sigh before standing up. Her phone in her handbag then suddenly rang at this moment. It was a call from an unknown number.

She had received calls from a lot of unknown numbers recently as many foreign directors had contacted her and most of them were to invite her to film pornography.

As before, she had accepted the call. She had not decided which company to devote herself to, so she would work for whichever company that offered her better pay.

The speaker over the call didn't sound foreign this time, and she heard the caller saying, "Is this Nicole Walker? I'm Gabriel Reid from Imperial Entertainment management company. I heard that the contract between you and Glory Entertainment has ended. Are you interested in coming over to Imperial Entertainment?"

At that moment, Nicole was in utter disbelief. Imperial Entertainment was the top entertainment company in the entire entertainment industry in Cethos!

Unlike Glory Entertainment, Imperial Entertainment was not as high-profiled as them. They kept it low-key. They did not have a lot of talents, but every single one of them were highly talented. Imperial Entertainment even brought up the two best actors in Cethos who had received the Academy Award as best actors.

Imperial Entertainment had a high threshold of entering the company and they would not accept any ordinary celebrities. Unlike Imperial Entertainment, Glory Entertainment would bring in young stars with high popularity who had little to none acting skills. In contrast, Imperial Entertainment would turn their nose up at them.

Am I hearing it right? Imperial Entertainment had actually taken the initiative to invite me over?

“That’s right, I’m Nicole Walker. I’ve haven’t signed any contracts yet!”

Sophia was feeling down as she walked out from the café.

What had happened to Nicole had made her feel depressed. If luck was not on her side for her to meet Michael, her current situation would not differ much from Nicole’s. She would be down and out and feeling hopeless.

Hale parked the car outside of the entrance while he waited for Sophia. He immediately opened up the car door the moment he saw Sophia coming. She could see Michael sitting inside the car while he worked with some documents on his laptop.

“Is everything settled?” Michael closed his laptop when he saw Sophia coming in.

Sophia nodded when she entered the car. “Everything’s well taken care of,” she then said.

Michael had known about all the troubles she had caused these few days, but he had never given her any reactions. He did not ask about it as well. He was fine with it as long as she was happy.

Michael pinched her cheek lovingly before he leaned in to give her a soft kiss. Silly chica.

Due to the incident that had happened to Nicole, Glory Entertainment’s act in ruining Taylor’s reputation was forced to stop. The shock caused to the public due to Nicole’s livestreamed suicide was way more immense compared to the dug-up dirt spread across the Internet. Nicole had continuously shown up on the news headline for quite some time.

About the few matters that were being mentioned when Nicole livestreaming her suicide, the public had shown major curiosity. Nonetheless, Nicole had never made an appearance to make things clear.

The public started to visualize the scene in their own heads by using their imagination after being unable to get a clear explanation from Nicole. Within a short while, dug-up dirt on Glory Entertainment had spread all over the Internet.

Some people had broken the news mentioning that Glory Entertainment had constantly let their celebrities sleep with different people in exchange for funds to support their A-list actors.

Some had even said that the female celebrities under Glory Entertainment would have stand-ins even though it was mentioned by the company that no stuntmen were recruited. Moreover, Nicole was the stand-in herself.

She did not only have to take up minor roles, but she also had to become a substitute for fight scenes and also a voice actor. Most actors from Glory Entertainment would have their entire body replaced by the stand-in actors other than their face.

The others had even said that Richard had slept with nearly every female celebrity in Glory Entertainment. Before the incident had happened, he had asked Nicole to enter his office alone to discuss something.

In short, various sorts of news had spread throughout the public. Glory Entertainment was currently trying their best to cover up all the rumors. The rumors on Taylor had finally come to an end, but there was simply no news from Imperial Entertainment; they simply refused to respond. They even needed Taylor's fans to repair his reputation.

After a few days from the day the incident had happened, the silent Imperial Entertainment had suddenly held a press conference. They had announced that Nicole had officially signed a contract with them and they would be responsible for everything regarding her show.

The public's opinion was all over the place and various conspiracy theories started to get spread around. They were all suspecting whether it was Imperial Entertainment's plan all along, with ruining Glory Entertainment's reputation as their goal.

After Imperial Entertainment had held the press conference, they remained silent once more. They did not take any actions no matter how the outside world made their guesses and stated their remarks.

Another two days had passed. The first military action movie in Cethos, 'War Dragon', which was highly anticipated, had started their promotions. They started releasing posters of the actors who had taken part in the film.

This movie was produced by an extraordinary crew and it was a big production where vast investments had been put in, garnering tons of attention. After the previous disturbance had ended, a huge crowd of fans had requested to replace Taylor as the male leading role in the movie, but the official production team of 'War Dragon' had not made any responses until now.

Everyone paid close attention to the cast posters and they wanted to see whether Taylor had been replaced. However, little did they expect to see the first poster being the photos of Nicole Walker, who was acting as the female leading antagonist!

It was rumored that the role was supposed to be played by a female celebrity under Glory Entertainment, but why had it suddenly become Nicole's role?

Although it was the role of an antagonist, the scenes of the character were important. How could they let an actor who had only played minor roles take up this task?

No one could understand what had happened, for the movie crew and Imperial Entertainment had remained silent once again.

Regarding the issue of Imperial Entertainment signing Nicole as an artist, Sophia was astounded. She thought that Imperial Entertainment would no longer recruit new celebrities. To her, Imperial Entertainment was a company that was about to go into bankruptcy; even Michael did not care about it.

When he was slandered by the netizens, Imperial Entertainment did not even make a single clarification. As for now, they had actually signed a contract with Nicole and had listed her as one of cast for the upcoming movie.

Nonetheless, Sophia was inexplicably excited.

She had planned all this drama with the intention to mess with Richard and rescue her idol who was being slandered by the netizens along the way. After the crisis, Taylor's rumors had started to fade away itself. As long as it was given some time, the truth behind those unfounded rumors would be exposed. This was all done for the sake of her idol!
